Old Simon Magus Cameron, of Pennsylvania, is in Washington. He has been closeted with the President. He wishes to help run the new machine. The old fellow is a Stalwart all over, and a Boss Machinist of the first water.

Mr. Walton, of New York, won $60,000 on Foxhall's last race. Mr. Keene, the owner, also won largery. He says he is the greatest horse in the world. He was ridden by a thirdrate jockey named Watts, and was heavily handicapped because of his many victories.

Some six months ago Mr. C. W Lucker, of Charleston, S. C., got into a difficulty with a negro resulting in the slaying of the latter. He was tried and acquitted. On Tuesday night, at the same place he killed the negro, he was shot and wounded dangerously by an unknown assassin.

Senator Voorhees is out in a letter defending his High Tariff speech at Atlanta. What converted Voorhees to Radical ideas of protection is not revealed. He also goes for the Democrats for spending millions for internal improvements whilst denouncing such improvements by the General Government. Is Voorhees preparing to bolt altogether and play the Mahone role in "Ingeeany?"

William C. McGill, Jr., son of the jail guard who had the fracas with Guiteau in his cell, was shot in the side as he was returning from the theatre in Washington on Tuesday night last. The Post says:

and Dr. W. E. C. Hazen was called in. He found that the ball had struck the ninth rib on the left side, and, glancing, had lodged, about three inches away, in the muscles of the back. He promptly probed and cut for the ball, which he succeeded in extracting. He pronounced the wound a very dangerous but not necessarily fatal one. McGill is about eighteen years of age."

after the November elections. Of Grant he writes:

"Gen. Grant is closer to the new President than any other one man outside of Conkling. The President makes no con-cealment of his devotion to Grant. Grant has been the first and the last man at the secret Presidential conference."

He says his consultations with the Stalwarts are frequent and are protracted to a late hour at night. Grant. Cameron, Logan, Jones, Edmunds, Beale and others are his special advisers. Here is Grant's way of ad-

"Grant has been for an immediate and entire Stalwart Cabinet, which would at once dismiss all of the Garfield Cabinet but Lincoln, who was a Grant delegate to the Chicago Convention but not admitted. Grant urged the immediate nomination of Conkling, Boutwell, Beale and others of that positive Stalwart type to the Cabinet. He believes that the way to sustain a Stal-wart administration is to make it Stalwart boldly, and let the party understand that Garfield is dead and his policy with him. He wants Boutwell and Beale in the new Cabinet. His love for them is equaled only by his hatred for Blaine and MacVeagh."

He says Arthur is adroit, cautious and leans to the side of discretion. He is a bitter Stalwart, but full of shrewd devices. Here's some inside history:

"The appointment of Morgan, who does not want the place, was one of Arthur's shrewd devices. It shocks none of the Garfield element, and he was expected to accept and retire in December or soon thereafter, when Roscoe Conkling could be called to the Cabinet, unless Lapham can be sent abroad and Conkling elected to the Senate; but Morgan has declined to be made a warming pan for Conkling. Blaine and all the Garfield element of the government will soon cease to be known in the administration, but it will not be done in time to enable the Republicans to rebuke Stalwartism at the November elections.'

The North Carolinians doing business in New York, held a meeting at the Tremont Hotel, on the 12th inst., to consider the death of that excellent gentleman, Captain Edwin T. Cheatham, of Granville, which occurred recently in that city. He is put down at 58 years old, but that is a mistake. He was not more than 56, we think, and possibly not more than 55. Captain John M. Walker presided and W. S. Prior was secretary. The resolutions were highly appropriate, touching and just. He was indeed an excellent man, kind, urbane, true, amiable, just and honorable. Here are two of the resolu-

Resolved, That though engaged in busi-ness beyond the limits of his native State, ne was nevertheless a true and loval citizen of North Carolina, ever alive to her interests, and noted for his zeal in the defence of her honor whenever assailed.

