What a nice thing an organ is Ve mean your Radical organ. When senator Beck was credited with the tupidity of saying he would vote for Republican for President of the senate the organs squeaked out he is been known in our county. —The bad elephant "Chief" got on the rampage at Weldon, we learn from the News. He paid no attention to the steel hooks used in controlling him, but went wherever he pleased. The other large elephant was brought up, butted the "Chief" several times but to no nursues. We mean your Radical organ. When Senator Beck was credited with the stupidity of saying he would vote for a Republican for President of the Senate the organs squeaked out he is a marvellously proper fellow. When they find he is not a fool, and will do no such thing, they give the old organ a jerk, and the music groans out that he is not sensible or patriotic. The editor of an organ is a strange

The section in Michigan that has been so desolated by fire is said to contain 50,000 inhabitants. Of these 10,000 have been rendered homeless and 600 are believed to have lost their lives. It is certainly a very awful visitation. The people of that section are showing much activity and humanity in succoring the suf-animal anyhow.

The "Young Folks' History of America," by one Hezekiah Butterworth, to which we referred recently as a book not wanted in Southern schools, is a mere compilation but has the spice of Yankee smartness and vindictiveness given it. Do not use H. B.'s book.

Minerals are being rapidly shipped hence to Atlanta. - We are sorry to learn that the heavy rain of Friday did great damage to the cotton in this section. The greater portion of it was open, and the intensely dry weather made the bolls ready to let their fleecy contents fall at a touch almost. The ground in most fields is covered with the beaten-out cotton. The damage is extensive and the loss very great. Cotton remaining in the bolls is also damaged by the dirt beaten into it by the - Mr. Nelson Buffaloe died in this city yesterday, of typhoid fever. The receipts of cotton in this market during the cotton week ending on Friday were 876, against 1,867 bales for the corresponding week last year, being a decrease of 1,011 bales. The total receipts since September 1 to date are 1,987 bales, against 2,452 for the same period last year: The decrease is 1,365 bales.

Upchurch, Esq., clerk of Wake Superior Court, offers a handsome silver trumpet to the best colored fire company at our State fair, such company to be declared the "champion of the State." — Dr. Frederick Simonds, late Professor of Geology in gist at San Jose, State of California -Robinson show items: There were several fights yesterday around the circus tents, the combatants being drunken countrymen in most cases. The street parade yesterday was not at all equal to others made here. The acrobats and trapeze perfermers were the best features. The shooting of the woman from the cannon is not in the circus at all. It is in the "concert, which follows. The exhibit of animals was quite good. The giraffes were a sight well worth seeing, but the greatest curiosity of the collection is the tamanoir or "ant bear." The giant ox, an enor mous creature, was another attraction. In the last two weeks about $10,000 worth of valuable animals belonging to Robinson's circus, have died from the hot weather. On Friday the animals were turned out in the rain, and they enjoyed it hugely. The gnu, or horned horse, became frightened at the tearing of canvas in the gale, and got one of his legs between the bars of his cage. Arrested for Shooting in an Atley-The Prisoner Cuts Himself with a Razor, &c. A white man named Curlew, a stranger here, though he had been in the city a few weeks ago, was arrested yesterday morning for shooting a pistol in Wallace's Alley. He was taken to the guard house very quietly, but while being searched he became very boisterous and unruly, and it took two men to hold him. After he had been left in the guard room awhile it was found that he had cut himself quite severely on the left arm, between the shoulder and the elbow, and upon examination a razor was found upon his person, which had been concealed in such a manner it es caped the notice of the officer who searched him. The city physician was sent for and gave him the proper surgical attendance. It is not known whether the cutting was done with suicidal intent or accidentally.

Capt. Manning and others from Wrightsville Sound report the singular fact that since the storms most of the leaves on the trees and grape vines have withered and died, presenting an appearance which might be expected after a severe frost. This was not only the case on the sound, but all along the road so far as was noticed, the oaks being the only trees exempt. We find the same peculiarity here to some extent, especially among the fruit trees.

The people of Chatham will have cause to phates. THE STORMS.

A FEW MORE FACTS AND INCIDENTS

OF THE LATE HURRICANES. During the storms on last Friday timber to the value of $3,000 broke loose from the pen of Mr. J. W. Taylor's steam saw mill, in this city, and was driven in every direction by the flerce wind and waves. Saturday two small steamers and several rowboats were engaged all day in collecting the scattered timber, and we are glad to learn that about one-half of it was recovered and much of the remainder tled up so that it can be secured hereafter.

