TICKETS.

Have all the counties in the Third District been supplied with tickets? This is very important. It should be inquired into. The Rads will have more than enough. They have Jay Hawk's barrels to rely on.

The last telegraphic discovery is sending messages without wires. In the beginning two wires were needed; then one, and now none. Next. The Scientific American is responsible for the following, we suppose. Mr.

W. H. Preece, an English electrician sent messages from one to two miles without wires. The American says: "It is not impossible that as the properties of the fac totum of modern civilization become better understood, wires will be largely dispensed with-in the open country and for transmarine connection.

The experiments were made from Southampton to Isle of Wight. The Scientific American says:

"Large metal plates were immersed in the sea at opposite ends of the Solent, namely: at Portsmouth and Ryde, six miles apart, and at Hurst Castle and Sconce Point, one mile apart. The Portsmouth and Hurst Castle plates were connected by wire passing through Southampton and the Ryde and Sconce Point plates by a wire through Newport. The circuit completed itself through the sea.'

Jay Hawk Hubbell may look to his head, for it is in danger. The boarding-housekeepers in Washington, aided and abetted by the shopkeepers, are up in arms because he is damaging them very seriously. The following, from a special to the Philadelphia Press, Republican, will explain matters: "Washington, October 23.-The political assessment machine is driving the clerks in the departments well nigh wild. Some of them have been assessed twice, and in order to meet these forced loans, for nonpayment of which dismissal is feared, debts have been incurred and in many instances the comforts of life sacrificed. There is searcely a business man in Washington who has not heard stories of hardship and suffering from customers forced to ask credit because of the demands of the Congressional, National and State committees. Even the boarding-housekeepers storm at the Jay Hubbell machine, because it deprives them of the cash by which their louses are maintained. The clerks in the Railway Mail service have been forced to donate a per centage of their salaries to well the campaign funds. One clerk on a North Carolina railroad, who risks his life daily on the wretched tracks of a poorly equipped line for a salary of $1,100 per annum, was assessed $26 by the Hubbell

ommittee and $10 by a local committee.

The New York Tribune charges that Howard Carroll, the Arthur candidate for Representative-at-Large in New York, offered to pay $15,000 when he was hanging about the State committee rooms begging for the nomination and button-holding acquaintances to intercede with the committee for him. Of that affidavits can be produced whenever needful." He will do very well for the Folger forgery ticket. Fifteen thousand dollars for the nomination is pretty steep, but then daddy-in-law has millions.

The Richmond State thus pokes His Excellency for his very remarkable saying about Billie Mahone's parings:

"Among the new books in press and announced for the fall trade we notice the following: "The Sacred Toe-Nail." A poem. By Wm. E. C-m-r-n. Richmond, Va., 1882.

No Bourbon eyes its parings see, Such riches are reserved for me. [From opening can-toe by the author.]"

We honor young Leach for declining to speak in opposition to his father on the same stand. The latest from West Virginia is to the effect that Wilson, Democrat, is elected in the Third District over the Radical who was counted as 7. Pendleton gave him 84 majority instead of 66. But we do not know that all the official returns are in.

Vance at Burgaw.

We learn from parties who came down on the train last evening that Gov. Vance had a large crowd to hear him at Burgaw, Pender county, yesterday, and that he talked to them about three hours. The people of Pender are not different from those of other sections of the State, and so twenty-one persons. — The Raleigh Chris. of course they were perfectly carried away SENATOR VANCE.

Wilmington's Welcome to North Carolina's Favorite Son-Grand Democratic Demonstration-An Immense Gathering of Citizens-The Speaking Senator Ransom-The Speaking To-Night.

Our city was alive last night. The streets were crowded with people of all ages and conditions, and illuminated with blazing tar barrels, to welcome North Caro lina's favorite son, Hon. Zeb. B. Vance. Everybody was in good humor, and one could not turn a corner without hearing the exclamation: "Old Zeb is here and i going to speak to-night!"

No man living has such a hold upon the popular heart as Vance, and this was clearly demonstrated here last evening, for we saw men upon the streets who seldom leave their homes after dark and never attend political meetings, but who were as eager to see and to hear him as the most enthusiasic young American. Shortly after 7 o'clock there was a gather-ng of the clans at the City Hall with flaming torches and transparencies, and at the hour named in the official programme the procession, headed by the mounted escort, took up the line of march down Princess street to Front, and down Front to the Purcell House, when receiving the distinguished visitor, they moved up Market street to Third to the stand prepared for the speaking. It was an oration, such a one as only Vance could inspire, and shows how strong is the affection felt for him by all classes of our people. Great credit is men particularly for the perfect manner in which the arrangements were carried out.

We think there were at least fifteen hundred people present, and very many ladies graced the occasion with their presence.

