Argument for Government in the Star Route Cases-Estimates for the Pension Bureau-The National Thanksgiving Day-Redemption of Government Bonds-Resignation of the Minister to Russia, &c., &c.

[By Telegraph to the Morning Star.] Washington, November 4.—Argument on the motion to set aside the criminal information in the Star Route cases was renewed this morning. George Bliss, special counsel, addressed the Court on behalf of the Government. He gave as the reason why the information was filed, that the grand jury had been adjourned until October 3d, and what were regarded as some of the most important and effective acts had taken place on the 1st of October, and it was likely, therefore, that unless proceedings were begun in some form, the plea of statute of limitations would have been set up by the defendants. Mr. Bliss argued at length against the motion to quash the in-

Mr. Bliss, in opening, admitted that the action of the government in placing information before the court was unusual, but not without precedent, and said that it was the only direct way by which the government could place the facts properly before the jury. He sustained his argument by reading a number of authorities which he subsequently filed in the shape of a brief. The main point made under these authorities was that any person or persons guilty of any crime arising under the revenue laws of the United States, or incurring any fine or forfeiture by breaches of said laws, may be prosecuted, tried and punished, provided the indictment or information be found at any time within five years after committing the offense, any law or provision to the contrary notwithstanding. Some further authorities were cited by Mr. Bliss, with reference to the question of conspiracy; he maintaining that in this case conspiracy could be proven and quite properly sustained. Referring to the position taken by the defence yesterday that Brady could not as an executive officer be proceeded against by indictment, much less by information, Mr. Bliss said it seemed extraordinary to him that these gentlemen should say we are not liable to a grand jury inquest; we are liable only to impeachment, and being out of office now, impeachment amounts to nothing. Any officer of the government could, then, after the most corrupt practices, only resign. He referred to the Belknap case, as to the of the impeachment plan. Referring to the Tweed case, he said it was not alleged in the indictment against him that any of the money ever went into his pocket. Still, counsel came here and laughed because they did not allege in information that any of the money went into Gen. Brady's pocket. He then made a severe arraignment of Gen. Brady, who, he said, being entrusted with discretion by the government, did not exercise that discretion for the good of the people of the government, but was using it for the good of the few by squeezing this man out and putting that man in, and squeezing this contractor or that to pay a contribution. Perhaps, he urged, before the defence finish this case, they will seek to avail themselves of the principle which they laid down yesterday, that members of Congress, too, are exempt from such prosecution or exemp-

Mr. Bliss was followed by Robert G. Ingersoll, of counsel for the defendants, who first called attention to the question of probable cause. Affidavits and information, he said, were all the evidence-all the probable cause in the case. He desired to show how much it amounted to as evidence. This information, he said, appears to have been presented in this Court not by the Attorney General (and he would say here that the Attorney General had no standing in this Court). The Government was represented here by the District Attorney. This information was filed by the District Attorney in partnership with certain other gentlemen, and he doubted whether the District Attorney had any right to divide his responsibilities. He read from the first count of the information, alleging that Brady, Turner, French, McDonough, Brown and others corruptly conspired to defraud the government by procuring unnecessary compensation, and to be paid for carrying mails on certain routes, etc. The first objection he made was to the word unnecessary. It was for the Postoffice Department to say what was unnecessary. It was not for the District Attorney to decide that question. The pleader must set forth accurately the facts, and not only charge that it was unlawful and extravagant, but must also show why it was unlawful and extravagant.

Washington, November 4.—Col. Dudley, Commissioner of Pensions, has submitted to the Secretary of the Interior a recommendation that Congress be asked to appropriate $100,000,000 for disbursement by his office during the next fiscal year, ending January 30, 1883, in payment of annual and accrued pensions, and also that an immediate deficiency appropriation of $20,-000,000 be requested for the purpose of paying all arrears of pensions to claimants whose cases have been or may be favorably adjudicated during the current fiscal year. The Commissioner estimates that 40,000 pension claims will be allowed this year, and that with a further increase in the clerical force of the Bureau, as many as 60,000 may be disposed of next year.

The President has not yet decided upon Mr. Foster's successor. The legation will remain in charge of Secretary Hoffman. The nomination of Geo. M. Duskin, to be District Attorney of the United States for the Southern District of Alabama, was not acted on by the Senate during its last session, and it is now claimed by many lawvers that the office must remain in abeyance until the next session of the Senate. It is generally admitted that the President, by virtue of the tenure of office act, has not the power to make an appointment, and it is still an open question whether the Associate Justice assigned to this Circuit has power to Justice assigned to this Circuit has power to do so. Senator Edmunds, it is said, is of Orleans on that date, the opinion that he has not, though Attorney General Devens had rendered an official opinion in a similar case that he had. The office, however, will only be in abeyance until the meeting of Congress in December, when Duskin's name will again be sent to

Speculations in Regard to the Working of the Land Act in Ireland-The Brighton Railway Murder Trial-France and Russia-Threats of a Rising in Ireland-Archbishop Croke's Advice to Irish Tenants-Fears of a Famine in Russia-Action of the Irish Land Court-Manchester Mar-

[By Cable to the Morning Star.] London, November 4.-The Dublin correspondent of the Daily News at Amagh, discussing the subject of the fears entertained in some quarters in regard to a block in the workings of the Land act, says it is obviously absurd to suppose that because so many thousands of notices have been received they will, or even a decent proportion of them, ever come to trial. As soon as a few decisions have been given, and as soon as the tendency of the decisions begins to be grasped by landlord and tenant, an amicable arrangement will take place in an overwhelming proportion of the cases.

