The killing of Maj. Blair by Capt. Haile appears to have been purely a personal affair. Blair was killed instantly while advancing upon Haile. The negroes gathered in Camden as if they meant to mob Haile, who has been bailed in the sum of $5,000 by Judge Kershaw. Maj. Blair was the son of the late Gen. James Blair, who served in the U. S. House for eight years, and killed himself in Washington. The News and Courier says of him:

"He was well educated, and devoted a naturally strong intellect to scientific researches. He was for many years the editor of the Camden Journal, and was regarded as a writer of considerable ability. During the war he was an officer in Nelson's battalion, Hagood's brigade. After serving creditably for two years, he was forced by ill health to retire.

"Maj.- Blair was recklessly brave, and disposed to be aggressive in act and word. The letters he wrote during his canvass for Governor and during the present year were bitterly abusive, and it is a matter of surprise that a collision between Blair and some one of those whom he assailed had not taken place before.'

Capt. Haile married in this State.

Affairs grow worse in Ireland and the British Government is steadily tightening the rein and developing into despotic rule towards that afflicted and wronged country. The Philadelphia Times notes the follow-

"It is a coincidence that will probably have attracted attention in Ireland as well as in America that on the day we celebrate as the anniversary of American independence the British Parliament was occupied with measures for the subjugation of Ireland that are really harsher than those which provoked the American colonists into rebellion. If the Declaration of Independence were read to the Irish it would seem but a mild expression of their griev-

Louisianians are proverbially extravagant. The Governor gets $10. 000 a year, his private secretary $4,400, and his porter $2,000. He has also allowed him $3,000 for executive office expenses, $1,000 for travelling expenses, $8,000 for offering rewards and $1,200 for rents of dwellings. In other words the Governor's office taxes the people $27,600. The other officers are paid proportionately high. Judges receive $8,000. The whole thing is got up on the most extravagant and anti-republican plan.

The condition of affairs at Alexandria, Egypt, is very threatening. Owing to the course of the natives in fortifying Admiral Seymour, of the British navy, gave notice that he would bombard the city unless there was a cessation in the operations. This was unheeded at first, but an ultimatum, sent yesterday, put a stop to the work for the present. The French Admiral will remain passive for the present, but the Egyptians are notified that the government is not opposed to the position assumed by England, A day or two will bring matters to a crisis.

Oscar Wilde in Wilmington. To-morrow night this noted English lecturer will treat the literary public of Wilmington to one of his entertaining discourses, his theme being "Decorative Art." Alluding to his expected visit to Charleston, the News and Courier said "Charleston's reputation for culture and appreciation of literary merit warrants him in expecting a large and fashionable audience. Despite the flings of unappreciative Northern critics Mr. Wilde is a gentleman, a man of education and a poet of no mean ability, and as such he has met with flattering receptions throughout his Southern tour." Mr. Wilde's present lecture, the second he has prepared in this country, is said to be devoted to what may be called the practical application of his theory to every day home life, being the principles of æsthetic art as applied generally to the wide range of art ornamention, and has met with universal success wherever delivered. The lecturer usually wears a suit consisting of dark velvet coat and knee breeches, with a profusion of lace around the neck, down the front and at the cuffs, and sports dark stockings and patent

RIVER AND MARINE.

- The Schr. L. Sturdevant, D. W. Tolson, master, of Philadelphia, is ashore on the beach near Myrtle Grove Sound, or about six miles north of Federal Point. She sailed from Philadelphia for this port June 25th, and experienced heavy weather, finally springing a leak, which was found to increase with such rapidity that, to save the lives of the officers and crew, Capt. Tolson determined to run the vessel ashore. She was headed for the beach, which she struck at the point named on the morning of Wednesday, the 5th inst. Her cargo consists of fifteen thousand brick and three tons of terra cotta pipe, the latter for the Clarendon Water Works Company. At last accounts the vessel was going to pieces and will prove a total loss, while it is probable that the cargo will share the same fate. The cargo is fully insured. If the present weather continues it is thought likely that the sails, rigging, anchors and chains may be saved. The Sturdevant was quite an old vessel, having been built at Wilmington, Del., in 1861, and registered 123 tons. She was owned by James Wallace and others, of Philadelphia.

Since writing the above we have seen Mr. R. H. Beery, just from the wreck, who reports that she commenced going to pieces vesterday at 12 o'clock, and that when he left she had been completely broken up. The cargo is a total loss. The sails and rigging have been stripped from the spars.

- Capt. Neilsen, of the Norwegian brig Hardi, which arrived here on Wednesday, reports having spoken, on June 17th, in latitude 32, longitude 63.45, the schooner W. G. Warren, of Plymouth, Nova Scotia, bound to a port in the West Indies. Capt. Neilsen also reports that on the 21st of June, in latitude 47, longitude 33, just after a severe northwest storm, passed through a number of casks of spirits turpentine, the casks being new and bright looking, with heads painted red.

Alarm of Fire. The kitchen attached to the residence of Mrs. Sholar, corner of Fifth and Ann streets, caught fire yesterday morning, about half-past 10 o'clock, and the alarm was sounded, calling the department out, but they were turned back with the information that the fire was out. The damage was very slight.

