The last of the carpet-baggers, William Pitt Kellogg, went the way of all the rest of the nice set.

The New Yorkers have neglected "Central Park" so much it will soon cease to be the pride of the people.

The Democratic aspirants for the Speakership are given as Carlisle, Blackbarn, Springer, Samuel S. Cox, Holman and Randall.

The Philadelphia Press has the Blainephobia badly. It is abusing Frelinghuysen because he opposes Blaine's foolish foreign policy.

Oakey Hall, late of the New York World, is to edit Truth and to advocate Randall for the Speakership. Samrandalism is not a good rallying ery for the Democracy at this time.

Mrs. Langury is again victorious. Some of the young women of Pittsburg got a pair of the Lily's shoes and in vain tried to put them on. It takes No. 6's to fit a Pittsburg belle's

The Norfolk Landmark is for Hancock for President. But Hancock is afraid of a tariff for Revenue. If he is a Protectionist he will not be nominated and "by a large majority."

Those "played-out Republicans," Butler and Sprague, give the Radical Regulars a great deal of trouble somehow. But and they as with the R. R's?

Mr. Gladstone has justice done him by at least one Roman Catholic prelate. The Archbishop of Toronto, in an address published, says:

Mr. Gladstone has done more than any other English statesman to redress the unjust grievances of Ireland, and would de more if his countrymen schild sustain him."

VOL. XXXII.--NO. 7.

"WILMINGTON, N.C., FRIDAY, MARCH 30, 1883.

Hicks doctored the assassin's soul and had naught to do with the bones or the body.

Mr. J. R. Randall, editor and Washington correspondent of the Augusta Chronicle, in the last number of his paper says of the most popular man in North Carolina:

"Few Senators have improved more than Vance, in late years. He used to read his speeches from manuscript, and though they were remarkable for wit and humor as well as argument originally put, their full effect was marred by resort to the essayical style of aiding the memory. During the last session of Congress, however, he trusted more to his native genius and inspiration, with the happiest results. His extemporaneous speeches in debate were powerful, eloquent and sonorous. They were also salted down into snug sentences, avoiding all repetition. The Kentuckian wearied everybody by his rehashing of the same old thoughts, expressions, sentences and illustrations ad nauseam. The North Carolinian was ever fresh, sparkling and full of novelty. We can say this with all the more grace as we did not agree, at all times, with his line of argument, and are largely opposed to his economic views. Senator Vance is a great favorite with the newspaper men, and deservedly so."

Vance never read his speeches often until he had the very bad example of the Senators to influence him. He is recovering from the effects of "evil communications," and grows in fame as he grows in years and experience.

Miss Lotta Galloway, the bright young Baltimore girl of 17, who became a Hebrew convert some time ago, has had trouble. Rev. L. M Lilienthal, her new "pap," attempted to force her to marry a hideouslooking fellow named Hyman Kenriech. The Baltimore Day of Tuesday gives a full account as derived from the girl herself. She refused, ded red $1 071@$1 22; corn, ungraded whereupon Kenriech slapped her well. Still Lotta says she is happy 62@66c; rosin firm; spirits turpentine and that she "don't want a husband just yet, and when she does she will select one for herself."

> Who will be Postmaster General ? The special from Washington to the Philadelphia Times of the 27th, says:

> "The names discussed by the 'Cabinetmakers' make a long list, including those of ex Secretary Kirkwood, ex-Secretary Windom, ex-Congressmen Burrows, of Michigan; Williams, of Wisconsin; Neal, of Ohio; Ben Butterworth and Hazelton, of Wisconsin; George M. Robeson, Page, Harris, of Massachusetts; Joyce, of Ver mont: Pound. of Wisconsin; Dunnell Conover, Mitchell, of Oregon; Bingham, of Pennsylvania; General John C. - Raleigh Biblical Recorder, responding to an inquiry of the STAR's, says: Rev. Thomas Meredith established the Baptist Interpreter in 1832 and changed its name to Biblical Recorder in 1834."

