The Morning Star.

By WILLIAM H. BERNARD.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 7, 1882.

EARL DERBY AND IRELAND.

Earl Derby is not happy in his comparison in his recent speech. He points to the way the North dealt with the South in the war of the States as the way for England to deal with Ireland. The cases are not parallel. The two Governments are not the same. Is Ireland the equal of England, under the Government as it is? Who will say so? Is Ireland endeavoring to withdraw, peaceably if it can, but otherwise at the cannon's mouth? The South—eleven independent, sovereign Commonwealths—the equal every way of the Northern States, sought to withdraw, holding that, according to the Constitution, it had a right to do so.

The argument will be found in Bledsoe's masterly work, in Stephens's history and Jefferson Davis's able volumes. Lord Derby would do well to read up. But we are not surprised at his ignorance of the whole subject when he reads, doubtless, only what the North has written. The historical writers of that section are either wilful blunderers or ignorant pretenders. They do not tell the truth about the causes of the war, the events of the war or the results of the war. They falsify the facts and conceal much that ought to be known. There is scarcely an exception to this sweeping charge.

The Northern papers—the best of them—never tell the truth when they write of the war. If they have the necessary information they withhold it purposely from their readers. That the South under the constitution had the right to secede is just as plain to the honest student of history as that the thirteen colonies obtained their independence of Great Britain. Earl Derby has just such an understanding of the contest as he has received from the ex parte statements of untruthful historians and unfair partisan writers for the public journals. Hence his very ridiculous comparison in his recent speech at Liverpool.

He proposes to whip Ireland first and then to deal with it in the lamb-like style with which the triumphant North dealt with the defeated South. As sincere friends of Ireland we must express the wish that no war of devastation shall be visited upon it, and that no hordes of hungry and dilapidated English carpet-baggers shall come down upon it "like a wolf on the fold." May a kind Providence spare Ireland the experiences, wrongs, humiliations, and robberies that the South has known! May no ignorant, superstitious, degraded race be ever placed over the Irish to control and beggar them if they should ever meet England in the agonies of a great revolution. To fight, to lose, to be discarded as bad enough. To have a subject race, inferior in every particular, placed over a nation of whites is the most damning curse to which malignant victors ever doomed the vanquished. God spare Ireland this curse!

THE DANGER OF MOB LAW.

Crime is increasing daily, and lynchings are becoming more frequent. If Governors do not stop pardoning criminals, and if Judges and Solicitors do not cease to sign petitions the whole court business will be brought into such utter contempt that people will cease to look for a proper punishment of crime. The danger of hanging or arresting the wrong man under Judge Lynch's system cannot be overestimated. It has happened in this country that under the mob system men have been persecuted for opinion's sake and not for crime merely. Lawless outbreaks may occur when the offence is immorality or political opinion. The Philadelphia American notes and says:

"Joseph Smith was lynched at Nauvoo for the crime of being a Mormon, and men were punished in this way during the anti-slavery agitation for the offence of being Abolitionists. In fact, any act which excites popular feeling in a very high degree may cause these lawless outbreaks in a community in which the principle of respect for law is not of the strongest. This time, it is a banker in Kansas who has had a narrow escape from a violent death. The man is bankrupt, but popular suspicion stigmatized him with having concealed some of his property from his creditors. Thereupon he was seized and kept for days in illegal custody, being constantly threatened with the halter if he did not confess. Such a story is disgraceful to the State and its authorities."

The Star deprecates a resort to lynching in all cases where the crime can be punished by law. It is better to give soundfuries a trial by jury, but if the Court is corrupt or incapable it is time enough for the other court—that of Judge Lynch—to interfere. If you begin to take the law into your own hands the danger is that it will be abused by punishing the innocent or punishing men who make themselves odious simply. But say what the papers may the Southern people will hang the rascals who commit rape upon white women. Death, sure and swift, is the penalty for that crime.

We have received so many Almanacs for 1882 that we cannot undertake to mention all. Three we may mention. The New Orleans Democrat sends a beautifully printed and illustrated Almanac, containing a hundred pages, we suppose, but they are not numbered.