We have heretofore omitted to state that the Poor House premises sustained considerable damage from the storm. Something over two-thirds of the fence around the inclosure was prostrated, and about onethird of the stockade shared the same fate. One of the prisoners and one of the insane ran out in great fright, but afterwards returned. No damage to roofing.

All of the railing on the north side of the Little Creek bridge was carried away. White and blue heron were seen in the woods in the vicinity during the storm. Quite a number of large pine trees at Hilton were prostrated, and the tin was blown from the roof of the Hilton Rice

A gentleman from the lower part of Duplin says the storm was not so severe in that section, and not much damage was done to the crops. Some of the corn was blown down, but not to any serious extent. He thinks the rain was not sufficient to cause more than a slight rise in the North-

Sheriff Taylor, of Brunswick, informs us hat about one hundred trees were blown across the four miles of road leading from one of his plantations to the other end to the main road. The greatest destruction was among the pines that had been faced and boxed on both sides. The chimney of his residence was blown down. He lives about fourteen miles from the city. Mr. Frank Bosche, watchman at the Wilmington & Weldon freight shed, the roof of which was carried away, injuring four colored men, one of whom has since died, was in the shed at the time, eating his dinner, and remained there until the danger was all over without receiving any injury. There was also a little boy in the building at the time, who made his escape through one of the doors on the windward side. Had the four colored men remained in the building or left it from the opposite side they would have escaped without injury.

Mr. J. B. Mercer, writing us from New Supply. Brunswick county, under date of Saturday, the 10th, says: "The wind and rain storm of yesterday was terrific at this point. It lasted about three hours. The wind began to blow very hard from the north, and soon shifted to the northwest, from which quarter the hardest of the wind came. An immense amount of damage was done generally; large quantities of timber were blown down, trees uprooted, fences dashed to the ground, chimneys blown over, and a number of houses unroofed. Very much damage was also done to cotton, corn, rice, &c., it being wrung and twisted to a great extent by the wind. It would be almost impossible to calculate the damage done in this section." It is related as a fact that three large trees were uprooted at Masonboro Sound by the first of the storms on the eventful Friday of last week, which was from the northeast, and that the second and more severe one, which was from the southwest, blew them back into position again, where they are standing at the present, looking as if nothing had ever happened to them.

A Brunswick Desperado-His Capture and Subsequent Escape. A colored man named Joe Goodman was arrested in Brunswick county about three weeks ago on the charge of stealing a box of tobacco, two sides of bacon, two or three sacks of meal and other articles. He had his trial before Justice D. R. Walker and was committed, but succeeded in making his escape from the officers who had him in charge. Since that time he has been loafing about the neighborhood, carrying a shot gun, with which he threatened to shoot and kill on sight the two colored witnesses who had appeared against him on the trial. On Sunday night last, between midnight and day, information having been received to the effect that Goodman was at his own house, a party surrounded the building, when one of them knocked at the door. Goodman's wife responded, but hesitated about opening the door. She was told that if she didn't open it, and that speedily, it would be burst open. She delayed as long as possible, and in the meantime Goodman was ripping up a plank from the floor, through which he got under the house and thus es- | men who left the wreck on Saturday evecaped. As he ran off two or three shots | ning. were fired at him, and from his actions and a certain exclamation he made use of immediately after the discharge of the weapons, his pursuers are confident that he was struck and probably badly wounded. He has the reputation of being a very desperate fellow, and at last accounts the party were still scouring the woods for him. Mayor's Court.

Carrie Hill and Geo. F. Swinson, both white, the latter a seaman, were arraigned before Mayor Smith on the charge of acting disorderly on the streets Saturday night, and were ordered to pay a fine of $2 each. The seaman, however, was subsequently turned over to Consul Heide. The woman was being taken below when she was seized with a sudden fit, whereupon judgment was suspended in her case and she was sent home.

- The Revenue Cutter Colfax, Captain Gabrielsen, left yesterday to look after the Revenue Cutter Boutwell, 1 which went ashore somewhere in the neighborhood of Savannah during the August storm. Capt. Moore, of the U. S. M. service, is on board. She goes to Charleston, and will either send a tug to look after the Boutwell or go herself.

- The British barque Live Oak, the Wilmington barque Glacier and the schooner Siam are still ashore on the "Rocks." The Live Oak was partially floated yesterday, and it was thought that she would be gotten off last night or to-day. The Glacier lays in an even position, and both she and the Live Oak are perfectly tight.