- New Berne Journal: Rev. E M. Forbes has resigned the rectorship of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Beaufort. —Fish were very scarce in the market yesterday. Roe shad were selling for $1.35, bucks 60 cents per pair. Herrings 394 cents per

- Highlands Enterprise: Mr Richards has, we learn, purchased several thousand acres of mountain land on the head waters of the Nantahala river, which he proposes to convert into a sheep range or ranch, as they are termed in the Rocky Mountain country. This purchase is 17 to 18 miles southwest of Franklin and about 30 miles from Highlands. It includes some of the highest peaks in Macon county.

- Raleigh Recorder: Rev. Dr. J. A. Mundy received twenty members into the Baptist church of Warrenton on last Thursday. — The brethren of the Falling Creek Baptist Church, Wayne county, have been fortunate in securing Rev. C. A. Jenkens as pastor. — There is a gracious revival in progress in the church a Selma. — Rev. L. T. Carroll, of Morrisville, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the churches in Sampson county, vacated by

- New Berne Nut Shell: News comes to us that Demock Jackson was waylaid near Clarke's brick yard, eight miles above New Berne Sunday night, and seriously, if not mortally wounded. The unfortunate man had been to church and was on his way home and in passing a clump of bushes in the road was shot down, some twenty shot lodging in his body. It is thought he cannot recover. — We regret to learn that the dread disease diphtheria has again made its appearance in our midst. — Mr. James A. Bryan, of New Berne, has been appointed superintendent of the A. & N. Railroad, and Mr. Washington Bryan, of New Berne, freight agent.

- Charlotte Journal-Observer The mad dog excitement in Steel Creek township has reached its climax. A colorgood as Mahone, so much in favor ed boy has actually been bitten by a rabid dog and the people are up in arms against the whole canine race.

A large party of Boston gentlemen, consisting of Dr. A. P. Lighthul, Gov. C. W. Wellington, Gen. A. F. Sinker, Hon. H. F. Haskes, Com. J. M. Brown, and Mr. Jerome Prince, C. E., with quite a number of other distinguished persons, are stopping at the Boyden, Salisbury. They are examining into various mines near here, with a view of purchasing. They have the means and we have the mines. dog and the people are up in arms against

Gastonia Gazette: People in Rev. Hicks, the Guiteau parson, has sued the Baltimore American for libel. Damages claimed $35,000. It is alleged that it was charged by the American that Guiteau's bones had been disposed of by Hicks for a ran to their master for protection, thus money consideration. We thought trying to escape. Mr. Jackson, seeing no other chance to escape, sprang to a tree closely followed by the raging beast. He climbed as he never climbed before, and just as he felt that he was out of the reach of danger, the limb he was holding to broke and he started downward, but the agility with which he grasped the trunk and held on would have done credit to a squirrel.

- Greensboro Patriot : A fierce rencontre took place yesterday evening between two Guilford men and the gang of Turks encamped on the outskirts of the town The battle raged hot until darkness and reinforcements in the shape of four or five hungry bears and a dozen monkeys came to the relief of the Turks. The Guilford men retired against such great odds, and swear this morning that they had rather tackle a buzz saw than a bear. —A Randolph man writes: "The dogs got into a flock of 18 sheep near Central Falls last week and devoured all but one. I list every year about 55 head of sheep, and find it impossible to increase the number. Though affording the best protection the profit is eaten up by the dogs. I loose every year between 10 and 20 head by the ravenous, worthless curs. Yet our legislators ridicule every measure that is intended for the protection of sheep raising. I am a Democrat, but I am not a "dog" Democrat.

