Thirty buildings destroyed by fire at Greenville, a small town in Colorado; loss $60,000. — Thos J. Marrow nominated as the Republican candidate for Governor of Kentucky. — French troops landed and captured several military posts in Madagascar. — All postoffices are to be closed on Decoration day. — A party of pauper Mormons are en route to New York from Switzerland; the Collector at New York has been directed to prevent their landing if they are paupers. — Striking miners have taken possession of a mine in Illinois, driving off 100 workmen. — The U. S. Express Company's package carrier robbed at Cleveland, O., of packages containing about $15,000. — The British Foreign Secretary says that the Pope's circular to Irish bishops was not issued at the request of the British government. — In the Northern General Assn, a report was made upon a resolution sweeping away all imputations against the Southern Church. — The New York and Brooklyn bridge, over East river, was formally opened yesterday with imposing ceremonies; President Arthur and other distinguished persons were present. — Young cotton suffered heavily from cold and blight in Georgia and South Carolina, and watermelon vines are seriously damaged. — Judge Saunders shot in the court room at Helena, Ark., by Dr. Moore. — New York markets: Money 2 1/2 @ 3 per cent; cotton dull at 10 1/16 @ 11 3/16; southern flour dull and weak at $1 30 @ 6 75; wheat, ungraded red $1 06 1/2 @ 1 22; corn, ungraded 51 @ 56c; rosin steady at $1 67 1/2 @ 72; spirits turpentine stronger at 72c.

dorsed and reaffirmed the platform adopted at St. Louis in 1876 and at Cincinnati in 1880. In my judgment, those platforms, so far as they relate to the tariff, are as pertinent now as they were at the time of their adoption, and I think the Democracy of Kentucky acted wisely in adhering to them as they stand, leaving the national organization to determine what changes, if any, shall be made in their phraseology." Sensible Carlisle.

It does the ordinary Northern speaker or writer exceeding good to refer to the Southern people as "rebels" and to flout "the rebellion" in their faces. Well, after all it does not hurt, for there is not a true Southerner who is not proud of the title. They made it honorable, as that most illustrious Southern leader, George Washington, did in the "times that tried men's souls." The well-bred Northerners avoid the word "rebel." It is only the mean blatherskites who fire it off from their mouths. Maj. Maginnis avoided it in his speech before the Army of the Potomac the other day.

Gen. Beauregard is in New York in the interest of the Society known in New Orleans as the "Athenee Louisianais," which is devoted to the dissemination of the French language in Louisiana. A Society for the dissemination of good English would be better.

Duncan Harrison, brother of an actress, Miss Maude, knocked George Alfred Townsend ("Gath") down for something said in a letter to the Philadelphia Times. When last heard from "Gath" had arisen from his recumbent position and had sought seclusion.

New Berne Nut Shell: We saw on yesterday several pieces of timber for the new court house, which measured 54 and 55 feet in length.

Two citizens of Cabarrus were robbed whilst occupying at Charlotte of all the money they had, and Mr. J. S. Spencer had his house entered and his pockets robbed of $166 in money.

A little daughter of Mr. Alex. Stronach, of Raleigh, came near being seriously wounded by a ball fired from a small pistol. The bullet struck the breastbone and did not pierce the breast.

Charlotte Journal-Observer: Rev. J. E. Prossy, D. D., of Coddle Creek and his wife, who had been invited to give a lecture at the University of North Carolina, have been invited to give a lecture at the A. R. P. church at Huntersville. Great interest was manifested, and as a result there were twenty-seven accessions.

Raleigh Visitor: Mr. P. D. Page, son of Dr. J. W. Page, died of his father's residence, at the University of North Carolina, at 2 o'clock this morning. He was 12 and 2 o'clock this morning the saw mill belonging to Mr. E. C. Whitaker, six miles north of Hamlet, on the Raleigh & Augusta Railroad, was entirely destroyed by fire.

N. C. Presbyterian: Joseph A. Holmes, Professor of Geology and Natural History in the University of North Carolina, has been ordained a Deacon in the Presbyterian church at Chapel Hill, N. C. He is a son of the late Dr. J. S. Carr, who was a member of the church by profession of faith in Christ.