Remarkable for overcoming useases caused by impure water, decaying vegeta-tion, etc., is Brown's Iron Bitters.

WHY THINGS GO UP.—If you will multiply $30,000 and $10,000 by 2/5, you will have the result $75,000, $25,000. So the grand capitals of The Louisiana State Lottery have gone on with the increase of cost of whole tickets for the monthly drawings, which have gone from two dollars to five dollars apiece. A single dollar sent to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, Ls., will have the same chance as before of getting $15,000, Two dollars sent may bring you $30,000; but five dollars sent may bring you $75,000. One reason for the change was the fact that the managers could never supply the demand, to the vexation of its regular patrons. For further information write to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., and be sure to do so before July 11th next.

CHARLOTTE FEMALE INSTITUTE.

This has been called the age of progress, and it is pleasant to note that the fair city of Charlotte is not behind her neighbors in manifesting the spirit of improvement. The most careless observer may see here, from year to year, the multiplied evidences of advance, not only in the variety and extent of the business enterprises and manufactories, but in the homes, which bear the impress of comfort and thrift and refined

That she keeps abreast of the times in her schools also, was illustrated in a marked manner by the recent commencement exer-Amid difficulties that would have dauuted many others, the present principal, Rev. Wm. K. Atkinson, has kept in view the highest ideal of a school, which should be first of all Christian in spirit, then thorough in scholarship, and at the same time not neglectful of the grace and accomplishments which serve to finish and round into perfect symmetry woman's character. He has spared neither trouble nor expense in rocuring teachers fitted to carry out his plans. Some of them are endeared to North Carolinians by the ties of kindred and association, and have been known and loved for years as among the best educators in the State; others bring to their work the culture obtained at the North or in Europe. It is the testimony of those who have a personal knowledge of their character and methods that the teaching in this school is done faithfully and conscientiously and in accordance with the highest standards of the day. From a personal inspection of some of the examination papers the writer can bear witness to the thoroughness of the scholarship required, and the fact that the teachers in their highest grades look for and find their best scholars in the ranks of those who have been trained from the beginning in the school itself is proof enough

On the 6th and 7th of June the doors o the Institute were thrown open to its friends and patrons. They were first invited to inspect the results of the year's work in the Art Department. In a large room was displayed a bewildering array of beautiful pic-tures and fancy articles. The first object to attract the eye was an elegant mantel in the "Queen Anne" style, the tiles and panels exqusitely decorated by two the young ladies, and the mantel, itself a work of art, made by a native workingman in Charlotte. Time would not suffice to mention each article separately. Among the pictures, which included drawings and painting of landscapes and figures, object drawings, a crayon portrait, etc, two were especially attractive—a copy of Fidelia Bridges' "September" and an "Ocean View." In a long row of decorated table tops one was especially admired, on which was painted a graceful half-wreath of water lilies, so true to life that it seemed possible to pick out one of the beauties, as it lay there with its leaved petals, mottled leaves, and thick, flexible stems. There were handsome screens, delicately painted china, plaques in variety, and dainty fancy articles -and all, from the largest to the smallest, bore the impress of the highest culture and refinement. Too much praise cannot be accorded to the lady, Miss U. A. Savage, through whose effective teaching all this beauty had been called into life. Those who had seen her at work in the studio, who knew something of her methods, the mingled firmness and gentleness of her manner and the enthusiasm of her pupils, were not surprised that the results seemed so wonderful

Tuesday night the hall was crowded with those who assembled to witness the graduating exercises and hear the address by the Rev. Dr. Boggs. Six young ladies graduated, and received, beside their diploma, each a gold medal as a memento of their school days, They were also pre-sented by the Principal with Bibles. Dr. Boggs' address was a clear and original exposition of the "woman question," enlivened by wit and humor, and abound ing in earnest and eloquent passages. Two young ladies, graduates in instrumental music, performed with great skill very difficult pieces by celebrated composers, and a graduate in vocal music exnibited the most thorough training as she sang with sweet, bird-like notes a "Scene and Aria from the Opera Hamiet Seven young ladies recited in concert James Russel Lowell's beautiful poem descriptive of a "Summer Storm." The musical accompaniment, composed by Dr. Bidez, was universally admired, and was only another proof of this gentleman's extraordinary talents and culture for his art. His good taste and fidelity to the highest standard were again manifested the follow ing night, when the "Annual Concert" closed successfully the Commencement exercises of 1882. The people of North Carolina should awake to the importance of supporting here, at home, educational institutions which shall command the spontaneous, involuntary respect of the world. Every effort to establish such institutions should be encouraged and the spontaneous should be encouraged. should be encouraged, and they, before others, should be patronized. There are well-to-do men all over the State who are abundantly able to give their children such advantages as the Charlotte Institute offers at their very doors, who are deplorably blind to their interests. After a few years' training at such a school their daughters would return home transformed—the un skilled fingers taught to do delicate, artistic work, the voices cultivated, the faces bright with intelligence, the whole being elevated and beautified. There are other parents, fully alive to the importance of education, who send their daughters, at a great expense, to a distance for their training, without giving a thought to the claims of the home schools, which should be patronized first. North Carolina has within herself the elements of a glorious future. Every year strangers are being attracted by the unsurpassed grandeur and beauty of the mountain region, and
