The Missing Child in Pender.

The little son of Mr. George W. Corbett, of Collie Creek, Pender county, referred to in Tuesday's paper as having mysteriously disappeared on Saturday afternoon last, while on a fishing expedition with his mother and little brother, had not been found up to the time the steamer John Dawson left Point Caswell yesterday morning. The search for the little fellow, however, still continues, from one hundred and fifty to four hundred persons being out every day, scouring the woods and swamps for miles, dragging the creek, etc. In the meantime the family of the missing child, who has so unaccountably disappeared, are in great distress, as may well be supposed. Oak Grove Cemetery. The fence around Oak Grove Cemetery, in the southeastern limits of the city, where the paupers of the city and county are hereafter to be buried, has been completed, and has been whitewashed and made to present a very nice appearance. There is an arch over the entrance, and altogether covered, might have resulted very disastrously. As it was, Mr. Breckinridge's infant child was so nearly suffocated that it had to be taken out immediately into the fresh air. It is supposed that the fire originated from a box in which the servant, contrary to orders, had been depositing ashes, though she said she had not emptied any in the box for two or three days. There was no

A native of Bohemia, and his lit tle son neither of whom could speak a word of English, are here awaiting an opportunity to reach Fayetteville, Texas, where the old man has another son. Their history is quite a sad one. They left home, in the old country, in response to a letter from the son in Texas, and upon arriving at New York, were sent on, by mistake, to Fayetteville, in this State, instead of to Fayetteville, Texas. Upon arriving at Fayetteville, N. C., they found out their mistake, and now they find themselves here without money, having exhausted the supply necessary to take them di rect to their destination, and now find, too, that it will cost them a great deal more to go from here to their new home than it would have cost them from New York. E. Peschau, Esq., the German Imperial Consul, has the matter in hand, and the wanderers will probably soon be on their way to meet their son and brother at Fay etteville, Texas, where he is probably anxiously expecting their arrival

An Instance of True Brotherly Sympathy.

Rev. R. O. Burton, Presiding Elder of this District, who held quarterly meeting at Whiteville last Saturday and Sunday. and who has since been in this city, left vesterday to visit the venerable Dr. Closs at Toisnot, Wilson county, who has been very sick and is still quite feeble, although he has to return here in order to meet his appointment at Elizabethtown, Bladen county, on Saturday and Sunday next, the 24th and 25th inst. This is an evidence of Christian sympathy and brotherly feeling which it is very pleasant to find existing in this world which is given so much to hardhearted neglect and indifference or the cold formalities which carry with them no warmth of feeling or words of cheer. In this trip merely to see an aged friend and brother, the reverend gentleman will have to travel two hundred and thirty-two miles (going and returning), and he always pays as he goes.

J. M. Jenks was arraigned before Justice Millis on the charge of committing an assault upon C. H. Strode. Judgment was suspended upon the payment of costs, failing in which the defendant was committed to jail.

Fred. Cruse underwent an examination before-the same magistrate on the charge of assault and battery upon Caro Burch, a fair but frail damsel from the classic precincts known as the "Hollow." The case was dismissed.

John Davis, colored, had a hearing beforc the same magistrate on the charge of committing an assault upon a small colored boy named Edward Quince, aged about ten years, which assault consisted in throwing him into the river. Defendant submitted and judgment was suspended upon the payment of costs.

British Barque David G. Worth.

The German barque August, recently purchased by Mr. James Sprunt, has been pretty thoroughly overhauled and repaired for another voyage, and presented on yesterday quite a handsome appearance, with all her flags flying as the British barque David G. Worth. Those of us who remember the days of Worth & Daniel will appreciate, with our worthy townsman, this com pliment by the owner to his old friend and employer.

The barque is now being loaded by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son for an English port, where it is the intention of her owner to thoroughly repair her for an A1. class. In the language of the old fashioned bills of lading, "and may God speed the good ships to her port of destination."
