OUTLINES.

The National Board of Health have officially declared small-pox to be epidemic in the United States. A number of masked men took a suspected murderer from jail at London, Ohio, and hung him in the court house yard.

Senator Vance has introduced a bill on education which has been referred to the Committee on Education.

The Richmond Dispatch's special says of the bill: "In the preamble it says that liquors are now taxed by the United States so high as to prevent any taxation of them by the States; that it is desirable that this article of consumption should contribute to education, and that it is neither practicable, nor expedient, nor legal for the United States to collect money from the people of the States in order to return it to them for State purposes, or to interfere in their domestic affairs, so far as to superintend and direct the education of their children.

Local News.

The receipts of cotton yesterday footed up 484 bales. The last Visitor contains an amusing description of a yacht race in the streets of Raleigh—a burlesque. There was only one case of drunkenness and disorderly conduct for the Mayor's consideration yesterday morning, which contributed $5 to the city finances.

Opera House.

The Two Orphans. Pauline Markham and the Fifth Avenue Company gave a very fair presentation of a portion of this play at the Opera House last night to a crowded house, the most of whom were undoubtedly attracted by curiosity to see the famous burlesque actress in her new departure.

portions of the Memphis & Louisville railroad are submerged. Thirty-three cases of small-pox are reported at Portsmouth, Va.; principally among negroes. Dun's Mercantile Agency reports 177 failures for the past seven days; fifty-seven of which were in the Southern States.

The following concerning the Jennie Cramer murder case we find in the New York letter to the Philadelphia Ledger:

"It will be shown that there has been a great deal of clever detective work performed in this city during the past six weeks; and that the starting point of the case which the public have been promised by the New Haven authorities, will have reference to events that transpired in this city, connected directly, as if by an unbroken chain of events, with the murder in Connecticut. Additional counsel for the Malloys, I understand, have been engaged here, and this morning there were overtures to a well-known Cedar street lawyer, to look after the interests of Elahche Douglas."

Goldboro Messenger: We learn that Mr. J. W. Loftis was destroyed by fire recently in Duplin county, Va. was insured to the amount of $750.

The 30th N. C. Regiment reunion at Faison's last week proved a very pleasant occasion. The negro Jerry, who was the State's evidence in the Worley murder trial in 1878, is now in jail at Nashville for the murder of the white woman at Battleboro, Va., of which he was convicted last year.

High protective-tariff men are gathering in Washington.

Why of course. There is a rumor in Washington that one of the Guiteau jurors has been tampered with. Vendor says look out for a big storm between the 20th and 22d inst. Ven are you guessing.

Louis P. Smith, of Chicago, aged 20, is a brave young man.

He caught three men robbing a residence. He sent his younger brother to the front to ring the bell, while he stationed himself in the rear. He bagged two, killing one, and fired at the third. That will do for one night's work.

More Female Candidates for the Penitentiary.

A young colored woman named Sarah Hanes, living at the house of one Cass Hooper, north of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, left home for a short time Tuesday night, and upon returning, found that the house had been broken open during her absence, and her trunk, containing a quantity of clothing and five dollars in money, had been stolen and carried away. Search warrants were issued and placed in the hands of Officer J. W. Whitney, on Wednesday, and the trunk, with part of the clothing, was subsequently recovered at the house of one Betta Usher, colored, about the distance of a block from the house from which it was stolen. The Usher girl, when arrested, charged Hannah Lewis, another colored girl, with bringing the trunk to her house, while Hannah Lewis declared that Betta Usher and herself went to Hooper's house together and together captured and bore away the trunk.

THE DEMANDS UPON MRS. GARFIELD.

A gentleman of this city, having noticed the suggestion of the Washington Post, as it appeared in our last issue, to the effect that Mrs. Garfield might be induced to give of her abundance in aid of a certain worthy charity, has shown us a private letter from a member of the late President's family, which shows that Mrs. Garfield has been subjected to almost constant importunities for aid, of one sort or another, ever since her husband's death, and that, while she is disposed to do all the good she can in a quiet way, it would be an effort of no little magnitude for her to attempt to meet one-tenth of the demands upon her. It is hoped the suggestion of Col. Weddell may be carried out, and a handsome subscription secured in Washington for the benefit of Mrs. Sneed. It would be better still, however, if a special pension could be obtained from Congress to meet his case. By the way, since the above was written we learn that Mr. Sneed has a petition, already quite numerously signed, asking for an appointment as messenger in the Treasury Department at Washington, and it is thought very likely he will get the position.

Some say the Stalwarts are stung to madness because they deserved much they caught. How is that? And now the papers are saying that Scoville, Guiteau's lawyer, is a "crank" himself. Mrs. Scoville is clearly one, and one of the jurors is said to be. It is a cranky set. Turn the crank.

THE ORPHAN'S FRIEND SAYS THAT THE TOTAL NUMBER OF ORPHANS ADMITTED INTO THE ORPHAN ASYLUM TO DECEMBER 31, 1881, WAS 528.

Number reported last year 138; admitted since last report 50, making 188 per cent. during the year. Adopted during the year 4. Died 1, dismissed 43, leaving on the roll 140. The Scientific American of January 14th, in an article on "New Inventions," contains the following: "Improvements in that class of cotton-sweeps or shovels, in which a guide plate extending into the soil deeper than the point of the plow is arranged in the rear of it, has been patented by Mr. John Brantly, of Lillington, N. C."
