Speaking after the manner of men what do you think of it now, Col. Buck Parker Canaday?

On the day of the battle in Ohio Gov. Foster was very confident of a Radical victory and by precisely 7,000. The Arthur set pretended to believe that Mr. Stephens would be beaten in Georgia, and now they are imitating Ike Young strongly in the brag game as to North Carolina.

THE STATE CAMPAIGN.

The Surry Democrats nominated Winston Fulton for the House.

Surry county Democrats have indorsed Senator Ransom and favor his re-election. The Democrats of Pitt county have nominated Col. Isaac A. Sugg for the Senate and M. C. Nobles for the House of Repre-

*Bankrupt Sale.—A job lot of Republican (local) nominations for Clerk and Register of Deeds is now offered to aspirants for political fame by the Revenue Machine. Will be disposed of cheap. Apply at Revenue headquarters. - Greensboro Patriot.

We much enjoyed the pleasure of hearing Hon. Matt. W. Ransom speak at Haywood, in this county. Gen. Ransom spoke over three hours, and it was the most conclusively convincing speech that we have ever heard, appealing to the reason and not to the passion of his hearers, and, although there was not a single anecdote in it, every-body listened throughout with the closest attention. - Pittsboro Record.

Wilmington is waking up. Not a bit too soon, boys. Noblesse oblige, you know, so we expect much of you. —— It is suggested by a State exchange that, for reasons not necessary to mention, the degree of d-d be conferred on Gen. Leach. The General is so modest that we fear he will object. — The spirit of the Granville Democracy is somewhat game. The only resolution offered in their convention, says the Free Lance, was: "Resolved that we will beat the Radical party." --- What do we think of the situation in the State? It is good. We have information from many counties, and while the reports are not all uniform, yet the general condition of the party is good.—Raleigh News-Observer.

The citizens of Salisbury woke up yesterday morning to find two banners flying in the breeze from two prominent points of the city-over the National Hotel and the town cistern. One of them bore the celeprated exclamation of Gen. Leach, "an Ethiopian cannot change his skin, nor a leopard his spots, but my God, fellow-citizens, how quick a white man gets to be a nigger when he joins the Republican party." The other bore the following, attribu-ted to the Hon. Charles Price, "I would roll in the dust from Statesville to Mooresville to get the Democratic nomination for Congress." This speech is said to have been made before he became a coalitionist, and will go far to explain why he became one. — The Coalitionists of Gaston county will be forced, it is said, to call a convention in order to shake off Jim Rhyne, ability extends.

colored, and other straight-out independents.
—Charlotte Journal.

The Republicans of Durham county seem to be at sea. They caucus and hold conventions, but are not able to concentrate on any ticket. Some want to vote for the Democratic nominees, others are anxious to support Mott's lick-splitters, while a majority swear that they will vote for none others than simon-pure Republicans. -Dr. Thomas Vickers was passing down the railroad a few days since, when he fell in company with Jeems Madison Leach, and the two engaged in conversation. Jeems Madison was exceedingly loquacious, and told what momentous questions he was in favor of and what he opposed. Finally, the Doctor said: "Well, Gineral, I am in formed that you are a candidate for coroner at large, and expect to be on hand at the death of the Liberal alias Republican alias Radical party. Is it true?" The old sinner, with a scowl on his face that can better be imagined than described, "vamoosed."—Durham Plant.

Judge Merrimon's speech at Carey was a powerful one and had a good effect on every auditor. It abounded in points and sound arguments. — One of the saddest cases of loneliness ever seen was observable in a billiard saloon here yesterday morning. It was Gen. James Madison playing billiards, all by himself. The one observer hummed softly the words, "Have they left thee, thou lone one." The other twin had hied him away to the canvass. — D. R. Walker met the other day a Republican who had just flopped into that party from a life-long Democratic record. D. R. W. inquired how he liked being a Republican, when the Republican replied with a sad face: "I was a Radical just a day and a half, and was drunk all the time; if had remained in the party two days it would have killed me. But I had sense enough to desert my new colors, and am back again in the familiar fold." - One of the neatest political jokes of the season originates with Armstrong's Minstrels. "Coming on to Ra-leigh," said one of the old men, "I saw seated just in front of me in the car a couple which made me at once think of the Siamese Twins. They looked like one person, they were so close together. So, having an eye to business and fancying I had struck another bonanza in the show line, I walked forward to take a closer look at the two. Getting a little in front I took a glance at them and saw they were-" "Who ?" cried out the interlocutor. "Why, General James Madison Leach and James H Harris!" It brought down the house in a roar.—Ra leigh News-Observer.

The Senator stood upon the steps of the O. E. B. and spoke very feelingly to us. The scenes that stretched out before him, the memories that crowded upon him, the deafening cheers that greeted him, for a moment seemed to make the General forget his fatigue. The Phi. Socicty has lately been presented with a handsome portrait of Gen. J. J. Pettigrew. This is the fifteenth oil painting in the hall. The number of students continues to increase.

The Campaign in Pender.

We learn that a very enthusiastic Democratic meeting was held at Shaking Bridge, in Holly Shelter Township, on Tuesday, which was addressed by Col. E. D. Hall, of this city, whose remarks, which consumed about one hour in their delivery. were received with great satisfaction, and there was every indication that the speech would have a good effect. The character of the county nominations had served to enhance the general good feeling, especially that of Mr. J. N. Mashburn, a onelegged Confederate soldier, who is very popular in that section.

We understand that arrangements are on foot for a barbecue at an early day in Columbia Township.

The Storm. The weather yesterday, in this particular locality, was what may justly be termed intensely disagreeable. The rain poured in torrents for a good portion of the day, and then the much dreaded cyclone was again reported to be stalking in this direction, gaining fresh force and fury with every step of its progress. Its centre was in the southern part of Georgia early in the day, and it was reported to be travelling in a line which was expected to land it right here in Wilmington. Up to this writing, however, it has not struck us, but the weather is still threatening and rainy. The storm signal was ordered up early in the day, and the shipping were

We had been expecting to find a satisfactory account of the proceedings of the Presbyterian Synod at Asheville recently in the papers from that section, and were thus led to neglect obtaining any information from the members present from this city. At the Mouth of the River. The Federal Point Club, in part, made a note of the comet from Bright and Breezy Cottage the first day of the week. The sky was clear and the air soft and delicious. The members also prospected on Zeke's Island, examining the dams, fish weir, etc., and going down as far as Corn-Cake Inlet. The surf was beautiful to behold, rolling in for a space of fully a mile and a half over Carolina Shoals. They represent the visit as in every way enjoy-

We are requested by Mr. W. E. Hill, Chairman of the Township Committee and member of the Executive Committee, to state that Col. Wharton J. Hurt aground near Fayetteville, but it was expected that she would be gotten off, and that she and the North State would exchange cargoes at Elizabethtown. The river at last accounts was very low.

- The large scow which has been building at Mr. J. W. Taylor's mill yard for some time past, for use on the lower Cape Fear river improvements, has been completed and is expected to be launched this morning. It is an immense affair, very strongly built, and contains four separate compartments into which mud, etc., is deposited after it has been removed from the channel by the dredge, each furnished with an outlet at the bottom, through which the mud is dumped on the shoals when it has reached the proper place. These outlets are somewhat after the manner of trapdoors, and can be readily managed. The scow would have been launched yesterday morning but for the intensely disagreeable weather. The new dredge recently constructed and launched is still at the wharf receiving her machinery, her two engines being already in position. Col. Green's Appointments. Col. Wharton J. Green, Democratic candidate for Congress, will address his
