A hotel building in course of erection at Port Royal, S. C., burned; loss $15,000. — The trial of ex-Gov. Moses, at New York, has been postponed; insanity will be pleaded in his behalf. — Gleason's knitting mills, at Seneca Falls, N. Y., burned; loss $100,000. — The celebration of the 107th anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence began at Charlotte yesterday with a military display and will continue all the week. — Chicago tanners are on a strike. — Pennsylvania Greenbackers met in convention and nominated a State ticket. — Cold nights are having an injurious effect on the cotton in South Carolina, in some instances necessitating replanting. — In the Episcopal Convention at Norfolk, Va., Bishop Whittle refused to entertain the question of a division of the diocese. — The Allen line steamer Peruvian is ice bound with a broken screw off the coast of Newfoundland; a rescuing steamer sent to her assistance was burned, with three of the crew. — The miners in Alaska are fighting among themselves, and a number have been killed. — The Southern Presbyterian General Assembly organized at Atlanta, Ga., by electing Rev. H. Smoot Moderator. — The new bishops of the M. E. Church were ordained at Nashville; the Conference decided not to elect a bishop in place of Dr. A. G. Haygood, who declined. — N. Y. markets: Money 2 3/4 @ 3 1/2 per cent.; cotton weak and irregular at 12 1/2 @ 12 3/4; southern flour quiet and firm at $5 65 @ 6 25; wheat—ungraded $1 18 1/2 @ 17; corn—ungraded $1 08 @ 6; rosin steady at $2 30; spirits turpentine weak at 46 1/2 @ 47c.

Dorsey has been bailed upon a $10,000 bond.

The new River and Harbor bill asks for $17,342,000. Pretty slip!

Woman suffrage has been defeated again in the New York Legislature. Good.

The attempted revolution in Liberia did not revolve. Quiet has been restored.

Fifteen thousand foreign immigrants are expected at New York this week.

Mr. Trescott presented Chilean terms of peace to President Montero, of Peru, and it was rejected.

A yearling, a full sister to the renowned racer, Foxhall, sold in Kentucky the other day for $3,800.

The New York duellists have not exchanged shots as yet. Maybe they will take it out in "cuss words."

Dr. Felton telegraphs that Stephens "will sweep the State." Very probable. But not as a Felton Democrat.

Senator Brown, of Georgia, has improved in health, and resumed his seat in the Senate. Poor Hill will never be in his seat again.

"Pig Iron" Kelley endeavored to meet Mr. Hewitt's anti-protection, anti-monopoly speech by accusing him of believing in the genuineness of the Morey letter. That sort of argument has about as much effect as it is as the usual stuff the protectionists deal in.

The following from the Greensboro Patriot mentions a matter of interest to our Methodist friends:

"There is likely to be a warm time in the Nashville Conference when a paper on creating a 'Bishop's Council' comes to be acted upon by that body. It is unmistakably a criticism on the practice of the bishops in making up appointments, and it provides for a check upon the powers of the bishops in this regard."

At last there is a prospect of erecting a monument to the memory of Baron DeKalb. A bill appropriating $10,000 to that end has been reported upon favorably. In October, 1780—over one hundred years ago, the Continental Congress passed a bill to the same end, but it was never carried into effect.

Here is the way they do things in the land of "high moral ideas." B. A. Olney, a rich business man, visited Jane Ann Manley, at Hartford, Michigan. What he visited her for does not appear. He had a basket, and in it $30,000. She relieved him of all. He did not discover his loss till the next day, when he demanded the return of the missing property, which she refused, but on the contrary she threatened to destroy it unless he gave her $20,000. He has brought suit.

HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE is in sea-kings is of great value. Its action on the nerves of the disturbed stomach is soothing and effective.

THE MORNING STAR.

Rev. Dr. Alpheus W. Wilson, Bishop elect, was born in Baltimore and is in his 49th year. Bishop Keener was also born in Baltimore.

