MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

A gale was blowing on the English coast yesterday; several vessels reported loss. —— The boiler of a stationary engine exploded near Montgomery, Ala., killing three negro men. —— It is feared that the steamer sunk in collision with the Westphalia is the Nederland, from Antwerp for Philadelphia. —— A Raleigh special reports Bennett 207 votes ahead of Dockery with Hyde county to hear from. —— Five pilots drowned in the Firth of Forth while attempting to reach a distressed vessel. —— One man killed and another fatally injured by a water tower overturning, during a test by the fire department of New York city. —— Several persons severely injured by a falling elevator at Louisville, Ky. —— Application has been made in New York to vacate the charter of the Mutual Union Telegraph Company, on the ground of fraudulent issue of stock; Jay Gould is one of the applicants. —— One man fatally and several men slightly injured by a boiler explosion at Cincinnati, Ohio. —— The glazier whose putty box was hit by one of the bullets fired by Guiteau at President Garfield, wants a position as government watchman. —— A large percentage of the British troops in Egypt continue sick. ——Fifteen loaded cars burned near Eu Claire, Wis.; loss $75,000. —— New York markets: Money 4@6 per cent.; cotton quiet at 10½@10 11 16c; southern flour active at $4 50@5 25; wheat, ungraded red 85c@$1 13; corn ungraded 72@89c; rosin quiet and steady at $1 80@1 90; spirits turpentine dull at 53c.

Another seat in the Stock Exchange fetched $28,000.

Billee Mahone is very sick. His disease is political-cholera-infantum.

The Democratic candidate elected in 1884 will take his seat, and don't you forget it. Bulldozing has "played." The people are in earnest.

How is that? The Langtry appeared as Rosalind and the critics talk of her as "being chubby and lean." Whoever saw a lean chub?

Mr. Pope Barrow, the new Georgia Senator, is a native and 44 years of age. He is a lawyer, of course, and a graduate, which was not of course.

The suit against Beecher, now trying, develops the fact that of his first volume of the "Life of Christ" $97,484.25 was realized from the sale, the number sold being 29,355.

Col. Fielding Lowry, Radical postmaster at Dayton, Ohio, stole $4,234 of the public funds, and then had self-respect enough to hide himself in the grave. He blew out his own brains.

The gossip in Washington concerning the probable retirement of several members of Arthur's Cabinet continues. Howe is to go first. Good if true: Then Brewster next. Excellent? Then Teller. Oh, too good! Howe, Brewster, Teller. Tell it not in Washington.

If the figures in the Washington Post are correct the Democrats will have 195 members in the next House and the Radicals 128, and all others 2. But it gives the Democrats 7 from North Carolina. This is wrong. Probably the final count will show 190 Democrats or possibly more. At any rate the majority is large.

According to a regular press special from Jackson, Miss, Chalmers bulldozed very successfully. Here is what is charged:

"He is represeted as perpetrating various outrages on the rights of voters through the instrumentality of imported deputy marshals. These deputies, some of whom were brought from New Orleans, are reported to have taken charge of the polls and directed and dictated the conduct of the elections, disregarding the authority of the State election officers. It is said that they seized and carried off a ballot-box before it was counted, and generally endeavored to awe and intimidate with threats of Federal prosecutions."

He makes a very good Radical.

Titles neither in this country nor in Europe confer brains. We have known a man called "Hon." or even "Kurnel," who did not have one grain more of sense than a plain Mr. or a 'Squire, or a "high private." This is suggested by the following scene:

"LONDON, November 15.—A scene which occasioned quite a sensation occurred last night at the Globe Theatre during the performance of Tennyson's new pastoral drama, "The Promise of May." Among those present was the Marquis of Queensbury, who is an avowed free-thinker. He rose excitedly from his seat and loudly protested against Tennyson's representations of the principles of free thought, as enunciated by one of the characters of the play. At the desire of an official the Marquis left the theatre amid much confusion.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXXI.---NO. 48. WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1882. WHOLE NO. 4753

