MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

Two cotton and woollen mills at Philadelphia burned out; loss $150,000. —— A railway bridge at Bromley, near London, Eng., fell, killing several workmen. —— The annual fair of the New England Manufacturers and Mechanics' Institute at Boston has just closed; the exhibit of Southern products, by the Richmond & Danville and other railroads, awakened so great an interest that commissioners were appointed to visit the Southern States at once to secure the active co-operation of Governors and Legislatures for the next annual fair. —— A pit filled with dead men's bones has been unearthed by workmen digging in the foundation of the old postoffice in New York city; believed to be the remains of prisoners confined near there during the Revolutionary war. —— The President, in his forthcoming message, will recommend a reduction of Internal Revenue taxes. —— A heavy gale is reported on the lakes; the weather is piercing cold, and several vessels have been wrecked: a grain elevator was blown over at Buffalo. —— Business failures for the week number 157; Southern States 23. —— The Washoe and Piute Indians are engaged in a bloody conflict with each other. —— Total receipts of cotton since September 1st, 2,168,350 bales. ——N. Y. markets: Money 15@20 per cent.; cotton dull and easier at 10 9-16@10⅝c; southern flour dull and unchanged at $4 50@5 25; wheat, ungraded red 88c@$1 12; corn, ungraded 55@95c; rosin steady at $1 80@1 87½; spirits turpentine dull and lower at 52c.

Already the sale of the first night of Nilsson's concerts in New York amounts to $6,000.

In two years Gov. Colquitt pardoned 109 criminals. How long is this thing to continue? When will the people cry—"hold enough!"

Within the last decade the manufacturing industries of Philadelphia show a shrinkage of $34,000,000. New York on the other hand, shows a large increase.

Richmond, Va., has become a city of some importance as a manufacturing centre. It has fifty factories, requiring nearly four million dollars of capital. The sales for 1881 aggregated $11,250,000.

The vote in 1880 for Governor was 237,417—a small one considering the actual voting population. The recent vote is but 223,003—or 14,414 less than the last. According to our table Bennett's majority is 509.

It is announced that the last official signature of Gov. Colquitt brought $5,000,000 capital into Georgia. Four hundred acres of mining lands belonging to the State were sold to a syndicate of English capitalists.

The fastest two miles ever trotted came off on Bonner's three-quarter track on November 11. Manetta, with Longman as running mate, made two miles in 4:27¼—first mile, 2:14½, second mile 2:12¾. John Murphy drove.

Poor Mahone! He actually went, it is said, to the Patent Office, Washington, to have Miss Jennings, of Virginia, discharged. Some of her kin had offended him probably, and he was seeking contemptible and paltry revenge. He was told that she had been dead for two years. The vindictive little fellow was very loth to believe it, and it is said it took some time to drive the stubborn fact in his little head.

Prof. Henry Draper was but 45 years of age. He was a son of the late Dr. John W. Draper, who died in January last, and who had an European reputation. Dr. Draper's father was Professor in Randolph Macon College, we think. At Trinity College, N. C., there are some instruments that belonged to John Wesley and were brought to this country by Prof. Draper, of Randolph Macon College, whatever his name was. He was an Englishman.

The Critic is almost as hard on the Langtry as Music and Drama was. It treats her to a long dissection and closes as follows:

"Who could endure the matchless lines of Rosalind recited in a school-girl's singsong? Who could see the joyous jests that have bubbled through the ages evaporate into unutterable staleness? Those who had been charitable to Hester Grazebrook turned away their faces from Rosalind. Those who had thought Mrs. Langtry might develop into an actress of coquettes sat silent and depressed. 'At any rate,' said they, as they rose to go, 'one thing you must admit—she is a pretty woman.' Yes. We admit it. She is a pretty woman. But just as certainly she is nothing more."

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXXI.---NO. 55. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1882. WHOLE NO. 4760

Soon after the cyclone of the 7th of November had overturned the Radical party the organs began to blow that the country was gone to the bad and the iron mills would all stop, &c. Now such a blind protectionist Radical paper as the Philadelphia Press, in its Thursday's issue, heads in big letters, "A Brighter Outlook," and then other heads follow like these: "The Iron and Steel Men not Alarmed." "A Fair Trade at all of the Mills." "Consumption of every pound of iron now being manufactured." "Plenty of orders coming in." "A Good profit in Bessemer Rail at Forty Dollars per ton." "Reducing the Price of Labor." Why reduce with good profits? That is what the laboring men would like to know.