Rev. Dr. Granberry was born in Norfolk, Va., Dec. 5, 1829. The first ballot was as follows: A. W. Wilson, of Baltimore, 122; A. G. Haygood, of Georgia, 99; Linus Parker, of Louisiana, 96; J. C. Granberry, of Virginia, 94; R. K. Hargrove, of Tennessee, 68; N. H. D. Wilson, of North Carolina, 19; R. A. Young, of Tennessee, 42; E. R. Hendrix, of Missouri, 38; A. P. Fitzgerald, of Palestine, 35; W. M. Rush, of Memphis, 34; P. A. Peterson, of Virginia, 32; Young Allen, China Mission, 32; B. M. Messick, Louisville, 28; J. S. Key, Georgia, 26; W. T. Harris, Memphis, 25; G. G. Andrews, Mississippi, 25; Joseph Anderson, White River, 22; E. E. Willie, Holston, 20; W. B. Tudor, St. Louis, 18; John B. McFerrin, Tennessee, 15; J. D. Shaw, North Texas, 14; J. W. Hinton, Georgia, 14; C. W. Miller, Kentucky, 13; W. W. Bennett, Virginia, 11; B. Craven, North Carolina, 11; W. W. Duncan, South Carolina, 11; F. S. Bounds, 10. Dr. Wilson was declared elected Bishop. On the next ballot Dr. Parker received 146, Dr. Haygood 146, Dr. Granberry 140. They were elected. On the third ballot Dr. Hargrove received 173 votes, Rev. R. A. Young 18, W. H. Wilson 17, E. R. Hendrix 9. Hargrove elected.

Mahone, Cameron and Riddleberger paid a visit to the Navy and Postoffice Departments and got what they went for. According to a letter in the Boston Herald the following occurred: Gov. Cameron said to Secretary Chandler: "We, in Virginia, have done our part; we have carried the State; we have elected a liberal United States Senator; we are preparing to increase the number of Liberals in the Virginia delegation in the House of Representatives; we want to know whether the party of the second part proposes to keep its word. If it does not, we cannot fully execute our share. It is absolutely necessary to the future success of the liberal movement in Virginia that we should control the Federal patronage of that State. That is what we were promised. That is what we expect to have if you Republicans keep your word." He next visited Secretary Howe and here is what occurred: "Well, Governor, began Howe, slowly, 'you came here so strongly backed.' 'Now, Mr. Howe,' interrupted Governor Cameron, 'if you please, I don't care here backed at all. I am here as the Governor of Virginia, elected by the Liberals of Virginia, and authorized to speak for them. My Senators have kindly introduced me, but I don't need to be backed by them. I speak for Virginia, and I ask only what is just.' 'Well, Governor,' said the Postmaster General slowly, 'I think you ought to have what you ask. So far as I am concerned, you shall.' 'Very well,' said the Governor. 'Good morning.' The party then left."

This is instructive reading. "You pays your money and you takes your choice." This is a specimen of "civil service reform."

A dispatch from Raleigh dated the 14th, represents much interest there over a shorter route to Washington. It says, and our readers are familiar with one of the proposed routes: "As well as can be ascertained there are two projects under consideration—one is a direct line from this city to Richmond, Va., by Keyville; the other is a direct line from Raleigh to Danville, and thence on north over the Virginia Midland Railroad to Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York. The latter line would cut off the elbow now existing in the Richmond & Danville line from here north by way of Greensboro, and thence back north to Danville. It would shorten the time from Raleigh to New York at least eight hours, and would greatly facilitate and quicken the enormous freight traffic that passes through and stops at Raleigh. The routing from here to Danville is such that a railroad can be constructed for much less than the average cost. When the war broke out there was a railroad in operation from Keyville to Clarksville, and the grading was all done from Clarksville to the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, near Warren Plains. From Keyville by this route would be a due easterly course to the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad; the route thence to Clarksville, and the grading was all done from Clarksville to the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad. The iron from Keyville to Clarksville was taken up during the war and was used on other roads."

The amount collected on fermented liquors in North Carolina in 1880, was $819,673, and in 1881, $869,866; New Jersey paid $636,475 38; Little Delaware, $1,060,993; Little Rhode Island, $56,734 09. Only two States paid as little: Arkansas, $650 02, and Alabama, $743 37. These payments were for 1881. In North Carolina there are two brewers, 1,975 retail liquor dealers, and 21 wholesale.

