MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

The price of the New York Times has been reduced from four to two cents per copy. —— One death from yellow fever at Pensacola Navy Yard; no new cases. —— James McDermott, the Irish-American arrested in Liverpool for conspiring to murder, has been discharged, the evidence against him being deemed insufficient. —— Another call for bonds will be made by the Secretary of the Treasury. —— The Corean Embassy were received by President Arthur in New York city. —— Cadet A. C. Beebee, of the Naval Academy, has been dismissed for hazing. —— The Republican State Convention of New Jersey nominated Judge Jonathan Dixon for Governor. —— A U. S. Deputy Marshal in South Carolina has been caught perpetrating frauds upon the government, in the matter of seizing alleged illicit distilleries. —— A fire in New York city, on Broadway, destroyed a million dollars worth of property. —— Abraham and Ward Walbach, fancy goods dealers, New York city, failed. —— The Spanish government has increased direct taxes in Cuba fifty per cent. —— It is expected that the English cotton mill operatives will resist the proposed reduction of wages. —— New York markets: Money 3½ per cent.; cotton quiet and steady at 10@10¼ cents; south ern flour steady at $4 10@6 75; wheat, ungraded $1 00@1 34; ungraded white $1 01 @1 10; corn, ungraded 57@61c.; rosin $1 90@1 60; spirits turpentine steady at 40c.

Turn out the Revenue Ringsters, but keep the tax on whiskey and tobacco.

Judge Hoadly's health has been nearly restored. He expects to return to Ohio next week.

The Postoffice Department is now distributing the two cents letter stamps. The demand is very heavy much more so than ever before.

The peanut crop in Virginia, according to latest reports, is a great failure. It is believed that owing to drought not much more than a fourth crop will be made.

Junius Brutus Booth is thought to be dying. He is a brother of Edwin. His wife, the distinguished actress, Agnes Booth, has been summoned to his bedside.

Rev. A. F. Vedder, pastor of the Methodist Church at West Milton, New York, is in jail. He is charged with ruining a young woman and being accessory to the crime of abortion. He denies.

Yankee Sullivan and William Bell fought twenty-three rounds in 1842, in the presence of 5,000 people. The fight lasted one hour and twenty six minutes. Bell was heavier and was a professional boxer. Sullivan licked him.

Mr. Hendricks says he had an interview with Mr. Tilden when he was East not long ago. The old man said he did not desire to be a candidate and to undergo "five years' racket." He expected to be elected of course if a candidate. He said Mr. Tilden's health was excellent.

It is a suicidal policy to destroy 115 millions derived from a tax on the luxuries in order to get rid of a system that is oppressive or offensive, when the latter may be easily accomplished if the Congress so wills it, and that too without affecting in the least the proper and needed taxes on whiskey and tobacco.

The Democrats of New York do not harmonize very much after all talk. But it is consoling to know that the Republicans are not any better off. The New York Times says:

"Persons who have been deluded by all the fine talk about harmony in the Republican Party will have their eyes opened and their understandings enlarged by reading the reports of the conventions to choose delegates to Richfield Springs. The City of New York is not the only part of the State which gives evidence that the machine exists this year, in excellent order, well manned and geared up for its usual work."

We said the other day that Senator McDonald was opposed to abolishing the tax on whiskey and tobacco. We saw it so stated. It seems that he has taken the opposite ground in a speech. If this is so he is not the sort of Tariff reformer we favor. This is so plain that we hope Mr. McDonald will be let severely alone. The Chattanooga Times very properly says in commenting upon McDonald's proposition to abolish, that "the Tariff duties must be made more onerous, and many articles now on the free list must be heavily taxed in the custom houses." Worse than that; hundreds of necessaries that ought to be on the free list can never get there.

Frank Devereaux was found dead eight miles from Cheboygan, Michigan. He was killed by a bear and he killed the bear. His body was braced against a log. An account says:

"His face and legs had been gnawed nearly to the bone, one shoulder was dislocated, one eye gone and his abdomen torn open. The bear had been shot through the shoulder, and, aggravated by the wound, had made a fierce attack upon his assailant. The ground was torn up for a distance of twenty feet around the spot, and the prints of bear's teeth and bunches of hair were found on the gun which Devereaux had used."

The people of the two cities of New York and Brooklyn are complaining of the great bridge. They say it is not worth thirty cents a year to the people who walk. The reason is set forth in the following extract from a long New York letter in the Charleston News and Courier:

"It will be of use perhaps as many as three days of each winter, when fog and ice combine to make ferry travel perilous and uncertain. It has proved a disappointment upon the whole. The distance is too great for ordinary business people to walk, being more than a mile from end to end, while five cents—the fare to be charged when the cars are at last put in running order—is so much more than the ferry charge of two cents for practically the same service that it is doubtful whether the cars will find many passengers when they do run."

