On last Sunday $15,000 was raised in Peter's pence in New York city.

De Brazza, the French African explorer, is reported killed in the Congo country.

Two negroes knocked two white Democrats down at South Boston, Va. Two negroes were then wounded, one being severely cut and the other shot through the neck.

The reduction of the postage to two cents will cause a deficiency of some $3,000,000. It is said. Before two years, we have no doubt, the Department will be self-sustaining again.

Miss S. A. G. Farnsworth, a great-granddaughter of Martha Custis Washington—"Lady" Washington, the great George's wife—has just been married to a son of ex-Postmaster General James.

We have been within a few days several accounts of the bad behavior of men at not appearing at the marriage after engaging the affections and scaring the promises of young woman. A man is a great villain who will thus trifle with and humiliate any respectable girl who has been unfortunate enough to trust him.

American horses in England have been to the front again. Lorillard's Sachem made a dead heat with Iroquois at the Brighton Handicap; and Parasol, formerly belonging to Lorillard, has now to Lord Rosebery, won the two-mile selling Welter Plate. There were five starters and he won easily.

The officials in London are fully persuaded that the recent explosions were the work of Irishmen. It is said ominous threats were heard on the streets. The tunnels are all guarded by soldiers and police. There has also been an explosion of shells loaded with nitro-glycerine in the office of the Chief of Police at Frankfort-on-the-Main.

Miss Lavlena, of St. Louis, eloped with one Hurd, a sewing machine agent. She has returned to her home, asserting that she was drugged, carried off and forced to marry him. Her story is improbable as she tells it. Mary Churchill, the absconding St. Louis girl who has not returned, will not be hunted any further. Her father says:

"I want all further search abandoned. All I want to know is that she is honorably treated and employed. If I can only know that I will say thank God, and let him have her, own, will forever. If she needs money I will send it to her. If she is in trouble I will help her."

The fire in Savannah was a very destructive one indeed. Fifteen blocks containing 312 buildings were burnt. Forty white and one hundred colored families, comprising 1,279 persons, are homeless. Three lives were lost; two of them were men and they were burned to death. Three thousand bales of cotton were consumed. It was that portion of the city known as Yamacraw. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000. The sufferers have the sympathies of all good people. Savannah is one of the most prosperous cities, and the loss it has sustained cannot be measured by dollars and cents.

Waupun, Wisconsin, has a sensation. One woman has married another. Here is the story as telegraphed to the New York Times:

"Last spring young woman named Gertrude Fuller became the bride of a young man—or a person supposed to be a young man—calling himself Frank Dubois, and to all outward appearances they have since lived happily together. They have gained a livelihood by painting and other odd bits of work, and not even their most intimate friends have ever thought of them except as passing a quiet, happy honeymoon at their modest little home. Last night S. J. Hudson, of Belvidere, Ill., a former resident of Fond du Lac, Wis., presented himself at their door and claimed Gertrude Dubois's whilom husband as his wife, who had deserted him, and his two children. The gossips are greatly exercised over the matter."

Two of the ten Texas Representatives are for Randall. He is for a Protective Tariff. His organ, the New York Sun, says so, and the Philadelphia Times, another Protection paper, says of his Twenty-ninth ward speech, delivered a few nights ago:

"Mr. Randall spoke strongly of the necessity of a Protective Tariff that would protect. 'I have always been in favor of levying taxes on the country's imports. If there is to be a reduction in the taxation of the land, let it be in the internal revenues.'"

"Thar now."

Hear Randall in his Philadelphia speech of a few days ago:

"Let the government endeavor to the extent of its power to lessen the burden that falls directly upon the people by the augmenting of the market value of commodities. But the tariff must remain as it is. It is the only protection for the wages of the laborer and the mechanic."

It is to be hoped that henceforth no Southern paper will deny, as has been done again and again, that Sam Randall is a Protectionist. He is as much so as "Pig-Iron Kelley," and if he were not he would not now be representing Philadelphia.

Spirits Turpentine

— The State papers are writing about the beautiful sunsets.

— The wrong credit referred to by the Charlotte Observer was of course unintentional. Whose fault it was we cannot now ascertain.

— Rockingham Rocket: It is our sad duty this week to chronicle the death of one of Rockingham's noblest and most beloved young men, John H. Nicholson, who died on Monday evening last of typhoid fever.

— Winston Pilot: One hundred and thirty-three criminal and fifty one civil cases are on the docket for adjudication at the next term of our Superior Court.

— Rev. Mr. Baldwin, of this place, has accepted a call from the Baptist congregation of Pittsboro, N. C., and will enter upon his charge in about two weeks.