Messrs. Edwards, Broughton & Co., of Raleigh, send us a neatly printed "North Carolina Baptist Almanac," edited by Rev. C. T. Bailey, and calculated by Prof. W. G. Simmons, of Wake Forest College. It will prove useful and interesting to Baptists.

The Baltimore Sun Almanac, like the previous issues, is tasteful, useful and all compact with information. It contains seventy-five closely printed pages.

Not only has Gen. Grant done a decent and just act, although after nineteen years of cruel wrong, in justifying the action of the gallant and capable Gen. Fitz John Porter, but he asks President Arthur to do what he acknowledges he ought to have done whilst President. The letter of Maj. Gen. Alfred A. Terry, who was of the Schofield board of inquiry, will be read with interest. It is manly though late. He admits he had done Gen. Porter great injustice. The files of the Star show a half dozen or more editorials in vindication of Gen. Porter. We take pride in the record. All we contended for is at this late day confirmed amply by Generals Grant and Terry. Gen. Porter was a Democrat, and was victimized therefor. That is about the size of it. For nineteen long years a brave and true soldier has been resting under an infamous charge, and has been wronged cruelly by being dismissed from the army. He ought to be restored with all of his back pay attached.

Mr. Orth, of Indiana, has introduced a bill in the House to change the manner of appointing the committees. He makes the point that "the one-man power is always dangerous and in conflict with the principles of a republican government." True as words of Holy Writ, the Star has said that very thing many, many times. No man living is fit to be entrusted with such despotic powers. Mr. Orth complains of the way the one-man power is exercised in the appointing of the House committees. The Star has been warring against the one-man power, and will continue to war against it, because it interferes with the due operations of law, reverses the verdict of courts, holds out hopes of safety to criminals, furnishes inducements thereby to crime, impairs the safety of human life and of property, and works many ways we will not now undertake to specify or elaborate. Down with such one-man power.

Representative Orth made a statement which shows how short a lease on honors have most politicians. They obtain a place near the crib, get a nibble or two and are displaced presently. How very empty is the stomach generally of the professional politician whose grub comes by popular favor. Mr. Orth has been in the House for twelve years, and there are but two other Republicans who have served so long in that branch of the Congress. He made another statement that holds out but little comfort knowing that the chief legislation of the country is done through committees. He said with one exception he was the only member of his party in the House who had ever served as chairman of a committee. The new Republican chairmen are green hands and the most of them will prove failures we have no doubt to the detriment of the country.

Dr. H. V. M. Miller, ex-United States Senator from Georgia, a man of genuine eloquence, as we can bear witness, is a pronounced Independent. We are afraid he is what you might call a disappointed politician. He is exerting himself to break up the grand old party whose banner he upheld and for whom we once heard him make a very impressive and animated speech. He thinks Dr. Felton, a recent convert from Democracy to Republicanism, will be the Independent candidate, Tourgee is right, and he knows what he is saying when he declares that this Independent movement in the South—so called—is Republicanism, and nothing else.

The Atlanta Constitution has a very deserved contempt for those self-appointed patriots who are trying to save the country. Georgia is threatened more than any other Southern State, we apprehend, with a Mahone movement. The Constitution says:

"There has been much said in the Northern press and in the South about the effect of the success of General Mahone in Virginia on the Independent of other States. There is scarcely a State in the South that has not one or two cheap heroes who are willing to be used as Mahones. They are just about as useful, too, in politics, as a bungling would be to a cooper who was in a hurry to make a barrel."

The regular Democrats in the New York Legislature insist upon Mr. Jacobs as temporary President of the Senate. Kelly says he will none of Jacobs, but will agree to the regular nominees for Speaker and Clerk of the House. On this issue a split seems inevitable. What a wise set are those New York Democrats. What difference can it make to the interests of the people or party whether Jacobs is temporary President or not?

