Senator Vance says he believes Massey will be elected.

Proctor Knott is a candidate for the Gubernatorial nomination in Kentucky.

The undertaker's bill, including embalming, of the late President is $1,487.50.

Parson Massey has invited Readjuster Wise to meet him in discussion and the question asked is-"Will Wise face the music?"

Fifteen Radicals, all officeholders, are canvassing Maine. Their joint pay is $74,000 annually. They may be classed as strictly "disinterested patriots."

Bishop Nester, of the Greek-Russian church of North America, was lost on the coast of Alaska from the steamship St. Paul. He was fiftysix years old.

Dr. Carlisle declines the Presidency of the South Carolina University. His duty to Wofford College prevents his acceptance. The latter is a Methealist institution.

Mr. C. C. Fulton writes to the Baltimore American from Paris, on July 31st, that the French Republic is very popular with the people and that it has come to stay.

The Radical New York Times underrates Ben Hill and thinks evidently that his loss to the country is but little and that his death will prove a blessing to Georgia.

Fred Grant says that George Washever lived but that he was not as much of a General as dad. Fred knows. Fred went to West Point.

Do not sit, lie or stand near an open door or window during a thunder storm. Many people are killed in that way every year. One is recorded lu our State column of this day. Do not go near fireplaces if you can avoid doing so. Better bear the heat for a season than take unnecessary

On the third day of the Garland trial he received a printed invitation to him to attend the third annual pic-nic given by the C. E. H. Pic-Nic Club, near Townesville, N. C., August 23d. Senator B. H. Hill was born in Georgia, September 14, 1823. He would have been, therefore, fifty-nine if he had lived a few weeks longer He was graduated at the University of Georgia with the highest honors. He read law and practiced at La Grange. He and Stephens met in discussion several times before the war. Hill was very severe and denunciatory. Stephens challenged him. Hill declined, and replied in as bitter a strain as before, saying, among other things, to Stephens: "I have a family to support and a soul to save. You have neither." He was in the Provisional Congress and the Confederate Senate. After the war he was elected to the United States House in 1875. He and Blaine soon locked horns. His speech in reply to Blaine in 1876 was one of the most eloquent of his life. In 1877 he was elected to the Senate. He was a great speaker, but not a wise leader.

Miss Annie Martin is the Georgia heroine. At the Mud Hazel creek disaster, after being saved from a terrible death by scalding by Mr. O'Farrell, she began the noble work of trying to save others. The Athens Banner gives an interesting account of her heroic and devoted conduct. We give one brief extract:

"How this delicate young lady accomplished a task before which some of the stoutest men present quarled, is more than we can say. She seemed endowed with supernatural strength. Miss Martin, during the excitement, saw a lady being crushed beneath the coach where she had fallen and was threatened with death. Turning to a young man who was standing idly by at some distance, she asked him to rescue the party. 'I am not going to risk my life to save anyone,' was the cowardly re-sponse. Miss Martin, then, with her own hands extricated the victim, who proved to be a married lady, and dragged her to a place of safety. But it was at the expense of serious injury to herself, as she received bruises from which this young lady was for some time delirious."

The "Universal Yankee" is a great institution. He can beat the world "and the rest of mankind." Mr. Fulton writes to his paper from Paris as follows:

"The only Yankees in Europe are the Messrs. Cook, of excursion fame, and they have given such great satisfaction in their business that even the English people seldom venture from home in their own country without securing through tickets from the Cooks. By some process known only to themselves they sell through tickets all over Europe, Asia and Africa at about 10 per cent, less than the established fare by railroad. Their principal office here in Paris-and they have three of them-is always thronged with Americans. Besides this, they save all the trouble of securing tickets at the depot, which, to those not speaking the language, is a great convenience, and saves much trouble.

That ancient mariner, Dick Thompson, of Hayes's Cabinet, in a recent speech ridiculed Mr. Jefferson. The owl hooting at the eagle. The Philadelphia Record, an Independent paper, in a proper reply says:

"Jefferson was twice called to the Presidency by the suffrages of his countrymen, and of course he could have little in common with the Minister of a man who was made President by fraud."

Mr. F. A. Burr, the well known correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, Rep., does himself credit in the article he wrote concerning the late Senator Hill. We give the closing paragraph:

"In Senator Hill a great man has passed way. Measured by the great men of his day, he was the peer of the best of them. Gauged by the standard of a Northern man, without interest or impulse in common with him, he was one of the brightest minds, one of the cleverest men who ever adorned the councils of the nation.'

