they are more voracious, unfair and where that leaves a duty higher than the Morrill tariff of 1861 it reduces no further.

When taking off 20 per cent. from the present tariff would reduce below the Morrill tariff, the duty is required to remain as in the Morrill tariff. So that the duty cannot be in any case lower than in the Morrill tariff, but may be higher. Therefore the Ways and Means Committee, so far from proposing any radical views on the tariff question, propose a tariff whose average duty will be higher than the Morrill tariff. To illustrate: The present duty on pig free is $6.73, and $20 per cent. reduction would bring it lower than $5.50. Now, as the Morrill tariff laid a duty on it of $6, the effect of the Morrison tariff is to leave the duty at $6. The reduction, therefore, which the bill proposes, will be to strike at the enormous rates on certain articles un-

- Raleigh Visitor: The President of the Exposition to-day received a letter from Mr. W. C. Douglas, of Troy, Montgomery county, advising him that the commissioners of that county have just appropriated the sum of $150 to exhibit the reources of that county in the Exposition. It is not generally known that Montgomery county has in her bounds perhaps more in-teresting relics of the original settlers of this country—Indians, prehistoric races or whatever they may be called—than almost any county in the State. Col. John Cotten, of Flaggtown, has one of the largest collections in North Carolina. - Fayetteville Observer : We are glad to learn that Mr. J. D. McNeill, who has recently been elected Chief Fire Warden, is canvassing the city in order to raise funds to buy a fire engine. —Since this fine weather has set in, work on the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. is progressing rapidly. Trains now run to within about seventeen miles of Greensboro. Work on the Southern end has not been so rapid—the force being much smaller. They are now engaged in building a treatle across Big Rock -- Several times of late we have spoken of some fine dogs recently brought here, and we are sorry to learn that some of the finest dogs in town have died from an unknown and unexplained disease. Maj McKethan has lost two, Mr. B. Broadfoot one, and Capt. W. F. Campbell one, and has another down with the same disease.

- Richmond Rocket: The Phil delphia Press states, as a matter of news to some, that "whole communities in Richmond county speak only the Gaelic lan-guage." The Wilmington STAR, calling attention to the remark of the Press, asks for enlightenment on the subject. Sixty years ago the statement would have applied truly to the Spring Hill neighborhood of this county. At that time the entire population-we mean white-was made up of original Scotch settlers who spoke only the Gaelic. They heard the Gospel delivered in Gaelic. Now, however, it is spoken only by a few of the old people; not from necessity, either, as they long since have well acquainted themselves with the English, and now speak the old dialect simply to amuse and instruct the younger generation. But as a dialect current in their everyday affairs, it has become well night obsolete, as is the case-we are informed

He has been suffering with pysemia. - Mr. Will G. Durant, the young man of Fort Mill who was shot Monday afternoon by Foard Knox, the negro desperado, died yesterday morning at 6 o'cleck. The news of Mr. Durant's death was received in the city early yesterday morning and a number of his relatives went down to Fort Mill on the afternoon train to attend the last sad rites over his remains. The sad ending of this tragedy has caused a deep feeling of mingled regret and indignation among the people of the surrounding community, and large scott-ing parties are searching the country for Knox, the murderer. It is a significant fact that of the parties engaged in the

ARREST FOR MURDER.

Young Colored Woman Charged with Causing the Beath of a Girl by Cruelly Beating Her-She is Held for

of a colored woman named Mary Davis, in this city, at the request of the Coroner of Columbus county, on the charge of murder, and her subsequent release. Yesterday another colored woman of the same name, who was formerly known as Mary Gailord, was arrested on the same charge. This later arrest was made on a warrant issued by Mayor Hall, and turned over to east, the Sheriff, who held a warrant for her from Coroner Henry Thompson, of Columbus county. This warrant charges her with the murder of Tercilla Flowers, a colored girl of that county. It seems from the facts that have come to light that girl had been living with Mary Davis, in this city, and was sent home on Saturday last, when she soon after died, The circumstances connected with the death of the child led the coroner to institute an investigation. He thereupon summoned a jury and held an inquest over the remains, a verdict being rendered to the effect "that said child was beaten to death by one Mary Davis, a citizen of New Hanover, which caused her death."

Mary Davis, alias Mary Gailord, is a young woman, apparently about twentyfive years of age, and neatly dressed. In the sheriff's office she appeared deeply distressed and strongly asserted her innocence of the serious charge, and when Jailor Murray was ordered to take her in charge she burst into an agony of tears and appealed to one after another of the inmates of the room to save her from the terrible fate of being locked up in a felon's cell, declaring that she never beat the child, but that it was suffering from dropsy. She was told that her offence was not a bailable one, and that there was no help for her until her case came up before the proper tribunal. She was thereupon taken to jail, amid protestations of innocence and piteous appeals to be saved from the indiguity of imprisonment, and separation from her infant offspring.

