Chet Arthur shows he has no sympathy for the South.

In organization there is strength just as much as in unity.

Boston is "enjoying" a walking match. Hart, the negro pedestrian, leadis.

Arthur thus far has exercised his who power three times. The last fire kicked the owner over.

The new cotton crop in bales is beginning to be a conspicuous feature in London markets.

ille English and Irish crop prospart is poor. Excessive rains have grath, injured the crops.

R. B. Andrews & Co's liabilities are given in New York at $52,000, of which $40,000 is preferred.

The only thing needed in North Carolina to give the Democrats an assurance of a sweeping victory is organization.

The Prohibitionists of Iowa, most of them Radicals, expended $336,180 in their fight to secure the amendment to the Constitution.

day, but many years ago.

Here is a new wrinkle for those interested. Lady Margaret Hutchinson, youngest daughter of the late Earl of Donoughmore, was married recently, and here is the description given of herself and page:

"The bride wore a short dress of cream figured satin, with lace apron and ruffles, and over a wreath of orange blossoms a spotted lace veil. Her page, Lord Suirlale, was dressed in vellow satin brocade with stockings and shoes of the same color. and an old gold-colored satin hat with a yellow feather. The service was choral.

There were no bridesmaids.

Of course Arthur's veto is all the topic in Washington. Well, what is said? The following answer we take from the letter in the Richmond Dispatch from the Federal Capital:

"The comment is that the veto will give the Democrats fifty majority in the next House. Democrats also say that it will convince the Southern people that they will look in vain for any substantial benefit from the President and his Administration." .

Here is the best commentary we have met with on Arthur's last effort at vetoing. It appears in the Philadelphia Times and reads: "President Arthur to Congress: That River and Harbor bill is a shameless steal; I can't approve it unless you allow me to control the stealings." That is the very size and meaning of that specious message.

Mayor's Court.

There were several cases of minor im portance before this Court yesterday morning. The first called was that of Isaac Davis, colored, charged with quarrelling with a woman on the streets in a boisterous manner, and he was required to fork over $4 or go below for four days. Sally Ann Davis, alias Sally Ann Mc-

Kinsey, was arraigned for acting disorderly on the streets. It came out in evidence that she had at one time been an inmate of the insane asylum, and as she was evidently still laboring under the effects of her former aberration, she was sent below to await further examination into her case.

Henrietta Washington; a small colored girl, charged with being disorderly on the streets at a late hour at night, was sent below for five days.

The festive, frolicksome Scipio Hill, so fond of the beverage that runs from the still, was called up again for being "drunk and down," and told that he was really a nuisance to the town; whereupon he was hustled down below for ten days, with the hope that it may tend to amending his ways.

One of the Excursionists that Paid Dear for his Trip.

We learn that one of the excursionists from the neighborhood of Goldsboro got himself into a right serious scrape while at Smithville on Wednesday. He is said by some to be a young man of good habits and excellent reputation, but in the giddy whirl of excitement and confusion with which he was surrounded, and being in a strange place, he indulged too freely in intoxicating beverages, and, ere he was aware of it, was so tipsy that he didn't know how to behave himself. While in this state he came across a young lady, the daughter of a respected citizen of Smithville, and snatched a kiss from her, and some say passed his arm around her, for which liberty the unsophistocated youth (as we have the charity to presume him to have been) was soon after arrested and taken before the Mayor of the town, who sentenced him to pay a fine of $50 and the custs; and we learn that he only escaped imprisonment as a part of the penalty of his indis-

On motion, the meeting then adjourned to meet at the Court House on Thursday evening next, the 10th inst., at which time the committee on Constitution and By-Laws will report.

Personal.

Rev. W. M. Robey, editor of the Methodist Advance, at Goldsboro', and pastor of the Methodist church at that place, has been on a short visit to this city during the present week, and assisted in conducting the services at the weekly prayer meeting at the Front Street M. E. Church Wednesday evening.

Rev. W. T. Jordan, son of Rev. F. M. Jordan, the evangelist, who is so well known in Wilmington, was in the city yesterday on his way to Smithville, where he is to assist in a revival which is in progress in the Baptist church there.

Mr. George Jones, of Durham, brother of our townsman, Mr. R. J. Jones, was here on a brief visit yesterday, accompanied by one of his sons, Mr. R. E. Jones, of Goldsboro.

Magistrate's Court.

Joseph Telfair and John H. Giles, two of the parties concerned in the melee near the corner of Front and Castle streets. on Wednesday afternoon, some reference to which was made in our last issue, were arraigned before Justice Millis, yesterday morning, and required to pay the costs. John H. Giles was before Justice Gardner on the charge of committing assault and battery upon Wright Simmons, and was required to pay one penny and the costs; and then the thing was reversed. Wright Simmons being convicted and ordered to pay one penny and the costs for assaulting and battering John Giles.

John Nixon, charged with committing an assault and battery upon a small colored cretion through the intercession of friends. boy, named Charles Smith, and blacking his eye, was ordered to pay one penny and the costs.

The Excursionists.

The steamer Passport came up yesterdwy morning loaded down with the excursionists, who were returning from their trip to Smithville, where, we learn, they enjoyed themselves very much. They took the train yesterday afternoon for home, apparently pleased with their visit. -----