Carpet-bagger Tourgee is happy. His "Fool's Erand"—his libel against the South-has been dramatized by Steele MacKaye, and was played in Philadelphia on Wednesday night. It may be our readers would like to see the Dramatis Persona. Here

"If the Democrats are defeated next month, says the Richmond Dispatch, the month, says the Richmond Dispatch, the Funder organ, 'Virginia will no longer be governed by white men.' That is the real Funder issue in Virginia, and on that issue the country by an ovarwhelming majority long since decided that this is neither a white man's Government nor a black man's Government, but a Government of, by, and for the whole people."-Phil. Press, Rep.

Ah, indeed! Then why did the Philadelphia Republicans kick up so much when a Democratic Mayor placed some negroes on the police? And why does not the North send some negroes to the Congress? And why does not Arthur select two or more negroes for his Cabinet? Remember that this is "neither a white man's Government nor a black man's

The Charleston News and Courier heads a long account of a talk with Mr. Archibald Forbes and his opinion of the Connecticut and South Carolina troops he saw in that city, as "Praise from Sir Hubert." The jist of the opinion is that the dress parade and marching of the First Connecticut was excellent, and that he has seen them equalled but seldom and nowhere surpassed. He did not think the South Coralinians equalled them in the perfection of drill. The impressions at Yorktown written by himself. It is well written, kindly and graphic.

- New Berne News: Steamers New Berne, of Old Dominion, and Defiance, of the North Carolina Steamship Line, left last evening, heavily freighted. The New Berne took 700 bales of cotton and 300 barrels of naval stores; the Defiance 900 bales of cotton, besides other miscellaneous

- Winston Leader: We received call from Mr. E. L. Small, of Greensboro, Vt., .on Thursday last. He has recently moved to this State, and is engaged at the shops at Company Shops. He informs us that a number of his friends in Vermont wish to come South if they can procure suitable homes.

- We have published from day to day accidents in cotton-ginning during the present season. Without counting those that have been mentioned in this department we would place the number not below thirty, and it may be as high as forty. Some accidents have occurred doubtless that have not appeared in the papers.

- Hickory Carolinian: We learn from our Watauga correspondent that Isaac Lowrance, Esq., a well respected citizen of Poga, was found dead near his barn last Friday. The coroner being absent, a jury was summoned by L. W. Farthing, Esq., and an inquest held. Verdict, death by an accidental discharge in his own hands, while attempting to blow into the muzzle.

-The editor of the Raleigh News-Observer, writing of Yorktown, says:
"Outrey, the French Minister, said to Mrs.

Hancock took her hand between his, and with courtliness spoke touchingly of Gen. Jackson, and seated her by his side during the entertainment at the - State Fair Notes in Farmer and Mechanic: Mr. J. S. Joyner, of Franklinton, second best bale of cotton, and special remium offered by Richmond Fertilizer Company. -Mr. Jos. E. Pogue, of Henderson, won three premiums and a gold and silver medal for display of tobacco and best plug tobacco. — Capt. Southerland, Wilmington, best match horses, $10. Capt. Wm. Hunter, Kinston, best harness horse, $5. —Col. Wharton J. Green took four premiums and a gold medal for largest and best exhibit of wines.