The New York banks are in general good health according to the report of Superintendent Hepburn. The private banks, subject to no examinations, do half the business, according to a statement quoted by the New York Times. That paper adds:

"This statement will be surprising to most persons, and it will suggest the propriety of both relieving the 'regular banks' from their unjust burdens and of bringing the 'private banking interest' under a proper regulation and supervision."

N. C. Home Magazine for December contains a good deal of matter, original and selected. It has an over-supply of trashy stories. It contains departments devoted to mining, fashions, farming and the household. Published by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McLaughlin, Salisbury. Price $1 a year.

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine for December is an interesting number. The articles are The Fixed Period, Part III; A Few French Novels; The Adventures of a War Correspondent; Decoys and Decoying; The Boers at Home—Jottings from the Transvaal; The Secret of the Stradivarius; Words of Wisdom from Goethe; The Canonization of Cobden. If limited to one magazine we should say give us Blackwood. Price $4 a year. The Leonard Scott Publishing Company.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The tariff imposes a duty of twenty-eight dollars per ton upon steel rails manufactured in Europe, and this duty is prohibitory, few or none being imported. If these rails could be furnished, duty free, they could be furnished to the railroads at thirty-two dollars per ton. Now, if they are imported at all, they are sold for sixty dollars per ton, of which twenty-eight dollars go into the Treasury of the United States. The American manufacturer sells his rails at the same price, and as he pays no duty, the twenty-eight dollars which the Government does not get, goes into his pockets, and thus increases the cost of railroads. This is a good thing for the manufacturer, but the swindle of the people is none the less.—American Register, Dem.

We have always contended that the railroad question in this State should not be made a party question, though it is inevitable that parties should endeavor to put themselves on the popular side in any public controversy. The strength of the popular demand in this case is indicated by the fact that the two great parties have vied with each other in their formal declarations in recognizing and promising to meet it. Professions of this kind are apt to be belated, but when they come from both sides they afford some promise at least that the subject cannot be dealt with in a partisan spirit. There is no occasion for a crusade against railroad corporations, and any attempt to go too far in putting them under restriction would be more likely to defeat the action that ought to be taken than to succeed in accomplishing its own purposes.—N. Y. Times, Rep.

OUR STATE CONTEMPORARIES.

The fences in Anson county are to-day worth more than the stock—three times as much at the lowest calculation. They have to be repaired every year. These annual repairs amount, in about three years, to the cost of replacing the fences entire. This is an enormous tax upon the people, and for it there is no return—no recompense. It is only a precaution that one man must take to insure his property from destruction by the property of another. Is such a state of affairs just and right?—Wadesboro Intelligencer.

Speaking of the production of wine in this section, he says: "A German, Froelich by name, to whom we gave the premium at Raleigh for the best Scuppernon wine, told me that he could make 3,000 gallons to the acre of this wine as easily as he could 400 gallons in Germany, and that he could sell it for twenty-five cents a gallon at a profit." And further he says: "Col. Wharton Green, who has a vineyard of 130 acres near Fayetteville, told me that he had realized nearly $4,000 last year from four acres of the older part of his vineyard." "General Ching estimates that North Carolina could spare 30,000 square miles of land for the cultivation of grapes (two and a half times the area devoted to that industry in France) and still have enough left for other necessary productions. Not a doubt of it. Here in Cumberland county one or two hundred thousand acres can be spared to grape culture without detriment to our other industrial pursuits.—Fayetteville Examiner.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains, Pain in the Back and Side. There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzoin or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says: "About a year since my wife became subject to Rheumatism, and I procured Perry Davis' Pain Killer, which speedily cured her."

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London: "I have suffered three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors in Westminster Hospital gave up my case. I procured Perry Davis' Pain Killer, and it gave me relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual avocations."

G. E. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes: "I have used Perry Davis' Pain Killer for rheumatism, and have received great benefit."

Barlow Searles says: "I have used Perry Davis' Pain Killer for thirty years, and it has cured me of Rheumatism and neuralgia. I never fail to get relief in cases of rheumatism. PAIN KILLER, BOSTON, writes: "From actual use, I know Perry Davis' Pain Killer is the best medicine I can get."

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.
