LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

The imperative necessity of maintaining in full force and completeness the local governments of the States of the Union has been often enforced by us. The great underlying principle of our Federal Union is the sovereignty of the States. Certain powers were granted by the States and certain powers were withheld when the Constitution was framed and adopted. Every now and then the true bearing of this fundamental doctrine is glimpsed by papers that advecate a Nation-a strong Government. The Philadelphia American is a paper of this sort and yet in a recent editorial it makes an admission that is significant and valuable. It says:

"A republic can have no other foundation than the integrity and the intelligence of its members. A Char may rest his throne upon the loyalty of the untaught millions. Other countries may buttress their social order with the wealth and influence of privileged classes. But America has neither of these supports; it repu diates them as unworthy of itself. The American Republic continues to exist only because the local governments have been more Axithful to the Republican principle than the misture has been, and because they have used their natural and necessary rights in this matter, while the nation has been content to leave its rights in abeyance and disuse. The States have been "faithful to the republican principle" whilst the Federal Government under Republi can rule has been unfaithful, usurping, oppressive. But the American is right when it says that a Republic must rest upon the virtue and intelligouce of the people. Of these the first is the more important. There have been serious dangers threatening haman liberty by education because it was not based upon and allied with public virtue-with all that is meant in the word "integrity."

SHAKEN UP.

The Democrats of New York con few to a considerable shaking up They recognize the tremendous contrast between the majority of 1882, when they had 192,000, and the majority of 1883, when they have less than 13,000. They see how uncertain is the hold of the leaders upon the masses. They realize that the Republican party is still a very powerful organization in their State. The News, the Democratic paper of New York with the largest circulation, says this:

"It ought now to be plain enough to partisan leaders that the masses cannot be controiled in their politics by the edicts and pronunciamentos that emanate from the council room of political organizations, representing either factions that have no unselfish motives, or men that have no end In view beyond the gratification of personal ambition. It is not as the leaders of the halls propose, but as the people, in their conscience and intelligence, dispose. Its pressign of last year's victory has been thrown away, and a very thorough modification of the methods of campaigning will have to be introduced to save the State from reconquest by the Republicans next November.

The vote of last year was simply a Republican abandoument of their party for the time that a reform in | New York city.

this year shows a return of the Re- and Counter from Washington, on publicans to their party and a big the 9th of Navember, is to the effect disgust among Democrats at the management in their own party. New York is uncertain. A hearty pulling together of all Democrats under the leadership of Tilden and Kelly would probably give the victory to the Democrats in 1884. But will this happen? Can John Kelly be trusted?

THE MILLERS GRINDING A NEW

There is a large and influential body in Canada known as the Dominion Millers' Association. They are now firing into the Canadian High Tariff. They declare that the duty is a burden and they want it lifted. Heretofore they have been strong Protectionists. We notice a dispatch from Toronto of the 6th of November, to the New York Times, in which the following is said of the meeting of the millers and their de-

They were also positive that under the resent protective tariff of 15 cents per usuel this shortage of raw material caused a discrimination against Canadian millers if 20 cents per barrel of flour. The majority were in favor, in view of the precarious position of the working men, of reducing the duty on wheat, and thus keeping the price of bread at the lowest possible figure, rather than to increase its price by increasing the duty on flour. A committee was therefore appointed to wait upon the Dominiou Government and urge pon the Finance Minister the necessity of educing the duty on wheat to 74 cents."

We published the resolutions conerning the State Exposition at Raleigh next Fill. We would be glad to see a successful and interesting exhibit. With enough money and a plenty of real this project can be carried ou: to the glory and renown of the State. It ought to be on a scale as much beyond our exhibit at Boston as Boston was ahead of Atlanta or as Atlanta was ahead of the North Carolina State Fair. The whole State must become interested TERMDAY EVENTNE, Nov. 13, 1883. | in the plan and all must work together heartily for a successful consummation of a grand idea. Let all North Carolina take a special pride in the undertaking and let the world see what we are when we make an Exposition on our own soil.