The New Jersey Democrats, like the Pennsylvania Democrats, demand the abolition of the tax on whiskey and tobacco. This is easily understood. The Protectionists in both States control both parties. The New York Times, Republican Reform Tariff advocate, puts the case properly thus:

"The real object of demanding the abolition of internal taxes is to maintain the high duties which New Jersey manufacturers imagine to be a protection of their interests."

Next year will probably prove a poor reform year. Both parties are disposed to play shy of real tax reform.

A special correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, Republican, writing from New York on the 16th, says he has been among Tilden's personal friends and has seen him transact business for upwards of an hour. He says his health has very much improved, and that he is really in better health than he was in 1876. He saw him also at Greystone, his out-of-town residence. He says of him:

"He walked easily and without assistance. He stands very straight, and is not in the least round-shouldered. His color is good. His skin is a healthy red. Upon his high cheek bones the red becomes very positive. His blue-grey eyes are clear, with a good light in them. His hair a silvery gray, is still thick enough to cover every part of his head. It is brushed from the right side across the top of his forehead. His face is clean shaven. His nose is a combination of the Grecian and Roman."

He says Tilden is not seeking the nomination; that he will not raise his fingers to get it; tha the believes the party need him more than he needs the party, but will accept if nominated. That will do until the next man is heard from.

Spirits Turpentine.

—The Goldsboro Messenger claims to have nearly 7,000 subscribers.

— Mr. Charles C. Daniels has bought out the interest of his brother Josephus, in the Kinston Free Press. Now each has a paper. We do not know of two worthier young men than these brothers and they have our hearty good wishes.

— Goldsboro Messenger: Lieut. S. L. Faison, of Faison's, was in the city last Friday. Lt. Faison is a recent graduate of West Point, and is assigned to duty at Fort McDowell, Arizona, for which place he will start to-day. He expects to be absent about four years.

— Louisburg Times: Our county contains some as good land for raising tobacco, as any of the adjoining counties, so we are told by those who know, and we hope that next season will witness a large number of tobacco fields in Franklin county.

—Wilson Advance: The engine on the Jamesville & Washington Railroad has two cow-catchers, one in front and one in the rear. The agent of the road at Jamesville explained to a curious tourist that the one in front was to catch the cows and the one in the rear was to keep the cows from catching the engine.

— The Goldsboro Bulletin is to be enlarged to a 28 column paper. It will enter with its next issue upon its second volume. It seems to have put down its pegs to stay. We hope it will be well sustained. It is sound on the great supreme question of taxation. It is opposed to free whiskey and taxing necessaries of life.

—Wilson Mirror: We are pained to announce the death of Mrs. John T. Barnes in this place on yesterday at 3 o'clock. —Miss Lillie Gay, one of the sweetest vocalists in the State and a first-rate musical instructor, will have charge of the Musical Department at the Graded School next session.

—New Berne Journal: Mrs. Mary Davis, wife of Jarman Davis, died of heart disease on the 4th instant, in Pink Hill township. Her death was very sudden. — Jones county items: On Monday and Tuesday we had rain incessantly for forty-eight hours. It was the heaviest fall of rain for years. Travel and work is much hindered. Mails have been irregular. —— Work on the Quaker Bridge road is suspended for a few days on account of high water. It is several inches deep in the camps, but the convicts' cell is high enough to be clear of the water.

— Edenton Enquirer: On Sunday morning of last week, Dr. H. C. Willey, of Gates county requested his wife to make him some quinine pills. She got a bottle from the shelf and made the pills. Dr. Willey took five of them, and finding the effect peculiar for quinine, examined the bottle and found his wife had mistaken the morphine bottle for the quinine. He at once prescribed antidotes for himself, and the neighbors were summoned. It was with great difficulty that he preserved his life.

— Rocky Mount Reporter: There are about 175 names enrolled on the Graded School books up to this date, and new ones are coming in every day. —— We have sought information from the main farmers in Nash and Edgecombe counties with regard to the effects of the storm of Monday and Tuesday. We learn that cotton, in many instances, was beaten from the bolls and damaged in the dirt. Corn was blown and washed down.

— Kinston Free Press: All the capital stock for the telegraph line from White Hall to LaGrange, we understand, from Mr. O. K. Uzzell, has been subscribed. —— There were five prisoners in one cell in the jail last week and three of them made an effort to escape last Sunday night. —— The Wilson Advance tells of a road overseer who whipped one of his hands because he would not work to suit him. He did not propose to have any fooling about it.

— Warrenton Gazette: Dr. R. D. Flemming has been appointed Receiver for the bank. The depositors will doubtlessly be glad to hear from him. —— The Rev. Mr. Holden informs us that 169 persons have made a profession of religion at the churches on his circuit this summer. —— Mr. Marmaduke Hawkins tells us that upwards of fifty German families have bought land and settled near Ridgeway. —— Let us prepare now to get out of the all cotton system, for it has brought distress and poverty upon our people. A diversity of crops, smaller areas in cultivation and richer land should be the slogan.