The warrant commits her for trial at the pext term of New Hanover Superior Court; which is a mistake, as our Superior Court tries none but civil cases. Our Criminal Court meets next Monday, and the case will no doubt come up for a hearing during the term.

The first Mary Davis was arrested under a misspprehension, hence her discharge.

The Camewell Electric Fire-Alarm Telegraph.

Mr. D. Howard Tuxworth, of the Southern Electric Company of Baltimore, Md. was here vesterday and had on exhibition one of their "Electric Telegraphic Fire eral use in all the cities of the size throughout the country. Among the advantages claimed for this fire-alarm are that it furnishes to every property holder the means near at hand, in case of fire, for giving an instantaneous and definite alarm; it saves the first ten, twenty or thirty minutes time after the discovery of a fire, which is inevitably lost where the ordinary means of creating an alarm is relied upon; it saves all and more than its running expenses, through the almost entire suppression of false alarms and the unnecessary wear and tear of the fire apparatus incident thereto: t saves the necessity of turning out an entire fire department at every alarm of fire. That portion of a department only which is bearest the signal-box from which an alarm is sounded need respond. In every signal-box there is a telegraphic signal key, by the use of which the chief engineer or his assistants can summon an additional force if they deem it necessary, etc.

There are many other advantages claimed in behalf of the "Gamewell Fire Alarm," but we have not space now to recount them. We regret to learn that so few of our citizens availed themselves of the invitation extended them to be present at the City Hall yesterday afternoon, and see this instrument, and thus form some practical idea of its importance as a fire alarm. Wilmington certainly stands greatly in need of a proper system of fire-alarm, and it is a matter of some moment that when our aushall be with a determination not to have imposed upon them an instrument that can be made of but very little practical benefit. Mr. Tuxworth was expected to leave last evening for Richmond, but will be in Wilmington again in about ten days, when we hope our citizens will call and see his "Electric Telegraph Fire Alarm."

Helen Watkins and Frank Nixon, the colored girl and boy who were arrested on | keep her on the line between Wilmington Vednesday afternoon, charged with the arceny of a pair of shoes from the store of Mr. A. Shrier, on Market street, had a preliminary examination before Mayor Hall vesterday morning, at the close of which they were required to enter into bond in the sum of $50 each for their approaching term of the Criminal Court. failing in which they were sent to jail, The boy, however, was subsequently released on ball.

Fatal Accident on the Carolina Central Rallroad.

Intelligence was received here yesterday morning of an accident on the Carolina Central Railroad, between Bladenboro and Abbottsburg, by which a number of cars were damaged and the engineer and fireman were badly scalded.

The accident occurred about 5 o'clock Tuesday evening to an extra freight train that was going west. The section hands were mending the track and had two rails removed when the train came upon them. The engine and four cars were thrown from the track, and the fireman, Mr. Taylor, was so badly scalded that he died at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The engineer. Mr. C. W. Collins, of Timmonsville, S. C., and a colored wood-passer were severely scalded, but their injuries are not necessarily fatal. Dr. Thomas, of this city, was at once telegraphed for and went up on the night train to the relief of the sufferers. The superintendent of the road brought the wounded engineer to this city in his private car, and upon his arrival an ambulance was sent for to take him to the hospital. Just as the ambulance with the wounded man started up the hill from the depot the horse became unruly, and backing precipitated himself, ambulance, the driver and Mr. Collins into a deep ravine, causing a severe shock to the wounded

The body of Mr. Taylor was also brought down and put in the care of an undertaker. to be prepared for burial and returned to Cronly, where the family of the deceased man reside.

Painful Accident. Col. John L. Cantwell, Secretary and Treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce and Produce Exchange, met with quite a painful accident vesterday afternoon, and one which narrowly escaped being serious in its results. Col. C. had been in the office of Messrs. E. S. Warrock & Co., over the store of Messrs. John Dyer & Son, and had started down the stairs, when one of his feet got hitched, or his cane slipped, and be was precipitated headlong down the stairway. As he was falling, the safety of his head impelled him to thrust his right arm in front to receive the brunt of the inevitable blow, and it consequently suffered most by the fall. We are glad to learn that no bones were broken, or other serious injury suffered. The shock and jar, however, was very severe and the bruises sustained, especially in the muscle of the right arm, proved exceedingly painful. The services of a surgeon were called into re-

The Condition of Mr. Wiggins. Mr. A. H. VanBokkelen returned from Lexington, S. C., yesterday morning, where he has been in attendance upon Mr. E, B. Wiggins, his son-in-law, who was so badly injured on Wednesday, the 30th ult., while in the neighborhood of a stump which was being blasted. He reports the condition of Mr. Wiggins as very favorable. He has been resting well; there are no evidences of stiffness in the injured knee, and the swelling is going down. In word, the family and friends who have been at his side during the trying ordeal feel greatly encouraged and look forward to his recovery as certain.