> "In forecasting the probable result of the next Presidential election, it will be well for amateur statisticians to bear in mind that a solid South and 48 other votes will constitute a majority of the whole number of 401 electoral votes to be cast. The Russian Czar or Tzar as it is invarialy spelled in Russia and among the most cultivated circles of England, is disposed to make concessions to the Nibilists. Count Tolstov has been selected to draught a Constitution. The Nihilists or Revolutionists demand a government less Medissval and more in accord with the spirit of the age. The Russians are scarcely prepared for a liberal or moderate government however advanced the educated few may be. How much will be conceded in the proposed Constitution will be seen to the future. But the Czar will | obably "make haste slowly.",

Bernhardt has just appeared in Paris as Lady Macbeth. According to the reports her performance was very striking. A dispatch from Paris to the Philadelphia Press of the date of the 9th inst., says:

She chose the terrible scene where Lady Macbeth lamp in hand, striking in terror from her sleep, confesses her crime. Nobody remembers having ever seen greater tragical power on the French stage. Sarah Bernhards, in white flowing garments, her body seemingly emaciated with remorse, her features distorted with horror and anguish, in powerful tones that made one's blood run cold, declaimed the scene with extraordinary force. She showed a dramatic insight unexampled on the French

the party might be forced. The vote | A dispatch to the Charleston News that Tilden and Randall are in "cohoot." Randall's chances for the Speakership are dwindling and the Tariff Reformers will consolidate against him. If this is done he will be badly whipped. The following is suggestive:

"I was conversing with a leading New York politician yesterday and in the course of the chat he said with reference to the Speakership, 'I am out of Congress and can give you only the opinion of a disin terested private citizen. You fellows have not yet caught the full scope of this question of Randall's candidacy. There is a power behind the scenes stronger than the Protectionists on whom Randall leans, and that power is Samuel J. Tilden. What has Tilden got to do with it !

'A good deal—perhaps everything, since the election of yesterday. Randall is Tilden's right bower in the House. He is Tilden's man, and represents the Tilden wing of the party as against McDonald or any other candidate. There is an ailiance between Tilden and Randall which will be only second to the power of the Protectionists to put Mr. Randall in the Speaker's chair. The combination, sir, cannot be beaten. The friends of 'The Old Man' who are in the House will be asked to come to the rescue, and the request will be obeyed. Randall will be Speaker and he knows it. Therefore he is confi-

Representative Blackburn, of Ky., is in Washington, and he is very sure that Sam Randall will not be elected Speaker. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:

"Mr. Cox has himself told several of his friends that he was confident of success. It is said to have been asserted that so far as actual pledges are concerned Mr. Randail has not, up to this time, near so many votes as either Cox or Carlisle, and his hopes lie in the belief of his ability to capture votes from both of these gentlemen after the first or second ballots. Both of them think, however, that their friends will stick. Those who imagine that Mr Randall is so certain to obtain the nomination for Speaker forget that four years ago, when the contest was narrowed down between him and Mr. Blackburn, a change of only six votes would have given the nomination to the latter. Mr. Randall has now much less strength and popularity than he had at that time. But he has confessedly much skill

We referred recently to the utility of forming a State Bar Association. We notice in the Asheville Citizen that the lawvers of the 8th and 9th Districts were to meet in Ashville to make a permanent organization. It would be a good idea to embrace the whole State. It would give more interest and force to the organization. Since this was written we find the following in a later number of the

"We learn it is proposed to call next year general convention of the Bar of the State, which will be held at Asheville, and to which some prominent legal luminary will be invited as orator of the occasion."

The Asheville Citizen gracefully indorses the STAR's motion that Mrs. Cornelia P. Spencer is the right person to prepare the volume in North Carolina for Houghton Mifflin & Co.'s' 'American Commonwealth Series.' It savs:

"We cordially endorse the suggestion hat Mrs. Spencer undertake the work. Hers is a vigorous brain, which is above the flattery of being called a masculine one. She is better read than most men, her observation is acute and discriminating, and her style is both vigorous and elegant.