- Petersburg Index-Appeal: Yesterday Mr. W. S. Hawkins, acting under instructions of U. S. Marshal H. S. Spraggins, of North Carolina, swore out a warrant before Commissioner Gallagher for the arrest of John F. Hawkins, of Warrenton, N. C. About eighteen months or two years ago Hawkins was charged with the violation of the postal laws. The prisoner Hawkins, we believe, is a native of Petersburg, and is a printer by trade. He is accused of having stolen $95 from T. A. St. Clair, Sr., while on a visit to this city some years ago. The charge which the Government brings against him is for opening letters addressed to other parties, it is thought, for the purpose of robbery. He was not connected with the postal service. He was required by Commissioner Gallagher to give bail in the sum of $3,000, and on his failure to do so was committed to jail. - The county court of Halifax, N. C., now in session, has several criminal cases on its docket. Among those that have so far been disposed of are the following: Jennie Clark, colored, indicted for manslaughter; found guilty and sentenced to the penitentiary for two years. Pattie Thompson, colored, indicted for murder; convicted of manslaughter and her punishment fixed at four months in jail, The punishment was made light in consequence of the accused being in delicate health, and having recently given birth to a child.

- Raleigh News-Observer: Miss Rosabelle Engelhard has nearly recovered from her severe sickness. Miss Placide Engelhard, though somewhat better yesterday, continues extremely ill. - Gov. Jarvis, who has just returned from the eastern part of the State, says that the pecple down there are getting on well; the farmers are up with their work, and there are indications of good crops. -- The State Board of Education met vesterday. Present, Gov. Jarvis, president ex officio Col. W. L. Saunders, secretary; Auditor Roberts, Hon. J. C. Scarborough, Treasurer Worth, Attorney General Kenan. Considerable routine business was transacted The various normal schools were discussed and it was agreed that they should be held at the same places as last year, arrangements as to teachers, time of opening, &c. being left to the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Matters in regard to the Universal Normal School were referred to Mr. Kemp P. Battle, (who was present), and Mr. Scarborough. - President Gray passed through yesterday to Fayetteville, where he will remain until the meeting of the stockholders of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad comes off, on the 3d of April. At this meeting the stockholders will consider the amend ments made to the charter of the road by the act passed at the recent session of the Assembly; and if the amendments are accepted the purchasers of the State stock will, within thirty days pay over the cash agreed upon and receive an assignment of the stock. The next step will then be the reorganization of the company. — Tarboro, N. C., March 28.—Grimes' saw mill boiler blew up yesterday at Bethel, on the Albermarle & Raleigh Railroad. Fragments of the boiler were blown over the tops of houses and trees some distance off. The railroad track, sixty feet from the mill, was blown up the terrific explosion. One white man had his skull fractured, and one negro is mortally injured.

- Rev. F. H. Wood, pastor of Front Street M. E. Church, left' Wednesday morning to attend quarterly meeting at Providence Church, near Duplin Roads, on the Point Caswell Circuit.

- Among the resolutions passed at the butcher's meeting on Wednesday afternoon, in the Mayor's office, was one heartily endorsing the action of the Board of Aldermen in appointing a committee to confer with the butchers on the market house question.

Death of Owen Fennell, Sr. The announcement of the death of the venerable Owen Fennell, Sr., at his home in Franklin Township, Sampson county, on Tuesday last, was received here with genuine sorrow. Mr. Fennell, who died at the advanced age of 80 years, was for fourteen years the Sheriff of New Hanover county, commensing with 1838, and ending with 1859, when he was succeeded by Col. E. D. Hall. He moved to Franklin Township, which was then a part of New Hanover county, is the Spring of 1853, where he has since pursued the avocation of a farmer. He was considered while here the most popular man in the county, being universally liked and admired for his many sterling qualities and especially his incorruptible integrity, illustrating as it did, in characters of living light the oft-quoted maxim "an honest man is the noblest work of God." He died full of years and with the undiminished respect of all who were so fortunate as to enjoy his acquaintance.

Mayor's Court. The only case before Mayor Hall yesterday morning was that of Lille Elliott, a colored female banjo picker, with hair which would suggest an Indian pedigree, who was charged with acting disorderly at the foot of Mulberry street Wednesday night. She was ordered to pay a fine of $5, part of which she forked over and was given until Tuesday next to pay the remainder, judgment in the meantime being suspended over her head. She left in tears and with protestations of future good con-