— Wadesboro Times: Mr. S. C. Tucker caught 46 'possums in three nights last week. —— A panther is reported as prowling about below Lilesville. He has been seen by Mr. Wiley Adcock and others. —— A little son of the Alexander Dockery, colored, who is in jail here under a charge of murder, was burned to death a few days ago below Lilesville. His clothing caught fire by some accident.

— New Berne Journal: Hon. C. C. Clark left for Raleigh yesterday morning. We understand he goes for consultation with the other counsel for the A. & N. C. Railroad Company, in the injunction suit brought by one Christian of Richmond, to prevent the stockholders from leasing the road. We learn that Judge Bond has turned the matter over to the State courts, and that it will be heard at the next term of our Superior Court.

— At Vanceboro two children of Mr. James Dixon were terribly burned. They tried to light a fire with kerosene oil. Florence died after died from the effects. She suffered awfully. The New Berne Journal says: The little boy, much younger, is yet alive but suffering much pain. He may live. The father, in endeavoring to extinguish the flames, had his hand badly burned. Only by immediate assistance was the building and probably several lives saved.

— Raleigh Evening Visitor: Mrs. Emma Burt, wife of C. W. Burt, a merchant of this place, died in Kinston last Sunday of typhoid fever. —— Mr. W. H. Holleman, near this city, had his gin house burnt yesterday. Loss about $2,500. —— We were shown this morning, by Mr. Sol. J. Allen, a very fine specimen of tobacco raised in Granville county, and sold by one of the tobacco warehouses in Durham for $1 per pound. It was the prettiest specimen of tobacco we have ever seen.

— Monroe Enquirer-Express: We learn that Lewis Hartis, who works on Mr. Sam J. Richardson's farm, in Sandy Ridge township, was accidentally shot by W. J. Stancill, while they were hunting together a few days ago. —— The weekly edition of the Wilmington Star will be sent to subscribers this week in a considerably enlarged form. It is one of the best papers in the State, and we would be glad to see many copies of it coming into this county. —— Receipts of cotton for October, 1883, 2,403 bales; receipts for October, 1882, 3,896 bales. —— We learned while in Wadesboro on Tuesday of a terrible boiler explosion at the mills of Mr. C. R. Watkins, at Edenboro, Montgomery county, on last Saturday. Messrs. Thomas Stokes and James Ledbetter ran into the engine house, and Mr. Stoker was in the act of letting off the steam when the boiler burst, throwing him through the side of the house and bursting his head open against a tree, killing him instantly. A piece of the flying iron struck Mr. Ledbetter, cutting him in two, except a small piece of skin, which held the parts together.

— Raleigh News-Observer: An elegant and large audience again greeted Dr. Milburn at Tucker Hall last night and heard a masterly lecture on "The Life and Character of Aaron Burr." —— It is a singular fact that in Wake mules have a higher valuation than horses. There are 2,898 mules, valued at $208,505, or about $70 each. There are about 2,870 horses, valued at $178,363, or about $62 each. Goats are only worth, it appears, about 75 cents apiece, while sheep are given in at about $1 each, and hogs at about $1.60 each. —— Soon a large party of New Englanders will visit this State. They will find it the place they seek, blessed with a charming and gracious climate, surpassed by no State or country for healthfulness, and inhabited by a people as frank, kindly and generous as ever the sun shone on. Our New England friends and our Pennsylvania friends, for another large party of these last are to visit us also, will find a warm welcome, and will find North Carolina even better than it is represented to be.

— Tarboro, October 31.—The exhibit is superb, the weather absolutely perfect, the crowd very great. There are two hundred entries in the cattle department, which is all full, and the stock show is creditable to the State. The Davis cadet battalion, of LaGrange, under command of Capt. Allen C. Davis, arrived to day and was received in handsome style by the Edgecombe Guards, under command of Lt. Walter P. Williamson. The Washington Light Infantry, of Washington, N. C., Capt. Chas. W. Warren commanding, also arrived and was received by the Guards.

— Charlotte Observer: During the month of October the bullion assays at the mint in this city amounted to $3,618 39. —— One of the most successful business men of Beaver Dam, our lively little neighbor town on the Carolina Central road, is an Italian named R. Pony, who came to this State a few years ago without a cent, but who is now the owner of a residence, store, steam saw mill, grist mill and cotton gin in the town of Beaver Dam. When he first came to North Carolina he worked as an ordinary day laborer on a gravel train. —— The acreage in ten counties of North Carolina, immediately surrounding and tributary to Charlotte's trade is about 5 per cent. greater than it was last year. The yield per acre as compared with last year's crop is fully 20 per cent. less. The character of the picking season has been exceptionally good ever since the fall season opened and picking commenced. Two-thirds of the cotton crop has been picked and something over half of it has been already placed on the market. —— We understand that at Gaston Court, at Dallas last Tuesday, the railroad's attorneys entered a motion to have the damage suit of T. H. Gaither moved to Mecklenburg for trial before Judge R. P. Dick, at the next term of the Federal Court, to be held in this city next month. An affidavit was filed by the Air Line company claiming that they could not get justice in that court, or words to that effect, and praying for the removal of the suit to the Federal Court. This is a new deal on the part of the railroad, and if the removal from the Superior to a Federal Court is granted it will prove an important precedent.

