Guiteau was once an attendant upon Beecher's preaching. Evil communications corrupt good morals. H. W. says "he was among us, but not of us."

Swathmore College that was burnt was four miles from Philadelphia, and belonged to the Quakers. It cost $400,000. There is little left but the bare walls.

Can any one inform us of the whereabouts of Mr. Tom J. Johnson, who edited a paper called the Nineteenth Century, somewhere in this State, within a year or two?

The Washington Post, the first newspaper ever published in Washington, is to be enlarged October 10th, and made an eight column paper, still retaining its present desirable form.

Augustine Daly refused to close his theatre in New York Monday night, and there was strong talk of burning it. A big crowd gathered, but the police prevented a riot. The performance went on to a very small audience. Daly is a native of North Carolina.

The port receipts of cotton for the current week thus far foot up 80,000 bales. In order to reach the total of same week last year the receipts today and to-morrow must be 90,000 bales. The indications are that the decrease for the week from last year will be at least 40,000 bales.

The Philadelphia Times gave its readers on Tuesday the best selections that ever appeared in that or any paper. They were verses from the Bible, appropriate to the solemnities of the hour, and good reading for all time. They were scattered throughout the editorial page. It was new and impressive reading doubtless to most of its subscribers.

The letters that appeared from week to week in the New York Tribune, written from the South, and to which the STAR drew attention so often, have been published in pamphlet, and can be obtained at the Tribune office. They are credited to Rev. James B. Harrison, a Unitarian minister of Franklin Falls, N. H. He is well known in his section as an able writer. His letters have done good and will continue to do good. He is the fairest Northern writer who has written of the South,

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1881.

WHOLE NO. 4944

Here is the way things are done in Connecticut. The following is the last we have seen in connection with the notorious Malleys:

"Edward Malley's store at New Haven, Connecticut, was Saturday afternoon attached for sixty thousand dollars on two suits, one for false imprisonment of his brother, William Malley, of Ansonia, and the other for notes due Edward J. Malley, Michael Malley, Edward J. Carroll and Villiam Malley. After the attachment carroll offered to settle for two thousand five hundred dollars. Then Edward Malley had Carroll and Michael Malley put in jail about midnight for false attachment. The other Malleys were not found, although they were searched for. Edward Malley is the father of Walter Malley and an uncle of James Malley, the two young men now under arrest on the charge of complicity in the murder of Jennie Cramer.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Times says Secretary Blaine will retire soon and probably before the Senate meets. Who will succeed him puzzles the Quid Nunes. Blaine will not return to Washington, but go from Ohio to his home at Augusta, Maine. As to the Senate the following is interesting: "Senator Johnston, of Virginia, has no doubt but that the Democrats will control the Senate organization. He quotes the first rule of the Senate, which prescribes that a quorum shell consist of all the Senate. that a quorum shall consist of all the Senators present who have subscribed to the oath of office. This particular feature of the present status of parties in the Senate would appear to be well settled."

The New York Times says the late President had policies on his life to the amount of $35,000. He had $10,000 in the New York Equitable. He had been insured for $25,000, but he had let the policy drop. Then the following happened, according to

"Just after his inauguration an insurance agent from the New York Life Company introduction from various Senators and politicians, and desired to insure him. The President said he could not afford it just then, and wanted to put it off for a time. The insurance agent, however, with the persistency of his class, overcame the objections made and took an application for

Are our readers aware that there is a law that limits the term of the Postmaster General to four years, or, in case of a change of Presidents, to one month? Such is the case. We quote from the Richmond Dispatch:

"The law reads as follows:
"The term of the Postmaster General shall be for and during the term of the President by whom he is appointed, and for one month thereafter, unless sooner removed.

-Revised Statutes of the United States.

"Nevertheless, the President can by a mere word continue Mr. James in office, and no doubt will do so.

Dr. Hamilton publishes in the Medical Gazette an analysis of President's Garfield's case. He reviews the treatment in detail and shows the folly of any attempt to find or extract the ball. We suppose that he will meet the demands of the scientific, and the unscientific are not entitled to an opinion, for they can know nothing about the case.