Davis arose and in his peculiarly felicitous manner introduced the orator of the even ing. As soon as the well-known form of the Senator appeared upon the stand cheer upon cheer went up from the vast multi tude, and it was some time before silence could be obtained, for the people wanted to and would hurrah anyhow. Quiet at length reigned and the Senator commenced his speech. It was a speech of great power, argumentative and logical, showing the falsity of Radical profession and how recreant they had been in the fulfilment of any promise they had made to the people; it was a summary of the doings of that party contrasted with what the Democratic party had done. He showed that there were between four and five hundred thousand children in the State, black and white, now being educated at the expense of the State, and that there was no increase in the taxes. Normal schools had also been established, an Asylum for the Deaf, Dumb and the Blind and for the Insane of the colored people had been built and were in successful operation, an Agricultural Bureau of great benefit to the farming interests of the State had been organized, the interest on the State debt promptly met and nearly six hundred miles of railroad built in North Carolina, and while all these things had been done by the Democratic party there had been no increase of taxes, while he defied the Republican party to show where they had ever piled one brick upon another for the public good. He next turned his attention to the Liberal Democrats, so-called, who were candidates for office, and allowed themselves to be made tools of by the Radical leaders, and held them up to public scorn, declaring that they had been bought by the promise of office and were the property of the Radical party. His argument upon the tariff was unanswerable and carried conviction to every mind not governed by prejudice. Upon that most important question of all to this section of the State, viz : county government, he was outspoken, frank and manly in defense of the present system, and his argument in favor of it cannot be successfully We do not pretend to give a report of the speech, but simply a glance at its salient points. He closed with a fervent appeal to every man present to do his duty, having spoken about two hours and a half. It was a speech that will do great good. We never saw so large a crowd so quiet and attentive. There was no noise or disturbance, and every one left the ground feeling that there was but one Zeb Vance in America, and proud of the fact that Zeb was a Tar Heel.

To-night at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Young Men's Democratic Club, Senator Ransom will address the citizens of Wilmington from the stand on Third street. Let all good citizens come out to hear him. Let us greet the distinguished Ransom with the same audience that welcomed last night the peerless Vance. The official programme is as follows:

The torchlight procession will meet at the City Hall at 7 30 P. M., and report to Chief Marshal H. McL. Green, and Assistant Marshals Thomas E. Bond, J. G. Wright, Eugene Maffitt, A. D. Brown, Clayton Giles, John H. Hanby, J. W. Murchison, Louis Otterbourg, Col. Roger Moore, J. W. King, N. F. Parker, P. L. Bridgers, Fred Rheinstein, Frank Mitchell, J. Wright Bobles, T. W. Mearcs, W. A. Wright, L. Vollers, P. Donlan, A. R. Campbell, L. P. Davis, Frank Meares. A mounted escort will form at Southerland's stables on Second street, at 7.30 o'clock, under the charge of the Chief Marshal. All good Democrats are cordially invited to join this escort or take some other position in the procession. Torches will be furnished to all who may see fit to

LINE OF MARCH.

The two processions will move promptly down Princess to Front, down Front to the Purcell House, at which point they will be joined by Senator Ransom and will escort him to the stand on Third street.

Senator Ransom will be introduced by Maj. Charles M. Stedman.

street depot yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, on the special train which left here at 2 P. M. for Burgaw. There was quite a large crowd at the depot to meet our distinguished visitor, and as he rode down Front street in a carriage drawn by four beautiful grays, and accompanied by G. J. Boney, Chairman of our Executive Committee, Capt. V. V. Richardson, Chairman of the Executive Committee of Columbus county, and, we believe, another gentleman, he was the observed of all observers. The Cornet Concert Club was on the special train, and headed the escort which accompanied the Senator to the Purcell House, furnishing excellent music, especially considering that the band has had no practice lately. At the time the carriage reached the hotel the street was thronged with people, all anxious to get a look at North Carolina's favorite son. The Senator, upon leaving the carriage, proceeded immediately into the hotel, no doubt anx ious to get what little rest and refreshment he could to fit him for the work of the evening. He met quite a number of his friends during the interval between his arrival and the time for the speaking to com-

Pale Luna no Longer. Those who had an opportunity of ob serving the moonlight for any length of time, on Wednesday night, coincide in the opinion that it excelled in brilliancy any they had ever seen. The rays of the moon almost rivalled those of the sun in brightness, and so nearly converted the night into day that several of our wakeful friends, as they have informed us, had to consult their clocks to see if they had not been wooing the drowsy god until surrounded by the broad sunlight of another day. It appeared brightest between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock, and a perfectly clear sky of deep est blue, a bracing atmosphere, scarcely ruf fled by a breath of air or stirred by the vi brations of a single sound, rendered the scene more enchanting in its serene loveli

"The above minstrels played at Tucker Hall last night to a good audience-though they were entitled to a full house. They gave more solid fun during their two hours entertainment than any similar minstrel performance we ever attended. Mr. Billy Armstrong as the aged negro impersonator was splendid. The roller skate act by the Powers Brothers was quite amusing. The inging of the Monumental Quartette was very fine. Mr. Edward Mealy's playing on two cornets at once was very remarkable. The performance throughout was chaste, not a word or act of vulgarity was visible in the entertainment. The show is one of
