Wilmington Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church will meet at Faison next Thursday, and will probably continue until Monday. Gov. Vance has written a clear statement, dressed a letter to Earl Hillsboro giving an account of the great storm of 1769 that swept over New Berne, doing great damage to that town of less than 1,000 people. It is dated addressed to the people of North Carolina, in which he fully vindicates his action in the railroad matters. The people will follow Vance, who is for the people.

- Weldon News We recently announced that Mr. W. T. Manning, formerly of this county, had getten into a difficulty. This was a mistake. The Danville Times says it is false and that Mr. Manning says he has not used a pistol since he left Virginia. — A fatal accident hap-pened a few miles from this place last Wednesday morning. A young man named Richard Webb, who was ginning for Mr. Abram Brinkley, put his hand under the apron of the gin to raise it, when his hand came in contact with the saws and was cut to pieces up to the wrist. Carpenter, senior editor of the Newbernian, which took place at his boarding house in this city yesterday morning at 5.30 o'chock, after a brief illness from broncho-pneumonia. We have known Mr. Carpenter for many years and have been on the most intimate terms with him, both socially and in a business manner. He had his peculiarities—he had his faults but a more generous, a more liberal-hearted man, a more devoted and staunch friend, is seldom met. Those who mourn his loss will do so most sincerely from the utmost depths of their hearts. Seth M. It was found that Mr. Ellington had suffered severe bruises on his legs, and that he was probably injured internally, as he complained of severe pains. - We are informed of a sad case of suicide at Warrenton. Mrs. Elizabeth Flan-nagan, aged 62 years, took morphine about daybreak on Saturday morning, and when discovered in her room about one o'clock was speechless, and remained so until Monday, when she died. She left a letter in which she stated that life had become a burden and she wished to end it. In other years she had been wealthy, and her hus-band and herself during the war gave large snms of money to Confederate soldiers, amounting to many thousands of dollars. Her property was swept away by the war, and for some time she had been in great need. She asked that her funeral should be preached from 1 Cor., 4 chap., 3, 4 and 5 verses, and in her letter gave directions about her funeral and her few remaining personal effects.

Chag Hasuccoth-The Feast of Taber-

This festival was ushered in by our Jewish fellow citizens yesterday evening, and will close with the "Concluding Feast," next Saturday. It is celebrated in obedience to the Biblical command (Leviticus xxiii: 33-43) not only in remembrance of the miraculous preservation of the Israelites during the forty years of their wanderings and privations in the wilderness where they dwelt in booths and when the bounty of the Lord fed them with celestial bread, sent the birds of the air to nourish them and allowed the hard rock to be cleft, that fresh water might issue to quench the thirst of fevered lips-but also in grateful acknowledgment of God's beneficence vouchsafed to all His children during the spring and summer. Unlike its immediate predecessors, the New Year and Day of Atonement, the Feast of Tabernacles, or as it is also called the "Feast of Ingathering," is one of rejoicing and the services at the synagogues partake of a lively or cheering

BAPTISTS IN COUNCIL. Rastern Baptist Association.

- No cases for the Mayor's Court derator.

Letters were read from the various churches connected with the Association. A sermon was preached on Tuesday night by Rev. F. W. Eason, of Newbern.

Reports were read on Theological Education, Religious Periodicals, Home and Foreign Missions, Sunday School Work. etc. Addresses were made on these reports by Rev. Messrs. C. T. Bailey; of Raleigh; F. W. Eason, of Newbern; J. B. Taylor, of Wilmington; J. N. Stallings, J. S. Purefoy, F. H. Ivey, W. M. Kennedy, and Messrs. F. P. Hodgood, Col. Faison, Rev. J. B. Taylor, of this city, preached at the Methodist church on Wednesday morning. Rev. C. T. Bailey, of the Biblical Recorder, preached at the Baptist church on Wednesday night.

Dr. Roberts, J. T. Bland and others.

A motion was adopted requesting the pastors of the Association to preach on the subject of Foreign Missions and take up a collection for this object during the next Associational year. Large and liberal collections were made for the various objects of Christian benevolence.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the Association at Emma's Chapel, in Onslow county.

The Moderator, Rev. J. L. Stewart, in some remarks at the close, stated that this was the most important and delightful session of the Eastern Association which he had ever known.

We learn that large crowds were in attendance upon the meetings, and that the exercises were of the most interesting character.

In the issue of the Baltimore American, of September 28th, we find the following description of Coup's Circus, as seen in that city, and an interesting description of the Hippodrome features, which will donbtless prove very attractive to our circus-goers: "W. C. Coup's four-ring circus and Paris hippodrome began its three-days' show in this city yesterday. The morning parade was witnessed by quite a large number of people all along the route. The afternoon performance was well attended, and there was a very large and quite fashionable au-dience present last night. Among the good things in the circus may be mentioned the wonderfully trained Broncho horses, whose acts seem almost human; the leaping horse Nettle, a beautiful specimen of horse flesh. who leaps like a deer. The performing dogs made the children all laugh, and the four remarkable hounds leaped over six horses with great agility. Among the per-forming animals, perhaps it may be well to class the three Zulu chiefs, who appeared in their peculiar dances, songs, etc., and were hideous enough to please the small boy who had crammed his brain with fantastic ideas of these brave warriors. Of course there are equestrian acts, clowns, trick ponies and all the other adjuncts which make up a pleasing circus performance. As an inter-lude between the circus proper and the racing, Lulu—the flying man—was introduced. His act is quite startling and well done. Placing himself on the spring of an immense catapult, he gives his orders to fire, and in an instant the spring is touched and he is sent with lightning-like rapidity into the air, to the top of the canvas. Turning twice, he flies many feet across the tent and lands safely in the net arranged to catch him. His act only excited the people for the coming races. The hippodrome performance commenced with a half-mile dash. Three young ladies on beautiful horses were the contestants. The track was on the turf, about twenty feet wide, and required six laps to the mile. The ladies rode with great courage and skill, and took the six hurdles beautifully. The race was really exciting. A two-horse chariot race, two contestantsmale and female—proved entertaining, the lady handling her reins beautifully. A Roman-standing race was very novel, and a three-horse chariot contest excellent. A jockey race, three entries, half mile, was very well ridden and sharply contested, and the audience was most enthusiastic as the jockey wearing orange and black won. The race for a wife, by the Indians, closed the performance. All the races were excellent and worth seeing. There is a menagerie attached to the circus, and some rare specimens of beasts are on exhibition. The show will be in Wllmington on Thursday next, the 13th inst.

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT, having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homeomethy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still suffering; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties and left the father with the child. During her sheence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was deligited with the wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying bables and restless nights have disappeared. > M. CRONLY, Auctioneer. BY CRONLY & MORRIS.

Auctioneers' Private Sales. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FACT THERE IS a boom out West in the prices of all articles; Notwithstanding the fact of a general labor

Notwithstanding the fact of a general labor strike;

Notwithstanding the increased railroad freight; Notwithstanding all these facts, we have Bill of Lading of Car Load of ROCKAWAYS, PHÆ-TONS, BUGGIES, &c., which left on the 29th of September, and Mr. HUFFMAN, the clever Agent of the Southern Division of the Louis Cook Manufacturing Company, advises us as crops are short we must not advance prices.

We hope to be able to shew them on Monday, 10th inst., and propose to obey instructions and sell at same prices as of last car.