We have read the address of Mr. E. L. C. Ward, editor of the Edenton Enquirer, on "Turn on the Light." It was delivered before the late Press Convention. It is pretty and pious.

—The Greensboro Evening News appears as the Daily Patriot, and newsy and neat it is.

—If the Press Convention would compel its members to give proper credit to their State exchanges it would be doing something for fairness and good morals.

—Raleigh News-Observer: Mr. Wade Harris, the recent very excellent editor of the Concord Sun, has taken the position of local editor of the Charlotte Observer, and the Sun is now printed by the "Sun Publishing Company."

—In consequence of a great military display in Charlotte, from the 18th to the evening of May 20th, the General Lutheran Synod, South, which was to have met in Charlotte, that time, has been postponed until May 25th.

—The funeral obsequies of the late Major Basil Manly, of Raleigh, were imposing and elaborate. The military, fire companies, Masons, &c., were in line. The News-Observer says: "As soon as the news reached them of the death of Gen. Manly, the Durham Light Infantry, the finest organization in the State Guard, and a part of the brigade under the command of the dead Brigadier, tendered their services, with those of the fine band of their regiment."

—Wilmington News South: We were informed by the sexton of Cedar Grove Cemetery, New Bern, that the remains of Judge William Gaston rested in a mahogany coffin upon the floor of a subterranean chamber beneath the marble monument erected in his memory, and when the remains were placed there the room was richly carpeted, and the law library, the mahogany arm-chair and writing-table, with silver inkstand, writing quills and silver penholder, were always brought hither and placed with the body of their dead owner.

—Charlotte Observer: At dark yesterday McSmith had sold 1,200 flans. —Passengers arriving on the Air-Line train yesterday morning say that a very heavy hail storm was encountered along the line near Seneca the night before. We have received a letter from Governor Vance, in which, after speaking of some private matters, he says: "We leave here on next Thursday night, at 11 o'clock, with Bayard, Butler, Hammon, Ransom, Armstrong, Cox, Dowd, Scales, Evans and others are coming." Load up the cannon, boys, and let's make her crack.

—Whiteville Enterprise: A petition is being circulated to have a mail route established from this place to Clarkton, to go on the east side of White Marsh, and back on the west side. They desire a semi-weekly mail. —In the last year the village of Pireway has erected ten dwelling houses, two stores and two turpentine distilleries; and has also built a new ferry boat. —The village of River View in the last year has erected three stores, six dwellings and two turpentine distilleries. —The village of Kingsville, not heard of three months ago, has erected five dwelling houses and a store recently.

—Lumberton Robesonian: Mr. Daniel McCasidill, of Cumberland county, died at his residence on Tuesday, 9th inst. He was in his 90th year, but his death was hastened by a fall which fractured one of his limbs. He was a native of Scotland. (Note.—His family name was always pronounced in the Gaelic. He was indeed one of the excellent of the earth.—Editor Robesonian.) —We were shown a few days since a two-ounce minnie ball that was being lodged in the skull of Malcolm B. Our Engines and Water Works—An Important and Interesting Test.

The Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Company No. 1 provided itself with a reducible coupling some time ago for the purpose of connecting direct with the fire hydrants and subsequently with a new suction hose from the Sibley Manufacturing Company. This arrangement, with all its apparent completeness, was not without objections, in that the preciseness with which the driver of the engine had to approach the hydrant in order to successfully and speedily make the connection, was required to be too near perfection for the hurry and scuffle usual on such occasions, and any failure would make our gallant firemen think hard things; in fact, they have been heard to use some pretty strong expressions in that particular connection, "or words to that effect." To remove this objection a very ingenious plan has been adopted. It consists of a piece of the rubber-lined hose (the ordinary hose now in use at fires) about twelve feet long, with couplings. The driver, in coming up to the hydrant, can take his position without delay, as the connecting hose, being attached to the suction, can be easily adjusted to make the hydrant connection.

