The Paternal Pedagogy bill passed the Senate by a large majority-33 to 11-3 to 1. We are giad that slaven Senators stood by the Constilution. The Congress has as much nght to vote away tens of millions to pay the personal debts or to feed the families of the destitute negroes as it has to educate poor illiterates. But we are not very much disappointed in the result. The thirtythree ought to be careful how they talk hereafter of State Rights or local self government or a centralized despotism. There is one native born Republican in Virginia who is a man of honor and truth. We refer to Gen. W. C. Wickham. In his testimony before Sherman's smelling committee he and "he thought there had been no unlawful combination against the colored people, nor had they been threatened with discharge, so far as he knew, for not voting as their employers wished. He believed the feeling, among colored people, that their rights were not safe in the hands of the Democratic party had been brought about by the false teachings of designing men."

VOL. XXXIV.-NO. 15.

WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 1884.

WHOLE NO. 5180

Senator Morgan is a very lively speaker. He is too gifted to need crutches when he stands up to debate. His speech in the Senate on Saturday against the Paternal Pedagogie scheme was very bold and incisive. He was right when he said that the Constitution should be first amended and the people allowed to vote on its adoption or rejection before the public moneys were voted. away for educational schemes by the General Government. He hit the venerable Hoar, the chronic South hater from Massachusetts. "I think," said Hoar, "it is a better thing to try the experiment whether by educating the black man he can be made fit for American citizenship, than without trying that experiment to cheat him out of his vote."

Mr. Morgan remarked that he was sorry the thought had not occurred to the Senator before he enfranchised the black man.

There is a Georgia negro who calls himself John Smith. He is a public incendiary. He is sending a manifesto throughout South Carolina the object of which is to incite the negroes to riot. John will find himself swinging "to a sour apple tree" some fine morning and his "soul will be marching on." This particular, J. S. tells the negroes:

"General Grant has promised to send us an army from the North to sweep our white tyracts from the face of the earth; the North will also send us money and weapons. Rise, fellow-men, in your might; we outnumber the whites three to one; let us sweep them from the face of the earth. Remember the chains of slavery; remember the whips and the auction block. Our can only be saved by a rising; now is the time, now is the hour The colored men of Georgia are ready; join us, my brothers. - Come one, come all.

Not all of the South Carolina papers have broken down under the $120,000,000 temptation. Whilst many sharply criticise Senator Butler for maintaining State Rights and opposing Paternal Pedagogy, there are at least eight that do not like the latter day Democracy. The Abbeville Fress and Banner shows its good sense and devotion to principle

'We are glad to see that Senator Butler takes high ground against the appropriation of the National tressury for educational purposes. There never was a greater wrong than education at public expense, and we doubt the sincerity of any man who pretends to be over-zealous on the subject of negro education."

Persons to be Ejected from Government Property.

In compliance with directions from the Clerk of the U. S. Circuit Court, U. S. Marshal J. B. Hill sends an order to Special Deputy C. H. Strode to oust certain parties from buildings on what is known as the "King property," in the neighborhood of the Marine Hospital. It will be remembered that a lot of land belonging to the government, located in the part of the city named, was sold some ten or twelve years ago by order of the Secretary of the Treasury, and purchased by the late Dr. J. Frances King and others. The amount was to be paid in three installments, and two payments had been made, when a new administration came into power and Secretary Sherman, who claimed that the property had been sold at two great a sacrifice, refused to receive the third payment when tendered or to recognize the validity of the sale. The property consequently reverted back to the government. In the meantime the property (or a portion of it) was parcelled out into lots and sold off to a large number of colored people, some of whom paid part and others paid none at all. By a subsequent act of Congress the money was refunded to such as had paid for their lots, and the government is now endeavoring to get possession of all these lots constituting what was formerly the "King property." The most of those having possession surrendered without giving any trouble, but others still hold on. The order received by Deputy Strode is to give the following occupants of the property until the first of May to surrender the same, and upon failure he is to eject them without further ceremony: Molly Brown, Henrietta Cowan, James Covington, Robt. D. Davis, Wm. Harriss, Mary Hayes, Thomas Herring, Jno. Merrick. Ben Merrick, Ann Moore, Elijah Moore, David Pearsall, Cornelius Wood, Wm. R. Williams, Horace Smith.

You will observe that the balance turned over by the former Board of Managers, $332 05, has been added to our permanent or surplus fund, thereby increasing it to $1,016 57; that the amount received from dues for the year was $1,192 57; and the amount expended $1,167 19, being an increase of expenditures over the previous year of $112-this excess of expenditures being used in providing our exchange with entire new furniture and in fitting up files, racks, &c., (and additional seats) in our present rooms; and after paying every debt up to April 1st we have a balance of $25 57, showing that our income has proven amply sufficient for current expenses; which should be a matter of congratulation.

During the year a line of steamers has been established between this port and Baltimore-Capt. A. D. Cazaux, agent here, and Messrs. Andrews & Co., agents at Bal timore-which must add largely to our trade if properly fostered, and prove el great benefit to our port.

I have every reason for believing that an appropriation will be made at this session of Congress for the erection of a postoffice, court-room and other public buildngs, so much needed here. Through the exertions of our able and most worthy Representative, Col. Wharton J. Green, the committee has reported favorably upon the matter, and it will without doubt pass both Houses. I would beg to call your attention to the fact that the books of our Exchange show a falling off in both our receipts and exports for the present year as compared with last year, which in my opinion should have your immediate attention and most earnest consideration, and every exertion should be made to open up new avenues of trade and to the encouragement of new industries. A portion of this falling off can be directly traced to a loss of a large portion of our trade with Onslow county, which New Berne is making every effort to secure, and with some degree of success; this trade being done in small vessels, 40 tons and under. Since the closing of New Inlet masters think it too hazardous to go to the western bar around Frying Pan shoals, and therefore the trade is gradually leaving us. We should therefore at once use every effort to build the contemplated road from here to New River, in Onslow county, a railroad not more than 35 miles long, and that can be built and equipped (narrow gauge) by estimates of an experienced civil engineer and railroad manager, at a cost not to exceed $200,000, and that would pay as soon as completed. And with New River as a feeder, and the development of the lumber, oyster, vegetable, fruit, canning and other industries would prove not only very profitable to its stockholders, but would restore this lost trade to our city and prove of infinite advantage in many

So if it is their will, the city can in its corporate capacity aid in building these important enterprises, either by taking their bonds or subscribing to their stock, as in their wis-dom may be hereafter determined.

I would beg to call your attention to the proposed State Exposition to be held at Raleigh in October next, and to impress upon you the great benefit that must accrue list will pleas to our entire State and to our section if will be sent properly represented, and the Exposition Washington, prove a success; and to urge upon you to thirty days.
