EVENING EDITION.

THE ONLY COMPETENT BODY.

There is but one body known to the Democratic party that is competent to lay down a platform for the party and to prescribe a test-a standard by which to measure the loyalty of men. That body is the National Convention composed of the representatives or delegates from all the States. As was suggested a month or two ago in the Wilson Advance this must be so, or it might be that each State should have a separate platform with variant and antagonizing planks. In one State the test of membership shall be to abolish the liquor tax. In another State the test of membership shall be to abolish the tax on both liquor and tobacco. In yet another State the test shall be tax these unnecescary luxuries and do not abolish And in another State still the test may be a Low Tariff -a Tariff for revenue only, whilst just across the border there shall be a test that shall read-a Tariff with incidental protection, or a Tariff to protect infant struggling American industries. The fact is that just at this time there are at least a half dozen shades of opinion among Democrats concorning the Pariff. A careful read ing of our exthanges from various States for a few days would satisfy any ordinarily intelligent person that this is the case. The only way to reconcile differences is to get togother and after discussion -a free interchange of views -- to adopt the platform that shall best meet the necessities of the times and that shall dest formulate the principles and policy of the party. If each State adopts a test-erects a shibboleth of its own, then it may come to pass that there shall be thirty-eight tests and all more or less differing.

The Democratic National Convention is the sole body that is competent to deal with the great questions of public policy and to lay down a series of planks or principles upon which to fight the campaign of 1884. Such is our view.

THE GLE EXAMPLE.

Some of the Democratic papers are copying a paragraph concerning silk | Hear the Texas Senator: to show that a seduction of the Tariff brings in really more revenue. The Philadelphia Press, a Radical Protection paper, says this:

"Silk was the article most seriously re-duced in the last tariff, and its imports have sharply increased for July over the like months in 1880 and 1881, years when the total imports from January I to date were larger. The total imports for July, 1863, were $4,112,209, against $3,281,499 in 1883 and $3,691,688 in 1881."

These figures might be misleading. Silks are luxuries. The tax has been extremely high. A lowering of the tax on a fine thing that so many people would like to have has probably have read. We believe he was also resulted in an increase. If there is the author of some book.

really increase in the receipts upon the insuries under the Tariff we are glad to know it. About five eighths of the revenue under the Tariff been received from commodities in universal use from the necessaries It is time to increase the receipts on

Now the STAR has thought that the tax under the Tariff should be reduced to the minimum point, and that household articles—the common necessaries should be put on the free list. We are for helping the laboring people and the farmers. By pusting the necessaries on the free list under the Tariff, and keeping the tax on the luxuries up to the highest point compatible with raising revenue would be sound, we think, and would bring great relief to the men who labor at their desks and in their shops for their daily bread.

We would also extend the principle as to fuxuries, and tax whiskey and beer and tobacco. We would do this because every man can dispense with them; because the tax comes out of the consumer and not out of the producer; and because all or a part of the 146 millions is needed to meet the public debt, the pension claims and other great burdens upon the tax-payers of the land. But, understand, we favor a change in the manner of collecting the internal revenue.

THE PUBLIC BOADS.

The public roads question is attracting more attention than ever before. In this State the papers have had much to say and we hope it will be continued. In South Carolina and Virginia the question is exciting deserved interest. The public roads must be improved. It is a positive necessity. The trade and intercommunication of the country require it. Mend the roads. Rev. Dr. Mangum, in a letter in the Southern Christian Advocate published at Charleston, S. C., has some sensible and timely remarks on the road question. His testimony such that it will be well to copy a "Part of the road to the District Conference was almost impassable for vehicles Though very careful in driving. I came near being thrown from my buggy into a sea of mud and water. The carriage that conveyed Bishop Keener broke down. It is not by any means improbable that the circuit rider of to-day is often compelled to travel roads that are far worse than those over which the pioneers plodded or sped in the days when few or no vehicles were in use in these States. Truly in some respects the preachers of the present have harder times than their pitied and lauded predecessors. I don't believe Bishop Asbury or Jesse Lee ever passed over a worse road than one I once travelled when in hearing of the church bells of Raleigh. Such roads are examples of suicidal economy."

