MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

The Legislature of Tennessee has arranged for a settlement of the State debt; a portion-the State debt proper-is to be funded in full, the balance at fifty cents on the dollar with 3 per cent, interest. -Three ex-detectives in Washington City have been indicted for receiving stolen goods; stolen bonds worth $14,000 and ex-Senstor Christiancy's jewelry, valued at $5,000, are part of the plunder. -The village of Hillestad, near Lund, Sweden, has been burned. - Gilbert L. Crowell, President of the Empire Mining Company, is a defaulter to the amount of $641,000 — Judge Davis announces that he will resign the office of President of the Senate pro tem.; indications are that Edmunds will be chosen as his successor; the Democratic Senators will offer no oppo--ition. - N. Y. markets; Money closed at 4 per cent. offered; cotton weak at 10 3 16 210 7 16 cents; southern flour easier, with moderate demand at $4 60@7 00; wheat, ungraded winter red $1 05@$1 291; rosin firm and quiet at $1 65@1 70; spirits turpetitine 52@524c.

Captain Howgate is now winter-: in Florida.

Senator David Davis will be marraed near Fayetteville on the 8th of March. The newly married couple will then start for California.

Gov. Stephens is seriously sick it is said. He returned to Atlanta from Savannah and has been sick ever since. His friends are uneasy.

Don Cameron, it is said, is sick of playing the boss and will retire from the Senate. Without his powerful loquence what will the Senate do?

There is a movement on foot to erect in Washington a colossal statue Martin Luther. It is proposed to have the great German Reformer in

Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, of New York, is making some telling lectures against the co-education of the sexes as a principle. His lectures are making a stir.

And now ex-State Auditor Crawford, of Arkansas, is short in his accounts. But he does not propose to flee, but has given a mortgage on his real estate to make good the deficit. He asks until January 1, 1885 to pay all that is due.

Here is an item about a South Carolina cotton mill we find in the Charleston News & Courier:

"The Clifton Cotton Factory, in Spartanburg county, has received an order for 200 bales of goods from the West and 1,500 bales of goods, or 1,200,000 yards of cloth, for shipment to China. It has recently added 1,536 spindles and 12 new cards.

It is in the North this time. His name is Crowell, and he only took $641,000. He was President of the Empire Mining Company. He ain't an "aristocrat," like Polk, of the old panel, but he stole more than Polk, Vincent and all the other Southern defaulters combined

According to a correspondent of the Augusta Chronicle the word bogus is of Georgia origin. He writes:

"William B. Bogus was a Georgia land lottery Commissioner years ago, caught in rascality in connection with his office. He was an issuer of fraudulent land rights. It was curious that this obscure Georgia scamp should have furnished our vernacular with a genuine name for everything spurious and false.

The Savannah News is not far out of the way in the subjoined paragraph. It remarks:

Southern Congressmen, especially, should turn a deaf ear to the bullying and cajoling of such journals as affect to feel outraged at the bare proposal of a river and barbor bill. These journals, if they speak for anybody, speak for people who have received so much Federal bounty that they are almost ashamed to ask for more.'

The Georgia Major is published at Atlanta, Ga., by Small and Williams, at $2 a year. It is eight-page and bright and humorous. Mr. Small is the "Old Si" of Georgia journalism. No. 2 promises excellently. Among other good things it contains one of Judge Longstreet's very amusing "Georgia Scenes."

President pro tem. Davis will resign on the 3d of March. He says he does this "in view of the possible exigencies that might affect the public service." This will allow his suecessor to be chosen before the present Congress expires. This was the idea we presented some week or so ago. Mr. Davis clearly understands the situation, and hence his resignation in time. It is understood that he will be succeeded by Senator Edmunds, of Vermont.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXXI.---NO. 134.

WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1883.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT. Spirits Turpentine.

- The Wadesboro Times says that Col. E. R. Liles is very sick.

- The Moore Gazette says that a horse drover and his mules were drowned in Randolph county.

- The Morganton Blade says that in a short time past four illicit distilleries have been destroyed near there.

-Mr. W. P. Williamson, Postmaster at Tarboro, challenged Mr. Jno. F. Shackelford to fight a duel, because of some strictures the latter had made of the former's management of the Postoffice.

