The papers have a way of "Honoralding" a fellow just as soon as he is nominated. The result is, although beaten, he ever after struts in borrowed plumes. We have known more than one instance of this kind.

AN INTERVIEW.

Mr. Tom Cooper, Chairman of the Radical State Committee, has been to Washington, and upon his return through Greensboro he was interviewed by the Patriot. Here are some of his points: Arthur is a Stalwart President (this is old); Tom Settle does not desire to go into the Cabinet and would hardly accept. (All bosh.) He is pretty certain to be promoted on the bench. (This is more likely.) No one but Arthur knows his purposes as to whether there will be a Southern Cabinet officer or not. If there was to be an election in North Carolina to-morrow the Rads would sweep the platter. (Thomas, you are "romancing.") And here is the way they would do it: "On the issues we shall submit to the people: Election of magistrates by the people; the road law; a progressive educa-tional policy; a liberal railroad policy; antiprohibition; reduction of internal revenue taxation when and where compatible with the public good, &c.' (Just here Tom laughed in his sleeve and sent Ike Young a wink by telegraph.) He says the Rads may quarrel, but they all hang together on election day. (Another illustration of Abram Venable's cat story.) T. C. further gives it as his very deliberate opinion that the Rads will have "a walk over" in the next State election. (Democrats, do you hear that?) Tom says Democrats are the only people who take each other by the throat. (Score one for Tom.) He further assured the Patriot that North Carolina will follow Virginia, and that the North Carolina Mahone has been found. Tom refused to ness" in all this. Let the aspiring leaders study lesson number one. Tom, we thank you.

- Norfolk Ledger: A new steamboat company has been organized in this city, with the following officers: Captain Henry Roberts, President. Directors— Hon. John B. Whitehead, Captain W. A. Graves, Colonel L. D. Starke, Captain A. S. Conklin. Treasurer—C. Burruss. The company is to be called the Norfolk and North Carolina Navigation Company, and has purchased the steamboat W. B. Rodgers to be run through the Dismal Swamp Ca-

The Dramatic Association of Savannah gave Mr. Thomas W. Keene a supper after his performance of Richard III. As some of the papers have been very severe in their criticisms of this growing actor, the following from the notice of his performance that appeared in the News, will be interesting:

"He carefully avoids everything like imitation of any other actor with whose representation of Richard the dramatic world is familiar, but, we think has improved upon his predecessors. * * * He possesses a singularly expressive countenance, and his facial control is wonderful, the change from a bright, cunning, satisfied smile to a revengeful, sullen, vindictive scowl being instantaneous. His enunciation is superb, and, though there is in some particulars a tendency to exaggeration, yet in its entirety the spectator really had presented to him a personal Richard.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune sounds the awful intelligence that Mahonism is to be turned loose upon the solid Democratic South and no mistake. Here is a specimen from the letter:

"I am in constant communication with prominent and influential men who are nominally Democratic in North Carolina. and they assure me that matters are ripe for a Liberal movement there. If 500 native white Democrats in that State, scattered among the different counties, will come out in opposition to the Bourbons, the latter will be defeated by 20,000 majority next

North Carolina Democrats are not scared easily. They stood Grant and his set of freebooters, and they will not surrender until they have made a square fight, and don't you forget it.

There is a bit of the irony of fate in the elections in England. The Tories are always gaining through the aid of Irish votes. The Tories have been the oppressors of Irishmen through two hundred years. While Irishmen are voting for Tory members of Parliament the opponents of Toryism are applying measures of relief to their countrymen which able Irishmen themselves admit to be unprecedented and a great boon. The Irish in England are trying to turn out the Liberals to restore to power their ancient oppressors. Curious.

Grant got furious the other day. He bit off the end of his cigar. kicked over the spittoon, banged a

- Elizabeth City Economist: New corn is selling at 60 cents a bushel, with an upward tendency. Rice has declined a little, to 95 cents for good quality. Cotton in seed goes at 34 cents a pound at the factory. Black peas are 80 and black eyes are 100 cents a bushel. Eggs are 17 cents a dozen,

- Greensboro Tribune: Small pox is said to be in an epidemic form in the city of Richmond, Va., and rumor places it much nearer on the railroad. Would it not be well for the city authorities to have the citizens vaccinated? -The first and only respectable frost of the season was this morning. It looked like a small snow.