The only two Districts in the State that did well were the Fifth and Sixth, where there were gains. The gain in the former was nearly one thousand; in the latter over two hundred. There was loss elsewhere. The vote was small and the Democrats had no organization. But for the speeches of Vance and Ransom the last three weeks of the campaign and we would have been beaten by several thousand. The STAR urged in dozens of editorials that there should be organization—thorough and complete. This was neglected and chin music and documents were relied upon.

Orendorff, Democratic candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction in Illinois, was elected by 2,869 votes, whereas the remainder of the Radical State ticket was triumphant. The official vote in Indiana gives the Democratic State ticket upon an average 10,500 plurality. In Kansas Glick's (Democrat) plurality for Governor is 8,042.

Spirits Turpentine.

— Dr. Marrs, of Pamlico county, is dead.

— The Central Protestant, published at Greensboro, was recently enlarged and is an excellent paper. Our friend Michaux is a judicious and excellent editor.

— Raleigh Visitor: There are many rumors afloat as to the final disposition of the Atlantic & N. C. Road. Some say it will be leased to the Richmond & Danville Co., but nothing definite has as yet transpired.

— Statesville American: The Central North Carolina Conference, colored, convened in this place on Wednesday, and is presided over by Bishops Hood and James. Quite a large number of delegates are in attendance.

— Greensboro Patriot: The price of wood has frightened householders into using coal. Many families are making arrangements to burn coal. —— Guilford farmers are putting in an enormous crop of wheat, exceeding last year's crop by 33⅓ per cent.

— New Berne Journal: Two thousand bushels of rice in market yesterday. Prices ranged from $1 to $1.05. —— Mr. J. I. B. Noble, of Beaver creek, Jones county, says he has a hunting club in his neighborhood which has caught thirty-nine opossums and thirteen raccoons since two nights before the election.

— The agricultural editor of the Charlotte Observer, says Mr. A. W. McManus, of Mecklenburg, has sent him a beet "measuring four feet long, three feet around and weighing nineteen pounds. It has been hoisted to its place in our museum by a derrick borrowed from the rock quarry. Admittance free to all. Walk up and see it."

— Fayetteville Examiner: On Monday morning last, the 20th inst., Mrs. Margaret Huske, wife of the Rev. Dr. Jos. C. Huske, of this town, breathed her last, after a lingering illness. —— The Cumberland Fair promises to be entirely successful. On Tuesday evening three hundred entries had been made and many more were expected.

— Charlotte Observer: Davidson College will hereafter have a new postmaster in the person of Mr. H. A. Gillespie, formerly a revenue gauger of this county. ——Last Tuesday morning a colored man named Sam Hamlin, employed as brakeman on a freight train of the Richmond and Danville road, was knocked from a car by a bridge at Salisbury, and received injuries from which he died yesterday. He was knocked from the top of a box car to the track below.

— Carthage Gazette: C. C. McCrummen, Esq., died on the 18th inst. He was extensively known in the county and well known in the State as a travelling agent for newspapers. ——Mr. John S. Ritter met with a very serious accident on last Saturday night. His dwelling, kitchen and nearly everything he had was consumed by fire. He saved two beds, six quilts and ten bushels of wheat. He lost everything else, even did not save a shoe or a garment for any of his family, besides 3,000 pounds of cotton. Next morning found him with a wife and 7 children without a home, a shoe to go on their feet, or a garment to go on their backs, and not a mouthful of bread.

— Wilson Siftings: Mr. J. P. Reynolds, formerly of Richmond county, and who has been a resident of Wilson for the last four months, died at his home in this place last Monday morning, aged about 60 years. —— Another of Wilson's old landmarks and best citizens has passed away. Mr. J. J. Pender, of Gardner's township, died on the 4th inst. He was in his 72nd year. —— Mr. Jarrett Webb, of Edgecombe county, raised 14 bales of cotton on 8 acres of land. How is that for high? —— The graded school was never so prosperous as now. It is running ahead of last year's record of enrolment and attendance by the number of 75 pupils, and is growing larger every week. The school now numbers 360, and it is thought it will reach 400 by the first of January, and 450 before the close of the session.