— Goldsboro Bulletin: The Contentnea Association (the Primitive Baptist) will meet at Sandy Grove, Beaufort county, this year on Saturday before the 2nd Sunday in October. —— Mr. Joe. W. Smith, a well-known citizen of Goldsboro, died at the residence of his sister in this place on last Tuesday. —— We are sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Latham, wife of Mr. Joseph Latham. —— Mr. Geo M. Peel, a well known citizen of this county, died last Friday, aged 27 years. —— The rain and wind of Monday and Tuesday has damaged crops considerably in this section. Corn that had not been stripped of the fodder is badly damaged, and the fodder is almost a total loss. —— Sheppard Whitfield, a colored man living on B. F. Murphey's place, in this county, was found dead in the woods where he was engaged in cutting cord wood, on last week.

— Washington Gazette: Mr. T. H. B. Myers is preparing to erect a cotton seed oil mill, and expects to be ready to commence work about the 15th of October. The engine and boiler are already on hand. —— Col. S. T. Carrow has been appointed a revenue officer by Collector Young temporarily. —— A colored girl near Bath was burned to death last week. Her mother had left her in the house and went into the garden to gather some vegetables. When she returned to the house she found the girl horribly burned and dead. —— Several years ago Mr. Bryan Bonnet selected an average acre in a field of corn and measured the same. He got 22½ barrels from the acre, and it was no better than the remainder of the tract. —— We are sorry to learn that Mr. Isaah Respess, a merchant at Bath in this county, was so unfortunate as to break his leg a few days ago. Some of the boys were having a little fun, when Mr. Respess fell and some one across his leg which broke it.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

C. B. WRIGHT—For rent.
MUNSON—Fall and winter.
TAYLOR'S BAZAAR—The Rush.
BOARD—No. 203 North Third Street.

Local Dots.

— Moving time is almost here.

— The tide was very high yesterday.

— The excursion season is about closed.

— Receipts of cotton yesterday 316 bales.

— Mr. F. M. James, one of the health officers, is quite sick.

— No cases for Mayor Hall's consideration yesterday morning.

— There was a considerable fall in temperature yesterday afternoon.

— A dredge was in operation on the west side of the river yesterday.

— Messrs. Brown & Roddick's new and handsome store is rapidly approaching completion.

— Two boat loads of melons (alias chills and fevers) were for sale at the foot of Market street yesterday.

— There was a Sound party Monday night—about the last of the season—and they had a delightful time.

— The third annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar will be held in the city of Charlotte October 9th.

— One Joe Mattocks was arrested and lodged in the guard house, yesterday afternoon, for fast driving through the public streets.

— The Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina meets at the First Presbyterian Church in this city on Wednesday, the 14th of November.

— A joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Produce Exchange will be held at noon to-day, at the rooms of the latter, for the purpose of meeting a special agent of the Treasury Department of the United States with reference to the question of extending the port of Wilmington to the bar of the river.

— A force was engaged yesterday in repairing the sewer which caved in near the foot of Dock street on Monday afternoon. New brick is being used in the repairs.

— The scows which went ashore during the late gale are being gotten off, and one of them was towed up yesterday to be used in connection with the dredge at work on the west side of the river.

— The brig Havana, Capt. Reed, was cleared from this port for Ponce, Porto Rico, yesterday, by Messrs. Edward Kidder & Son, with 235,801 feet lumber, 60,550 shingles and 20 barrels of tar, valued at $4,872.21.

—The importation of bulbs of choice flowering plants from the old country is getting to be quite a business in Wilmington. We alluded yesterday to the fact that Mr. J. Loeb had imported a quantity from Holland, and we since find that Mrs. Henry Reeder is also importing similar varieties.

— The 24th anniversary of the opening of the Eastman Business College, at Poughkeepsie, New York, where quite a number of Wilmingtonians have received an education to fit them for the business of life, was celebrated on Friday evening last. On the reception committee for the occasion we notice the name of Mr. W. N. Jacobs, of this city.

Can't Get Along for Thieves.

A colored man named Thomas Owens, who says he was born and raised in Bladen county; and that he has always endeavored to make an honest living, informs us that he is seriously hindered in his efforts to be good, as well as to make enough bread and meat for the sustenance of himself and family, by the thieves of his own race, who, he says, persistently steal his cabbages and others truck as fast as they get to be in a marketable condition. He says he saved the money and purchased a place in the neighborhood of the Monk's plantation, where he could have made a good living but for the drawbacks he has experienced in the manner named, and which he says will result in breaking him up. He has tried sitting up and watching for the thieves, but they seem to keep familiarized with his movements. He says he often sees garden truck exposed for sale which he is positive came from his place, but still he couldn't swear that it is his, and there is really no way of arriving at a legal identification of the property. In conclusion, he wanted to know what we would advise him to do in the matter (under the impression that a newspaper man ought to know everything), and we told him to go to some officer of the law and ask what course he ought to pursue. It is certainly annoying to be the prey of thieves to such an extent.