Some one has sent us a reprint of the London Times containing the account of the Battle of Waterloo. It is a very interesting number and it is less than half the size of the STAR. It contains Wellington's official account which would make about two and a quarter columns of this paper, and a short private letter from Hamburg. It has an "Official Bulletin," and a two-column editorial on the battle and some little other matter. There is a list of the killed and wounded among the officers. Among the former were the Duke of Brunswick, Lieutenant-General Sir Thomas Picton and Lieutenant-General Sir H. Ponsonby. Then come Colonels and officers of lower grade. Among the wounded are H. R. H. the Prince of Orange, severely; and eight Lieutenant-Generals, and a long list of Colonels, Lieutenant-Colonels, Majors, &c. The paper is dated Thursday, June 22d 1815. The battle was fought on the 18th inst. The price of the little sheet was twelve cents. If any one would see what the greatest paper in the world was in 1815 let him examine this small sheet. The STAR is secured at fifteen cents a week at your homes and any number contains three times the matter the Times contained.

Old Ben, of Massachnsetts, is a shrewed politician, what ever else may be said of him. He does not favor the total abolition of internal revenues, but says:

"I would advise their taking it all away from the producers, because I do not think it ever ought to have been levied in that way; but I very much doubt whether it ought to be taken away so suddenly from spirits and tobacco, because I have observed that all civilized countries have found it convenient and necessary to raise a large portion of the revenue from that source; and it would seem to me not wise to put ourselves in opposition to the political economy of the civilized world without more study than can be given to the question in sixty days. Besides, when the whiskey and tobacco tax is to be taken off, the tariff must be revised to meet any deficiency, and be so adjusted as to become a permanent and stable rule for the business of the country, to which it may adjust itself."

There is sense in all that and members of Congress might read and ponder.

Spirits Turpentine.

— We congratulate "Father" Evans on his election.

— Recent sales of Granville tobacco at Durham were $40, $46, $64 and $70.

— Mr. Thomas Radford, aged 20, and Miss Ella D. Roberts, aged 14, of New Berne, are dead.

— Lumberton Robesonian: We are glad to learn that the editor is gradually improving, and hopes to be home by the 22nd inst.

— Charlotte Journal: A young man named Chas. Spurrier, of Paw Creek, was badly cut in the breast and on the hand last Friday in Paw Creek, by an insolent negro who raised a disturbance in Spurrier's store.

— Charlotte Observer: One of the sad street sights yesterday was a little 8 year old boy being taken home in a wagon, beastly drunk. He had been left to take care of the wagon which contained, among other things, a jug of whiskey.

— Durham Plant: Several hundred Democrats in Durham county were too busy to go to the polls and vote for the interest of their wives and children. —— W. M. McAdoo, aged 25, a native of North Carolina, is elected to Congress in New Jersey by a large majority.

— Greensboro Patriot: An immense concourse of people attended the funeral services over the late Dr. Craven at Trinity College, yesterday. The large college chapel was filled at an early hour. The services were conducted by the Rev. M. L. Wood, assisted by Dr. T. M. Jones, president of Greensboro Female College.

— A special dispatch to the Petersburg (Va.) Index-Appeal, dated Weldon, N. C., November 14, 1882, says: The crowd at the Fair to-day was quite small. The exhibition is by far the largest ever held here. At the glass ball shooting the prize gun was won by E. B. Engelhard, of Raleigh. The race was won by D. H. Barlow's horse "Apple Jack."

— Raleigh Visitor: We stated yesterday the serious illness of Mr. Phil. H. Sasser. After we had gone to press we heard of his death. Mr. Sasser was well known and much beloved in this city and county. He was 40 years old and died after long suffering of cancer of the stomach. He was a brave soldier during the late war. He was a member of Manly's Battery.

— Raleigh News-Observer: Unofficial returns and a close estimate indicate that the Senate will stand 34 Democrats and 16 Republicans, and the House 72 Democrats and 48 Republicans. On joint ballot the Legislature will stand 106 Democrats and 64 Republicans. The last Legislature stood, Senate 38 Democrats to 12 Republicans, and the House 74 Democrats, 2 independent Democrats and 44 Republicans.

— New Berne Journal: It is estimated that between four and five thousand people attended the Free Will Baptist Conference last Sunday, at Rose of Sharon Church, in Lenoir county. Preaching was had in two houses, and there was a crowd sufficient to fill a dozen more. —— Capt. Lemuel H. Hartsfield, formerly a citizen of this county, died at the residence of his son-in-law, in Goldsboro, on last Friday night. Capt Hartsfield served in the U. S. army in the war with Mexico, and commanded a cavalry company in the Confederate army in the great civil war. He was highly respected by those who knew him.