The Liquor Dealers Association, of Ohio are supporting the Democrats this year. How is this? Because the Republicans under Foster are running "the dry." Already the L. D. A. have contributed $30,000 to said it looked as if a ball of fire entered the ington was the greatest man who the Democratic campaign fund. The New York Times has a Columbus correspondent who is not in the highest spirits.

Spirits Turpentine.

- William Burton, a leading merchant of Yadkin county, is dead. - Senator Davis has returned to Illinois. He will visit Fayetteville again

- Our old friend W. J. Yates declines to be a candidate for nomination to the Legislature. He would make an excellent member. - Wilson Siftings: Josiah Farmer, crop on light land; on stiff land the crops are excellent, as good as could be asked.

-Elizabeth City Carolinian, Rep.: Another very silly circular has appeared over the signature of "S. T. Carrow." We begin to fear that he, too, has "a grievance." Now we remember that we didn't happen to favor his nomination for Congress two

- Davie Times: There is a rail fence on the right hand side of the road leading to Farmington from this place, that was built in February, 1812. The rails have never been moved since they were originally laid. Some of them still retain the bark, and are perfectly sound. Nothing, save a few rails on top, has ever been done to the fence since that time been done to the fence since that time.

- Charlotte Observer: Dr. Wm. McMillan, a former citizen of this county, but who left for California a number of years ago, where he accumulated a fortune amounting to about $60,000, died last January, and it is learned that he willed the whole of his fortune to three of his relatives in Mecklenburg, Mrs. Bryce Mc-Laughlin, Mrs. Sherrill Flennigen and Mrs. J. R. Kirkpatrick.

- Charlotte Home-Democrat: We learn that Gov. Vance will be home about the first of September. He is now visiting his wife's relations in Kentucky, — Did the Charlotte Observer raise the Coalition ticket to render less conspicuous the taking down of the Democratic one? - It is said Senator Ransom gave the "purchasea-bles," particularly Judas Iscariot, a scath-ing rebuke at Mt. Pleasant.

- Greensboro Patriot: From all reports the meeting at Statesville, yester-day, was a grand Democratic jubilation. Coke and Busbee made ringing speeches, followed by Robbins in a speech that set the woods on fire. —The Goldsboro Star, edited by colored men, announces that "we intend to fight it out on this line until Hades freezes over to crush out bossism and Mottism." The Star is throwing hot shot, charged with dynamite, into the Mott camp.

-The Raleigh Christian Advocate says this of Rev. Robt. O. Burton's sermon at the funeral of the late Rev. Dr. Closs: 'The services were solemn and impressive, and the sermon strong, appropriate, and delivered 'in demonstration of the Spirit and with power. It was indeed a noble discourse worthy of him who delivered it and of him to whose memory it was demembered by those who were there.'

- Fayetteville Examiner: Mr. Hamilton McMillan, who is well informed in matters pertaining to our local history, writes to us from Shoe Heel, under date of the 15th inst., that our contributor, "John Smith," who in a recent communication in reference to the grave of Rowan, claimed for him the authorship of the Liberty Point resolutions of 1776, is in error. Mr. Mc-Millan states that the resolutions adopted then were prepared by the Wilmington Committee of Safety, and passed simultaneously at several points. —The crops of corn around Favetteville are good.

- Asheville Citizen: At a Republican county convention, held in Marshall last week, the Republicans nominated a straight-out Republican county ticket. They would not touch the Liberals with a ten-foot pole. We learn that the speeches of Young, Leach and Clingman fell flat on a people who were not to be fooled. -We believe there are more visitors here now than at any corresponding period of former years. The hotels are kept full, though there is a constant ebb and flow. All of the many boarding houses are fully occupied with permanent guests. - An inter esting sketch of old time political speak ing, from the Wilmington STAR, will be found on our fourth page.

- Weldon News: The crops are getting on finely in this section. Corn is growing and will yield well. Cotton is filling with bolls, and unless there is very bad weather a good crop may be expected. -During the last three weeks the receipts of the Scotland Neck branch road have been nearly $1,000. This does not include out ward freights. - Littleton items: The Seminary is being rapidly built, and will soon be ready to be occupied. - The hotel keeps about full all the time, mostly by people from the Eastern section and they all seem to be satisfied that this is the place to stop at for good health. - The last rains have improved the crops wonderfully and they are now looking well.

