greater when it is remembered . that the Radicals had previously gerrymandered the State in their own interests. If this had not been done the probability is the Democrats would have had three others.

We do not attach the greatest importance to everything sent from Raleigh to the New York Times. A special of the 16th professes to give the reason why Hubbs withdrew. It says there was danger of a loss to the State ticket from "swapping" if both O'Hara and Hubbs continued in the field. Here follows what will probably be news to the gentleman named. It says:

"It was also understood that the Democrats had already had printed in Washington tickets with the name on them of Henry G. Williams, of Wilson county, for Congress, and that these tickets were to be in the hands of trusty men on election day, and were to be voted by every Democrat who came to the polls. The vote in that case between the two Republican candidates would have been so close that Williams would have been elected.'

O'Hara would have beaten Hubbs. and that had more to do with the packing down than anything else, we have no doubt.

Henry Ward Beecher has an agent who arranges his lectures when he goes out to gather in the spoils. His name is Pond, and from his own account he must be the very slough of des-Pond about which we read in Bunyan's immortal Pilgrimage. Pond sought a matrimonial alliance and now he seeks a release. He is advised to use "Pond's Extract," to be found with all well-regulated druggists. Pond plaintively says:

'What can a man expect who married into a family composed of a mother and two daughters, with eight husbands five divorces, and one suicide? Poor fellow, what a fool he was to seek a home in that direction

You made one grand mistake when you sent General Leach into our deestrict to stir up the faithful. They have not forgotten the ugly things he has said about white men becoming niggers. We are indebted to Messrs. Latham, Alexander & Co., Bankers and Cotton Commission Merchants, New York, for a copy of their handsome annual publication entitled Cotton Movement and Fluctuation, 1875 to 1882. This is the ninth edition, and it is fully up to its predecessors, which is praise enough. Those engaged in the cotton trade will find it both useful and interesting.

Col. Keogh, the leading Republican in North Carolina, is now under a heavy fire from Stalwart batteries. His crime consists in standing up for his party as against the Mahoneizing experiment. - Washington

Keogh is not alone. He is in company with hundreds, we might say thousands, of the best men in his party. The Mongrel Combination is very distasteful to all true-blue Radicals who do not hold Federal offices.

His speeches are great efforts—evarybody pleased, and no doubt good results will follow. We go to Martin to-morrow, and close Tuesday at Stonewall. The news from Ohio is simply superb. Liberalism is played out here. Latham's election is sure.

The Democratic party of Stokes was never in better trim than at present. The prospects are the Democratic ticket will be elected by an increased majority. ----Gov. Magistrate's Court. James Gilmatian was arraigned before Justice Millis, yesterday morning, on the charge of assault and battery upon Fannic McDonald, colored, and judgment was suspended, the defendant being required to pay the costs, in default of which he was committed to the Sheriff.

Mary Lewis, colored, charged with assault and battery on Walter Scott, a colored boy, who ought to have been treated better in consideration of his name, if for nothing less, was required to pay the costs on a suspension of judgment.

Cleaning Up Deserters.

On last Monday a week ago the captain of one of the vessels in port went to Justice Gardner and complained that three of his men had deserted and could not be found. The necessary steps were immediately taken to secure their arrest and incarceration, and since that time as many as fourteen sailors have been arrested and committed to the county jail, under warrants issued by Justice Gardner; two being taken yesterday morning. There is now, we understand, not a single deserter at large in this city.

Mr. T. J. Our readers will be glad to learn that Dr. J. J. Lafferty, the scholarly editor of the Richmond Christian Advocate, whose reputation for ability is national, and whose genuine wit glows and scintillates in every inc he writes and in every sentence he utters, will deliver two lectures here between the 6th and 11th of November. The first in order, we understand, will be on the subject of "Old Times and New," than which it would be difficult to find a theme more fruitful of pleasant and entertaining reflections: and the second will be devoted to a subject no less attractive and which he has designated "Elements of success—Luck, Pluck and Policy There was a time when Wilmington had a reputation which was not calculated to inspire that confidence of success which is so encouraging to the average lecturer. Is it any wonder that a great change has been wrought among our people in this respect, when we come to consider the great improvement in these latter years in the quality of fare which has been presented to tempt our literary appetites ?

It is not known definitely under what auspices the lectures will be delivered. We can only say that Dr. Lafferty has signified his intention in a private letter to a gentleman of this city, to visit us for that purpose between the dates mentioned.

- Capt. Levi Hart, of the wrecked schooner Robbie L. Foster, which went ashore on Frying Pan Shoals last week, left for Philadelphia last evening. His home is at St. George's, Maine. The various captains in port, together with a few of the merchants, made him up a purse of $50 before leaving, to meet his immediate decessities. Capt. Hart desires us to return his sincere thanks to the citizens of Wilmington for the many kind favors received by himself and crew since landing here. Some of the crew, we learn, have shipped on the steamship Regulator.
