Capture of an Escaped Prisoner.

The sheriff having received information of the whereabouts of Joe George, one of the prisoners who escaped from the county jail a month or two ago, a posse, consisting of Deputy Sheriff G. W. Murray, J. A. Ashe and Monroe Byrd, surrounded and captured him in his father's house, about six miles from Rocky Point, in Pender county, about half past 10 o'clock on Monday night. The father denied the presence of the son at the house, but he had been seen, and the posse were not to be put off in that way. They were depied admittance, forced their way in, found the fugitive, tackled him, and, after a pretty severe struggle, succeeded in getting the bracelets upon him; the prisoner being a very tall, well built and powerful man. He was put upon the train and brought to this city yesterday morning, and safely lodged in his old quarters, from which he will not be so likely to escape again. George is a white man from Pender county, and is in for perjury.

The Weather kesterday-A Gale.

The wind changed to the southeast du ring Monday night, and the weather commenced moderating rapidly. Early in the day yesterday a heavy rain set in and the wind freshened to a gale, which, as we learn from the Signal office, at one time attained to a velocity of 35 miles per hour. In the afternoon, however, there was a lull and the rain ceased to fall, except in occasional light showers.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Mr. Wm. J. Gordon, a Prominent Insurance Agent, Instantly Killed While Gunning.

Mr. William J. Gordon, a well-known insurance agent of Wilmington, met with a sudden and untimely death yesterday, while gunning at his farm in the eastern limits of the city.

The particulars of the sad affair, as far as they could be gathered, are as follows: Mr. Gordon procured a double-barrel breech-loading shot gun from Mr. Geo. A. Peck's hardware store, about eight o'elock in the morning, and between nine and ten o'clock left his house for a few hours' sport in the fields surrounding his home. A colored man employed on the farm heard and saw him shoot at a bird in the field near the dwelling, and watched him afterwards as he crossed towards a line-fence separating the inclosures. Shortly afterwards the coloredman heard a second shot, but did not again see Mr. Gordon. About half-past 4 o'clock in the afternoon, however, Fuller Huggins, a colored man, passing through the premises, discovered the body of Mr. Gordon lying at the draw-bars of the fence that separated the two fields. He at once gave information of the startling discovery and the body was removed to Mr. Gordon's residence. From the position of the body when found it was apparent that Mr. Gordon was killed while getting through the bars. The upper bar and the two lower bars were in position, with the body of the unfortunate man resting upon the latter, face downwards, the stock of the gun between the feet, and the barrel beneath the body pressing against the breast. Death must have been instantaneous; the charge from the gun entering just below the chin, upper portion of the skull. The sad occurrence is a great shock to the many friends of Mr. Gordon. He was a young man of admirable qualities-gentle, amiable and exceedingly popular; conducting a prosperous and growing business and enjoying the happiest of domestic re-tearing away the face, the brains and the

Mr. Gordon was born in Hertford, Perquimans county, N. C., and was aged about 32 years. In connection with his brother, Col. Jno. W. Gordon-now of Richmond, Va., but formerly a resident here-he conducted a general insurance business in this city under the firm name of J. W. Gordon & Bro. In 1881 he married a daughter of Col. Wm. L. Smith. Recently he purchased the small farm on the eastern limits of the city where he made his home, and in which he seemed to be greatly interested. He was a vestryman of St. John's Episcopal Church and a member of the Knights of Pythias.

Col. Jno. W. Gordon, the brother of the deceased, was telegraphed for, and is expected to arrive here to-day. The funeral is announced to take place this afternoon, at 3 o'clock, from St. John's Church.

The bereaved family of Mr. Gordon have the deepest sympathy. No young man has died here, within our recollection, who seemed to enjoy the respect and confidence of the community in a higher degree.

Joseph Jefferson. The following complimentary notice of Mr. Jefferson's performance at Cincinnati

we clip from an exchange: It is almost enough to say that Mr. Jefferson gave a very fine impersonation of "Fighting Bob Acres," in Sheridan's comedy, "The Rivals." He has long been established as one of the leading comedians of the stage of to-day-one of the few real actors in plays of real merit; and it is matter for public congratulation that after such long service on the stage he maintains him-self so well. Mr. Jefferson was admirably supported last night; or rather we should say that all the characters were admirably taken. It takes more than one man or woman to play one of Sheridan's comedies. Mrs. John Drew, as "Mrs. Mainprop, was simply all that could possibly be asked and Rosa Rand, as "Lydia Languish." commended herself as an actress of uncommon grace, intelligence and artistic strength. Frederic Robinson made a splendid "Sir Anthony," and R. L. Downing as "Captain Jack Absolute" made a handsome appearance, and played so as to take a considerable share of the honors of the evening. Charles Plunkett as "Sir Lucius O'Trigger," A. F. Taylor as "Falkland," Percy Shelly as "David," and Thomas Jefferson as "Fag," were severally and collectively excellent. Lillian Lee as 'Lucy" had the least to do, but did her little well. A fine old comedy like "The Rivals," played by a strong company like that now at the Grand, sends the old playgoer back, in his mind, to the better dramatic days of the past, and makes him want to kick himself for ever having tolerated by his patronage the trash of later "The Rivals" by the Jefferson company is an example of what the stage should be, and the large attendance gives hope that there is not to be utter degeneracy and intellectual depravity in the drama before

WHO QUESTIONS THE HONESTY OF THE LOUISIANA STATE LOTTERY COMPANY :- NO one does so who does business with it or knows anything about it. WHO IS MRS. WINSLOW !- As this question ently asked, we will si a lady who for upwards of thirty years has unti-ringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as a nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are DAILY sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No Mother has discharged her duty to her; suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup Try it, mothers—TEX IT NOW.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City.
