The travel on the Brooklyn bridge has fallen off very much.

The Louisiana parson who killed his man is now in jail awaiting his trial for murder. His brother is in jail also.

The Mayor of Atlanta knocked over one of the aldermen. Keep the peace, gentlemen, and set a good example.

Arthur is going to New York and rumor credits him with a special mission to unite the two Republican factions of the State.

Major Nickerson sailed for Europe on the 16th of June. The War Depurtment was evidently anxious to see him off. It feels relieved doubtle et.

It is thought probable that Mr. Tilden will reply over his own signature to a statement of John Kelly's that he was guilty of cowardice in 1976

The pistol is again used with fatal effect in the North. This time it is in Brooklyn, and a young husband mortally wounds his young wifeboth under nineteen.

It is said some of the Philadelphia editors were scared to death and applied for leave of absence. It was telegraphed from Baltimore that Mr. Beirne, of the State, was on his way to that eity.

Some of the most judicious Northern critics pronounce Mrs. Oliphant's "The Ladies Lindores" as equal to her best. Some say it is her best. She has more genius than any living female writer but she is extremely prolific.

Two trusted agents of the late Archbishop Wood, of Philadelphia, have been dismissed as defaulters. They only stole $40,000. Their names are John H. Duffin and Patrick Smith. They are worse than "Peck's Bad Boy."

At the Indiana Editorial Convention thirty editors favored McDonald

Sowell, general store, who recently assigned, owes about $2,000; assets $1,800. Mrs. O. A. Whitley, millinery, is reported to have failed and

A gentleman told us that he had seen a list of men who had been shot in ducls and that the men whose names came first in the alphabet always winged their adversaries. If we had Sabine on "Duels and Duelling" we would show that this does not hold good and by a great deal. Col. Yellowly, for instance, killed Ferd Harriss. Mr. Smith shot Mr.

Elam in the first duel the latter fought, and Thomas Ritchie killled John Hampden Pleasants.

Mr. Trevelyan, Chief Secretary of Ireland, says the report about pauper immigrants is much exaggerated. He says no paupers have been sent and that all inmates of workhouses were supplied with funds. He does not say how much. We thought people in workhouses were paupers. Why are they there if they are able to take care of themselves? Why have so many immigrants in New York and Boston to be cared for if not paupers?

The Minnesota Republicans adopted a plank favoring a tax on whiskey and tobacco and as to the tariff about the same that the Ohio Democrats favor. They say "together with a system of duties on imports, so applied as to provide revenue for the necessary expenses of the Government, and so adjusted as to encourage the development of the manufacturing and labor interests of the whole country."

There is an ugly story about Grant's son-in-law and a Mrs. Bush. Sartoris denies. He is at Chicago. Mrs. S. is in England.

- Carthage Gazette: The crops in some sections are very good, in others not so promising. The oat crop has im-proved very much since the late rains. Cotton and corn and other crops are looking well. ---- We had the pleasure of visiting Rockingham, Richmond county, a few days ago, and were agreeably surprised to see such an improving change since we were there last. There is under contract and completed, ten brick stores, which adds much to the appearance of the thrifty growing town. Rockingham bids fair to be one of the liveliest business localities of the State. It has four large cotton facto-ries running, two of which give employment to four hundred hands, two others about seventy five. There is still another under contract, which will be one of the largest in the State.

- Reidsville Times: We are told that on Sunday morning, in Leakville, after the killing of Sandy Wade by Policeman Stephens the night before, the negroes raised a black flag over the calaboose where the body was laid out and a red flag over Odell's bar room, where Wade was shot. A delegation of the white citizens of Leaksville went to the negroes and asked what it meant, and were told that they meant them for mourning flags to testify their grief and sympathy over Wade's death. The red flag was taken down; the black hung up all day. Stephens told the negroes if they meant the flags to bulldoze him that he wasn't that kind of a man. Stephens is either a cousin or a brother-a brother we think-to the Caswell Stephens who was ku-kluxed. Wade is said by those who knew him-Mr. Hamlin and Mr. Moir, of this town, both knew him-to have been a desperate man-in fact a desperado, on of the worst in the county.

Shown to be a Case of Accidental Shooting.

The case of Sam Edens, colored, charged with the shooting of a colored youth named Wm. Henry Freeman, some months ago, inflicting a wound in the arm from which he has since been suffering, came up before Justice Gardner for preliminary examination. The evidence developed a clear case of accidental shooting, in the opinion of the magistrate, and the defendant was thereupon discharged. Freeman's arm, we understand, has been disabled by the wound.

The circumstances of the shooting, which took place in the mill vard of the Messrs. Chadbourn, were, briefly, as follows: Edens, who is a watchman on the yard, was standing in a door with a gun in his hand when the boy passed on his way to the pump to get some water, and he had just passed the door on his return from the pump when the report of the gun was heard and he received the charge in his arm. The only motive assigned by the prosecution was to the effect that the old man had a few words with the boy some weeks previous about some trifling matter. On the other hand, it was shown that Edens, who said he did not know the gun was loaded, and claimed that it went off accidentally, hastened to the side of the boy and expressed his regrets that he had been shot, and his satisfaction that the wound was in the arm instead of in the body, as being less liable to prove serious.

Monthly Mortality-Meteorological. From Dr. F. W. Potter, Superintendent of Health, we have the following statement of the number of deaths in the city of Wilmington for the month of June just closed: Whites-Males 10; females 3; adults 7; hildren 6. Total 13. Colored-Males 17; females 9; adults 8;