— Fayetteville Observer: We know of no town in North Carolina progressing more rapidly than Fayetteville. —— The Ladies' Memorial Association of Raleigh has acknowledged the receipt of a check for $100 from Maj. McKethan, as the Independent Company's contribution towards defraying the expenses of the removal of the Arlington dead. —— Mr. Randall McMillan has shown us an alligator, caught in Mims's pond, yesterday, by Mr. A. J. Woodward. Estimating for the length of a piece of his tail which is lacking, he would measure nearly four feet. —— We are glad to know that our friend Capt. D. McDougald, of this county, has invented and received a patent for a useful and important invention, viz: "Rein Holding Attachment to Vehicles." The attachment prevents the horse from throwing his tail over the reins, and prevents the reins from crossing day or night, and affords greater ease and safety in driving. The Captain will exhibit his patent at our Fair, provided he can get one in time from the manufacturers. —— C. F. & Y. V. RAILROAD.—The convict force on this end of the line are now engaged in filling the trestle across Mallett's pond. This is a big job, and will take about two weeks' time. The sand is hauled from the cut through Massey's hill. When this trestle is completed it is hoped that there will be enough cross ties on the line of the road to lay the track to Rockfish, and when this point is reached it will be easy sailing, and the road will not be long in reaching Shoe Heel. The upper end of the road is progressing favorably. The depot buildings at Ore Hill are in process of construction. Trains will run from this point during our Fair.

A Mysterious Fish.

A few days ago Mr. W. B. Bowden was walking out in the direction of Hilton, when, a short distance the other side of Fourth street bridge, over the track of the Carolina Central Railroad, in a piece of woods, he came across a good straw hat, two pairs of pants, one pair stuffed into the other, and a sack, which looked as if it had been formerly used as a pillow case, with a white cord at one end of it and a leather strap attached to the other. It is a matter of uncertainty as to whether the articles were stolen and concealed there, or whether they were the property of some tramp and only left there temporarily. Mr. Bowden left the articles where he found them.

Prompt.

The members of the Wilmington Light Infantry came up promptly with their guns Thursday night, as requested by Captain Cantwell, and they were all packed and made ready for shipment whenever the new guns are received.

Local Items.

— There was no session of the Mayor's Court yesterday morning.

— Mr. C. P. Remsen will re-open his cleaning, dyeing and clothing establishment at his former stand on Second street.

— In our list of foreign exports in Friday's issue, under the head of spirits turpentine, the amount given is 138,270 casks, when it should have been gallons.

— A car load of fine Western (N. C.) apples arrived here yesterday, consigned to Mr. R. McDougall. A great deal of fruit from the West now finds its way to Wilmington.

— Rev. Hooper, of the A. M. E. Zion Church, will preach at Mt. Olive A. M. E. Church on Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock. All friends are urgently invited to assist the pastor, Rev. J. S. Parker, to Conference.

— The sympathies of the community are much exercised in behalf of our sister city of Savannah, which has suffered from such a fearful conflagration. Wednesday was a day long to be remembered by the people of the stricken city.

— Early risers report quite a considerable frost yesterday morning. The potato vines show unmistakable evidences of the presence of the icy fingers of the Frost King. A gentleman who visited Oakdale Cemetery says there were plenty of indications of frost there early in the day.

Accident at the Compress.

Yesterday morning, about half past 7 o'clock, Mr. Thos. B. Harriss, Superintendent of the Champion Compress Company, was superintending the trucking of a lot of compressed cotton to a vessel lying at the wharf, when a bale of cotton fell and struck him on the leg, knocking him down, when three other bales fell up on him. When rescued from his perilous position he was badly stunned and unconscious for a time. He was taken to the office and surgical assistance summoned under the impression that he had suffered a fracture of one of his limbs, and at last accounts it was swollen so badly that no definite decision had been arrived at. It is believed, however, that he is not seriously hurt.

County Jail Items.

Samuel Adams, convicted by the U. S. District Court of selling liquor and tobacco without a license being first obtained, and sentenced to confinement for six months in the county jail, was discharged yesterday morning, his term having expired.

Jerre Lanier, who was convicted of embezzlement and sentenced to four years in the State Penitentiary, but who appealed to the Supreme Court, has been in jail nearly twelve months awaiting a decision. It has just been announced in the words "No error—judgment affirmed." Now when his sentence expires he will have been imprisoned about five years instead of four.

