MARJORY MAY.

Marjory May came tripping from town,
Fresh as a pink in her trim white gown;
A picture was Marjory, slim and fair,
With her large sun hat and her sunlit hair.
And down the green lane, where I chanced to stray, I met, by accident, Marjory May.

Marjory May had come out for a stroll Past the gray church and round by the toll; Pechaps by the wood and the wishing-There was sweet Marjory tripping alone.
"May I come, too? nowdon't say me nay."
"Just as you please," laughed Marjory May.

So it fell out we went on alone, Around by the wood and the wishing stone; And there I whispered the wish of my life— Wished that sweet Marjory May were my Saved from a Horrible Death! . Up to May last I had spent at least five hundred dollars for treatment by many of the best medical men, without any benefit. I suffered exeruciatingly, and all my best friends advised me that the ley hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at S. S. like a drowning man at a straw. After taking two bottles I felt a change for the better. The sores began to dis charge freely and the Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve bottles, large size, and THERE IS NOT A SYMPTOM OF THE DISEASE REMAINING, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one-pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that S. S. S. has saved me from a horrible death.