- Rockingham Rocket: We have five very large cotton factories in and near Rockingham, which turn out a very large quantity of cloth and warps. Gen. Jos. E. Johnston said when here that our factories were as good as any he had seen in the Southern States.

- Laurinburg Exchange: Some of our citizens are getting up petitions to be presented before the Legislature for the formation of a new county out of the lower portion of Richmond and the upper portion of Robeson. If you are successful, gentlemen, let us suggest the name-Bennett.

- Tarboro Guide: With the people there is a growing dissatisfaction with these Inferior Courts, and while with us, its administration is as able and the decisions as just as in any county within the State, yet the system is regarded with dis-favor, and if permitted to do so our opinion is the people would vote to abolish the

- Scotland Neck Commonwealth : Three of our most enterprising merchants, Messrs. Noah Biggs, N. B. Josey and M. Hoffman, offer the following prizes to the farmers of the community: For the first bale of cotton brought to this market, a good silver watch; for the most lint cotton made on a ten acre plat in Palmyra, Caledonia, Roseneath, and Conocanary townships, a suit of clothes worth $20. -

- Beaufort Telephone: We have in our town a colored man who is as much of a prodigy as the veritable "Blind Tom." His name is Zach Taylor, born in Carteret county, of parents who were slaves, is 33 years of age, never went to school in his life, and yet he can build a mill, repair a watch, tune a piano or print a newspaper. The most remarkable gift he has, however, is the ability to repeat scripture, which he can do for hours at a time without making a mistake.

- Troy Star: That a law re-stricting members in the introduction of bills is an absolute necessity. During the present session, Barley, of Mecklenburg, has, alone, introduced bills enough to keep the General Assembly busy for thirty days. Some provision should be made to save Legislature from consuming time on the numerous little charters, amendments to charters, local options, relief for private individuals, etc. As it now is, each member feels that he must introduce at least one bill.

- Wilson Advance: The Cotton Factory at this place will soon be ready to commence operations. —Every habita-ble house in Wilson we believe is occupied and the cry is still they come. —There were, we are informed by Mr. W. E. Farmer, railroad agent, 18,916 bales of cotton shipped from this point during the year ending February 21st. —Mr. S. W. Bar tholomew showed us the model of a very simple Seed Cotton Elevator and Distributor which was pronounced by good judges a very useful and valuable invention.

- Rockingham Spirit: The alarm of fire was sounded in town last Sunday night, about 3 o'clock A. M., which was occasioned by the burning of the residence of the venerable Dr. P. W. Stansill. Before the discovery the flames had made too much headway to admit of being arrested, the family having only time to escape with what clothing they had on, scarcely any-thing in the way of furniture being saved. The fire originated in the dining or stove room. The amount of loss of the building and contents is about $4,000, upon which there was insurance of only $1,000.

- Statesville Landmark: One of the grand jurors for the Superior Court at this term was Mr. Ephraim Scroggs, of Fallstown township, concerning whom a singular and interesting little incident may be told. Mr. Scroggs has now burning on his hearth the same fire which he started when he went to housekeeping fifty years ago. From the day that fire was started to this it has never been permitted to go out. Summer and winter for these fifty years it has been replenished as occasion requires. From a roaring heap it has drooped, many a time, to a bed of smouldering coals, but it has never been permitted to turn into

- Greensboro Patriot : The Governor will continue to take his "hash" at the Yarboro. It is not the royal road to greatness. —The protracted meeting at the Methodist Church is still going on. Quite a number have been converted, several of whom joined the church yesterday. —Eleven persons joined the Presbyte rian church yesterday. Rev. Mr. Darnell, of Durham, will assist Dr. Smith this week. So far there have been 22 conversions. ---Raleigh letter: The bill for the sale of the State's interest in the Western North Carolina Railroad passed the House last night by almost a unanimous vote, ayes 93, nays Those of the Western members who had been its strongest opposers voted for it because, they said, they had all the se-curities they could ask. "Old man Bruce, of Cherokee," actually arose and gave his vote in favor of the bill. — Goldsboro Messenger: We regret to learn that Mr. Jacob W. Avera, well known in this city, was last week required to enter into a bond for his appearance at the Federal Court, on the charge of some mail irregularities. -- The Sampson Light Infantry have ordered their uniforms. So we learn from the Clinton Caucasian of last week. — A negro, named Caswell Green, was lodged in jail here last week, charged with robbing the smoke house of Mr. Needham Crow, in Granthams township, of about 75 pounds of meat.