- Elizabeth City Carolinian: The Dismal Swamp Canal Company will soon run two steamers of their own regularly on their line. - Farming as a profession will rank high or low according to the brain force employed therein. — Wm. J. Morrisette, Esq., one of Camden's older and prominent citizens, died at his residence at the Court house on Tuesday of last week.

He was about 65 years of age. - Wadesboro Times: The deer are dying up in Richmond, either from mushrooms or the black tongue. We learn that twenty-six dead ones have been found in the neighborhood of Ellerbe Springs. -Lilesville items: Small grain, where sown early, looks well. -Sickness abated very much hereabouts. -- In a personal rencounter, in this county the other day, one belligerant bit off the nasal proturberance of the other. - Fourteen burials in the Baptist cemetery this year-a number without precedent. — Henry W. DeBerry, aged 73 years, died in Anson on the 9th inst. He was an upright, honest man, a sincere christian and a useful citizen. In many respects he much resembled his father, Hon, Edmund DeBerry.

- The Index-Appeal says: "Miles Darden, probably the largest man on record, born in North Carolina in 1798, died in Henderson county, Tennessee, January 23, 1857. He was seven feet and six inches high, and in 1845 weighed 871 pounds. At his death his weight was a little over 1,000 pounds." This went the rounds of the State press long ago. The STAR published the facts at length a year or so ago. The Raleigh News Observer copies and adds: "In Wayne there is a gentleman whose weight is computed at over 700, and in Nash a man is stated to be 120 years old. The two-headed girls was born in Columbus, and no end of prodigies still remain in the Old North State." [It might have said that North Carolina has some hundred people whose ages range from 105 to 160, and that the people generally believe the yarns.

- New Berne items: We learn from Vanceboro parties that considerable cotton still remains unpicked, that labor is very scarce, and that some of the farmers are offering one-fourth to have it gathered. - We add to our collection of natural curiosities the petrified foot of a horse, exhumed yesterday by Mr. P. Salter, on Craven street, near Johnston, from a depth of three feet below the surface. This petrifled foot is almost perfect in shape, and shows the signs of the shoe nails. -Wild turkeys were never known to be as plentiful as they now are on the north side of the Neuse. — We were shown a telegram yesterday from the President of the Potomac Dredging Company, to Superintendent Bowen, now here, stating, that President Marshall Parks of the New Berne and Besufort Canal Company, had secured a dredge for work on the old Harlowe

- Raleigh News-Observer: The cholera is playing havoc with the chickens in this section. - Turkeys are coming in market now in considerable quantities. They sell at one dollar each. - James Phelps, charged with the murder of Lewis Ball, at Milton, North Carolina, on November 11, is at large. A hundred dollars reward is offered for his apprehension. He is about thirty-five years old, slow of speech when spoken to, about five feet eight inches high, weight about one hundred and fortyfive pounds, has sandy, auburn hair, blue eyes and dark eye-lashes. The reward is offered by the brothers of the deceased. Address Thomas Ball, Milton, North Carolina. - Senator Vance, Governor Jarvis and Treasurer Worth compose the board of commissioners of the Western North Carolina Railroad. They will avail themselves of this opportunity and hold at Clinton the meeting they intended holding at Raleigh this week We learn that many matters of much moment are to be considered by the commissioners. Governor Jarvis and Dr.

