David Davis likes the message because it is broad, liberal, practical and wise. He says it is the first message sent to Congress in forty years in which no mention is made of the Union, and for this the country ought to be thankful.

Col. Forney died of Bright's disease. He was caught in a thunder storm whilst in Washington three weeks ago and was drenched with rain. He was born at Lancaster, Pa., September 30, 1817. The Philadelphia Press says warmly of his admirable qualities:

"He was one of the most influential polilicians, as well as one of the greatest journalists this country has ever known. He was scarcely a journalists in the strict sense in which that word is used, but he was an editor such as Greeley, Prentice and Ray-mond were. Still he knew a good newspaper, and also how to make one. He was lavish in expenditure, liberal to his employes, and always commanded the best work because he was willing to pay for it. Genial, generous, and great-hearted beyond comparison, he was dearly beloved by all who knew him intimately. His motto through life was: 'My friends first, and myself last,' and fidelity to friendship he held as the noblest of manly virtues. He was too impulsive for a successful politician—certainly he was too manly, too for-getful, and too forgiving."

A large brick warehouse of D. M. Os-borne & Co., at Chicago, Ills., filled with reapers and machinery, was burned yesterday. The loss on stock was $280,000; on building $40,000.

DECREASE IN COTTON RECEIPTS. The falling off in the receipts of cotton this year as compared with last is as follows: Decrease at Savannah 70,208 bales, Mobile 85,789, Galveston 49,995, Charleston 47,603, Wilmington 10,371, Norfolk 50,857, New York overland 5,790, other ports 71,529. Total decrease 342,142, from which we have to deduct 89,582, the increase at New Orleans, leaving a net total decrease of 303,610. The decrease at Savannah is about one-seventh, Mobile one-fifth, Galveston onesixth, Charleston one-seventh, Wilmington one-eighth, Norfolk one-seventh, New York overland one-fortieth, other ports one-third. Taking the foregoing as a basis for a calculation, the crop for the season of 1881-'82 would be about 5,500,000 bales.

The statement as to Wilmington is erroneous. Up to date Wilmington shows a slight increase.

THE DESIRE TO EMBRACE THIS OPPOR-

liberal patronage bestowed on us, and we are led to feel that the goods we show, the prices we

name, and our efforts to establish a First-

Class Dry Goods Establishment in this city, have been fully appreciated. Our aim has been, and ever will be, to meet with the requirements of all classes in life, to sell goods that we can cheerfully and honestly recommend, and to sell our merchandise at the lowest possible prices. We do not claim to be philanthropists or public benefactors, but simply business men, who have passed over a quarter of a century in the Dry Goods Business, and claim to know the requirements of the public. With ample capital to buy for cash and obtain all possible discounts, the amount of our business is such that a trivial profit suffices. We believe that "a nimble sixpence is better than a slow shilling," and prefer to wear rather than rust out. We thank you for the past patronage, and now we solicit your future patronage, not only your own, but your relations and friends. YOU CAN ALWAYS RELY ON BEING TREATED SQUARELY. The Business of the Wilmington & Weldon and Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroads for the Past Fiscal Year-Improvements-Branch Roads, Etc.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

From the reports of the President and other officials of the Wilmington & Weldon and Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroads, made at the last annual meetings of the stockholders of said roads, held in this city on the 22d ult., and just issued, we glean the following facts of interest:

WILMINGTON & WELDON ROAD. President Bridgers gives the net earnings of the past year at $303,833 24, and states that the reports of the several officers show that the gross receipts have increased $147. 741 58, and the net receipts $114,908 17, which is attributed to the increased business, as freight and passenger rates have been reduced. The sum of $72,670 55 has been paid for steel rails during the year, and $20,331 20 for the new round-house. In consequence of increased business at Goldsboro, a new warehouse and platform are being constructed there, and are nearly completed. The road and equipment has never been in better condition, but further improvements are much needed. The business wants of the city require a much larger warehouse, and the present one is also in a bad condition. The present machine shops are also too small, besides being in a dilapidated condition, and it is recommended that new shops be built. The greater part of the iron work for Smith's Creek bridge has been contracted for, but not yet erected. The President thinks that branch railroads, which could be built at little cost, would add

It may not be generally known that this road was finished in 1840, the first train running over the distance of 162 miles on the 9th of March in that year. The Chief Engineer (Walter Gwynne) said at the time it was the longest road in the world constructed under one charter. The first diviearnings being devoted to paying the debt of construction. Thirteen miles of the Scotland Neck branch have been graded, and the rails (steel) are now being laid. It will probably be finished early in 1882. The road has been remarkably free from accidents, which is attribu ted to the good condition of the track and machinery and the carefulness of the em-
