man can. Mr. Hewitt said as much in his deserved compliment he paid the eloquent and able Ohiop. Has it ever occurred to the reader how many of the very able men in both parties are from Ohio. Thurman, Hurd, Pendleton, Hoadly, Sherman, Emory Storrs and others.

Even the Protection Philadelphia Times admits the greatness and splendor of the effort of Hurd. Its Washington dispatch says:

"Hurd's speech created a greater sensa-tion than has been witnessed in the House of Representatives in many years. It was a magnificent effort and, though it dealt largely with matters of fact, his rare eloquence, which decorated these facts, kept the crowded galleries attentive and enchained the whole House. If Hurd had been a popular lecturer and had been speaking to an enthusiastic audience on some patriotic theme he could not have warmed up more to his work or been applauded with more frequency and more uproariously. At times this applause welled up like a succession of tidal waves, splashing back from the excited galleries. It seemed impossible not to catch the spirit of the moment, for even the most radical protectionist raised his hands mechanically and applauded. When Hurd finished the vast audience applauded as one man. Men rose to their feet in the galleries, apparently forgetting where they were, and swung their hats and shouted. The rush of congratulations overpowered the exhausted orator. The scene was a remarkable one. Such a demonstration in compliment to a speaker is rarely witnessed on the floor of the House and never within recollection where that speech was simply on an economic question. It is the gossip of the city to night."

We print to-day the action of the meeting at Fayetteville. It will be seen that there was a large attendance, enthusiastic speeches, and resolutions adopted that are practical and to the point. We hope the plan suggested will be acted upon promptly. Let the money necessary for the surveys be raised speedily, and let the engineers be put to work at the earliest possible moment. Proper zeal and liberality will cause the initial step to be taken and then for Fayetteville and on and on until the iron horse leaving Wilmington shall do his snorting on the banks of the

The Republican State Convention. By private advices from Raleigh we learn that Gen. S. H. Manning, of this city, offered the following resolution yesterday in the Covention, which was voted down: "Resolved, That the Conference Committee be instructed to place a Republican at the head of the ticket as a candidate for River Improvements-Reports of Engineers in Charge. We have before us the "Annual Report and Harbors in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, in charge of James Mercur, Captain of Engineers, U. S. A., being Appendix K of the Annual Report of the Chief of Engineers for 1883." In it we find, among other Reports, those of Captain Mercur, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., and Captain Wm. H. James, Assistant Engineer, in reference to the improvement of the Upper Cape Fear, Town Creek and Lillington River, in this immediate section. Between Fayetteville and Cypress Landing, 86 miles below, Capt. James says, there are twenty-two shoals, troublesome to navigation at low water to a greater or lesser extent, and all of which need treatment by means of dikes, jetties and wingdams, for contracting and scouring out the channel at these points, and making the best of it at low stages of water. During the year ending July 1st, 1888, there have been taken out of the channel of the river 1,569 sunken trees, 1,496 stumps, 1,454 logs, and 4,154 snags, and 5,614 overhanging trees were trimmed or removed from its banks. The work done has greatly added to the safety and facility of navigation. Between Wilmington and Fayetteville the river has been cleared of the worst and most dangerous obstructions of trees, logs, snags andistumps, except for the distance of about 10 miles between 'Little Sugar Loaf" and "Kelly's Cove," the water having always been too high, in passing up or down the stretch, for work, except trimming and removing overhanging trees from the banks. Great numbers of obstructions still remain in the channel, especially at the crossings of shoals. From Fayetteville down to Wilmington the banks of the river have been pretty well trimmed and cleared of overhanging trees, but a great number of trees, estimated at 8,000, are being undermined by freshets, and, being liable, at such times, to come or slide into the river, they should be removed. A great proportion of sunken logs and other obstructions being hidden, and it being impossible to foresee the number and extent of jetties that will be required, or their effect on the channel, beneficial or otherwise, when constructed, no accurate estimate can yet be made of the amount of further appropriations that will be required to put the river in good order for low water navigation. A further appropriation of $12,000, in addition to balance remaining of previous appropriations, could be advantageously applied to continuing work on this improvement up to July 1, 1885. Congress appropriated at different times $6,000 towards the improvement of Lillington river. Capt. James, in his report, says Lillington river empties into the northeast branch of the Cape Fear river 12 miles above the city of Wilmington, and is navigable for about 11 miles up to the town of Lillington, carrying a depth of 7 to 50 feet for that distance, and a width of from 45 to 500 feet. For about a quarter of a mile below Lillington to Riley's creek the river is very narrow and tortuous. Below the mouth of Riley's creek it is broad and deep, with easy bends. The project under which the work has been done included the removal from the channel of the river of two sunken flats and of all the obstructions of sunken trees, logs, snags and stumps, and the trimming or removal from its banks of overhanging trees, and the cutting off, by dredging, of several sharp bends, between Lillington and the mouth of Riley's creek, giving 5 feet through these cut-offs. The obstructions have been removed, the overhanging trees trimmed or removed from the banks, and much of the dredging has been done. Congress appropriated $1,000 for the improvement of Town creek, in Brunswick county, which has been expended in the removal of obstructions of logs, snags, sunken flats, &c., from the channel, and the most troublesome overhanging trees from the banks of the stream, and the dredging through certain shoals to the depth of 34 feet at ordinary high water. By a further expenditure of from $1,800 to $2,000, Capt. James says, the banks of the stream could be cleared of all troublesome overhanging trees, and a channel of not less than 40 feet wide and not less than 4 fect deep at low water could be dredged out and cleared through all shoals from "Saw-Pitt Landing." to the head of navigation, to "Hog Wallow Landing." Town creek empties into the Cape Fear 8 miles below Wilmington.

