EVENING EDITION.

PERSIONING A MAN WORTH

$750,000 As far as we remember no Democratic paper in North Carolina favored the proposition made some two or three years ago to place U. S. Grant on the retired list, In fact, our recollection is that the leading papers generally were pointed and plain in their condemnation of the movement. We remember that there was very sharp criticism in the State press and an angry growl went up because of this attempted outrage upon the people's patience and the public treasury. Since then nothing has occurred to placate this large class, and to make the proposition now pending in the Congress to confer some $17,000, more or less, anaually upon Grant more agreeable to the Democratic tax-payers. The man in Congress who thinks that true Democrats favor or tolerate this proposition to give Grant a $17,000 pension annually, for such it is in fact, is blind and deaf. We have not met a man that does not condemn the movement who has spoken with reference to this very

Why should Grant have this large sum-a very large sum, all things considered-when he is still in possession of property that is worth $750,000. His income is doubtless some $35,000 a year now. Before the war he was glad to have an income of $1,500. He has been the favorite of the North, and has been loaded down with favors and contributions and presents. He is really no mendicant. He is rich-a very rich man. Why then thus attempt to give him $17,000 additional a year and at the people's expense?

consurable raid on the treasury.

While Southern men are thus voting away the hardly taxed people's money, the Coleman Asbury Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, (of Ohio), condemns emphatically and vigorously this abuse. It refers in its resolutions to the large sums paid Grant by the people, amounting to $300,000; and to the sum of $250,-000 given and invested for him by the rich men of New York and Philadelphia. It refers to the fact that he cohentarily retired from the army, in perfect health, and then

"Resolves. That we hereby offer our resmoustrance against the passage of said bill. and condemn the action of each and every Senator who voted for it, be he Democrat or Republican.

It shows how the comrades of Grant who died left families who draw only $8 a month-a beggarly pittance. It shows how his "crippled comrades" are drawing very small pensions. It shows how thousands of soldiers who were permanently disabled by injuries are only getting from $2 to $6 a month, whilst tens of thousands have asked for not one cent. In view of all this it openly, justly, plainly condemns the attempt to retire Grant upon an addi tional pay of $17,000 yearly and with nothing to do. Grant's partnership with Ward in the gigantic awindling operations with which the country is now familto give this bad man the large sum of the rebellion." Voorhees is proposed. Members of Congress fraud in many ways. who do this may expect to have their records scrutinized and ventilated. The old wasteful, corrupt ways have been extended far enough. The peo-

BEPUBLICAN GUDGEONS POR VOTERS.

The Republicans could not course overlook the opportunity of promising more pensions to the Federal soldiers. They promise in extending the already very long list of pensioners that all who come in for share shall draw from the time of their discharge and not from the date of application. Already it requires more than fifty millions annually to pay the pensions.

To show how much in earnest the Republicans are they declare against all "entangling alliances with foreign nations" and give notice that foreign nations must not presume to meddle in American affairs." This is the right platform for Blaine. He is bellicose by nature. He glories in an aggressive foreign policy and if elected we have but little doubt that he will seek a quarrel with some foreign power and plunge the country into war. A foreign war would prove more disastrous to American prosperity than anything else that can possibly occur. Another funny feature of the omnium gatherum thing set up at Chicago is the demand for "the restoration of our Navy to its old time strength and efficiency." This is all right. This great country needs a large and efficient Navy. But how is it that it is almost entirely destitute of a Navy? The answer is that the corrupt Republican Administrations that have been in charge since 1865, have destroyed it and have misapplied, wasted and stolen the the large sum appropriated for its construction and repairs. The expenditures upon the Navy since 1864, beginning with 1865, up June 30, 1881, aggregated the enormous sum of $472,748, 235.93. Since 1881 there has been more than 45 millions expended in the same direction. This would make the total sum expended on the Navy more than 517 millions of dollars. And still there is no Navy. The Republicans have destroyed the Navy with all of this immense appropriation. Be it remembered they had a good Navy when the war ended.

It is in order certainly for the Destructives to declare that "We demand the restoration of our Navy." Of course, But the people should demand the punishment of the thieves and incapables who have stolen the money or misapplied it. The Republican party is corrupt from centre to circumference and having abused its privileges and robbed the overtaxed people of hundreds of millions, perhaps a thousand millions of dollars, it ought to go. Let the people say it must go, and it will go, the negro Chairman Lynch and his clan to the contrary notwithstanding.

Senator Vance has made the minority report upon the Danville riot. The report charges that the investigation was not conducted fairly and that the results have not been stated with judicial impartiality. No one who has any knowledge of John Sherman can expect anything but partisanship and unjust dealing with any public matter he touches. He is not only corrupt but he is bitter and unjust.

