MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

Two companies of the Fourth Cavalry are in pursuit of hostile Indians in New Mexico. Ayres tobacco factory at Danville, Va., burned, with over 100,000 pounds of tobacco; building and fixtures valued at $30,000.

"Home, Sweet Home" was heard by telephone from New York to Chicago.

Judge Davis is going to California. He will be joined at St. Louis by some friends.

The New York Herald says that Vanderbilt's big Jumbo cost $100,000, and not $50,000, as stated.

The New York Sun wishes to surrender in advance. Let it go early if it is tired with serving the people.

It is thought there will be a surplus of some $7,000,000 in the British Exchequer, owing to good Liberal management.

Arthur's faithful friend Jones, of Nevada, is alienated and swears he has made his last visit to the White House. Sorrowful to see!

Mrs. Oceano Walker, aged 70, and her little grandson, Orwood Miller, aged 3, were burned side by side at the same time in Washington.

Gen. Carr, Secretary of State in New York, got into a row with his son at a banquet and knocked him down twice and dragged him from the place.

As we supposed, the late Col. Carley was born in South Carolina, in Colleton county. He was graduated at West Point in 1854. He was about 52 years old.

How and by whom the inmates of the Staunton, Va., asylum were poisoned the jury could not determine. All they could say was that they died from the effects of the alkaloid of arsenic.

Our reference to the carpet-baggers in connection with Kellogg was intended to apply only to those rascals who preyed upon the South like Chamberlain, and a dozen who might be named.

The New York Times evidently thinks Kellogg guilty. It says:

"The Government, reinforced by Price, the contractor, has at last secured the indictment of him who was Senator and is now a Representative of his adopted State. The pursuers have been baffled many times, but they have never lost the trail."

The Philadelphia Press has a two-column article in demand of a reorganization of the Cabinet. Other papers are striking the same string. It is a poor affair, that is a fact. "Secor" Robeson would like to get back. Arthur ought to have him. He would suit Arthur. "Birds of a feather, &c."

On the first Monday in April a justice of the peace and two freeholders are to be appointed in each township to assess the personal property and land for taxation. The county commissioners have the appointing and they ought to select the best men--men who will do their duty without fear or favor. There is great need of having this important work thoroughly and conscientiously done. For years we have hammered away at the inequality of taxation.

In a match game of base ball, on the Athletic Club Grounds, yesterday morning, between the "Young Homes," Capt. W. Monroe, and the "Atlantics," Capt. S. Holmes, the former scored 42 and the latter 23.

The only case before Mayor Hall yesterday morning was that of a white man from the rural districts, who had a little "sweet turn around" Friday night and planked down a five dollar william for the privilege.

We learn that the joint committee from the Board of Aldermen and the city butchers have agreed upon a compromise, and that as a result the butchers will go into the new market on the 1st of May and have their stalls rent free until the 1st of October.