Now what Dr. Mangum says of one section will apply to many sections. We have known the roads so impassable in the upper country that men could not travel in buggies without breaking down or stalling, and wagons had to postpone trips to await the drying out of the reads. If the General Assembly has not the moral courage to legislate for the protection of the sheep industry it pught to be able to do something to improve the condition of the great thoroughfares of the State.

The foreigh trade of the United States for the year ending 30th of June, 1883, was $1,546,928,485; The increase in exports was $73,000,000 over 1882. The imports were $723, 122,666. The exports exceded the imports by $100,683,153. This is a healthy showing. Cotton and food products constitute the bulk of the exports. The farmers have to go abroad to sell their surplus. Hereare the figures:

| are the observer |               |
|------------------|---------------|
| Cotton           | $347,836,631 |
| Wheat and flour  | 174,703,880   |
| Corn and meal    | . $7,736,880 |
| Meat and dairy   | 99,644,633    |
| Petrolsum        | . 44,913,028  |
| Total            | $594 724 99  |

This is a little over 72 per cent. of the total exports.

Senator Maxey is not disposed to oncede to the Republicans the sole office of party criticism. The papers of that party are always writing about Democratic blunders. It must be acknowledged that the Democrats are not always as wise as serpentsand as harmless as doves in their public sets. But they are not alone.

Will the Democrats win?"
Undoubtedly, if so great blunders aremade, and I don't think there will be. The Republicans talk about Democratic blun-ders, but I know of no party that has blundered like the Republican party. Its Mahone movement, the exposure of corrup-tions, the splits in New York, Pennsylva-nia, Ohio and other States, Blunders, indeed! These are blunders enough to kill any party."

Wm. Wirt Sykes, Consul to Cardiff, Wales, was the husband of the well known "Olive Logan." He was a man of culture and wrote some interesting magazine articles that we

DEATH OF JUDGE BLACK. telegraphic columns of yesterday of the death of Judge Jeremiah Black, was doubtless read with much regret by hundreds of thousands of Americans in every section of the Union. Men of all parties and sections must regret the death of such a man. A very conspicuous figure has gone to his grave. Judge Black had passed his three-score years and ten, and was in the full possession of his mental faculties up to the time of his illness. He was a very able man. We doubt if he has left behind in all America as vigorous a mind. He was the ablest political controversialist that America has produced in several generations. His political tractates and replies published since the war ought to be preserved in book form. They are conspicuous for their corrosive irony, for their cutting wit, for their noble eloquence, for their high and commanding views, for their scorn of meanness and corruption, for their penetration and skill, and for their exceeding clearness of arrangement and of statement. They are most memorable productions and we hope to own them and to read them

Judge Black was a very strong Union man and he had no little to do with forcing on the conflict. He urged Buchauan to take advanced ground in the early South Carolina troubles. If he had lived he would have replied to ex-President Davis's recent publication, and it would have been full of strength and sharpness. Judge Black did what he thought was right. He was not infallible. and be was not justified in all he did, but he acted from patriotic mo-

Judge Black was Secretary of State under Buchanan and was the ablest man in the Cabinet. He was a man of truth and with many noble qualities. He was a member of the Christian Church or Disciples, we believe. He died in much peace.

We suspect that the Irish leaders the British House of Commons are indiscreet. They are too violent and their cause will be apt to lose ground under their coaching. They are striking at the Government with great bitterness and yet they have thus far indicated to the Parliament no programme. They ought to formulate their grievances, and then state specifically and clearly what they demand. To strike blindly and furiously without setting forth what must be done for Ireland is unwise, and we say this as a friend of that oppressed country.