A very unseemly fight has been made at Washington upon Maj. Grant, the efficient postmaster of this city, growing out of the projected removal of the office from the Humphrey House to the Opera House.

— The new pastor of the Presbyterian congregation, Rev. John M. Rose, arrived here Friday and preached at the Baptist church yesterday, morning and evening. - Raleigh News-Observer: An agreement has been executed between the counsel for the plaintiff (the N. C. R. R.) and the defendant (the Midland N. C. R. R.) which was presented to the court as a basis of compromise of the dispute between them. The court directed that a judgment be drawn in accordance with the said agreement which was done and presented in open court yesterday. — Judgo Cloud had for some years been spending his winters in Florida. He was born in Stokes county, in 1811, and was about 72 years of age. The cause of his death is said to have been apoplexy. He studied law about 1880, ville, Buncombe county, N. C.

under Hon. Nathaniel Boyden, and for many years practiced in the courts of his many years practiced in the courts of his district. He was appointed Judge of the Superior Court by Gov. Holden, in 1868, to succeed Judge D. H. Starbuck, and served until 1878. Since then he had lived a quiet life, being blessed with ample means. He was noted for his peculiarities, but had many warm friends, one of these being Senator C. B. Watson, whose name was the last word on his lips.

THE CITY.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. J. A. SPRINGER-Coal. C. B. WRIGHT-Eastern hay. Munson-More orders wanted:

PRESTON CUMMING & Co-Mules. B. F. MITCHELL & SON-Seed oats.

- New onions were in market yesterday morning. - Receipts of cotton yesterday footed up 232 bales. - Pedestrians had a hankering after the sunny side of the street yesterday. - Our readers will find much of local as well as general interest in the Legislative proceedings which appear in this issue. Read them.

- The sun shone brightly yesterday, but the atmosphere was keen and frosty and we are fearful that fruit trees and early vegetation will be damaged.

- The Charleston News and Courier announces that Bishop Northrop, accompanied by Vicar General Quigley, was expected in Charleston from Cedar Keys yesterday morning.

- The Lodge being built on Campbell, between Fifth and Sixth streets, and referred to briefly in last Sunday's issue, is for the "Israel and Priscilla's Tents," instead of "Rebecca's Tent," as then stated. So we are requested to say.

Mayor's Court. That "great and good man," Willis Drake, the colored shoemaker, was before charge of creating a disturbance at the Front street depot Monday night. It seems that he came to the gate at about train time and wanted to pass through, but was told by Mr. Hankins, the gate-keeper, that he could not, unless he procured a ticket. He insisted upon his rights in the premises and cursed and swore at such a rate that a colored special policeman, Gilbert Holliday, was called upon to take him away. Holliday started with his prisoner, who resisted to the extent of his ability until he reached Red Cross street, when Sergeant Rob't Green came to the rescue and finally landed the Drake safely in the coop. At the conclusion of the testimony the defendant, who is quite æsthetic in his style when occasion admits of it, made such an urgent appeal his countenance beaming over with smiles meanwhile, that His Honor said he would let him off easy this time, and told the Clerk to enter judgment for $5 or ten days in the C. P. This was the only case tried.

Foreign Exports. The following embrace the foreign shipments made from this port yesterday: The Norwegian barque Korsfarer, Capt. Olsen, for Riga, Russia, by Messrs. DeRosset & Co., with 3,900 barrels of rosin, valued at $6,460; the Norwegian barque St. Joseph, Capt. Christensen, for Stettin, Germany, by Messrs. Patterson, Downing & Co., with 3,534 barrels of rosin, valued at $5,420.35; the Danish barque Elene, Capt. Dahl, for Riga, Russia, by Messrs. Paterson, Downing & Co., with 3,850 barrels of rosin, valued at $6,980.03; and the German brigantine Der Wanderer, Capt. Struebing, for Wolgast, Germany, by W. Walter, agent for J. H. Kraeft, with 14,279 cubic feet of lumber, valued at $3,567.25. Total foreign exports for the day $22,427.63.

Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court considered appeals from the Third District on Monday, among which was John L. Saulter vs. N. Y. & Wilmington Steamship Company, from New Hanover.. Argued by M. and J. D. Bellamy (by brief) for the plaintiff, and Thomas W. Strange for the defendant.

Opinions were also delivered in several cases, including that of Branch and Pope vs. Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company-Plaintiffs' appeal-from Halifax; no error; judgment affirmed.

Number One." The mysterious "Number One" has been discovered at last. After a hot pursuit by Mr. John Haar, Jr., who was armed with a billiard cue, he was driven into one of the pockets of the pool table at the Mozart Saloon. On being closely questioned, "Number One" gave his name as F. Sumter. John told him that was playing the game a little "too thin," and put him down as Patrick O'Flaharty. Though stricken "full in the face," "Number One" was captured vithout a "scratch."

He'd Rather Not.

Wm. Newkirk, who succeeded in escaping from an officer a few days ago, but wa subsequently recaptured, mention of which was made in our last, attempted the same thing again Monday evening, while being taken to jail, but after a short chase was overhauled by Officer Strode and landed safely in the lock-up.

Unmaliable Matter. The following urmailable matter remains in the city postoffice: W. B. Costin, care London & Campbell, Magnolia, S. C.; Miss Easther Moore, care S. J. Crawford, Pleasant Grove; paper addressed to Mrs. Geo. S. Rowell, AsheEngineer Laurence Bissett Knocked Down and Run Over by an Engine and Horribly Mangled-His Death Almost Instantaneous.

Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, Engineer Laurence Bissett, in charge of a passenger engine on the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, was on his way from the machine shops of the W. &. W. Railroad to his dinner, and was crossing the track near the transfer pit, close to the eastern end of the passenger shed, and looking at an engine going down the track, when another shifting or yard engine (No. 24) backed out and struck him, knocking him down across the ties, when the tender and part of the engine ran over him, crushing him horribly. The engineer of No. 24 did not see Mr. Bissett, and the first intimation he had that there had been an accident was in hearing the dying cry of the unfortunate man. Both of his feet were nearly amputated, besides which he was horribly bruised and mangled about the body, and his death must have been almost instantaneous.

The remains were soon afterwards removed to his father's residence on Red Cross, between Front and Second streets. Mr. John Bissett, his father, Master Machinist of the W. & W. Road, left Monday evening for Florence, S. C., and intelligence of the heartrending disaster was telegraphed to him as soon as possible at that

Deceased was quite a young man, having | 10 FINE LARGE been born in May, 1857, and would consequently have been twenty-six years old if he had lived to have seen his next birthday. He was also unmarried. He had been employed as an engineer on the road ever since he arrived at the age of manhood, and was considered a cautious, careful officer, in whom the utmost reliance could be placed on all occasions. He was also esteemed by his brother officials for the many good traits which adorned his character.

The accident created a good deal of feel-Mayor Smith yesterday morning on the | ing in the community and much sympathy is felt for the parents and other relatives of the deceased in their sad bereavement.

United States Court.

B. Smith had a hearing before U. S. Commissioner King yesterday morning, on the charge of selling liquor without having first obtained a license. He was required to give bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the next term of the U. S. District Court.

RIVER AND MARINE.

- The Danish brig 2nd of April, which was condemned and sold to Mr. James Sprunt some weeks ago, has been overhauled and repaired, and now boasts a new nationality, having been changed to Norwegian, and her name to that of Thalia Lord, after one of Wilmington's fair daugh-

- The board of survey (consisting of Mr. E. Peschau, German Consul; Mr. Geo. Harriss and Capt. B. G. Bates, port wardens; and Capt. J. F. Gilbert, surveyor for record and the German Lloyds,) proceeded to Smithville yesterday, to survey the condition of the German barques Albatross and Atlantic. The surveyors returned yesterday evening; they recommend that both vessels come up to the city for repairs.