Lenoir Topic: A little boy four or five years old, the son of a Mr. Wm. Hefner, one of our citizens, fell into the fire last Friday morning and was severely burned as to cause death in 12 or 15 hours. It was supposed he fainted and thus fell into the fire. As an evidence of the terrible consequences of a burn this little fellow seized a red hot oven lid in his mouth, and when pulled out of the fire, held on to the lid until his mother forcibly wrested it from his mouth.

Sunday's Macon (Ga.) Telegraph and Messenger contains the following mention made in our issue of yesterday of the death of Rev. Thos. Battle, of Monroe. Mr. Battle was one of the pioneers of Monroe county, and had lived for over fifty years on the plantation on which he died. He was a native of North Carolina, born in Nash county, N. C., but emigrated to Georgia when very young—coming alone to live out his fortune in the then new territory. He represented Monroe county in the State Senate as far back as 1828, as a Whig.

Oxford Torchlight: The roads leading into Oxford were crowded last week with wagons in search of fertilizers. Many of them coming empty to town instead of being loaded with tobacco. We have had frequent hail storms in Granville since that time. Col. Venable in a conversation with us this morning on his trip to Person county was enthusiastic about the people of that well to do county. He says it is now the most prosperous community in the State. They have planted only corn at something over $2 a barrel, wheat at 80 and 90 cents, plenty of fine horses, and we all know of its reputation as to the money crop of bright tobacco. The finest specimens of that article the writer has seen upon the Oxford market this season have been brought here by Person county farmers.

Greensboro Patriot: It is estimated that the northwestern connection over the W. N. C. R. R. will yield that road a revenue of $600,000 per mile. This will do for a boom. Major Wilson blasted a hole through Cowee tunnel Saturday. The tunnel is 1,800 feet long, and is a splendid piece of engineering. The road is graded six miles beyond, leaving only a few miles to be graded. It is a fine specimen of that article the writer has seen upon the Oxford market this season have been brought here by Person county farmers.

Mr. Carlisle will displease the Raleigh Democratic luminary by talking as he does. He says he left the tariff question to the "judgment and discretion" of the convention. He says he is satisfied with what they did and because "the convention in-

OUR GRADED SCHOOLS.

The Close of the Session—The Teachers and the Normal Schools—Preparations for the Next Session, &c. On last Monday the graded schools of our city closed for the summer vacation. We learn that the school committees of the two districts into which Wilmington is divided have already begun preparing for the next session, which commences on the first Monday in October.

The corps of teachers for the coming year is as follows: M. C. S. Noble, General Principal. Hemmenway Graded School, white—M. O. Wallace, assistant principal; Mary E. Duguid, M. L. McLeod, Alice J. Yarborough.

Peabody Graded School, colored—John A. Holt, assistant principal; James B. Dudley, Susie B. Dudley, Annie H. Mallette, A. Theresse Willis.

Union Graded School, white—M. E. Cook, assistant principal; Adelaide S. Meares, Maggie Jones.

Williston Graded School, colored—Mary W. Howe, assistant principal; Isabella L. Howe, Louisa G. Nixon, Emma F. Hooper, Maggie Whitehead.

These appointments are made thus early in order that the teachers, sure of employment, may have the opportunity of attending the State Normal School, with reference to special preparation for the next year's work.

During the session just closed the Principal has not only taught in the classrooms, but he has also devoted much time to bringing the teachers up to a high standard in the theory and practice of teaching.

He has conducted thirty-two teachers meetings—sixteen for white and sixteen for colored—and their good results are shown by the increased activity, zeal and enthusiasm on the part of the teachers in their classrooms.

Never before have our citizens taken so great an interest in our public schools, as is shown by a record of more than 2,000 visits. The average daily attendance of pupils has been about 800. The outlook for next year is very encouraging, and quite a rush for seats is expected. The committee, from time to time, either as a body or individually, without notice to any one, visit and inspect the workings of the school, and in every way labor to have the teachers bring about the best results.

We understand that nearly all the teachers will go to the State Normal School, and after Prof. Noble gets through with the school at Newton he, with two of the teachers, will visit the Martha's Vineyard (Mass.) Teachers' Institute, remain there a month or six weeks, and then go to Boston and inspect the schools there.