A lady who was in the Clayton disaster and now stopping at Yates, has such a dread of railway travel that she has offered 1,000 to any one who will take her to her Western home in a carriage. The distance is about 1,000 miles.—Bufalo (N. Y.) Ex-

Statistics show that there is far more of danger attending travel with horses than by railroad. The accident statistics of Massachusetts showed that the number of accidents from horses is many times greater

DEATH OF JUDGE BLACK

Last Moments and Dying Prayer of the Distinguished American.

YORK, PENN., August 19 .- Judge Jeremiah Black died at ten minutes past 2 o'clock this morning. Although not unexpected, his death was sudden and was a shock to the community. On Saturday morning he seemed somewhat better, but the improvement was too slight to justify hope for his recovery. An unfavorable change began about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and he gradually grew worse, but remained conscious almost to the end and died peacefully. From the beginning of his illness Judge Black believed that he would never recover, and was perfectly resigned. His wife, Lieut. Governor Chauncey. F. Black and wife, Mr. Henry Black. Mr. and Mrs. Hornsby, A. B. Farquehar and his daughter, Mrs. Enhelder, were present. Numerous telegrams of condolence have been received. The funeral will take place on Tnesday at 5 P. M. His remains will be interred at Prospect

Hill Cemetery. Dr. Powers, of the Christian Church, Washington, has been summoned and will probably officiate at the funeral. Shortly before Judge Black died he said to his wife: "How" can I fear to cross the dark river when my Father waits for me on the other shore." And added: "Would I were as comfortable about all I leave behind unfinished in this world." And then he breathed the following earnest prayer: "Oh, thou beloved and most merciful Heavenly Father, from whom I had my being and in whom I have ever trusted, if it be Thy will grant that my suffering end and that I speedily be called home to Thee; and oh, bless and comfort thee, my Mary." the Diamond Dye colors. One package colors 1 to 4 lbs. of goods. 10 cents for PRESS SAYS.

PERIORS OF PUBLIC OPINION Concord (Cabarrus County) Register

"Tariff for revenue only" is the rue doctrine of a Democratic government. Tax luxuries-whiskey, brandy, tobacco, &c., and relieve the necessaries of life—that with which the people feed and clothe themselves, of the burden of tariff duty, in order that those "narcotics" that njure and deprave health and morals may be made so costly that the people will not use them; and relieve the necessaries of life that they may be abundant, and so cheap that the poorest will be able to buy them. The Wilmington STAR takes the consistent view of this question, No Abolition of the Internal Tex.

Rockingham (Richmond county) Rocket.

And it is all because the Star has the boldness and candor to utter its objections of the Democratic platform as adopted in 1882. This the departure from the Democratic party and seems to doubt the STAR's adhereance to Democratic principles. This is altogether wrong. How is the purity of the Democratic party to be preserved if its errors are not pointed out and its mistakes corrected? How is this to be done if the papers are to keep silent? We beieve it would be an unwise step for the Democratic party to incorporate in its platform for 1884 a plank for the abolition of internal revenue, and we think the STAR is perfectly right in pointing out the fallacy of such a. course. We believe, furthermore, that the STAR's Democracy is as sound as that of any paper in the State, and that it will do as much effectual work for the party. Again, we believe that the News and Observer will do the Democratic party more harm in trying to "read out' the STAR than it will ever do it good. We Agree with the Star on the Tariff Question."