—The receipts of cotton yesterday footed up 230 bales. —The weather yesterday was not so cool as for some days past. —There were no cases for the Mayor's Court yesterday morning. —The almanac predicts cold weather and showers for to-day. —The banks and the Produce Exchange will be closed to-morrow, the 20th of May. —We were handed yesterday a corn tassel thus early plucked from a stalk on the plantation of Mr. James L. Corbett, in Franklin township, Sampson county. —The closing exercises of Wil- liston public school, corner of Seventh and Nun streets, will take place to-day, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M. —The thermometer in the STAR office was down to 49 at 5 a. m. on Wednesday; yesterday morning it registered 56, and at 7 p. m. yesterday it was up to 67 1/2 degrees. —The Dutch brig Jantje, Capt. Lever, was cleared from this port for Stettin, Germany, yesterday, by Messrs. E. Peschau & Westermann, with 1,400 barrels of rosin, valued at $2,950.

—Rev. Father Oberle, who recently delivered a series of discourses at St. Thomas' Catholic Church in this city is now performing similar services in New Bern. Bishop Northrop is announced to preach in New Bern on Sunday.

—We understand the children of the First Presbyterian Sunday school will have a picnic excursion on the Passport to-morrow (Saturday). As this is a private affair no tickets will be sold. We trust the little ones will have an enjoyable time.

A Narrow Escape.

As the steamer Passport was about leaving her wharf yesterday morning, about 5 o'clock, to take a party to the Blackfish Grounds, a colored woman with a little boy and a basket were seen making their way with all speed toward the wharf. When they reached it the boat was some three or four feet from the wharf, but the woman, though warned, and an attempt being made to restrain her, seemed determined to get on the boat or into the river, and as she reached the cap of the wharf she made a lunge for the boat, and would certainly have gone into the river, bag and baggage, with the little boy clinging to her skirts, but for the interposition of Officer Lewis Gordon, who grasped her as she was in the act of falling, and hauled her back upon the wharf. She wanted to go to Orton, but was told that the boat would not stop there.

Made His Escape.

Charles Reed, colored, who was recently arrested in Brunswick county, on a warrant issued by a magistrate in this city and endorsed by one in Brunswick, charged with larceny, and who was shot in the thigh in an attempt to escape from the officers who had him in charge, and was afterwards lodged in jail in this city, was sent to the City Hospital on Monday last, from which institution he succeeded in effecting his escape on Wednesday night, and is now at large. Reed was apparently suffering very much from his wound and was limping about on two sticks Wednesday afternoon.

Death of a Prominent Citizen of Onslow.

Capt. W. P. Ward, a well known citizen of Onslow, died at Swansboro in that county on Saturday last, the 13th inst, of pleuro-pneumonia. Capt. Ward served as a member of the Legislature from Jones county for two terms previous to the war, and since the war has represented Onslow for one or more terms in the same body.

The Strawberry Festival.

The entertainment at Rankin Hall last night, by the ladies of Front Street M. E. Church, was a successful and pleasant affair. The hall was tastefully adorned with flowers, refreshments were in profusion, and visitors and all spent a most enjoyable evening.

Tennessee and the Ohio Valley, fair weather, followed by increasing cloudiness and local rains, variable winds mostly southeast, and stationary or lower temperature and pressure.

The Electric Fire-Alarm Placed in Position.

The electric alarm, recently purchased under authority from the Board of Aldermen and Board of Audit and Finance of the city, was placed in position yesterday in the bell-tower recently erected on Fourth, between Market and Dock streets, on the premises of the Howard Relief Fire Company, the work being done under the supervision and direction of Mr. John W. Perdue. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the necessary connection having been made with the City Hall by Mr. W. J. Kirkham, a test of the instrument took place in the presence of Mayor Smith, who was at the City Hall, and Alderman Huggins, of the Fire Committee, and Capt. F. G. Robinson, Chief of the Fire Department, who took their station in the belfry, and it was found to work to the entire satisfaction of all, the operator at the City Hall, by simply tapping a key attached to the battery, transmitting the electric current and causing the bell to strike promptly.