Prof. Noble, in his management of our graded schools, has given universal satisfaction, and his thorough competency is sufficiently manifest in the rapid advancement and good order and discipline which have prevailed. The committee have understood and appreciated his efforts, and he has had the advantage of their undivided interest and cooperation throughout.

Mr. Thomas Lewis, writing from Shallotte, says the people are hard at work, but the cool nights and dry weather have caused corn and cotton to look bad.

The new tax ordinance of the City of Wilmington, which goes into effect June 1st, has been issued from the press and can be had upon application to the City Clerk and Treasurer.

The Norwegian barque Kephra, Capt. Terjesen, was cleared from this port for Hamburg, Germany, yesterday, by Messrs E. G. Barker & Co., with 4,453 barrels of rosin, valued at $6,876.27.

There is almost a universal demand among our citizens and firemen for the abandonment of the electric alarm system and a resort to the old custom of sounding the alarm formerly in vogue.

Much amusement has resulted among a number of our Front and Dock street friends over a discussion as to the relative merits of "dewberries" and "black berries," and the queries and descriptions as to the difference between them have evoked on the part of the disputants a craving for information, a depth of knowledge and a profundity of logic truly refreshing.

HISTORICAL AND SCIENTIFIC.

Annual Address of the President. The following is the annual address of the President, Col. J. G. Burr, delivered before the annual meeting of the Historical and Scientific Society of Wilmington, N. C., on Monday evening last:

This being the anniversary of the organization of our Society, a few remarks from me will not, I hope, be regarded as out of place. The Society has kept on the even tenor of its way, its meetings have been regularly held, and many papers of great merit have been read by different members. And right here it seems to me that it would be well for the Society to consider the expediency of having such papers published in a volume, to be offered for sale and for distribution among other societies elsewhere, by which means a large amount of valuable matter might be secured in return, and the same would be less attract attention, and bring us into favorable notice abroad. The experience of the past season shows very clearly, I think, that greater interest is being felt by our people in our history, and the invitation system inaugurated by the Library Association of engaging men of prominence and ability to deliver lectures under the auspices of the Society, has not only tended to develop this interest, but has also resulted very favorably in a financial way to that organization. It is suggested that similar action by our Society in the future would be attended with like beneficial results, and I submit the matter for your consideration and for such action as you may deem necessary. One of the most successful, and certainly one of the most intellectual, lectures delivered in this city the past season was by Professor Shepard, at the invitation of this Society. It is true that the lecture was free, but a large proportion of those who attended would willingly have paid, had any charge been made for admission. Hereafter our people would not attend lectures, it mattered not how distinguished the speaker might be or how interesting his subject; but I am happy to believe that we are now freed from that reproach. The public taste has become more elevated, and the same holds true in intellectual enjoyment than in the times of old, and show which panders only to the gratification of the senses.

During the past year, we have had many valuable donations of books and historical records from various sources which have been placed in the archives of the Society, and it is worthy of note, that as far as my knowledge extends, the Historical and Scientific Society of Wilmington is the only organization of its kind in the State, in successful operation. The North Carolina Historical Society exists in name, a shadow only, not the substance; a meeting is held once a year to elect officers, and its organization, but for all practical or useful purposes it is unknown in the annals of our State. It behoves us therefore to strive in every way to extend our influence, to increase our membership, and by all our efforts to bring it into active exercise. While we recognize the existing state of affairs, we do not forget the past nor those who made that past a history. If we succeed but in moving a few masses only that may have obscured or dimmed the transactions of former days, or in bringing to light some unknown or long forgotten event in the history of our country, then our Society will not have been organized in vain. Should not this be an incentive to every member for increased activity and diligence. We have received during the past year many additions, and valuable ones, to our list of members, but the angel of death has again visited us and laid his icy hand upon one of the most prominent and one of the originators of our Society, Mr. Wm. F. Wenzel. He was an active, energetic, devoted member, was curator of the Society, whose interest and whose success lay very near his heart. He was a man also of large information, and of established reputation in the branch of science which he had made the study of his life; a valuable member, who promptly responded at all times to any call that might be made upon him. Upon the record book of our Society appears a blank page now bears upon its surface the emblem of mourning, and side by side with the one commemorative of Henry Nutt, is inscribed the name of Wm. F. Wenzel. The curtain has fallen upon the last act in the drama of their lives, in which each played well his part, and they now rest from their labors.