— Greensboro Patriot: The election of the negro O'Hara, in the 2nd Congressional District, is a decisive victory over the Revenue Ring. He drove the machine candidate, Hubbs, out of the race, and scored a brilliant victory over Mott and his gang. —— The claim that York's election is a Liberal triumph is preposterous. He was endorsed by the Republican convention as an anti-prohibitionist, and was voted for and elected by anti-prohibition Democrats. —— An excursion party from Indiana, numbering about 250, arrived at Greensboro last Friday night from Indianapolis. They are all natives of Guilford, Alamance, Rockingham, Randolph and Davidson. Many of them have not visited North Carolina in twenty years.

— Raleigh News-Observer: At daylight yesterday morning the gin of Mrs. John Rand, ten miles south of the city, was found to be on fire. Together with the saw mill attached, it was entirely destroyed. In the gin were fifteen bales of cotton, of which ten were burned. There was no insurance on the mill, gin or cotton. The loss is probably $3,500. ——

There was an old statesman named Leach,
Who made a full three hours speech
About Mott and his crew,
And the whole revenue,
But since Tuesday he's not given a screech.

—— Capt. A. H. Bogardus is at High Point, to be present at the field trials of dogs. So many prominent sportsmen were never before gathered in North Carolina.

— Raleigh Farmer and Mechanic: Col. William Johnston carried two counties—Montgomery by 31, and Richmond by 69. —— Hendersonville, N. C., shipped in ten weeks $1,316.60 worth of cabbage, $960 worth of apples, and $890 worth of potatoes. —— Old "Pap Boots," a colored fiddler, dropped dead in Raleigh last week. —— Tom Hughes, a colored brakesman, while drunk, fell and was killed on the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad. ——While firing an anvil salute in Gaston county in honor of the election victories, a premature explosion knocked Mr. John Richards senseless, severely hurt, says the Gazette. —— Gen. Leach left for Washington amid the shower of Democratic returns last Thursday. But there was no balm in Gilead. The storm from the North was even "wusser" than in the Old North State. ——We never saw Gen. Scales, but we venture to say he would not, if elected, try to form a "Scales faction," and use the power given to him by the people, to injure and defeat those who happened not to think him "a biger man than old Grant." —— By a clerical error, Gen. Cox's vote in Wake was cut short one hundred or so votes, but he didn't need them, as he ran about 600 votes ahead of the ticket in this District. It is said, also, that Devereux's big majority in Vance county (home of Col. Ike Young, by the by,) was due to counting one or two hundred votes from the Warren "cut-off" which properly belonged to the Second District.

Local Dots.

— Receipts of cotton yesterday 974 bales.

— There was another frost yesterday morning.

— No cases for the Mayor's Court yesterday morning.

— Several cases of "Pinkeye" are reported among the horses in this city.

— Mrs. Chanfrau will personate Lady Isabel at the matinee to-morrow.

— The mercury in the STAR Office was down to 39 yesterday at 6 A. M., being the coldest morning yet. At 8 P. M. it was at 54.

— The Swedish Barque Cometen, Capt. Olsson, was cleared from this port for Liverpool, yesterday, by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son, with 1,895 bales of cotton, valued at $89,997.

— Beef has been coming in a little more plentifully for the past two or three days, though it was selling at from three to four cents on the hoof on Monday, and one choice lot brought five.

— Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, of St. Paul's Lutheran church, of this city, has been in attendance upon the session of the Lutheran Synod of South Carolina, at Charleston. He preached at St. Matthew's church on Sunday last.

— A correspondent complains of the boisterous character of some of the assemblages at Minnie's Hall, in Brooklyn, and wishes to know if "our City Fathers can give no relief?" We think Alderman Chadbourn, of the First Ward, will investigate this matter if brought before him in proper shape.

— A friend writing us from Goldsboro informs us that Messrs. Winslow & Southerland, of that place, have recently purchased the lease and furniture of the Gregory House, and that our friend, T. L. Hall, an old and experienced hotelist in New Berne and Beaufort, is interested as general manager. The house was opened under its new auspices on Wednesday.

River and Creek Improvements.

Capt. W. H. James, in charge of the improvements of the upper Cape Fear, was in the city yesterday, and was expected to leave for Brunswick to-day, where work upon the Town Creek improvement is expected to commence without delay.

