Mr. Seymour, as wise a Democratic statesman as lives, and a man of rare purity, declares emphatically "that a tariff for revenue only is the true platform of the party in the next campaign for President." There are but comparatively few Democrats who will not agree with Mr. Seymour.

Mary Anderson is now twentyfour and still handsome. Louisville has sent out another actress that gives much promise. Her name is Virginia Dreher. She is of remarkably beauty. The Philadelphia Inquirer says of her:

"She is an artist now of rare ability, with a pleasing stage presence and every other physical qualification demanded by her art. Miss Dreher has the best gift of all, youth, for it gives her opportunity.'

The Irish in New York do not like the interference of the Pope in the matter of the Parnell fund. A New York letter says:

"A mass meeting of the League is to be held in this city at the end of the month, and it is believed the opportunity will then be improved for the deliverance of some nuthoritative statement as to how the Papal circular ought to be interpreted on this side of the Atlantic, but the grounds for such belief, it must be said, are purely conclaims. It says: "The talk that he defended us in the dark days of reconstruction is true, but it does not prove that we should put him in a position now to defend the protectionists. Just as ably and faithfully as he worked for us then is he now serving the New England and Northern monopolists. Besides, there is no point to the argument. All the Democrats did what they could for

WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, MAY 19, 1883.

The Philadelphia Times says Grant never was popular with the Army of the Potomac. It looks as if he is not popular with the survivors now. At the meeting of the Society of the Army of the Potomac which met in Washington on Wednesday, Gen. John Newton beat him for the Presidency of that association. This was very humiliating to the ex-President, no doubt. Sheriff Manning, of this city, nominated Newton. The vote stood, Newton, 155; Grant 117, scatcommittee, composed of Messrs. John Nichols, James Southgate and D. W. Bain, appointed at the last annual assembly of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters to present to the Grand Chapter a proposition looking to the merging of the Council degrees with the degrees of the Chapter, made its report, and the Grand Chapter appointed Messrs. J. C. Munds, Mm. Murdoch and M. Bowes a committee to confer with the Grand Council committee on the subject.

The committee on charters and dispensations submitted a report recommending that a charter be granted to Mars Hill Chapter, U. D. at Mars Hill, Madison county, which was adopted, and the charter granted with number 49. The committee on Jurisprudence submitted its report, approving the decisions of the Grand High Priest, also recommending the incorporation into the by-laws of the Grand Chapter of the regulation of the General Grand Chapter, authorizing the junior Past High Priest of a Chapter to preside in the Chapter in the absence of the High Priest, King and Scribe.

The report was adopted. The amendment to the constitution introduced at the last annual convocation, providing that a Reyal Arch Mason who demitted from his lodge and so remained for six months should forfeit his membership in his Chapter, was laid upon the table. The Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer made their financial reports, which were read and referred to the committee on Finance, who reported them correct in connection with the accounts of these officers.

The Grand Chapter proceeded to the election of Grand officers. Messrs. J. Fuchtler and J. R. Gattis acted as tellers. The following were elected: Eugene Grissom, Raleigh, Grand High Priest; George W. Blount, Wilson, Deputy Grand High Priest; Isaac Patterson, New Berne, Grand King; James C. Munds, Wilming- efficacious.

It is thought that Chief Justice Waite will preside at this term. - The Haile gold mine is still making handsome returns. As the result of one month's work, only a part of the ores taken out being treated, four large bricks, each worth $1,200 were exhibited at the Central Hotel yesterday. — Last Monday night during the thunder storm, a bolt of lightning ran into the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, at Asheville, and tore up things generally. - Two children, aged four and five years old, got their hands on a box of matches at the All-Healing Springs, a day or two ago, and went to a straw pile to play The straw was stacked at a corner of the storchouse of Messrs. Baker & Dilling, and the children had not been playing in it long before they set fire to it with the matches The storehouse was quickly in flames and from it the fire spread to the dwelling house adjoining. The storehouse and dwelling were totally consumed. In the storehouse was a quantity of wheat, about two hundred bushels, all of which was burned. All the furniture was saved from the dwelling house. There was no insurance. - Dr. Charles T. Wheeler, the eminent mineralogist whose collection of North Carolina gems is one of the most valuable of any in the State, recently sent on a few of his choicest specimens to be cut and polished for exhibition at the Louisville Exposition. Yesterday the gems were received from the stone cutter and Dr. Wheeler took a just pride in showing them to his friends. Among the collection are blue and green beryl, garnets and rutilated amethyst. The beryl is a specially fine stone and has the glitter and sparkle of the diamond, but the rutilated amothyst is something as odd in appearance as it is beautiful. The amethyst, which has an excellent polish, contains a jumbled mass of something which resembles human hair. There are three pale and one red amethysts the hair in the former being brown and that in the latter being jet black. Anson county Court opened at Wades boro on last Monday, and on Tuesday a row that came near proving fatal occurred in that town. A white man named B. Staten became involved in a difficulty with a colored man, and breaking from the crowd rushed into Mr. George Little's store, where he picked up a double-barrel shot-gun, wheeled around and fired at the crowd in the door. Just as he fired some one knocked the gun up and the load of shot tore up the ceiling overhead. The parties did not get together and as Staten was quickly taken out of town by his friends, the excitement key was at the bottom of it. Moving springs of action are deeply interfused with principles subject to certain laws. The nervous man finds his life blasted, but he can be restored to vigorous