The cotton mills at North Nash ville have just made a fine exhibit They declared 14 per cent. as 'the, dividend on the stock. That will do and shows that Georgia and South Carolina are not alone in money making in cotton manufacturing. The North Carolina mills will not tell what they make or lose.

Mr. Gladstone in his speech at the Lord Mayor's dinner, gave France to understand that England would not remain idle if her interests in China were jeopardized by France. This means a good deal coming from so pacific a statesman as the Premier.

ABOLISH THE SYSTEM AND RETAIN THE TAX.

Wilson Advance. While we favor an immediate abolition of the present system, with its horde of spies, gaugers, collec-tors, and the rest of the crew, we could not support a man who favored the abolition of the tax on whiskey and tobacco. The Democratic party favors the taxing of the luxuries, and we suppose in advocating the repeal of the system Mr. Randall does not wish to repeal the tax on these articles. If he does then he is not in harmony, with the great hulk of Democrats in the country.

THE LATEST NEWS.

CURRENT COMMENT.

-- "Take care of my Civil Rights Bill," says the Evansville Journal, "were the dving words of Charles Sumner," and adds: "They would make an excellent rallying ory for the Republicans." The Journal probably falls into the common error of supposing that it was Sumner's bill upon which the Supreme Court recently passed. The bill drafted by him, like most of those offered by him during his remarkable career, never found its way out of the committee-room, and the law which was declared unconstitutional was really the work of Gen. Butler, at whom the Republicans are just now directing sundry hard words .--Louisville Courier-Journal, Dem.

--- The lesson for Republican managers is not less plain in Virginia, where the most impudent and corrupt coalition of modern politics has suffered an overwhelming defeat. A certain class of Republican politicians, some of them boasting the intimacy of the President, reasoned that it would be safe in Virginia to commit the Republican party to repudiation, to contemptuous violation of the civil service law, to the most insolent and tyrannical machine politics, to the prostitution of Federal offices to the basest political purposes, all in the name of resistance to Bourbonism and support of free suffrage. - N. HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION AND THE A largest advertising patronage of any paper in the State. It now has over eight hundred subscribers in Robeson county alone, besides a general circulation in the counties of Moore, Cumberland, Bladen, Columbus, Richmond, and in the adjoining counties, Marion, Mariboro and Darlington, in South Carolins.

SLY.—In Africa there are varieties of industrious and persevering and which have an underhanded way of doing business. These creatures do not like to be seen when they are working, nor do they care for the light. They bore into a table of chair from underneath, and in great numbers enter the cavity they make. Patiently and persistently they toll on, until they have eaten away all the inner substance, and the piece of furniture is a mere shell, as thin as paper, and ready to fall to pieces as soon as it is touched. Very sly, indeed, is the way these busy insects do their work. But it is not half as sly as the way that deceitful destroyer, malaria, makes its attacks on the human system. When the poisonous influence in the atmosphere takes hold of a human being, there is no noise about it; nor does anything that is mischievous seem to be going on. The victim does not know he has been attacked, even while the foc is successfully at work within him. As the ants eat out the inner structure of what they destroy, so malaria silently attacks the vital parts of the system. Before a great while something is seen to be wrong, and an alarm is sounded. Happy is it for the attacked party if the alarm is given in time The alarm being sounded, the next thing is to drive the intruder out and repair the mischief he has done. This requires radical action and the administering of a bracing tonic. There is nothing in the world like Brown's Iron Bitters to bani. malaria and repair its damages. The poisoned blood needs to be made pure. The shaky and enfeebled system requires strengthening and toning up. The flabby muscles want restoring to a state of respectable firmness. The liver, which is all out of sorts, must be put to rights. Brown's Iron Bitters will do all this, and do it well, without fear of disappointment or failure. Malaria does not wait for an invitation, but slyly eneaks in everywhere, and when least expected Allow it to have its way, and you are ruined. Drive it out with Brown's Iron Bitters, and look for health and happiness. sept 1 D&Wly nrm
