Sheridan, however, thought the spirit of evil prompted Davis to try the "shot-gun policy" upon him, and therefore came to town and got out a warrant for his arrest, which was

POINT CASWELL.

The Democratic Mass Meeting and Breaking Ground for the Clinton & Point Caswell Railroad-Speeches of

Notwithstanding the continuous rain of Tuesday there was a very fine attendance at Point Caswell. A Democratic meeting was held in the new Academy building. Col. John N. Staples of Greensboro, addressed a crowd of ladies and gentlemen for over two hours, in one of the most magnificent speeches of the campaign. He was introduced by Dr. Geo. F. Lucas, Chairman of the Township Executive Committee, in a very graceful and tasty manner, that did the Doctor no little credit. The speaker en chained the undivided attention of his audience in a masterly discussion of the national and State issues. His address was one of marked ability, power and elo-

Col. Staples introduced the speaker, Dr. W. T. Ennett, selected to deliver the address to the fifty young ladies present to break the ground for the new railroad. Dr. Ennett proceeded in a few appropriate remarks to urge upon the young ladies the duty and importance of using their influence to promote the construction of the railroad. The doctor's proverbial aptitude for occasions like this was illustrated by a fine and complimentary address to the

After the conclusion of Dr. Ennett's ad dress the President of the Company, Mr. F. W. Kerchner, was called upon by Engineer O'Hanlon to come forward and break the first dirt for the construction of the Clinton & Point Caswell Railroad. He came forward with smiles of cheerfulness upon him, and, with spade in hand, proceeded to break ground by throwing out several spadefuls of earth. The handsome and approving young ladies then came forward, one by one, and imitated the example set them by the President of the road. Thus has been commenced the actual construction of this new railroad. Woman gives to it her approving smiles and support. This portion of the exercises of

THE TARIFF COMMISSION.

Its Arrival, Session and Departure. The Tariff Commission, consisting of Hon. Jno. L. Hayes, of Massachusetts, President; and Messrs. H. W. Oliver, Jr., of Philadelphia; A. M. Garland, of Illinois, A. R. Boteler, of West Virginia, and P. P. Porter, of Washington, D. C., arrived here vesterday morning from Charleston and met at 11 o'clock at the Custom House. The subjects brought to its attention were rice, peanuts, chalk and silk

Hon. D. L. Russell, Mr. Don. MacRae and Col. S. L. Fremont advocated the peanut and rice interests, and Mr. Geo. Z. French the peanut and chalk interests. Silk cocoons being incidentally alluded to by Col. Fremont.

Mr. Pembroke Jones also appeared and addressed the Commission in advocacy of the imposition of a duty on the importation of rice flour, in order to enable American manufacturers to successfully compete with

The advocates of the rice interests expressed themselves generally as satisfied with the present duties, but declared that any reduction would be fatal to the rice growing industry.

Mr. French, in behalf of those interested in peanuts, stated that the annual production of the Wilmington section was 120. 000 bushels. Up to 1861 it was equal to seven-eighths of the entire crop of the United States, but under the duty of one cent per pound imposed in 1864 the cultivation had increased from 300,000 to 600,000 bushels. The price was affected by the importation of African peanuts, and the removal of the present duty would put an end to the peanut industry of North Carolina and impoverish many small farmers. As to chalk, Mr. French said that large deposits of it were found in North Carolina but the freight on it to Northern markets, where it was made into whiting, would be higher brought in ballast).

Col. Fremont spoke in advocacy of the rice interest; and alluding to silk cocoons said that the soil and climate of the State were favorable to the cultivation of mul berry trees and the raising of silk worms Both the mining of chalk and the raising of silk worms, it was argued, might be greatly developed by the imposition of a duty on the importation of chalk and silk

Mr. Boteler asked Col. Fremont whether any complaints came up from the farming community about the tariff? He replied in the negative, saying al that was heard of the question was principally from Congress and stump speakers. He thought, however, that the popular side of the question was a tariff for revenue with incidental protection; but as the rice people wanted the present duty on rice maintained, they could not consistently ask to have the duties removed from other protected articles. The Commission then adjourned until the afternoon, when it met at the Purcell House and Messrs. H. C. McQueen, Vice President of the Produce Exchange, and Robt. E. Calder, a member of the same, appeared before the Commission and furnished the board with valuable statistical information relative to the trade and business of the port, its increasing facilities, our manufacturing interests, the extent of our shipping, etc., so that the gentlemen of the Commission would be enabled to form some idea of the importance of our

terday afternoon. Columbus Superior Court.

The Superior Court of Columbus county is in session at Whiteville this week. Among the important cases to be tried is that of G. Buie, charged with murdering E Kemp, in Bladen county, just one year ago; the case having been removed from Bladen to Columbus. This case is set for trial to-day, at 10 o'clock. There is a strong array of counsel for the defence, consisting of Messrs. D. K. McRae, R. H. Lyon, W. Foster French, W. S. Norment and James McNeill; while Solicitor Mc-Iver will be assisted by Mr. F. P. Jones.

Dr. Talmage Invited to Lecture Here

The literary public will be glad to learn that our wide-awake friends of the Wilmington Library Association have extended an invitation to Rev. Dr. DeWitt Talmage to revisit our city and deliver another lecture. He is announced to lecture in Charlotte in March, and it is thought he can make it convenient to visit Wilmington during the same trip. It is confidently hoped to have the distinguished gentleman with us once more.

Arrested for Larceny. One Zacariah Boone, colored, was arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing a watch from George Warren, of this city, some time in March last. A search warrant was first issued and the stolen timepiece was found in Boone's possession, after which he was taken into custody on a State warrant. An investigation was had before Justice Millis, who reserved his judgment in the case until to-day at 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Kennedy, an old lady who cleans clothing, and who resides on Nun. between Fourth and Fifth streets, accidentally fell on the pavement nearly in front of the Purcell House, late last evening, and cut her face very badly. She was taken to Dr. Schonwald's office, where she received proper attention, and was subsequently carried to her residence.

Miss Claire Scott.

As previously announced, this lady ap pears at the Opera House to-night, in the "Princess of Bagdad," and from the advance sale of seats we judge that there will be a large audience to witness the performance. The Atlanta Constitution gave Miss Scott and company the following notice when they appeared recently in that city

"Miss Claire Scott, assisted by Mr. S. K. Coburn and a fair company, appeared at De Give's Opera House last night in the character of Lucretia Borgia to quite a magnificent audience. The dreaded Borgia is a character hard to interpret and difficult to impersonate. Miss Scott's quick transition from the contemplation of a diabol revenge to the almost idolatrous love for Genarro; then in the court scene when pleading for his life; and her impersonation of the doting mother and demoniac duch ess, bore evidence of her being an actress of merit. She possesses superb physique, mobile features, grace of gesture, and a voice strengthened to the tragic tones, and we see in her the promise of a future queen n the realm of highest dramatic art. She has every facility to realize her ambition and doubtless the courage to demand that success which her abilities command. Though at the threshold only of her career. she displays grand powers to hold the hearts of her hearers and play upon them through the full gamet of the emotions. The support last night was very good and satisfactory.
