OUTLINES.

Ed. Marwell, murderer of the Coleman brothers, was hanged at Durand, Wis., by citizens who took him forcibly from officers as they were leaving the court house. -A German citizen at Richmond, Va., killed himself on account of trouble with his wife. -The Denver & New Orleans Railroad has been located by way of Pueblo; a line of easy grades, with plenty of coal on the made arrangements for a future-call board. -In the Guiteau case, yesterday, Mr. Robinson, of counsel for the defence, withdrew, on account of a disagreement with Mr. Scoville; the prosecution rested their case, and Guiteau was allowed permission to be heard in opening his defence; after a brief speech, Mr. Scoville addressed the jury, outlining the ground of the defence and asked that his argument might be postponed until to-day, when the court adjourn-William Jones, the man accused of attempting to kill Guiteau, was committed to jail in default of $5,000 bail, and the case was indefinitely postponed. ---- The American Public Health Association meets at Savannah on the 29th inst. ----Chris Davis, a mulatto, taken from jail at Athens. Ohio, and hung by a mob for an outrageous assault on a woman. --- The jail at Mc-Donohoe, Ga., burned, with fatal results to some of the inmates. ----One of the Missouri train robbers, who turned State's evidence, has suddenly disappeared. -A Georgia boy drank a quart of whiskey on a wager, and died. ---- Deaths from cholera at Mecca are reported at under one hundred daily, but the Sanitary Commission at Cairo_discredit the statement. ----Con-tinued fighting is reported between the Arabs and a French column advancing southward. ----Baltimore merchants are doing the Atlanta Exposition. ----Secretary Blaine will retire from the Cabinet early in the coming month, and will thereafter devote himself to his private affairs. - New York markets: Money 6@6 per cent. per annum and 1-32 per cent. per diem; cotton quiet at 11 15-16@12 3-16c; southern flour dull and declining at $5 85@ 8 00; wheat lower and steady, ungraded white $1 26@1 40; corn lower and weak, ungraded 63@681c; rosin quiet and steady $2 25@2 30; spirits turpentine 541@55c.

VOL. XXIX .--- NO. 51.

The Augusta Chronicle says of him: "Dr. Deems is one of the most remarkable men of his century, and to do what he has done in New York is proof of his wonderful ability. Nobody reaches the top in New York who has not many elements of greatness.'

We congratulate the University on the choice. We do not know what Dr. D. will do about it.

The corrected census of June, 1880, reduces the populatiou of North Carolina to 1.399.750. The first returns gave it 1,400,047. The rate of increase is 30 per cent. in ten years. At the same rate of increase the State will have 63,000 more inhabitants than it had June, 1880, by January 1, 1882. So we may put down our actual population in round numbers 1,463,000. The revision of the census for the whole United States reduces the population to 50,155,783.

William Mahone, Esq., late "Rebel Brigadier," has again spoken. He is of the opinion that "the time was ripe for breaking up Bourbonism in all the Southern States, as it had been broken up in Virginia." Just so. That is by repudiating honest debts, being backed by a Republican Administration, Stalwart Senators and solid men in the North. The old ballot-stuffer ought to be ashamed of himself.

company, passed through the city yester-day. He is travelling for his company and rides a great part of the time upon his bi-cycle. He left Boston some weeks ago and rode a great part of the way to Cleveland, Ohio, and thence he rode through the country the entire distance to New Orleans. He is now going North.

- Greenville Express : Mr. Ab. Stocks, of Marlboro, says that he will make forty bales of cotton, this year, on forty acres of land, worked by two horses. He will also make fifty barrels of corn. This is good farming. ——There have been several bales of water-packed cotton brought to our market recently, and those who are guilty of this swindling, dishonest practice need not be surprised at any time to find themselves in the clutches of the law, as it is a misdemeanor by statute, and the man who resorts to such deserves the full penalty.

- Beaufort Telephone: Yesterday sheepshead reached the highest price of th season, and in fact went beyond anything known in the past. W. F. Dill purchased some at the remarkable price of $2 00 each. - Heads of rice have been exhibited in our town this week, which have grown. bloomed and filled since the first crop was cut-coming up after the sickle had passed over. ----We learn through Mr. G. W.