- Charlotte Observer: Crab Orchard township boasts of a young man 16 years old who stands 6 feet in his stockings, weighs 204 pounds and lifts a 400-pound bale of cotton as a nurse handles a baby. — Gov. Jarvis and staff and several other Governors and staff, with numbers of other distinguished gentlemen, were to have passed through the city late last night en route to Atlanta for Governor's day at the exposition, which is Thursday. — Su-perintendent Mills, of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, is in the city. He is still lame from the accident by which his leg was hurt some time ago. - Lumberton Robesonian: Mr. Thomas B. Russell had his right hand badly cut in his cotton gin last Friday evening. - Elias Oxendine, whose store was recently burned, has another nearly completed. — Some unknown person shot a ball through Barney Taylor's head, killing him instantly, on Wednesday night. It seems that he, among a number of others, met Zach Millis, for the purpose of taking a wine spree, and sometime during the night the shooting occurred. — Mr. J. N. - Raleigh News-Observer: The bulk of the cotton is picked. The yield will be, on an average, about 50 per cent. of that of last year. —We are pleased to note the continued improvement of Col. Turner, keeper of the capitol. --- Capt. A. B. Andrews, President of the North Carolina Railroad Company, gives notice to contractors that sealed proposals will be received at Salisbury till November 16th for the grading and masonary on the Ducktown line on Pigeon River. —We regret to learn that Hon. A. S. Merrimon was called yesterday to Asheville by a telegram announcing the illness of his father, Rev. Branch H. Merrimon, who is now more than 80 years old, and whose condition precludes the hope of recovery. - Statesville Landmark: Work has been ordered stopped upon the extension of the Western North Carolina depot at this place. It is supposed that this change of purpose on the part of the au-thorities of the road is in some way connected with the recent purchase by the Richmond and Danville people of the Charlotte and Statesville Railroad. -Dr. L. Harrell, of this place, one of the directory of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad, was called to Raleigh last week to attend a meeting of the board. It had been expected that a proposition for the purchase of the road would have been laid before the directors and discussed, and President Gray, who had been made acquainted in advance with the terms of the proposition was rather surprised that no ommunication was received, but attributed it to a delay for which there was a sufficient reason. It is understood that parties in New York are prepared to offer fifty-five thousand dollars for the State's stock in the road, assume its liabilities and bind themselves to build it according to the charter. They say it is their desire to open a line direct from Cincinnati to Wilmington, and that they cannot command all needful capital It is stated that Governor Jarvis is in favor of a sale upon the terms proposed-and Dr. Harrell himself is favorably in, clined towards it.

- Raleigh Farmer and Mechanic: Mr. John D. Cameron, it is rumored, will start a new paper at Hillsboro, which at all times remained his place of residence. — Harper's Weekly gives a picture of the Atlanta Exposition, with the figures of Vance and Voorhees plainly recognizable. Vance has a palm leaf fan in his hand, and looks as if he would like to hear from the "Governor of South Carolina." — Two singular accidents occurred in Union county last week. Mr. Dorster, the mail car-rier to Lancaster, and Mr. W. A. Watson, were each thrown from a buggy, each caught their neck in the wheel, and both were dead when found. They were on different roads and days, but the occurrence of the 25th, says old Simon Cameron New York Tribune publishes also an forbids the removal of Blaine until interesting account of Mr. Forbes's Nichols left the city yesterday, for Philafirst exhibition of Tourgee's "Fool's Errand." Their errand was probably of quite a different kind. —Col. Green, President of the State Society of ex-Confederate Soldiers and sailors has appointed an executive committee of five, and will issue an address in a few days. — The fact that there are thirty boys from North Carolina at a New York business college shows the tendency of the times. —Below we give the names of a number of respectable persons who desire to employ the services of a young woman in connection with household duties. P. M. and daylight, the residence of J. W. Bryan, one of the Sheriff's deputies, living on Swann, between Sixth and Seventh streets, was entered and robbed of a number of articles, including a silver watch, a gold breastpin belonging to Bryan's wife, a package of sugar, etc. The thief was evidently a very bold one, as he ransacked the room in which Bryan and his wife were sleeping, with a double-barrel gun almost in reach, and took the breastpin from a necklace which was lying in immediate proximity to the weapon. He was no doubt searching for money, but his industry in this particular was not rewarded with success. The fastening to the window through which the thief entered was accidentally left off, and advantage was taken of the circumstance. No clue.

A LOOK BACKWARD. Extracts from the Diary of a Wilmingtomian in 1862.

We continue our extract from the diary alluded to in our last, and in this connection we would state, as is doubtless remembered by many, that the fever was first declared epidemic on the 18th of September:

October 11.-It is thought the worst is over. You will see the number of new cases is large, but the number of deaths less in proportion. Among the many now sick are Rev. Dr. Drane, Dr. W. G. T., A. M., R. F. B., and E. W. The sick at the Sound, among them W. H. L., are reported better. We hear of deaths among the refugees at Clinton, Fayetteville and Columbia. It is evidently the best policy for one to remain at home if he or she has stayed late in the fever atmosphere. The people have responded so generously to our appeals for aid that there is no present need. Should judge from the number of applicants that the Sanitary Committee are feeding eighttenths of our present population. I send wheat to make coffee.