- Pittsboro Record: Mr. Alvis Womble, of Matthews' township, has some tobacco stalks, on each of which are twenty leaves that are thirty-three inches long and nincteen inches wide, and still growing. - The crops of wheat and oats that have already been barvested were unusually abundant, and corn and cotton promise to be as good. The peach crop was never more plentiful, nearly every tree breaking down with its luscious load. — On the 10th inst., Mr. James Nivens, of Cape Fear Township, met with a most painful accident. He was having his wheat threshed, the thresher being inside the barn and he going up into the loft fell through, and one of his feet caught in the cylinder of the thresher and was crushed so badly that the leg below the knee had to be amputated. - Raleigh News-Observer: We understand that Prof. Kerr has been offered a very important position in connection with the geological survey of portions of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia, which has been undertaken by the United States government, and that he will probably accept. — During the severe rain and thunder storm of Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Sir William Godwin, of St. Mary's township, this county, was in the house with his family, standing near the door, when he was struck by lightning and instantly killed. No other member of the family was injured, and those in the room room and struck him. Mr. Godwin was a gallant member of the 26th North Carolina Regiment during the war, and was wound ed in the hand. He leaves a wife and several children. — There are fifty-four telephones connected with the Raleigh Telephone Exchange. - Goldsboro Messenger: Sampson county letter: Rev. Mr. Stallings, with Profs. Cooper, Nicholson and Wordragen (teacher of music), and a full corps of lady assistants, opened school at the Female In-stitute Monday, the 7th inst. The reputa-tion and previous success of the principal and his assistants is a guaranty of the future. — In a fight near Stevens's bridge, late Saturday afternoon, between Isham McLamb, Sen., ("Shady Back" and John Taylor, both white, the former received several ugly wounds in the side from a long-knife in the hands of the other. The

for this "low blackguard and demagogue" (as the writer of this once heard the late lamented Chief Justice Pearson characterize him) than to retire to private life; nothing could afford a more grateful surprise to the people of his district who have so loathing-ly tolerated him.

Mayor's Court.

A. C. Willis and Edward Herring, both white, were arraigned on the charge of disorderly conduct, superinduced by too fond a dalliance with the cup that incbriates. The former was let off on the payment of $1, but the latter was required to pay $5, justice being meted out in this instance in accordance with the merits or demerits of the respective cases.

David Mallett, for being drunk and down on the streets, was required to contribute $2 to the city treasury or go below for four days, and not having the wherewithal he took the "downward road."

A Scrimmage. A scrimmage occurred at the foot of Market street, just after the steamers came in yesterday evening, and quite a large crowd gathered in the vicinity. The disturbance was soon quelled by the police, however, but at last accounts there had been no arrests. The row is said to have originated in consequence of the fact that one of the officers of the steamer Minnehaha ordered a turbulent colored individual off the boat.

Revival at Rocky Point.

A revival is in progress in the Methodist church at Rocky Point, which is being carried on by Rev. I. Hull, of the Topsail Circuit, and Rev. V. J. Millis, of this city. A good many persons have already professed religion and connected themselves with the church and the work still goes on. As-

The Case of the Female Pickpocket-Preliminary Examination Before a Magistrate.

Carrie Hill, a white denizen-of the "Hollow," was arraigned before Justice Gardner, yesterday morning, charged with picking the pocket of one Jim Brown, colored, who hails from South Carolina, on Water, between Chesnut and Mulberry streets, about 3 o'clock on Wednesday last. Brown identified the woman as the one he came in contact with on the wharf at the time the money was missed, and other witnesses testified to seeing him and Carrie Hill talking together, There was other corroborative evidence, and at the close of the examination the defendant was required to give a justified bond in the sum of $100 for her appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which she was committed to jail.

Wm. Boyer, colored, charged with receiving part of the money alleged to have been stolen by Carrie Hill, knowing it to have been feloniously obtained, next had a hearing, and at last accounts the magistrate had the case under advisement, and it is understood that he will not render a decision before Monday next.

More Arrests for Perjury.

Sallie Brunson, colored, was arraigned before Justice Hall in the Court House. yesterday morning, charged with swearing to false statements in the case of John Johnson, colored, tried and convicted during the late term of the Criminal Court of highway robbery, for which he was sentenced to imprisonment for ten years in the State penitentiary. At the close of the examination the defendant was required to give bond in the sum of $100 for her appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, which was furnished and she was discharged from custody.

Nelson McKoy, colored, had a hearing before another magistrate on the same charge as above, and in connection with the same case, and was ordered to give the same bond for his appearance, in default of which he was committed to jail.

The Weather.

The heavy rains continue. It came down in torrents yesterday, and the streets and sidewalks in many parts of the city were flooded. The crops hereabouts will no doubt be damaged to some considerable extent. In the Rocky Point section of Pender we learn that everyth" ng is flooded.