The Legislature of Georgia have under consideration a bill to make such an appropriation for the University of that State as shall make it free to all, and no charge for tuition. The Senate has passed the bill.

"One of the Best in the Country."

Norfolk Virginian. This excellent journal, one of the best in the country, comes to us in a complete new dress, yet retaining its old, familiar appearance. The STAR has entered upon its fifteenth year and its twenty-ninth semi-annual volume-almost the age of the Virginian. We wish it continued success, united with the hope that its energetic proprietor, Mr. Bernard, will live long to enjoy the fruits of his well-earned prosperity.

"Well Edited and Prosperous."

Petersburg (Va.) Index-Appeal. The Wilmington (N. C.) STAR comes to us in a new dress, though it looked so neat in the old one that the change is hardly perceptible. The STAR is duly appreciated at this office, and is, in many respects, per-haps, the best edited paper in the State. Its fourteenth birthday was celebrated Friday, and the new dress is only one of the many evidences of its continued prosperity.

Spirits Turpentine.

- A spoke, handle and shuttle factory is at work in Winston, North Carolina. Persimmon wood is used, and the material is shundant in the vicinity.

- The Shelby Aurora has begun its sixth annual volume. It is a useful pa-per and is making its way in the good opinion of the people of its section.

— Newton Enterprise: With pleasure the friends of Claremont College will learn that about $20,000 brick have now been successfully burned, and a consider-able part already on the college grounds.

- Asheboro Courier: Give the R. & D. Co. justice, say we, but remember that it can be done without impeaching the mo-tives of true and patriotic men—men whose lives and works attest their honesty and pa-

- Greensboro Protestant: Wade Harris, the genius of Concord's Sun, presents his readers with a home-engraved por-very suggestive of such a dignitary. Ever since Wade penciled the kicking mule his friends have watched his progress in the art of drawing and engraving.

- Statesville Landmark: Prof. W. E. Hidden forwards us sketches of a lot of splendid emeralds which were found in a small pocket in the Hidden Mine near Stony Point, Alexander county, on the morning of the 20th inst. We concur very heartily in Prof. Hidden's exclamation, Hurrah for the old North State, ever ahead

- Morehead City (N. C.) letter in the Raleigh Visitor: I have to-day seen a turtle five feet across the back and weighng 470 pounds, and strong enough to carry the weight of a large man. For fun I step-ped on his back. He started and I held on so and he got so fast that I was afraid to let loose, and only relinquished my hold as he made one desperate spring over the dock.

- Oxford Torchlight: Corn crop stripped of the fodder looks bad. Tobacco has turned green and grown wonderfully. It will be too late to turn yellow and cure - At the surface Col. Andrews and his attorneys may have Vance at a disadvantage, but when the whole truth is out we believe it will be found that Senator Vance has been making an honest fight in the interest of the people.

- Washington Press: A fisticuff between two colored men occupied the attention of the Mayor's court last week. Thirteen stabs with a pocket-knife was found upon the person of one of the par-- We are informed of a murder which occurred near Jamesville last week. A negro named Capehart cut upon the head of a brother with an axe, and then left for parts unknown. A family quarrel is said to have led to this act.

Monroe Enquirer: Charlotte will have two hangings before the year closes. The first occurs Friday, October 28th, being a negro for the murder of another negro. The second will take place on November 25th, and the culprit is another negro, whose crime was burglary. —Good rains last Thursday and Friday—the first time the ground in this vicinity has been "well soaked" since last April. The creeks were booming. There was some damage to crops

- Concord Sun: Gov. Vance was in town Thursday, to look around on the people and attend court. We were glad to have him in our office and enjoyed a few passes over the railroad with him. The Governor inspected our pile of exchanges to see. "which way they shinny," and finally The picking up one that was on his side expressed great pleasure to find one paper that was with him, anyhow. He would not talk about what he intends to do in the future, remarking facetiously that he "never tells his plans to the enemy." He insisted that, however things look now, he is right

