Senator Vance's speech before the New York Free Trade Club on Friday night was a decided hit. A New York special says:

"Senator Vance's speech, in particular, which was profusely illustrated by droll anecdotes, seemed to meet with general ap-

From an abstract of his speech before us we clip the concluding paragraph:

"The protectionists owned congressmen, newspapers, politicians and judges by the thousands, and by these means they had girdled the land with laws for their own protection. Like sharks they fed upon the unresisting multitudes of the unorganized majority. The protectionist entered the hut of the poor man, demanding a duty on the door latch and called for a duty of 56 per cent. on his salt. He crept into the hovel of a fever-stricken laborer and by the bedside of the dying man demanded 100 per cent. duty on his medicines. In conclu-Senator Vance said he feared years of agitation would be needed before the great majority—the free traders—could be induced to act together, but he believed the day was surely coming when, forgetting the prejudices of the war, the western farmer and the southern planter would recognize the fact that they were fellow sufferers and clasp hands together for self-preservation. Self-interest would yet triumph over prejudice, and the majority would yet control as it ought. In the progress of free trade principles New York city and its merchants should take the lead. The gospel of tariff reform, looking toward free trade when the country was out of debt, should indeed begin in this Jerusalem and be preached to every country."

Democrats in Congress pronounce Senator Voorhees's speech on the foreign policy of the government of marked ability. The letter in the Dispatch says:

"His arraignment of the Republican party for it foreign policy could not have been severer, nor more effective, and it was not strange that the galleries forgot Senatorial propriety and applauded loudly, He alluded to the fact that five members of the pre sent Senate were born subjects of Great Britain—viz.: Messrs. Fair, Jones of Florida, Beck, Jones of Nevada, and Sewell. At the close of the speech there was again immense applause in the galleries. Senator Voorhees was warmly congratulated on the success of his splendid effort."

A lady, the wife of one of the Government telegraph operators had been at his home on the Island. Mr. Mann took her across to Nag's Head in a small sailing skiff, and started on the return home. Some people noticed the sails of the boat flapping in the wind, which was blowing fresh, and shortly thereafter the craft capsized. Going out to the boat, Mr. Mann could not be found, nor had his body been recovered up to this morning.

- New Berne Journal: Cabbages were offered in the market yesterday at five to six cents per head, --- Core Sound oysters sell for one cent each. They are whoppers. - Shad sell from sixty to eighty cents per pair. —On Wednesday last we published an item concerning information wanted of Miss Elizabeth Brinn, who came to New Berne during the late civil war, and who had a legacy left her recently in Perquimans county. Yesterday we met the gentleman who married Miss Brinn, and he told us that he probably never would have known of the legacy but for the item he saw in the Journal. Congress proposes to appropriate the sum of $17,337,000 to erect public buildings, etc., in the different States-that is, if a logrolling bill of that character can be pushed through. North Carolina is very moderate in her demands, and calls for only $520 as her share. There are now bills pending in this State as follows: New Berne, marine hospital, $15,000; Statesville, court house, postoffices, etc., $75,000; Charlotte, court house, etc., $100,000; Asheville, postoffice, etc., $75,000; Greensboro, postoffice, etc., $150,000; Durham, postoffice, etc., $100,-000. The Carolina Central to be Extended. The Shelby Aurora says information has reached that place through a private letter, that President Robinson has agreed to proceed, at an early day, to extend the line of the Carolina Central Railroad from Shelby, N. C., to Spartanburg, S. C., with a view to meeting the Greenwood, Laurens & Spartanburg Road at that point, and continues: "Work has already been begun on the latter road, and we hope to see Mr. Robinson's promise put into operation at no distant day. If this connection is made the Carolina Central will become one of the best paying roads in the State, besides giving our people another outlet for trade. The information alluded to comes from a reliable source, and we have no doubt that the proposed extension will be commenced as soon as the necessary arrangements can

Steamer Sold and Another to be Put on the Line.

The little steamer Elizabeth, owned by Capt. Joseph Bisbee, which has so long been on the line between this city and Smithville, carrying the United States mail and also passengers and freight to and fro, has been sold to a Capt. Nelson, of Charleston, and will, Capt. Bisbee informs us, be shortly taken off this line to make room for new steamer he has recently purchased in Boston, some reference to which has been already made in this paper. The new steamer is said to be something like the Passport, being of the same size and schooner-rigged. In fact, Capt. B. says they are so nearly alike that they could scarcely be told apart at a short distance. Her advent will give us two fine steamers on the line between Wilmington and Smithville in time for the pleasure-seeking season.

A New Turnpike. Improvement seems to be the order of the day; we are glad to see it and to be able to record the fact. A large force was engaged yesterday in opening a new turnpike from the main one to Greenville Sound. It branches off from the Wrightsville road near Martin's place, about four miles and three-quarters below the city, and will be about two miles in length from the main turnpike to the "City of Greenville." Quite a number of our prominent citizens have residences at Greenville, including Messrs. D. G. Worth, Geo. R. French, H. Burkhimer, Samuel Northrop, Capt. W. A. Cumming, Capt. Jas. I. Metts, and Mrs. R. H. Cowan; to all of whom the branch turnpike, when completed, will be a great convenience.

We are now able to give the best information on the subject. based on a personal review and examination of Our reporter found Dr. Richmond in his office

Our reporter found Dr. Richmond and not only The doctor kindly received him, and not only answered all his questions, but showed and explained everything about the place to him. His office is on the first floor of the building, and its walls are covered with thousands of photographs of gentlemen and ladies restored to health by the use of Samaritan Mervine, among whom our re-porter recognized many of his own countrymen, and its glass cases contain innumerable certifi-cates of cures and letters in praise of this world. famous remedy. About ten years ago Dr. Richmond came to St

Joseph. He was then a poor young man, with but little money, and no friends to assist him. He rented a small office on Francis street, and commenced the struggle for success single-handed and alone. He has achieved a grand triumph in the face of stubborn opposition on every hand and is to-day one of the wealthlest men in midst. This fact alone is amply sufficient to show the merits of his invaluable preparation, even though there were no other sources from which to procure valid and reliable testimony. cine has been the means of bringing to the inven tor, the doctor receives daily the blessings of thousands of patients restored to health and hap thousands of patients restored to health and happiness through his instrumentality.
