The boys at Rutgers College are all in love with Mary Anderson. At Brunswick, N. J., they pulled the carriage in which she had entered and then serenaded her. It is astonishing what effect a handsome woman has on the masculine feelings.

The New York Sun makes a vigorous pull for Mr. Bancroft Davis, but it did not get into harbor in time. B. C. had made the run successfully before it. If what the Sun says is true B. C. is well suited to illustrate the President's ideas of civil service reform. But more anon.

The tin-horn nuisance is worse this time than ever known before. Call for the police! It is toot, toot, from early morn to dewy even, and then the silence of the night, at intervals of half a second, is broken by the same eternal—toot—toot--toot. We cry police! police!

city in 1828. He was educated at Harvard, was a Democrat before the war, and published in 1850 a book on "American Diplomacy." He was Secretary of Legation at London under Pierce, and Assistant Secretary of State under Buchanan. A special from Washington says of him:

"In South Carolina, where Mr. Trescot's public service has been limited to one or two terms in the Legislature, he has always been regarded as a man of great moderation and liberality in his political views. His tastes and ambition, however, were rather literary than political, and he enjoys, deservedly the reputation of wielding a pen singularly keen, graceful and vigor-

Ballot boxes in which each ballot was bassed around a glass cylinder by means of a crank, which also rang a bell and recorded the vote, were used in the recent Boston municipal election.—N. Y. Sun.

What is needed in Massachusetts is not ingenious glass ballot boxes, but an enfranchising of 130,000 "poor white trash," who are not allowed to get near enough to a voting precinct to see the "cylinder" as it turns "by means of a crank." More liberty and less law as to elections is in order in the "Bay State."

The Baltimore American, Republican, says Howe and Boutwell "compare most unfavorably" with Folger, Frelinghuysen and Brewster as to ability. Jess so. An Alleged Case of Kidnapping and a Big Stir in Colored Circles.

There is considerable excitement among the colored people in the eastern section of the city over an alleged case of kidnapping. In March or April last, as was known to us at the time, a young colored girl, about sixteen or seventeen years of age, by the name of Mollie Nixon, suddenly disappeared from her mother's house in the neighborhood of Eleventh and Dock streets, and it was subsequently ascertained that she had gone off with a family by the name of Link, which had been living in Wilmington but a short time, their supposed destination being Columbia, S. C. The girl, who had hitherto borne an excellent character, said nothing about her proposed departure, and her mother was naturally very much distressed about her. She and her friends made every effort possible to get some definite information about the girl, but could learn nothing beyond the fact that she was in Columbia, and it was thought that after awhile she would get homesick and return to the bosom of her family. This hope was soon afterwards dashed, however, by a report to the effect that the man Link had left for New Orleans and taken the young woman with him. Still the mother was not entirely hopeless of one day seeing her daughter again, thinking she would surely return after awhile, but now she is in the deepest despair again, and for the reason that we will briefly set forth: A young colored woman has lately made her appearance in this city, and is now stopping in the same neighborhood with the disconsolate mother, who declares that she was stolen from her parents in Virginia when a child and sold into slavery in Cuba, whence she made her escape some months since, swimming out to a vessel in the harbor of one of the ports of that island, and made her way to New Orleans; that she finally reached her old home to find that her parents had removed to some State further South; in which direction she is now travelling; and she states positively that a man named Link went to Cuba before she left there, and had with him a colored girl, answering to the description of Mollie Nixon, and that he sold her to the master from whom she (the woman) subsequently escaped. The woman also affirms that the girl said her name was Thursdays..... Mollie Nixon, and that she had a mother living in Wilmington, N. C. It is further stated that the stranger spoke of the matter Mails collected from street boxes every day at 4:00 P. M. before she had been told of the disappearance of the girl alluded to. Now, how much truth there is in the story of the woman we will not begin to say, but certain it is that it and the attendant circumstances have caused no little stir in the part of the city where the mother of the missing girl lives,

A Former Wilmingtonian Burned Out. Mr. Samuel L. Yopp, formerly of this city, but now residing at Newton, Catawba county, had the misfortune to lose his house by fire a few nights since. It was a new one, the family having moved into it only about three weeks ago. Mr. Yopp succeeded in removing the greater part of his furniture, but the building was a total loss, with no insurance. The fire is supposed to

THE MARCH OF IMPROVEMENT.

Proposed Bailroad from Wilson, N. C., to Florence, S. C.

There is a well authenticated report to the effect that the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company will soon commence the construction of another branch road, a survey having already been ordered between the two points mainly interested, to-wit: Wilson, N. C., on the Wilmington & Weldon road, one hundred and eight miles north of Wilmington, and Florence, S. C., exactly the same distance south of Wilmington. The object had in vicw is claimed to be the material shortening of the Atlantic Coast Line, which it is said the new road will do by about seventy miles, the distance from Wilson to Florence by the present route being two hundred and eight miles, while by the new route it will only be about one hundred and thirty-five miles.

The proposed route on the map, is nearly an air-line, running through the counties of Johnston, Cumberland (by Fayetteville), Robeson and the corners of Harnett and Sampson, in North Carolina, and Marion and Darlington counties, South Carolina. It is understood that the survey will be made immediately, and there seems to be no doubt that the road will be built.

Back from Atlanta.

Captain R. P. Paddison has just returned from Atlanta, and gives it as his decided opinion that those who fail to visit the great Exposition will have only one time to regret it, and that will be for the remainder of their mortal existence. He but confirms the universal sentiment of all who have visited the exhibition in pronouncing it a grand success, and, like all others, he was particularly impressed with the excellent display made by our own State of North Carolina. This was expected by the managers to be the best week of all, in the way of attendance, and next week will be the closing one of the great Southern Exposition. It has been a big "feather" in Atlanta's "cap."