Worth will return to Raleigh to-morrow. - Weldon News: We regret the death of Miss Annie Bowers, daughter of Mr. R. D. Bowers, which took place at Halifax on the 8th inst. Miss Bowers had been ill for some time of that fatal disease consumption. She was just bleoming into womanhood, being about 18 years of age. -We learn that a special term of Northampton Court has been ordered by the Governor to convene on the 9th of January next. Civil cases only will be heard. -Hon. W. A. Moore has been spoken of as Judge of the Supreme Court to be voted for next year. —Blind Tom, the musical genius, will give an exhibition of his musical talents at Literary Hall on Monday night. — Many of the cotton fields are green, the weed having taken a second growth. We are informed by Sandy Long that he has some cotton of this second growth that will mature in a few days. -Senator Ransom's speech at the Tarboro fair is said to be among his best. The people who heard it were perfectly enthused by it. —Rev. W. P. Blake has resigned the pastorate of the Baptist church at Toisnot and will hereafter preach here two Sundays in each month. Rev. J. On Friday evening, November 11th, Rev. P, H. When it was first started it appeared all right, but in a few hours it commenced getting slower and finally stopped, while a full head of water was on. Mr. Freeman thought perhaps some snags had washed down and become entangled in the buckets. but on examination he found the wheel full of eels, some of which were of enormous size.

A Narrow Escape from Serious Re-

We were lamenting the scarcity of news in the presence of one of our good citizens yesterday, when he slightly startled us with the exclamation that he came near giving us a big item on Wednesday night last, and in response to our inquiries he gave us the following particulars: He said he was in the midst of a violent attack of sneezing, and had drawn his handkerchief from his pocket, when he heard a terrible noise in the passage as if some one was violently pounding the floor. He hurried to the spot, when he found the servant girl prostrate upon the floor and enveloped from head to foot in a blaze of fire. He still held the handkerchief in his hand, and as he knew of no water handy, and could think of no other plan of procedure, he began to use the handkerchief in smothering the flames about the head and face of the sufferer, literally wiping the fire from the writhing flesh, while at the same time he did all he could to extinguish the flames on other portions of her body, and soon had the satisfaction of seeing his efforts

It seems that the girl is subject to fits, and it is supposed that, finding one coming upon her while going along the passage with a bucket of water and a kerosene lamp in her hands, she set the bucket down, which was found near the stair-case, several feet off, and had afterwards fallen with the lamp in her hand in such a manner as to set fire to her clothing, at which time she became insensible. The lamp, which had not exploded, was found on the floor near the unconscious girl, while the carpet was igniting from the blaze.

Altogether it was a very narrow escape, and only the presence of our friend at home at the opportune moment prevented what might have terminated in most disastrous results. The girl has been confined to her bed since the accident, until yesterday af ternoon, when she ventured out of her

Mr. G. W. Kidder's loss in rice was not quite so heavy as at first reported, only em bracing about 2,500 bushels. His loss on tools, presses, tarpaulins, etc., however, amounted to $500 or $600; upon which there was no insurance. Mr. Kidder doubts the report that the fire was of incendiary origin, though he has no idea how it occurred, unless caused by sparks from a passing

Charged with Stealing a Barrel of Tur-

Charles Williams, a hitherto respectable colored man of Cape Fear Township, in this county, was brought here yesterday morning and lodged in jail, under a commitment from Justice A. J. Grady, charged with having stolen one barrel of turpentine. It was expected that the justified bond in the sum of $100 required of him would be given during the day and he discharged from custody.

Murder of a Prominent Planter.

By a private letter received here vesterday we learn that Mr. T. B. Braddy, a large planter living near Little Rock, S. C. near the Robeson county line, and well known in Robeson and Richmond counties. was shot and instantly killed, on Wednesday night last, by D. W. McLaurin, who discharged the contents of five barrels of his revolver into Braddy's head. At last accounts McLaurin had not been arrested.

The only case before the Mayor's Court vesterday morning was that of Charles Allen, colored, who was found asleep under some steps on Water street. He protested that he didn't know there was any harm in sleeping in such an out-of-the-way place. and he did so simply to be close to his work. He was discharged with a repri-A Good Suggestion.

It has been suggested, and with a great deal of propriety, that the letters of J. C. H., the staff correspondent of the Charleston News & Courier, with reference to North Carolina's exhibit in the Atlanta Exposition, should be preserved, published in pamphlet form, and scattered broadcast throughout the country. No doubt much good could be accomplished thereby.