— Lenoir Topic: Dr. Beall has just sent off to Prof. W. C. Kerr a lot of asbestos, manganese and gold for transmission to the Atlanta Exposition. The specimens were found on John's river, near the gold mining region. Mr. S. F. Harper, of Patterson, has also transmitted to the same gentleman, and for the same purpose, some specimens of magnetic iron ore, abounding in the northern part of this county. - The late freshet extended over Watauga. We are informed that the Watauga river was never known to be so high before. It swept over the bottoms, carrying away every rail of fence that was in it

- Asheville News: Senator Ransom is spending a few days in town. His family have been here for some time. He is n good health, and is looking much better than he did when here last season. -Well, what do you think of it? Now Hendersonville is about as neat a town as we have seen in Western North Carolina. Of course Ashevitle is not included in this comparison. It has an air of thrift and business that is encouraging. The streets are wide and quite well shaded. The hotels have, during the season, done well.

We were pained to learn of the death of A. W. Chambers, Professor of Mathematics at Weaverville College. He died last Friday morning at his father's residence, and will be greatly missed by his numerous friends. The Board of Trustees of the College will meet in a few days to fill the vacancy occasioned by his death.

- Winston Sentinel: Pork is of fered in this market at 8 to 10 cents per ---Chestnut trees promise to yield abundantly this year. —More than $6,000 in money was paid out by one firm in Winston one day last week for dried fruit. - A farmer in this section informs us that he realized $134 this year from his watermelon patch of about half an acre. —One hundred and fifty scholars are at-tending the fall session of Salem Female Academy. —The death of Dr. J. H. Shelton, which occurred at his home, in Davidson county, on Sunday last, caused a wide-spread feeling of sympathetic sorrow.

—A good idea of the business done in our factories can be formed by the receipts for stamps at the revenue office. This week it amounts to nearly $54,000. We are ahead of any other district in the State. -Mr. Buxton, counsel of the dele gates who went on to investigate the trade between the Virginia Midland and the Syndicate in a conversation reports the mission as entirely satisfactory. He states that the work will be pushed forward without regard to local subscriptions. A thousand hands will be engaged in grading, and the work is now an assured success.

- Raleigh News-Observer: The Association of the Primitive Baptists, which was held at Middle Creek, eighteen miles south of the city, on Sunday, proved an attraction, for about three hundred people from Raleigh attended. Some three thousand persons were present. Sermons were preached by Elders P. D. Gold, Moore and Dammer. The services were at once interesting and impressive. —Sunday morning Mrs. Partin, wife of the night watchman at the capitol, by mistake took an overdose of laudanum, which came causing her death. —Sunday night Mr. Pomp Bryan was driving in a buggy, having with him his son Louis, six years of age. The horse took fright near the Yarboro and dashed down Fayetteville street at frightful speed. Mr. Bryan had to hold his son with one arm, and hence was unable to control the horse, who in a few moments ran headforemost into a tree opposite the Battle mansion, on Fayetteville street. The occupants of the buggy were thrown a great distance, but, strange to say, were not badly hurt. The buggy was wrecked. The horse, injured in the head, in the shoulder and internally, died in ten minutes thereafter.

—Maj. J. B. Yates, the energetic general manager of the North Carolina Midland Railroad, was in the city yesterday, having been hastily summoned to Greensboro. In reply to an inquiry, he stated that work began on the road at Goldsboro early yesterday morning. Mr. Best, the President of the road, threw the first shovelful of dirt. About one hundred hands were at work, and considerable progress was made. The and considerable progress was made. The right of way has been secured for five miles from Goldsboro. Maj. Yates says if the weather is favorable the road will be graded to Smithfield by December and the tracklaying will keep pace with the grading. The authorities of the road advertise for 1,000 laborers, and such should apply at Goldsboro. To-morrow there wil be an advertisement for sealed proposals for building the masonry and superstructure of the bridge over Little river, one mile and a half from Goldsboro. ——A correspondent from Rocky Mount, on September 14, says: "This morning, when S. S. Sorsby, the jailor, went into the jail to earry the prisoners their breakfast, Spencer H. Harper, one of the prisoners, attempted to escape, and swore that he would kill Sorsby or get out, and started to attack Sorsby, when he drew his pistol and shot Harper, the ball passing through his neck, causing almost nstant death.