RIVER AND MARINE.

— Nor. barque A. M. Schweigaard, Jensen, (from Bordeaux) sailed from Falmouth for Wilmington on the 12th inst.

— Dan. barque Elene, Dahl, hence, arrived at Glasgow on the 12th inst.

— Dan. barque Aurorita, Thomsen, sailed from Liverpool for this port on the 13th inst.

Constipation, liver and kidney diseases are cured by Brown's Iron Bitters, which enriches the blood, and strengthens the whole system.

OPERA HOUSE.

London Assurance.

Boucicault's splendid comedy, "London Assurance," was played at the Opera House last night to a fair audience, with Mr. and Mrs. Chanfrau in the leading roles, supported by a full company. Mrs. Chanfrau as Lady Gay Spanker admirably displays her versatile power, and in all the details of conception and execution her rendition was artistic and finished. The acting of Mr. Chanfrau, as Sir Harcourt Courtly, was altogether excellent, but less was not to be expected of so old and excellent an actor. Mr. Chanfrau is widely known and famed for his acting in his great specialty, "Kit, the Arkansas Traveller," but his performance last night proves him to be entitled to praise in other lines of his business. The Mark Meddle of Mr. Barfoot was very satisfactory, and Mr. P. D. Fisher in make-up, manner and speech gave a first-rate characterization of "Dolly Spanker." To-night the Company appear in "Parted," by C. W. Tayleure, with the additional attraction of the appearance of the author in the caste.

An Exciting Runaway—A Leap for Life—A Mangled Horse and a Shattered Vehicle.

Mr. A. D. Brown, of the firm of Brown & Roddick, was seated in his buggy on Front street, yesterday, his horse going at a moderate pace, when one of the wheels suddenly came off, which caused the horse to become frightened and run away. Dashing around the corner of Front at its intersection with Market, the animal ran madly up Market street in the direction of Second, and, when nearly opposite Mr. J. B. Huggin's store, Mr. Brown succeeded in extricating himself from the vehicle, when he was dashed with some considerable violence prostrate upon the pavement, but fortunately received no injury except the jar which was a natural consequence of the fall. The horse continued in his mad flight until he reached the vicinity of Mrs. Warren's boarding house, on Second street, when he fell and received some severe cuts from the jagged edges and points of the shattered buggy. It was thought at first that one of the animal's legs was broken, and that he would have to be killed, but at last accounts, we learn, it had been decided that no bones were broken, though fears are entertained that he may die of lockjaw. It is the general opinion of those who witnessed the exciting runaway that Mr. Brown made a very narrow escape.

More Cases Against Him.

There has been developed another case against Fred. Kitchen alias Fred. Hill, arrested a few days ago for larceny. It seems that some time in July last a clerk employed in a prominent grocery establishment on Front street, finding the weather rather warm for comfort, drew off his vest and hung it upon a nail near an open window. There was a sum of money in one of the pockets, and when he put the vest on again it was gone. Not long afterwards the proprietor of a confectionary store not far away came in to make a purchase, and threw upon the counter a fifty-cent piece, which, upon examination—there being private marks upon it, and the clerk having used it for some time as a pocket piece—proved to be one of the identical pieces taken from this young man's pocket. The confectioner, in explanation, stated that he had just received it from the boy, Fred. Kitchen, in exchange for articles in his line.

Articles of jewelry, etc., have also been found in his possession which were taken from the residence of Mr. G. Rosenthal on election day, and from present appearances he will be likely to get a good benefit in the Penitentiary for his many misdeeds.

The Railroad Case—Decision Reserved.

In the United States Court yesterday Mr. Robinson, of counsel for the defendants, made the opening argument, and was followed by Hon. Geo. Davis on the same behalf. Col. Duncan K. McRae closed the argument in behalf of the plaintiff, which proved to be the final speech in the case, and the Court in Chambers then came to a final adjournment. It is understood, however, that their Honors, Judges Bond and Seymour, will not render a decision until the first of December, allowing themselves sufficient time and opportunity to compare notes and the counsel to file their briefs. The Court room was pretty well filled during the day by persons desirous of hearing the arguments of the distinguished speakers.

Judges Bond and Seymour were expected to leave last evening for Raleigh.
