Hon. S. S. Cax has no doubt of New York now by at least 50,000 majority. He says the Republican party is "rotten-ripe and it is time for it to fall." He is very hopeful of getting the Speakership.

While the British steamer Aips was taking refugees on board at the Haytien port of Jeremie, she was riddled with shells. Hayti will have to apologise after the French style or John Bull will get fighting mad.

The Springfield Republican, in its test against Butler, parades the opinion attributed to Senator Bayard. But that gentleman has long ago repudiated the whole talk and says nothing like it was ever said.

Yair College has had a large bepient from the late Henry Farman, New Haven. The rich in the North are quite apt to donate a part of their fortune to education and benevolent institutions. It is not often the case in the South.

Fertullian lived at the close of the second century. He wrote about the wearing of beards and shaving, and he said this: "Shaving is a lie against a man's face and an impious attempt to improve the works of tiod." Tertullian was one of the greatest of "the Fathers."

The Norfolk Landmark devoted four columns of its Wednesday's paper to the tribute paid by Norfolk and Portamouth to North Carolina's Confederate dead. There were forty one Confederates from this State in the column. This shows how full the two little Virginian cities are of "Tar Hoels."

The wardrobe of the Langtry was passed duty free. Considering how fast she made money on this side she might as well pay the Tariff tax as an American returning from his travels who availed himself of the opportunity of buying abroad clothing at about one-third the price in the United States.

In New York a negro girl is disconsolate because a Cincinnati white fellow named John Miller had married her and after a few days had disappeared. There was a fatal runaway accident at Lynn, Mass. The city of Charleston has presented to Mr. Paul H. Hayne a gold medal in return for his noble "Centennial poem." The gifted poet, in acknowledging its reception, indulges a strain of pathos that is not uninteresting to his admirers in North Carolina. He writes:

- New Berne Journal: The Republican party in Ohio seems to have been blown up by two of its own contrivancesprohibition and protection.

- Warrenton Journal: Very little cotton has been saved in the county yet as the farmers have been busy curing tobacco. The crop of fodder saved this year is quite inferior, owing to the expessive

- Edenton Enquirer: Some of our exchanges are noting the number of murders that have been committed in the State during the past year. They are quite numerous, yet the First District has not had one that we know of.

- Oxford Torchlight : On Saturday morning last near Oxford, Mrs. Sylvina George quietly passed away, after a painful illness of twelve months. - Friday night last Mr. John Breedlove lost a eapital barn filled with one of the best cuttings of his bright tobacco. Cause, accidental fire.

- Raleigh Visitor: There is a county in this State whose entire real and personal property is returned for taxation at $539,000, and we have it from good authority that five million dollars in cash-or nearly ten times the listed value of all the property in the county—has been offered for a single piece of property in said

- Asheville News: The recent rainy weather is detrimental to the tobacco crop. The wet weather will have a tendency to start it to growing again. If this should be the case, the danger of frost before the crop has a chance to ripen is largely increased. - Madison county is building a first-class iron bridge across the river at

- Lumberton Robesonian: The corner stone of the new brick store of Mesers. J. C. McCaskill and Luther Mc-Cormac was laid last week with imposing ceremonies. Maj. McRae orated and the Silver Star Band discoursed sweet music. - Mr. D. C. Lowe, residing near Bar-ker's Cut, in this county had his kitchen together with its contents burned last Wednesday night. - We learn from a friend at Shoe Reel that certain tax payers in that section have applied to his Honor Judge McKoy for an injunction asking that the sheriff of Robeson county, be restrained in the collection of the graded school assessments provided for the towns of Lumberton and Shoe Heel, see chapter 283 and 292, acts of 1883. The Judge evidently appreciating the momentous importance of the question involved did not grant the injunction saked for, but agreed to hear the matter argued at Lumberton on the 15th

- Fayetteville Sun: A few nights since Mr. W. A. Guthrie's handsome side fence was shamefully defaced and injured. - Mr. J. W. Emmitt, at Rockfish, has for years given great satisfaction in his manufacture of castings, &c. His foundry was recently destroyed by fire, but is now being rebuilt. — The officers of the Cumberland Fair are working with their sccustomed energy and judgment in pre-paring for the annual exhibition next month. — Mr. G. W. Register, of White Oak township, Bladen county, not long since got out a piece of timber for market which is certainly worth public mention. It squared four feet clear sixty feet from the ground, and was estimated to contain 8,000 feet of lumber. — On the 10th inst. Mr. Z. G. Thompson's residence at Abbottaburg on the Carolina Central Railroad was destroyed by fire, with all his wife's clothing and household effects. Insurance, $500. -We heartily congratulate the city of Wilmington. Occupying an important commercial position, with business men of shining character for enterprise and ability, this great North Carolina port merits and will receive a full measure of prosperand will receive a full measure of prosperity. By the way, we were giad to see, recently, a table of figures in the Wilmington papers showing that its naval store business is enormous—considerably larger than that of Savannah, for which precedence had been claimed.—The construction of the Fayetteville & Winston Railroad is fast advancing. The grading is already beyond Trinity, and in a few months the officers expect imains to be running to the flourishing town of Randle-man's, on Deep River. This important enterprise will increase the market facilities of the factories of Randolph, traversing at the same time a country of large and varied resources, from which Fayetteville formerly drew a very profitable trade. - Charlotte Observer: M. E. Crowell, a guano merchant of Matthews Station, has made an assignment to W. H. Phifer, of Monroe. The assignment covers all of Mr. Crowell's notes, accounts and real estate, but the amount is not known. - On Saturday night last, the negroes at and around Whittakers attended a candypulling about two miles South of that place. Everything passed off harmoniously until the party started home, when a young negro hoy, Sam Caveny, in company with a negro girl was fired upon by another negro boy. Tol Logan, one shot taking effect in Caveny's thigh, inflicting a serious though not necessarily fatal wound. As soon as Logan ceased firing he took to his heels. —Judge Gilmer delivered his charge to the jury at Monroe in the Christyn murto the jury at Monroe, in the Clyburn murtler case last Monday, and the result has been what was anticipated-a hung jury. The biggest mortgage ever registered in the court house in this city was yesterday recorded by Esquire Maxwell, the Register of Deeds. It was a mortgage deed for $2,500,000, given by the Southern Tele graph Company to the Farmers' Loan & Trust Company, of New York. - Willis Davis, the negro confined in our county jail under sentence of death for committing a rape upon Mrs. Alexander Campbell, a white woman of this county, has received a respite from Gov. Davis was sentenced to be hanged on the 29th of October. but the Governor has respited him to December 14th. - Special officer John Millis arrived in the city yesterday and went to the guard house, where the white man, W. D. Tallant, who was arrested in this city on the charge of robbing his grandmother of a sum of money, was conned. As Mr. Millis entered the cell, Talant called out: "Hello, John!" Mr. Millis returned the salutation and the identity of Tallant was established. The police arrested him here on suspicion and were by no