Harbor Master's Report.

Capt. Price, Harbor Master, reports the following arrivals at this port for the month of October:

AMERICAN.

Steamers	7—	5,159	tonnage.
Barque	1—	312	"
Schooners	14—	3,240	"
Total American	22—	8,711	"

FOREIGN.

Steamers	1—	1,538	tonnage.
Barques	14—	5,448	"
Brigs	1—	236	"
Total foreign	16—	7,222	"

Showing a grand aggregate of 15,933 tons.

U. S. District Court.

The case of Seth W. Davis vs. the Norwegian barque Ganger Rolf, for libel, which was under consideration on Wednesday and Thursday, was decided late Thursday evening, judgment being rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of $439.50, the vessel being also required to pay the costs. As stated before, Messrs. Marsden Bellamy and J. D. Bellamy, Jr., appeared for the libellant, and Messrs. F. H. Darby and S. W. Empie for the vessel.

Alvin Joslin.

The Syracuse Daily Courier has this to say of the laughter-provoking company which is to appear on the 8th:

"Last evening Charles L. Davis' 'Alvin Joslin' company appeared at the Grand before a fine audience. Mr. Davis as Uncle Aleck was inexpressibly funny, and kept the audience in a roar. His orchestra is a splendid one, and the soloists were compelled to respond to several encores. Mr. Davis was finely supported, and the play was the hit of the season. It will be repeated this evening, and should be seen by every one, as it is enjoyable in the extreme."

Out of His Latitude.

A genuine white shad, and a fine specimen at that, was caught in Messrs. W. E. Davis & Son's fish traps yesterday. A white shad on the 2nd of November is something remarkable in the annals of fishing in this part of the country. In Florida these fish are much earlier than in North Carolina, but we doubt if one was ever caught there before the latter part of December. His shadship must have gotten out of his latitude in some way.

Cumberland Fair.

Among the list of Assistant Marshals for the Cumberland County Fair, to be held at Fayetteville on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 7th, 8th and 9th of November, we find the names of John H. Daniel and Pembroke Jones, of Wilmington, and Dr. Walter Murphy, of Pender. We are glad to learn that the prospects for a successful exhibition are very encouraging.

Opera House.

Hagerly's Minstrels, the first minstrel troupe of the season, appeared here last night and made a most favorable impression. The audience was one of the largest we have ever seen at the Opera House, and enjoyed the play from beginning to end.

The songs of Hughey Dougherty and J. Carroll Johnson were much enjoyed, while the Art of Dancing, by Bobby Newcomb, was encored repeatedly.

Billy Richardson, the British Demosthenes, was a most decided success, and deserved the frequent rounds of applause which greeted him. Haverly's Dudes, impersonated by Seamon and Girard, created much laughter.

The play was concluded with the extravaganza, "The Princess of Madagascar," in which Mr. Jas. Brown, formerly of this city, assumed the role of the Princess and showed himself a very clever actor, thereby eliciting much approbation; the other parts also being well sustained. The troupe did not arrive here till late, and consequently were unable to commence before nine o'clock; nevertheless the performance was given in full, and was well worthy of the hearty reception it received.

Weather Indications.

The following are the indications for to-day:

For the Middle Atlantic States, clearing and fair weather, preceded by light showers, slight rise in temperature, winds mostly from northwest to southwest, and rising followed in the western portions by falling barometer.

For the South Atlantic States, slightly fair weather, northerly winds, becoming variable, stationary or slight rise in temperature, and stationary or higher barometer.

For the Gulf States, slightly warmer weather, northeast to southeast winds, and slowly falling barometer.

For Tennessee and the Ohio Valley, warmer fair weather, south to west winds and lower barometer.

Special Term of the Criminal Court.

Hon. O. P. Meares, Judge of the Criminal Court of New Hanover county, has issued his proclamation appointing a special term of said Court to commence on the 26th inst., the last Monday in November. The special term is rendered necessary in order not to conflict with the Superior Court, which convenes on the first Monday in December.

Roof Caught Fire.

The dwelling house on the sou theast corner of Seventh and Wooster streets caught fire on the roof yesterday afternoon about half past 2 o'clock. Fortunately the street hands were in the vicinity at the time and the fire was quickly extinguished by Emanuel Jones, assisted by Mr. Dan Shean and others.

Personal.

Mr. W. A. French and Miss Lena French, his daughter, have returned home after a protracted visit to the North and West. We are glad to know that Mr. French comes back much improved in health.

— The Italian barque Clotta C., Capt. Pagalaqua, from Charleston to Falmouth for orders, with a cargo of logwood, put in at Smithville in distress yesterday, leaking badly. She previously put in at Charleston in distress.