The matter of the street altercation, al uded to in our last issue, was investigated by Mayor Smith vesterday morning, when the party who was found to have commenced the assault was required to pay s fine of $25, and a friend who was present to "see him out" was mulcted in the same

Bart. Lander, colored, was arraigned for disorderly conduct and resisting the police. It seems that the defendant was acting very disorderly near the foot of Mulberry street, Tuesday night, and Officer Marsh Walker attempted to arrest him, after finding that he would not take his well-meant advice to behave himself, when Lander showed fight. A struggle commenced between the two and continued for some moments, during which the prisoner tore the metal badge from the coat of the officer and threw it into the street, when finally Officer Walker found it necessary to knock him down with his club, when he was taken to the guard house without much further difficulty. Defendant was ordered to pay a fine of $10 or go below for thirty days. The money was promptly furnished by some of his friends and Lander was re-leased from custody.

HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE makes a delicious drink. Dr. M. H. Henry, the widely known and eminent family physician, of New York, says:

pleted, on Nun, between Sixth and Seventh streets, next east of the new Congregationalist church, and intended to be occupied by the Principal, Rev. D. D. Dodge, and teachers of the New Hampshire Memorial Institute, situated on the corner adjoining, we took a turn in that direction yesterday morning and were kindly shown through the building by Rev. Mr. Dodge. It is constructed of one thickness of brick on the outside and a solid and substantial frame on the inside, thoroughly boarded, and with an air chamber between, six inches in thickness, while the brick is firmly anchored at intervals of five courses to the studding. The front part of the building is 36 by 42 feet in dimensions, the dining room and back hall 30 by 40 feet and the kitchen 18 by 40 feet, the front part being three stories and the other two parts two steries high. It contains twenty-two rooms, fifteen large closets, four large halls and five verandas, all arranged so that s person can pass from the halls to any room in the building without going through another room, and has in the basement conveniences for a furnace, laundry, cellar and large cistern. The kitchen, dining-room and closets for the same are arranged so as to prevent any noise, smell or other inconvenience penetrating to other parts of the house. The interior of the building is fincypress, pine and walnut, without the use are of native North Carolina granite. The designs and planning were arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Dodge, and the necessary funds were furnished by that liberal-hearted gentleman and philanthropist, Mr. James H. generously contributed towards the new Congregationalist church. Mr. S. B. Weston, of Nashua, N. H., was the master brick mason in charge; Edward Stills, colored, of this city, the master carpenter; Henry Green, colored, had charge of the plastering, and James Lane, colored, of the varnishing, painting, oiling, etc., and Messrs. Altaffer & Price furnished the frame and inside finish. Taken altogether the building is a model of neatness, convenience, beauty and comfort.

Had His Arm Broken.

about 12 o'clock Tuesday night, who said he was passing an alley on the wharf when some one unknown struck him on the left arm with a club and broke it. The city physician, Dr. Walker, was sent for and set it when the patient was in a proper condition to undergo the operation, he being partially intoxicated at the time. Yesterday morning the Doctor called at the station house, with an assistant, to perform the needed surgical operation, when he found that the man was gone; some of his friends having come and persuaded him off with his arm in a fractured condition. Smith is said to be one of several gravel train hands on the C. C. Road, including Bart Lander, who figured before the Mayor's Court, who, having been paid off, came here Tuesday for a frolic.

Failed to Substantiate. The case of Isaac Stanly, the colored man who was arrested on suspicion of having burglariously entered the house of Carrie Doone, on Church, between Fifth and Sixth streets, on Friday night last, mention of which was made in our last paper, came up before Justice Millis, yesterday, when the principal witnesses for the prosecution, the woman and her daughter, after taking a good view of the accused, admitted that they thought they were mistaken in the man; or, in other words, that Isaac Stanly was not the individual they were after. There were also, we learn, several witnesses ready to prove an alibi as to Stanly, and other reliable and responsible parties were at hand to testify as to the excellent character sustained by the accused. The defendant was discharged

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.—Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes the "Boston Christian Freeman": We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and its parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever.