Springle, that about 65 barrels of large mullets have been caught at Mullet Pond during this week. — We were hoping when the A. & N. C. R. R. changed owners that more liberality would be infused into its management, but this seems not to have been the case thus far, at least with this end of the road. The present schedule is very unsatisfactory to our merchants and fish dealers. - Pittsboro Record: On the 7th inst. the citizens of Harnett county held a meeting at their court house, for the purpose of securing the location of the Midland Railroad through that county. We learn that the meeting was largely attended by the most substantial citizens of the counand that much enthusiasm prevailed. A committee of ten was appointed to solicit subscriptions and it was determined to raise $50,000, a large part of this sum being pledged at the meeting. — Nearly all our farmers have finished sowing wheat, and much of it has come up. A larger crop has been sown this fall than last year, when the continued rains in November interfered so seriously with sowing wheat. This has been a favorable fall for our farmers. -One of our village maidens, Miss Kate

Special to the Baltimore Sun. NEW YORK, November 18.-The cotton market has been for several days in the hands of Wall street and the "Buffaloes," as the West is termed. They are all bulls, and go in generally in solid column. The regular operators are not believers, as a rule, in the present advanced figures for the staple, considering that they have been unnaturally forced. They, (the regulars,) therefore, sell short against cotton, though they believe prices will be materially higher later in the season. The movements of outsiders thus far do not evince a disposition to hold cotton. In other words, they take their profit and go in again.

An important insight into the crop has been secured by Messrs. Latham, Alexander & Co., of this city, who sent out 3,000 letters of inquiry to the South, the replies from 1,910 of which make an average estimate of crop down to November 1 (compared with the crop of last year) of 4,709,287 bales. The average individual estimates of the same parties, without regard to last year, is 5,454,-647 bales. Since November 1 the number of answers have increased to 2,360, but the additional replies do not change the estimates'20,000 bales. The amount of the crop marketed to November 1 was forty-two per cent.

Singular Effects of a Storm.

A gentleman informs us of a very singu lar circumstance in connection with the great storm in this city and vicinity on the 9th of September last. He says that at the Porter's Neck plantation, on the Sound, the salt spray from the ocean, wafted in showers across the intervening banks and sound, killed every living thing in the fields except the peanuts, which, curious to say, seemed to have been benefitted by the briny shower-bath. All the leaves on a mock orange hedge, commencing in close proximity to the sound and running back about one mile, were completely killed, while the leaves on the trees in the neighborhood all died and dropped off, and their places have since been supplied by new ones. Even the old sycamores shed their verdure and subsequently donned a garb more becoming the budding, blooming spring than the usually cool and depressing autumn.

The Sampson Fair.

Several of our Wilmington friends were present at the Sampson Fair last week. The exhibition was a very good one. though not quite so full as on some previous years. There was a large crowd present, especially on Thursday and Friday. Gov. Jarvis and Hon. A. M. Waddell spoke on Thursday to a large audience, the former confining his remarks to the subject of agriculture, which he handled with consummate skill and ability. Col. Waddell spoke briefly on topics connected with the present and former exhibitions, expressing his sincere regret at his inability to be present last year in accord ance with an invitation received.

Senator Vance addressed an immense crowd on Friday, speaking on subjects of a general character, but expressing his abhorrence of railroad monopolies particularly. He announced himself as decidedly in favor of the proposed narrow gauge railroad from Clinton to Point Caswell. Pender county, connecting by steamers with Wilmington.

Mr. W. J. Best was there, urging the claims of a proposition to build a road from La Grange, Lenoir county, to Clinton, con necting with the A. &. N. C. Railroad. Captain R. P. Paddison was also present, in the interest of the narrow gauge road, evidently a pet scheme of the people of Sampson and Pender.

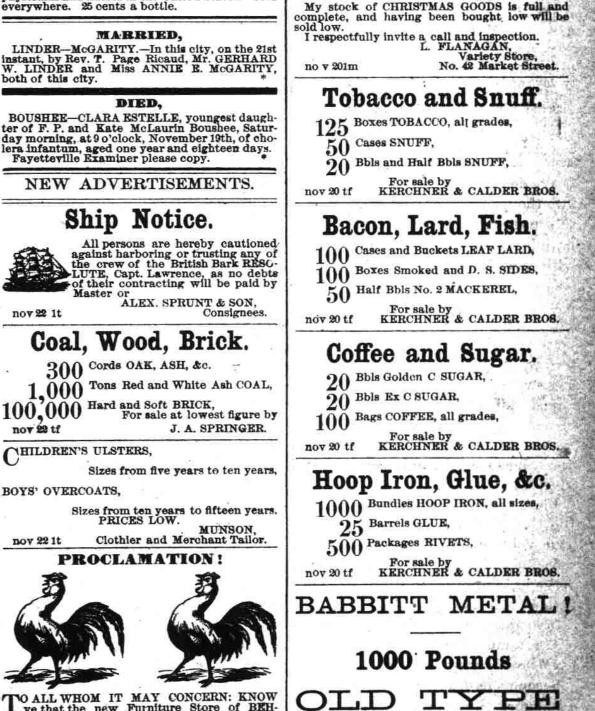

Our Wilmington friends were enthusias tic in their praises of the handsome ladies they saw at the fair, but the prettiest of all, they say, was a young miss from Cumberland. One young gentleman was ready and willing to tell all he knew about the fair, but when we began to push him a little closely he declared that it was not the agricultural fair that attracted his attention, but the other kind, and he couldn't tell us a thing about the speeches, nor who had the biggest turnip or potato.