October 14.—Since Saturday night we have been visited with a series of showers and changeable weather, which has had the effect to cause more sickness and increased the mortality to over sixty since that date; many are now very sick, among them Rev. Dr. Drane and Mr. Houston. A. E. H— is reported very low. Standing at the head of the Market, looking up Market and Front streets, you see very few persons. At the drug store you find a crowd waiting for medicine; at the Mayor's office appli-cants for nurses, help and coffins; at the supply store constant demands for something to eat, comforts for the sick and convalescing; all kinds of work suspended, and only one store (Lane's) open, save those of the druggists. Only four persons follow to the grave one of our best citizens!

October 15.—The sky looks like snow. We hope for a frost. God grant it! Rev. Dr. Drane and Mr. Houston were buried today; Mr. Isaac Northrop yesterday.

October 16.—The Journal reduced to a letter-size sheet. Cause—Printers all down with the fever.

october 19.—To-day is bright and pleasant, the wind being a little cool, but no signs of frost. The trees are as green as in midsummer, with but few falling leaves. Roses are in full bloom, and the gardens give the appearance of springtime. Reports from Smithville that the fever is spreading. Many cases reported there, some of them critical ones. Mr. Meginney reported very sick, and no hopes of his recovery. Ten buried there many new cases. Rev. Mr. Pritchard and family, of this town, are reported better today. October 25.—Four days abed with the fever. Dr. A. says the worst is over. Fever is on the decrease. Weather fine and very Sunday-And it has always seemed the saddest of the season during the epidemic. Mr. John Dawson is sick to-day and his labors in the Sanitary Committee devolve upon P. W. Fanning. Before we had breakfast there were calls for four coffinsissued orders for two more on the way down town, and at the store we found several waiting on same errand. Nine orders for coffins issued and not yet 10 o'clock. October 27.-A cool day, with high wind No frost as yet. Journal "slip" reports a hundred and eleven deaths. New cases three hundred and twenty-five. This does not include the negroes. Bolstered up in bed, wrapped in three blankets end a heavy comforter, thus I write: Kind Dr. A. takes his departure and leaves me to care for myself, but with instructions "not to leave the room." The lucky ones who get through with the yel-low fever complain of chilliness, went of strength, and ah, the knees, so weak and shaky; no appetite, which is not so bad when neither egg nor chick nor any good thing is to be had. Dr. Worth reported sick. Third death in Dr. McRee's family; the doctor, his son and grandson are now

October 28.—Am convalescent and sitting up to-day; had a good fire all day, which was comfortable. A snow sky to-day, with cool wind; no frost as yet. Trees retain their foliage and are green; roses in bloom. Rumors of light frosts in the country. Fever reported as abating. Oh, for a frost! Cotton (No. 8) worth $8 50. Have not heard from Topsail Sound in ten days. Can't get a countryman to town now!

A Case in Court About a Flock of George Haggett, colored, went before one of our magistrates, yesterday, and had a search warrant and a warrant for larceny issued against one Ransom Cobb, whom he accused of having seven head of geese in his possession which were his property. The geese were found in Cobb's possession, but there was no apparent disposition on the part of the defendant to conceal them. After hearing the evidence in the case the defendant was discharged. It seems that though Haggett proved by his witnesses that the geese were his property, Cobb proved by apparently equally credible testimony that they were not only his own, but were hatched on his premises.

The case ended, as above stated. A civil action of claim and delivery was then commenced by Haggett, before the same justice of the peace, with the view of getting possession of the geese, the case being set for a future hearing.

WHO IS MRS. WINSLOW?—As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female. Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as a nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do RISE UP and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are DAILY sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No Morems has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