- A report prevailed yesterday to the effect that two sufall schooners, the Lorenzo and the Stonewall, from New River for this port, were lost during the late storms, but nothing to that effect is definitely known as yet, though they left New River the day before the gale. The schr. E. Francis left the day after the storms. Messrs. Hall & Pearsall, the consignees of the Lorenzo and the Stonewall, have received no intelligence of their loss further than the rumor alluded to above.

- Mr. Robert Atkinson, a reliable gentleman from Topsail Sound, Pender county, reports that the schooner Mary Bear, Capt. Chadwick, with a cargo of 8,000 bushels of corn for Messrs. B. F. Mitchell & Son, C. B. Wright and W. P. Oldham, went ashore on Stump Sound beach, about five miles this side of New River Inlet, on Friday morning, about 11 o'clock. She is full of water, the bottom having been split Capt. Chadwick and his men all swam ashore, a distance of about one hundred vards, with the exception of a colored cabin boy named Frank Fuller, who was washed off the vessel and lost. He is a brother of Balsam Fuller, the well known bill-poster of this city. On Saturday a few men were engaged in trying to save as much of the corn as possible, but as the boats were all lost the work was not progressing very rapidly, as it had to be hauled ashore in bags on a rope suspended between the vessel and the beach. She went up on a very high tide and it is not probable that she will ever be gotten off. The cargo of corn was being looked for with a great deal of anxiety here, where it is very scarce at present. Mr. Atkinson saw and talked with

Jas. G. Harris, belonging on the schooner Mary G. Fisher, which left Philadelphia for Wilmington on the 19th ult., with 210 tons of coal for Messrs. Fowler & Morrison and the Carolina Central Railroad, but foundered in the gale of the 24th inst., with loss of all on board except himself, tells the Savannah News, in a long statement to that paper, that the cook of the schooner was a colored man named Frank Evans, of this city, and that he has a father and mother living here. Mr. Harris was rescued after drifting for five days and nights on a spar.

MASONBORO, September 11.

Editor Star :- When I view the STAR and see the long list of casaulties I think it useless to say aught of Masonboro. Still we can stand our hand in houses-provided you] accept bath houses-chicken coops, dairies and the like in lieu of stores and large residences, for Old Boreas visited our section in one of his most playful moods on Friday last. He made his appearance a little after 8 o'clock, and as he staggered up the tide commenced to rise with fearful rapidity. By 9 o'clock gangways com-menced to head towards the western shore, and about 9.30 o'clock I went to take a nap, as a storm makes me awful sleepy Lying down I snoozed away in short order, but they soon had me up. Looking over the scene I found that the bath houses were all, save one, gone or about to go; the banks house gone, and many a boat drifted as far By half past 12 it lulled. Trees were blown down, fences gone, and though the wind had only attained a velocity of about 70 miles per hour, I found many persons badly scared for fear of houses. Soon the ominous roar at the southeast told the wind was shitting, and it did shift, to a direction nearly opposite, and many of the old trees which had stood the storms of many years sought repose from where they sprung, while those the first storm blew down were hurled back to their places. I think the velocity of the wind about 100 miles per hour. I regret to learn that the persons living near had at this time to rescue the family of the Rev. W. C. Cowan, colored, from his fallen house. Many of the grapevines were thrown flat upon the ground. think grape arbors saftest in time of storms.

AN UNEQUALLED MENAGERIE : AN UNRI

The Circus is the Very Best. Among the specialties to be witnessed will be the WONDERFUL SLOTH, the only one ever on exhibition: the GIANT OX, larger than an elephant; the ONLY SILVER ANTELOPE ever on exhibition; the LARGEST DOUBLE HORNED RHINO-CEROS ever witnessed; the WHITE POLAR BEAR; a drove of BACTRIAN CAMBLE; a herd of large ELEPHANTS; a group of LIVING GIRAFFES; a school of SEA LIONS: a HUMAN CANNON BALL. These are notable EXTRA FEATURES, exhibited with MY SIDE SHOW ONLY, in addition to five hundred other specimens, making my exhibited with MY SIDE SHOW ONLY, in addition to five hundred other specimens, making my collection the LARGEST IN THE WORLD. The Circus is as it always has been—"THE VERY BEST." Everything advertised will be exhibited. I will in person visit this city and all points South at which my Great Show exhibits. I will care for the comfert of my patrons, and allow no more tickets to be sold than I have place to accommodate the holders.

I pledge the reputation which fifty six years of managerial career has gained for me—which I hold of greater value than all my wealth—that I will keep every promise herein enumerated. as usual Reduced rates on all Railroads.