CAPE FEAR & YADKIN VAL-

tockholders' Meeting at Fayetteville -Addresses by Mayor Hall and Others-Resolutions Adopted - Importance of the Extension to Wilmington -Propositions for an Immediate Survey, &c.

[Special Star Telegram.]

FAYETTEVILLE, May 1 .- The meeting of stockholders of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway Co., held here to-day, was largely attended. Addresses were made by Mayor Hall and Mr. J. H. Currie, of Wilmington: Mr. John D. Kerr, of Sampson county, and Maj. D. G. McRae, of Fay-

The following resolutions were adopted,

Resolved, That the extension of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway to the port of Wilmington is of the greatest import ance, and ought to be made in the shortest possible time; and, recognizing the great and varied benefits that must accrue to the city of Wilmington by such an extension, the time has arrived when Wilmington should give an earnest of her interest in and appreciation of the enterprise.

Resolved, further, That if the city of Wilmington, or individuals east of Fayetteville, will pay the necessary outlay to make a through survey and ascertain the most practicable route for the road-bed from Fayetteville to Wilmington, with estimates of costs, that a corps of engineers be organized at once and the survey be prosecuted to completion; the money thus furnished to be a subscription to the capital stock of this company and that a line of survey be made by the town of Clinton upon the same terms as proposed to the citizens and city of Wilmington.

Resolved, further, That this meeting of stockholders pledge themselves, after such survey shall have been made and all profiles and estimates submitted to the chief en gineer of the company, subject to his approval, to treat with the authorities of the city of Wilmington and citizens east of Fayetteville, for the construction of the road in the most liberal spirit.

Resolved, further, That to citizens east of Favetteville, or the city of Wilmington. furnishing the money to make this survey, is hereby conceded the right, if desired, to organize and direct the work and the engi-

The Pine Tree and Its Products. The trunk of the pine tree referred to in yesterday's STAR, boxed and faced to show the manner of producing the crude turpentine, has since been placed in a wooden frame or box for protection, and is labelled "A. B. Fleming & Co., Edinburg, care Anchor Line-New York to Glasgow.' Some of the limbs of the tree go with it, and we learn that the whole arrangement is intended for the coming Queen's Exposition," at Edinburg, it being the intention to exhibit the tree which produces the turpentine in its crude state, which will be quite a curiosity to our friends across the water, and also to display in connection with it the various products of the pine, such as the crude turpentine, rosin, tar and pitch. The tree is a fine one for the purpose and weighs fourteen hundred pounds.

Got Justice at Last-Murder Trials. A year or two ago one Dock DeBerry, colored, was arrested here for the larceny of a ham, and subsequently made his escape from the officer having him in charge. Well, Dock was not satisfied with his experience in New Hanover county, but got to "appropriating" things that didn't belong to him up in Anson, in consequence of which he was arrested, and on Wednesday was tried before the Superior Court of that county, now in session, convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for five years.

Our informant also states that three different cases for murder were to be tried before Judge Phillips at Wadesboro this week. The case of one-Alexander Dockery-was to come off yesterday, that of Paul Meares to-day, and that of another colored man (name not remembered) to-morrow.

A Fall from a Mast Head.

Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, a seaman belonging on the Norwegian barque Tetens, lying on the west side of the river, was seated in a boatswain's chair, near the mast-head, engaged at some work, when the chair was suddenly tilted over by some means and he was precipitated to the deck below. He grabbed at and caught the rope attached to the chair as he was being thrown from it and thus in a measure broke his fall. Dr. Schonwald, who examined the unfortunate man, says he don't think he is seriously hurt. No bones were broken, but he may have sustained some injury to his spine, though there was no displacement. It may be, also, that he suffered some internal injury, but there are no indications to that effect as yet.