Mary Eliza Lively has once more walked to the surface of police notoriety, and her cheerful countenance at the bar of the court gave a jovial aspect to the otherwise somewhat sombre surroundings so natural to the temple where justice is dispensed. She was accused on this occasion of using abusive, profane and boisterous language towards Mrs. Ida Mulligan and others. Of course she denied the "soft impeachment," or, in other words, hurled back, with what little of scorn and indignation she was capable, the base insinuation, and this in the teeth of the highly respectable witnesses who had reluctantly consented, at a considerable sacrifice of their innate modesty, to appear and testify. The court was obliged, however, to shock Mary Eliza's lively disposition to the extent of imposing a fine of $5.

Josephine Davis and Adeline Fair, both with dark and kinky hair, were arraigned for fighting in Wallace's alley on Wednesday afternoon. The first named was fined $3 and the latter $5, which amounts were forthcoming and the defendants were discharged.

It will be seen by announcement elsewhere that Dr. Thomas F. Wood will deliver a lecture in Tilston Hall this evening, taking for his subject "Insectivorous Plants." Music will be furnished on the occasion by Prof. VanLeer and Master A. Adrian. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present.

It is stated by an official of this county—and it is a remarkable fact, creditable to our citizens, white and colored—that out of some 280 criminals who have been sent by our courts to the Penitentiary since the establishment of that institution, only about ten were natives of New Hanover county.

Almost a Fire. The rear of the building occupied by John G. Norwood as a carpenter's shop, situated on Front street, caught fire on the roof yesterday morning, about 11 o'clock, but the flames were extinguished before much damage was done. No general alarm.

The Fire Yesterday Morning.

A fire occurred in what is known as Chadbourne's Alley, between Third and Fourth and Harnett and Davis streets, yesterday morning, about half past 3 o'clock, destroying three small frame dwellings, the property of Alderman W. H. Chadbourne, and occupied as tenement houses; together with a kitchen attached to the premises of Mr. John Ottaway, also the property of Mr. Chadbourne. The fire, we understand, originated in the building at the western end of the block, in a room which had been occupied by a colored man, but vacated the day previous, a colored woman occupying the remainder of the premises. The loss is estimated at about $800, upon which there was insurance to the extent of $600, in companies represented by Messrs Northrop & Hodges.

The Spinster's Sound party is indefinitely postponed.

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS OF Fine Liquors & Wines, would respectfully call the attention of the public and the trade generally, that they are exporting, direct from Port St. Mary, Spain, a fine line of DUFF, GORDON & CO'S CELEBRATED SHERRIES, and from Oporto, direct, a select quality of O'FFLEY, FORRESTER & CO'S PORT WINE. The fine quality of our SOUTHERN STAR WHISKIES is acknowledged by everybody, especially those who know something of good and pure RYE, and we still have to refer to as good recommendation as can be given by any competent authority, to wit: "Raleigh, N. C., October, 1882. 'I have examined carefully and thoroughly analyzed a sample of whiskey, certified to be a fair sample of the brand, known as 'Southern Star,' manufactured by Messrs. H. Brunhild & Bro., of Wilmington, N. C., and find it remarkably pure and strong whiskey, free from all adulterations and fraudulent additions usually made in whiskey.' 'CHAR. W. DANNEY, JR., Chemist.' A new era has dawned with us in the great undertaking of direct importations to the Port of Wilmington of FINE LIQUORS, LIQUOR PORTERS AND ALES, a thing which seldom, if ever, was inaugurated by any Merchant in our line in this city. We therefore, are enabled to sell all our fine goods from 15 to 20 per cent less, as if purchased from Importers Foreign, selling on the same footing as they are, besides saving Freight and Custom House brokerage, and the further knowledge of goods being pure and unadulterated, the trade having the privilege to buy from us at Custom House in Bond.