— Goldsboro Messenger: Mr. J. H. Coldwell has left twenty-six fine potatoes with us, measuring one bushel. He made 367 bushels of potatoes to one acre of ground. —— The Greensboro Patriot is booming for General Scales as the Democratic candidate for Governor two years hence. It does look like he is the coming man. The Messenger has favored Scales for Governor ever since the Greensboro Convention in 1872. —— Mr. William Edgerton, formerly of Johnston county, died at his residence in this county Friday evening, the 17th inst., aged 69 years. Mr. Edgerton was a member of the Friends, and had always been an industrious, worthy citizen. —— A very painful accident happened to Mr. I. F. Dortch last Tuesday evening, while he was at the rice mills looking in one of the sifters, a piece of the revolving machinery struck him on the head, inflicting a very painful but not serious wound. —— Mr. Owen Peel, a well-known and highly respected citizen of this county, died at his residence in Sampson township Tuesday morning, aged 62 years. —— Thomas Hogan, a colored man, was, Saturday night, cut with a hatchet in the arm and back in a bar-room on Market street. —— We learn that the negro Robert Pratt, who is under sentence of death for killing O'Neal, has taken an appeal to the Supreme Court.

— Raleigh News-Observer: To the stupidity or carelessness of some election officers there really seems to be no limit. At North Banks precinct, Currituck county, we are informed, there was actually no election held this year. There are about seventy votes cast at this precinct, all Democratic. —— In a few days it will be in order to settle election bets. Many were made here, the wagers ranging in value and variety from a hat to a $500 check. —— The total receipts of cotton this season are 26,474 bales. —— James N. Bowen, about 40 years of age, a tenant of Maj. Crenshaw, near Forestville, brought a load of cotton to this city two days ago and sold it to Parker & Avera, on Wednesday, the 22d. Since then nothing has been heard of him. —— The seats in the Senate Chamber and the House of Commons are nearly all taken by members elect. —— The News-Observer appears to-day somewhat enlarged, the columns being longer, giving about two columns more space in the paper. The pressure of advertising matter necessitates this increase. —— During the session of the Methodist Conference in this city the Christian Advocate will be published daily. ——Having finally heard from Hyde we may with some degree of confidence hope that the darkey to whom was intrusted that missing box in Craven county, may yet report. —— The Church Messenger announces with regret that Rev. W. S. Bynum has resigned his position as Evangelist in the Western part of the State, and will probably accept a call to another State. —— The result of the election in Davidson is peculiarly gratifying to us. It was the home of James Madison, who aspired to be the Billy Mahone of North Carolina. The county reversed its majority and changed from a Republican to a Democratic county. In other words, it sat down very heavily on the aforesaid Billy Mahone, "the Sage of Lexington." —— After mature deliberation and consultation between the Governor and his Council, the following persons were named to constitute the first Board of Directors of the Western Insane Asylum, to-wit: Theo. F. Davidson, Buncombe; James W. Wilson, Burke; Alex. E. Perkins, Burke; S M. Finger, Catawba; Dr. Marcellus Whitehead, Rowan; W. J. Yates, Mecklenburg; Dr. F. T. Fuller, Wake; Dr. J. C. Walker, New Hanover; Dr. W. R. Capeheart, Bertie.

Local Dots.

— Receipts of cotton yesterday 1,174 bales.

— We were glad to meet Mr. Fred. Metts on our streets yesterday. His friends will be pleased to know that he has recovered from the severe illness with which he was suffering at Newbern a few days since.

— Mr. Alex. Sprunt, President of the Wilmington Library Association, has received a letter from Prof. Allen Curr, in which he stated that he would be here very shortly. He will probably lecture for the benefit of the Library Association.

— The case of Bettie Hammonds, charged with the larceny of wood, which was to have been investigated by Justice Millis yesterday, was continued over to Monday, at 3 P. M., the said Betty having given bond and failed to make her appearance.

Street Letter Boxes.

Postmaster Brink has just placed in position, for the convenience of the public, several additional street letter boxes. The locality of boxes now is given as follows: Corner of Market and Front; corner of Market and Second; corner of Orange and Third; corner of Ann and Fifth; corner of Nun and Seventh; corner of Market and Fifth; corner of Market and Seventh; corner of Red Cross and Third; Fourth street at the bridge, Brooklyn side, and corner of Bladen and Seventh streets. Also a box at the depot of the W. & W., and W., C. & A. R. R. Co., on Front street near the ticket office. The mails from the latter box will be collected by the postal clerk going out, just before the departure of each mail train.

Unmailable Matter.

The following is the unmailable matter remaining in the city postoffice:

Miss Maude Brent, 1,318 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. Edward Wooten, Lewiston, N. C.; Mrs. E. C. Taylor, Townesville, N. C.; Patrick Lynch, 44 Cass street, Detroit, Mich.; E. J. Hill, Kenansville, Duplin county, N. C.

The best cure for diseases of the nerves brain and muscles, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

Further About the Improvements a the Wilmington & Weldon and W., C. & A. R. R. Depots—The Large Warehouse, Machine Shops, &c.