- Asheville Citizen: The Federal Court drags itself along, killing time with very trifling cases. About a dozen imprisonments have been ordered, none for very grave offences. —The Corporators of the Asheville and Burnsville Railroad were in session yesterday as we went to press. Our Yancey and Madison friends were in force. The interest manifested gives assurance of business. In the heart of one of the most fertile valleys of the west, inhabited by intelligent, thriving people, it bids fair to become not only a beautiful, but a prosperous community. There are good (new) churches, a new seminary in course of erection and six good stores. - A negro convict, for some time belonging to the force under Capt. J. M. Jones, on the W. N. C. Road, was recently discharged, his time having expired. After his discharge he staid around, seemingly troubled as to what he should do. Upon being asked what he was going to do he replied, "I am going to steal something the first chance I get so as to get back to work under Capt. Jones." — The quiet village of Alexander's was shocked Friday evening by an affray which will probably end in the death of a man. William and John Rollins were at the station and under the influence of liquor. William Rollins had a gun which he handled in rather a dangerous manner, so much so that several bystanders were alarmed and left. In the meantime a negro named Henderson Vaughan, in the employ of Mr. Curtis, came up, and the Rollins boys began with him in a threatening mafiner. Old man Rollins told the negro to go away to avoid a difficulty, but the negro stood still, seemingly bewildered. Finally, John Rollins knocked him down with a stone, and began beating him in a terrible manner. William Rollins tried to use his gun, but Mr. Marcus Rob-inson caught him and held the gun, preventing its use, whereupon William turned loose the gun, and running up to Vaughan cut him across the abdomen, causing his intestines to protrude. Vaughan ran towards home, and was closely followed by John Rollins with a heavy pole, but Mr. Robinson ran after him and prevented a further attack upon Vaughan.

A Visitor's Impressions. We mentioned a week or two ago that Rev. Dr. Wendell Prime, editor of the New York Observer, had been spending a couple of weeks at Wrightsville Sound, and that he appeared to be delighted with his experience at our seaside. Yesterday we saw a letter from Dr. Prime, written in Washington and addressed to Capt, E. W. Manning, in which he says: "My visit to Wrightsville proved of real benefit to my health, if I may judge by my increasing strength to do and enjoy. * * * I intend to go to New York in a day or two and whatever may be my summer experiences I will never forget the pleasant days in Carolina.'

This is the experience of all visitors to our seashore resorts, and they are gradually though surely working themselves into popular favor. It will not be long before there will be a great many like Dr. Prime, who will recognize in these resorts just the places they were looking for.

Railroad Matters.

We were shown yesterday a letter from one of the syndicate of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad to a gentleman of this city, which states that the road is to be built to the South Carelina line and further on. Steel rails have been purchased to build the road, and it will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. There is also some talk of extending it to Goldsboro, and connecting it with the Norfolk and Edenton Railroad. Will not the extending of this road into South Carolina interfere with the proposed Wilson and Florence Railroad? It is said the two lines would have to run side by side a good portion of the route.

The beautiful frame structure that has so long been an ornament to the west side of Front street, next south of the First National Bank, has vacated the premises and taken up a position near the new market house, where it can be better appreciated. Several persons saw it going in that direction Thursday night, but had no idea of its destination. It said it had permission from the "City Fathers," to squat where it did. Somebody thought it was the new hotel, but were told better. "Improvement is the order of the day !"

Fine Fishing.

Two members of the Federal Point Fishing Club, which was organized last season and is now about entering upon the summer campaign, went down to "the rocks" at New Inlet on Thursday and succeeded in landing eighty-four sheephead. This is what may be considered a fine day's sport. Another party went down yesterday.

A War Relic. A friend has handed us a copy of the New Berne North Carolina Times, of November 26th, 1864, published by George Mills Soy, which contains a list of the deaths from yellow fever in New Berne during the prevalence of the dreadful scourge in that place that year. We recognize many familiar names. It also contains an account of a terrible fire that broke out there on the Saturday night previous, about 10 o'clock, commencing in a building on Middle street, owned by Mr. S. Bangert Twenty buildings were destroyed, entailing a heavy loss, estimated at $75,000. The same paper rejoices over the "Glorious Result" of the re-election of Abraham Lincoln to the Presidency for the second

The market quotations sound queer to us now. For instance: "Rosin $25@38; tar $10@14; spirits turpentine $2.40@2.50 per gallon; cotton $1.30@1.33." This was in New York, November 18th.

State Medical Convention.

The delegates to the State Medical Convention, which met in Tarboro on Tuesday last, have returned, that body having adjourned on Thursday, at 4 o'clock. Dr. A. B. Pierce of Weldon, was made President for the ensuing year. There was a very large attendance and the meeting was a most interesting one. It was noticeable that the young men of the profession were largely in the preponderance. The hospi tality of the Edgecombe people, which is proverbial, will, we are assured, long be remembered by the distinguished guests.

Blake Heard From. A letter has been seen from the "Blithe some Blake" to a party in this city, written from New York, in which he pays his compliments to certain individuals in Wilmington, designating them by name. He says the STAR containing the account of his exploits and experiences in Wilmington, while he was enjoying the distinction of a "star of the first magnitude" in social and business circles, was sent by some good friend to his employers in Gotham, but that it did not effect the object doubtless had in view.