Rocky Mount (Nash County) Reporter. We maintain that every editor in the State has a right to express his opinion in a gentlemanly manner, upon any subject, political or otherwise, and it is an imposition upon the temper and privileges of an editor to have his sentiments unwarrantably scrutinized by one of the same profession. It is not to be understood that we denounce the practice of agreeable and instructive edi torial controversies; this we deem a pleasure and a privilege, and we take pride in reading sensible and agreeable controversies in the Of course this question was regarded by the STAR as being very micalled and unpleasant. The record of the STAR for the past sixteen years of its existence answers strongly the ques-tion in the affirmative. We do not think Mr. Ashe intended any insult from the question, but it appears very much in that light, and were he to weigh the equity of it, he would find that he acted too hastily. The editor of the STAR, we are glad to say, has treated the question in a prudent way. * * We agree with the STAR on the tariff question, and still we are Democratic to the core, yet. Mr. Ashe's opinion is a good one, but we hope he does not think that all the editors who agree with Mr. Kingsbury on the tariff, are Republicans, Mahoneites or of any other political faith than Democratic.

- The Macon Telegraph's criticism of the Monteagle negro address by Rev. Dr. Haygood, is being generally copied by our exchanges, and the sentiments enunciated by Dr. Haygood are being eaustically received by the press 'at large as by our able contemporary of Macon. This is not the first time, of late years, that this eminent divine has given unmistakable evidences of a tendency to fanaticism on the negro question. This address at Monteagle is considered by the Northern fanatical press as an advanced step in thought, but no thoroughly representative Southern man will for a moment agree with Dr. Haygood on this question. He speaks alone for himself, and not for true Southern opinion. - Augusta Evening News. - At the present time the Sun warmly advocating the nomination of a Western statesman named Holman as the next Democratic candidate for the Presidency, and wicked people assert that the Sun's only obect in so doing is to injure another Western statesman-Mr. McDonald -and thus clear the way for Mr. Tilden's momination. What could be more perverse than such a theory? The Sun never urges Mr. Tilden's nomination. In fact, it rarely mentions that gentleman's name in connection with the next Presidential campaign, contenting itself with casual allusions to the intellectual greatness, physical vigor, and conspicuous moral excellence of that retired statesman. The Sun doubtless believes that Mr. Holman is a good man, weighing somewhat less than two hundred and fifty pounds, and it therefore urges his nomination. To see an esteemed contemporary thus misunderstood and its holiest motives aspersed is indeed enough to make one despair of the human race .- N.

Professional Boat Ruce at Fall River. Mass.-Thirteen Starters-Teemer Se sion Steamer Gets Among the Cars-

FALL RIVER, Aug. 21.-In the professional race, yesterday, there were thir-teen starters—Hanlon, Lee, Hamm, Terrick; McKay, Hasmer, Ross, Driscoll, Teemer, Relly, Elliott, Plaisted and Gaisel. The men at first refused to row on account of rough water, but the referee peremptorily ordered them to their boats, and they at once got ready. On account of a misunderstanding the course was rowed over by some of the men, while others came back at the call of the referee, who ordered the race to be rowed over again. At 7 o'clock another start was made. The men got off this time pretty evenly, Haulon shooting to the front, with Elliott a close second, Lee and Hamm several lengths behind close together. The rest of the men were in a bunch with Plaisted slightly ahead. Hanlon turned the buoy first, with Ross and Hosmer close behind, they turning nearly together. Han-lon had the inside course, but his water was rough. The steamer Caronicus, of Providence, with an excursion party on board, came down the river as Haulon turned the buoy, and steamed right among the oarsmen. The swell from the steamer swamped Hanlon, Elliott and Hamm, and practically threw Hanlon out of the race, his boat being filled with water. Darkness fell rapidly and it was almost impossible to distinguish at the finish. Lee upset after crossing the line and Driscoll drew out half a mile from the start. At the close half a dezen oarsmen surrounded the judge's boat, several claiming the first position. This was given to Teemer, who made the two and a half miles in 18.28; Hosmer second, in 18.30; Ross third, in Hanlon said he was beaten, but he did not feel bad about it. He did not cut his boat, was not struck on the head, and did not get any one to put wires around his buoy. He was glad of one thing, that no money had been lost on him.

The other carsmen claim that Hanlon was really outrowed, but the roughness of the water and the swamping of his boat may be taken as the causes of his defeat.