The activity at the depot of the Wilmington & Weldon and Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroads still continues. We mean by this to refer particularly to the improvements going on, and not to the vast amount of freighting business being done by the two roads.

The immense warehouse or freight depot of the W., C. & A. R. R., which has been under process of construction for some months past, is about completed, and it was being occupied yesterday. It is a tremendous structure, being 420 feet long and 50 feet wide, built of brick, with slated roof, with a wide platform on the south side and another at the west end, reaching to the cap of the wharf. On the north side of the building the track runs immediately alongside the walls, and a train of fourteen or fifteen cars can be loaded from the warehouse at one time. One great convenience will be realized in the fact that there will be plenty of room to keep each person's freight to itself, and thus prevent the confusion and consequent trouble which has heretofore prevailed.

This freight depot will be under the charge of Capt. John L. Keene, Assistant Freight Agent, Mr. W. J. Yopp being the agent in chief.

A gentleman from Baltimore, who was here in attendance upon the meetings of the stockholders of the two roads, on Tuesday last, said the new warehouse contained as much room as the warehouse of the great Pennsylvania Railroad in that city Still it is by no means too large for the business of the road, which is very large and constantly on the increase.

The railroad crossings on Nutt street are being neatly and conveniently paved and platformed with boards, so that drays and other vehicles can pass without difficulty.

The old machine shops are about demolished, and the brick work upon the new ones will commence Monday. An immense rock foundation for the heavy superstructure was begun about six months ago. A portion of it was put down without pilings, but found to crack, when it was taken up and the requisite number of pilings put down, and the foundation, the rock for which was quarried at Joyner's, on the W. & W. road, about one hundred and sixteen miles from Wilmington, is now ready for the brick work.

Would not the old railroad magnates of other days who have either removed to other sections or have passed away, be amazed if they could return and see the great changes and improvements that have been wrought, even within the past two or three years? These improvements, while desirable in themselves, are indicative of the prosperity of the two roads, and an evidence of good management on the part of the officials, without which no such success could have been achieved.

As we have before stated, another immense freight depot, similar to the one just about completed, is to be erected for the W. & W. road, work upon which will be commenced as soon as the rush of cotton ceases.

The New Dredge.

Workmen are busily engaged upon the new dredge for the lower Cape Fear improvements, recently built upon Mr. J. W. Taylor's mill wharf. Those unacquainted with the business have no idea of the amount of work required upon one of these dredges, and the large amount of material necessary to equip it, embracing immense wheels, ponderous beams, heavy chains, etc. The upper works will embrace a fine cabin, state-rooms, cook-rooms, etc. It is estimated that the dredge, which will probably be completed in about another month, will cost from $25,000 to $26,000.

Magistrates' Court.

Mack Henry, colored, charged with assault and battery upon Robert Leonard, also colored, had a hearing before Justice Millis yesterday morning, when the defendant was found guilty and judgment was suspended upon the payment of the costs.

Robert Leonard was next arraigned on the charge of assault and battery upon Mack Henry, and a similar judgment was rendered in his case.

The Lecture Season—Mr. Willoughby Reade.

Mr. Willoughby Reade has consented to deliver one of his choice selections here on the 29th inst., for the benefit of the Wilmington Library Association. Our friends can therefore prepare for a rich intellectual treat and give the lecturer a crowded house. Further particulars as to the place, terms of admission, etc., by advertisement hereafter.

Mayor's Court.

The only case for the Mayor's Court yesterday morning was that of Wm. Davis, charged with disorderly conduct on the public streets, for which he was doomed to the darkness of the city prison for five days.

RIVER AND MARINE.

— The steamship Regulator, Captain Doane, is due here from New York this afternoon.

—The steamship Gulf Stream, Capt. Ingram, sailed from this port for New York yesterday morning.

— German brig Hermann Friedrich, Niejahr, sailed from Hamburg for this port on the 20th inst.

Weather Indications.

The following are the indications for today:

For the West Gulf States, cloudy weather with rain, northeasterly winds, stationary or lower temperature and pressure.

For the East Gulf States, partly cloudy weather with local rains, colder northeasterly winds, and stationary or higher pressure.

For the South Atlantic States, colder fair weather, winds shifting to northerly, and higher pressure.

For the Middle Atlantic States, colder fair weather, northwesterly winds, and higher pressure.

For Tennessee and the Ohio Valley, fair weather, northwesterly winds becoming variable, stationary or higher temperature, and in the eastern portion higher and in the western portion lower pressure.