Weather Indications.

The following are the indications for to-day:

For the Middle Atlantic States, fair weather in northern portions, partly cloudy weather and local rains in southern portions, winds mostly from north to east, slight rise in temperature, rising followed by falling barometer.

For the South Atlantic States, local rains and partly cloudy weather, northeast to southeast winds, slight change in temperature in northern portion, stationary or higher barometer.

For the Gulf States, fair weather, winds mostly from northeast to southeast, nearly stationary temperature and pressure.

For Tennessee and the Ohio Valley, slightly warmer, partly cloudy weather and local rains, variable winds, mostly from northeast to southeast.

The Crops—An Old Goose.

Mr. H. B. Williams, writing us from Viola, Pender county, says the storm of the 9th and 10th blew all the corn down in Caintuck township, and it was also overflowed with water in the most of places. In some localities the potatoes are also badly damaged, and there is more water in the ground now than at any time since September, 1881. Mr. Williams thinks Caintuck will not make more than a half crop, though others may think differently.

Our correspondent tells us of a goose belonging to Mr. A. Pridgen that is 32 years old, to his certain knowledge. She is blind, but goes off in the field and feeds, and comes back when it is time for a goose of her venerable years to be at home.

Talking of the crops, we hear that one farmer in a neighboring county plowed up his seventy-five acre field, which had been planted in cotton, for the purpose of sowing it in grain, his cotton being ruined by the drought.

Personal.

Mrs. M. Bellamy and family, Mrs. H. P. West and family, and Mrs. H. B. Jewett and family returned from Winston Monday night.

Miss Lena McQuigg returned with Mr. and Mrs Foster.

Hon. W. J. Green returned home on the boat yesterday.

Mr. E. Lilly has returned from his trip to the mountains, leaving his family behind, some of the little ones having not quite recovered from a slight attack of sickness.

HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE. Excellent Results. Dr. J. L. Willis, Eliot, Me., says: "Horsford's Acid Phosphate gives most excellent results." †

OPERA HOUSE.

"Only a Farmers' Daughter."

Elliott Barnes' "Only a Farmers' Daughter," was presented for the first time in this city last night to a well filled, though not crowded house. The curtain rose promptly at 8 o'clock, and the same precision which characterized its beginning was noticeable throughout the play, and there were no unnecessary delays which are generally so tedious to an audience. The play is a drama in five acts, and is one of some merit, though it did not come up to the anticipation of those present.

Miss Adelaide Cherie, who personated Lizzie Stark, an adventuress, was fully up in her piece and reflected much credit on herself.

Little Mamie, the "child actress," elicited much merited applause, going through her different parts with ease and grace.

Also worthy of mention is Mr. Fred. Hunter, who appeared as Sammy Green, and who sustained himself well throughout the play and caused much merriment.

Magistrate's Court.

Jerre Paschal was arraigned before Justice Millis yesterday on the charge of assault and battery upon Flora Tyler. Judgment was suspended upon the payment of the costs.

Abbie Ashe, Sink Howe, Simphroneus Griffin, Cornelius McNeill and Phœbe Johnson, all colored, were before J. C. Hill, J. P., charged with fighting, or with assault and battery upon each other, on Sunday afternoon last, near Kidder's mill. Judgment was suspended in each case on the payment of the costs.

A Sad Death.

We regret to be called upon to announce the death of Mrs. Mary W. Rhodes, wife of Lieut. J. U. Rhodes, of the U. S. Revenue Cutter Colfax, and oldest daughter of Mr. Geo. W. Hardwicke, of the STAR, which sad event occurred on Monday night, about 12 o'clock. The bereaved husband and father have the sympathies of a large circle of friends and acquaintances, including all connected with this paper, in the sad affliction which has befallen them. Mrs. Rhodes was only 23 years of age.

Among the Ice.

Mr. W. H. Lamar, formerly connected with the Signal office in Wilmington, and very popular with the young people of the city, was on the Proteus, which was sunk in the ice in the Arctic regions, while searching for the Greely expedition, on the 23rd of July last, intelligence of which disaster has but recently been received by our government. We are glad to know that he is safe.

Deserters.

Charles Hemold and N. H. Hansen, two deserters from the Revenue Cutter Colfax, were arrested yesterday and lodged in the guard house for safe-keeping. We learn that they will be taken to Smithville today, by Sergeant Robt. Green, and turned over to the officers of the cutter.
