HE MORNING STAR

VOL. XXXIII .-- NO. 82.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1883.

The new two volume history of Georgia by Charles C. Jones, Jr., is said to be an excellent production. It is published in Boston in excellent style. A Savannah house ought to have published it. The book critic of the New York Times says:

"In addition to being among the first of American archeologists, Mr. Charles C. Jones, Jr., is favorably known as a writer on Southern colonial history, such papers as he has published showing not only patient research but exceeding accuracy. A military training has also singularly fitted him to describe the incidents of the war between Georgia and Spain in Oglethorpe's time, with the battles of the Revolution. Familiar with the whole ground, many of the old traditions relating to the settlement of Savannah have been accepted or neglected by him, his information being obtained from family records."

A prize fight-a very brutal onewas fought near Wilkesbarre, Penn., on Wednesday between Dick Pedlar and Di Bright. It lasted through eighty-seven rounds. Pedlar won They fought in the snow. Bright had a chill. An account says:

"Both men presented a horrible appearance after the fight, the flesh hanging from Pedlar's face, which was almost mashed to a jeily. Pediar, although the victor, was taken home unconscious, when a severe Pedlar, although the victor, was hemorrhage fook place, greatly prostrating him and endangering his life. To-night be was reported very low. Sheriff O'Malley and posse was on the scene balf an hour after the fight took place, but succeeded in making no arrests. A good deal of money changed hands on the result. Pedlar veighed 140 and Bright 138 pounds."

Barnum, the showman, is now very old. He has just made his will and he does not mean that it shall be broken when he is dead. Here is the

A new play of much excellence, it s said, has been produced at the Princess's Theatre, London. It is entitled "Claudian," and is the joint work of Mr. W. G Wills and Mr. Henry Herman. It is said to be original and of rare literary and dramatic excellence.

- Hickory Press: On Wednesday last we noticed at the W. N. C. Railroad depot twenty-two barrels of eggs standing ready for shipment. They were to be sent mainly to New York to make egg nogg. cake, etc., for our Northern brethren. The east bound train due in Hickory last night at 11.25 was wrecked at the Ducktown Junction beyond Asheville yesterday afternoon. We do not know the extent of the damage, but learn that the engine and mail car were turned bottom upwards. --We learn that there are quite a number of families who contemplate moving to Hickory about the first of next year; in fact, we are in correspondence with several parties who will when they come be valuable acquisitions to the town

- Rockingham Spirit: There was considerable flutter of excitement in lown last Sunday morning over the announcement that a man was under guard at Long's Hotel charged with having mar-ried and deserted a lady in Montgomery county and attempting to marry another woman in this county. The bride expectant, (No. 2.) who proved to be Miss Minerva Owens, of the Utah Settlement in this county, was at the hotel with the man under guard. The man informed us that his name was Smith, and that he was born and raised near Alfordsville, in Robeson county, but he had told the girl that his name was Parker, and was endeavoring to wed her under that name. To others he said his name was Floyd. - Fayetteville Observer: A large firm of seed merchants and importers in Philadelphia, some time ago, offered kinds of their seeds. It is gratifying to note the fact that our young friend Mr. Calvin Thames, 19 years of age, was awarded a premium of $10 for the best and largest specimen of the Spanish Monstrous' Pepper. This one well deserved the name of the species, as it was 64 inches in circumference and 101 inches long. -Capt. Mr. J. E. Willson, who has been very sick, is able to be out again.

Rev. Dr. J. C. Hiden has accepted a call to the Baptist church at Lexington, Ky. It is a little noteworthy that two former pastors of this city-Dr. Taylor and Dr. Hiden -should both be called to a place with the same name, though in different States.

Uproarous fun, excellent music, clever acting and beautiful new costumes were the features of the entertainment. This was the first appearance in Norristown of Miss Oates. She is certainly one of the most gifted exponents of comic opera on the stage, and possesses a sweet, well cultivated voice of .wonderful compass. Miss Adele Leonard, another accomplished vocalist, shared with Miss Oates the honors of the evening and received an ovation of applause. Messrs. Harry Lindley and R. in Chambers, yesterday, at Clinton, on a writ of habeas corpus. The officer and Mr. Barden left on the W. & W. R. R., leav ing the train at Warsaw and taking private conveyance to Clinton. Incendiary Attempt. It is stated that an attempt was made to burn the colored graded school, near St Stephen's A. M. E. Church, on Thursday night last, but the flames were discovered in time to extinguish them by the prompt application of sand. Kerosene oil was used, we learn, to stimulate the flames, The damage was slight and there was no general alarm.

Watch-Night Meeting.

The old custom, prevalent here and else where, of watching the old year out and the new one in, will be observed on Monday evening, the 31st inst., by appropriate services at the Front Street Methodist Church, commencing at 104 o'clock and closing immediately after the ushering in of the new year.

Not Altogether in Vain.

A gentleman residing in the neighbor hood of Seventh and Princess streets shot at a thief who was attempting to commit s robbery on his premises a few nights since, and the yells that succeeded the report amply attested that the shooting was not altogether in vain.

Front Street, Jan. 5 and 6. W. H. BOBBITT, P. E.

Wilmington, Fifth Street, Dec. 29 and 30.

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT, having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homosopathy. That night the child passed in suffering and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still suffering; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands sleep well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup, come the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle.