W. L. DeRosset, of Wilmington, was received. Col. De-Rosset kindly gave his personal attention to the collection of this handsome sum. He did not forward the names of the contributors. The association tenders him its warm est thanks for his kindness. - A great throng of persons gathered at the depot last evening to meet the remains of Carolina's dead, whose bones now at last find a resting place in their State. It was an ovation to the honored dead, to the honored living. The ceremonies of last evening cannot be forgotten, ought never be forgotten by any witness. Never were any ceremonies more impressive or more proper in all respects. The 'rain was late but ts delay only seemed to increase the crowd. It rolled in and the funeral car draped inside and out with the emblems of mourning, was seen. The four caskets were borne from the car and placed upon the catafalque. The escort companies were five in number. Those gallant and glorious Virginians, of Norfolk, of Portsmouth, and of Suffolk formed a part of the escort, while the Fayetteville Light Infantry, an honor-ed organization, represented North Caro-lina. The line of march was taken from the capitol, the formation of the column being as follows: Central Cornet Band, Raleigh Light Infantry, Norfolk Light Ar-tillery Blues, Norfolk City Guard, Old Dominion Guard, of Portsmouth, Suffolk Grays, the last four from Virginia; Fay-etteville Independent Light Infantry; the four caskets containing the remains upon a lofty catafalque. — Far from bright were the skies and far from pleasant the weather yesterday morning, but the fair opened just the same, bidding a defiance to such elemental inconveniences. The attendance at the grounds was not large yesterday, in fact it never is on opening day. Gov. Jarvis did not attend the fair opening, being represented by the next highest State officer. Miss Minnie Hank at the Opera House. Last night the Opera House was well filled by a large and fashionable audience to hear this famous prima donna. Miss Hauk came, was seen, and conquered, and will be long remembered by those who had the pleasure of hearing her last night. The performance was divided into two parts; the first consisting of miscellaneous selections, and the second being the second act of Donizetti's "La Favorita." The selections were admirable and gave Miss Hauk an excellent opportunity of showing off her melodious soprano voice to the fullest extent. "Figaro," by Sig. De Pasqualis, was much admired and contributed greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. The quartette was also another entertaining feature of the Opera, while the piano solo by Mr. Constantin Sternberg, was thought by some to be worthy of the highest encomiums.

Miss Hauk's success was greatly enbanced by the fine support which she had Another Railroad Project. In conversation with a prominent citizen of Sampson county, a few days ago, he stated to a member of the STAR staff that while the people of his county naturally felt a very great interest in the project for building a railroad between Clinton and Point Caswell, thus bringing the rich country along its line in close connection with Wilmington, the true friends of the enterprise would not be content to see it stop at that. The ambition of the people of Sampson, at least, is expansive enough to wish to see the scheme embrace, as nearly as possible, an air-line from Point Caswell and Clinton to the city of Raleigh. In support of his claim that this is altogether practicable, he says that Sampson will be willing, provided she is given control, to build the road to Smithfield herself, so satisfled are her people that it would be a paying investment. The line would run through Pender, Sampson, Johnson and

Accident to a Carpenter.

A colored carpenter, by the name of Lewis Sheridan, was preparing to put in an elevator in Capt. T. J. Southerland's livery stables, on Second, between Princess and Chesnut streets, yesterday afternoon, about half past 2 o'clock, and was in the act of looking around for some tools, when he stepped backwards into the large opening or hatchway, being on the upper floor at the time, and was precipitated to the lower floor, a distance of about eleven feet, cutting an ugly gash on one side of the head and bruising one side of his body badly. His injuries are very painful, but are not supposed to be serious.

A Large Steamer. Mr. J. L. Morch, whose arrival home from Europe is mentioned elsewhere, came to New York on the new steamer Oregon, of the Guion line, this being her first trip. She is a large vessel, and some idea of her size can be formed when we state that she is 520 feet in length over all, 54 feet in breadth of beam, and 40 feet and 9 inches in depth of hold, her engines being of 13,000 horse power and her registered tonnage 7,500. - The owners of the overdue schooner Margaret S. Lyons have given up all hope for the safety of the vessel. It is supposed that she went down during the September cyclones with all on board. The Lyons sailed from Baltimore on September 1st for Wilmington, N. C., with an assorted cargo consisting principally of coal. The vessel was valued at $20,000 and was insured for $1,800, and the cargo was insured for $400. She was commanded by Captain Nathaniel Doughty, of Abscom, N. J.