MAIDSTONE, November 4.—The trial of Arthur Lefroy for the murder of F. J. Gold, on the Brighton railway express train, has commenced. The prisoner appears calm and collected. The Attorney General has opened the case on behalf of the crown. The prisoner pleaded not guilty. The court room is densely LONDON, November 4.—The sub-committee of the Land Court, sitting at Belfast to-day, made four decisions, reducing rent in each case about 28 per cent. The day being market day there was a large attendance of farmers, who received the announcement of 'the decisions with great delight. Lord Waterford's tenants having paid full rent and promised not to prevent hunting, that sport was recommenced today and there was a large muster.

The Manchester Guardian, in its commercial article this morning, says that the market is quiet, with small business. Where sellers are slightly easier to deal with considerable sales are occasionally effected, especially of some descriptions of export yarns, chiefly for China and the Levant. A dispatch from Rome says that the Government prohibited a meeting of Republicans and Anti-Clericals to commemorate the anniversary of the battle of Magenta, which was to have been held on the 3d inst. The police of Blackburn threatened the lessee of the hall with a loss of his license if he permitted a Land League meeting at which Miss Erama Parnell was announced to speak.

London, November 4.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that France has asked an explanation of the arrest in Russia of three Frenchmen, upon whom compromising documents are said to have been found.

Archbishop Croke, replying to an address of a branch of the Land League, advised tenants to tender a fair rent, and if refused the fault would not be theirs. It would show that the Irish can for their country's sake endure insults and injuries. He declared that the government had established a reign of terror.

Tunis, November 4.—General Etienne has been appointed provincial governor of Suza and Kairowan. Large bodies of insurgents are reported to be in the vicinity of the latter place.

Berlin, November 4.—The National Zeiung states that Prince Bismarck recently entertained a prominent Jewish manufacturer at Varsin, at which the Prince declared he would never entertain a proposal to curtail the constitutional rights of the Jews. He was, he said, naturally inclined to the criticism of the opposition, but he made no distinction between his Christian and Jewish opponents.

Belfast, November 4.—A sub-committee of the Land Court has given judgment in the cases of fifteen tenants, on the estate of Archdeacon Crawford, in all except one case reducidg rents; thus a rent of £122 was reduced to £89, another of £71 to £48, and another of £69 to £52.

A Man Found Murdered-The Trial of Flipper, the Negro Lieutenant-Killing Frost-A Condemned Murderer Accorded a New Trial.

[By Telegraph to the Morning Star.] GALVESTON, Nov. 4.-A dispatch to the News, from Henrietta, says the body of an unknown man was found in a gulch with three bullet holes in him, and his pockets turned inside out.

A dispatch from Fort Davis says before proceeding to arraign Lieut. Flipper, on the original charges, yesterday, the Judge Advocate stated it would not be proper to present the additional charges which have been preferred against the accused, since the original sets were formulated, unless the prisoner agreed voluntarily that the two sets might be combined and tried at the same time by the original court as now constituted. Capt. Barber, counsel for the defendant, asked if the Judge Advocate would agree that the court, as now constituted, should try both charges in case the defendant preferred to be tried on the charges separately; to which he replied he was not authorized to make any such agreement, but that if a second trial were held at this time those detailed for the first would be called upon to act so far as he was concerned. The court then adjourned until to-day to enable the accused to decide upon the course he would pursue. A dispatch from Paris, Texas, reports a heavy frost Thursday night, which killed the top crop of cotton.

A special to the News, from Texarkana, says Geo. Ford, who was sentenced to be hanged on November 11, was released on the 2d inst. by the Judge on a writ of coram nobis, and will be tried at the next term by a special venire as to his insanity at the time of the murder.

A Lawyer Kills a Man he had Prosecuted on Account of Threats to Take His Life.

[By Telegraph to the Morning Star.] HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Nov. 4.-Col. G. M. Murphy shot and mortally wounded Geo. Savage, yesterday. Murphy was the lawyer engaged in the recent prosecution of The resignation of Hon. Jno. W. Foster, to have threatened Murphy's life which led Savage for murder. Savage was understood the latter to shoot him. Savage said in his dying statement that he had never threatened to kill Murphy.

Weekly Report of the Liverpool Cotton Trade. LIVERPOOL, Nov. 4.—This week's circular of the Liverpool Cotton Brokers' Association says cotton was in good demand on Friday and Saturday of last week, and there has been a fair amount of business since; but with some pressure to sell prices have partially declined. American was in good demand, but was very freely offered. Uplands and Mobile low middling to good middling declined 1-16d. In sea island there was a fair business at unchanged rates. Futures, after a decline of 3-32d in the middle of the week, closed firm at Thursday's rates