Dr. Lancaster, an European scientist, has published an article in Ciel et Terre on human longevity. He says that astronomers are the longest lived people. He gives a list of 1,741 astronomers and their average was 64 years and 3 months. He took 1,000 astronomers and ascertained that 260 of them lived beyond 70 years; 596 lived to 70. Archimedes, Galileo and Lagrange (the three most illustrious mathematical names of Italy)averaged 76 years, 8 months. 47 mathematiceans of the first rank averaged 69 years, 4 months; 50 of the second rank averaged 66 years, 4 months; 380 of the third rank average 65 years, 10 months. This is curious. The more mathematics you know the longer you will live. But then 24 famous literary men averaged 65 years, 6 months, and possibly they only knew enough to count the money they received.

ny Democrat, who is not a Dodger or Trimmer, can beat Blaine. N. Y. Star, John Kelly's Organ.

With the recollection of former campaigns still fresh in mind, the Star is not rash enough to affirm that even Blaine will necessarily be defeated by anybody put in nomination against him. He is an efficient organizer. He will command practically unlimited resources, for the monopolists and jobbers who anticipate favors from him will contribute lavishly to his canvass. Finally, as may be seen from the enthusiam aroused for him at Chicago, he will be fervidly supported by those workers of his party who will not stop to reflect whether a smart rogue is not unworthy to be the Chief Magistrate of a great and intelligent nation. Notwithstanding all this, let the Democrats nominate a clean, strong man for President-a genuine Democrat, not a dodger or trimmer-and Blaine's defeat is assured. Should Mr. Mr. Tilden not consent to run, there are many other sterling Democrats, who, if named, will receive the votes of half a million Republicans as well those of their own party.

THE TILDEN MYSTERY.

N. Y. Herald, Ind.

Among all stripes of Democrats in quarters of the Union there is a show of willingness to nominate Mr. Tilden for their Presidential candidate. But Mr. Tilden preserves an Asiatic mystery toward his worshippers. We presume that Mr. Tilden is desirous for his party to succeed in the election, whether he is the candidate or not. Therefore it is pertinent to call his attention and that of his confidants to a danger to which this mystery is exposing the Democratic chances. Elections of delegates to the Democratic National Convention are occurring daily, When the mystery is solved, if it turns out that Mr. Tilden will not be a candidate, various competitors for the nomination may have occasion to complain that in many instances these elections would have resulted differently had it been definitely known that Mr. Tilden was out of the question.

Tears and Dollars forG rant.

Richmond Christian Advocate. Gen. Grant is represented as financially ruined, while having for life fifteen thousand dollars a year, and probably will get twenty thousand additional as an annuity from the Government. The General for several years in Missouri and at Galena used to rub along on less than fifty thousand a year. Public sentiment is debauched and society rotting to the core when lavender-water tears are shed over the fifteen million robbers, and no pity for the plundered and helpless poor.

Worcester (Mass.) Spy-Not only was Mr. Blaine the free choice of the convention, but it is safe to go fur-ther and say that his nomination is acceptable to a considerable majority of the Republican voters of the country. But that does not imply that his election will be easy. No doubt he will make a "rattling" campaign. There will be plenty of crowded meetings, ringing speeches, and tremendous cheering. But no candidate who has been thought of has so many resolute opponents among men who would glady vote with the Republicans if the Republican party would give them a candidate for whom they could vote with a good conscience. Philadelphia Ledger, Rep.

As to the broader side—the side of the whole country—the misgiving on the side of safety, grows out of Mr. Blaine's aggressive nature as an American statesman and the influence this may have upon his policy and course as President of the United States. And this is a serious matter. It has been feared, no less by some of his earnest co-Republicans than by some of those who are not of his party, that his in-tensity of feeling as an ardent disciple of the "Monroe dectrine," and all implied by that designation, may lead him into en-tanglements with foreign countries that may embroil the country, or place it in the attitude lately occupied, not much to the gratification of our national pride in the Chile-Peru imbroglio. This touches the business and the business men of the country on a sensitive point, and the votes of the business community make a strong factor in Presidential elections. They have decided more than one critical canvass.

Chicago Dally News. It is perhaps needless to say that the act the Convention has not changed our opinion of the man who is now the nominee of the Republican party. That act table political Lethe, but we see no reason to follow those whose convictions are so easily changed,

Rochester (N. Y.) Post Express,

The Republican National Convention has preferred taking a risk to insuring a certainty, and of all risky courses open to it it has selected the most risky. In nominating Blaine a mortal challenge has been offered to the floating vote of the country, which always has it in its power to decide a close election, and the Independent Republicans have been confronted with a candidate most obnoxious to them. The nail having been driven home, it has been clinched or the other side by adding the name of John Logan to the ticket.

N. Y. Evening Post. That Mr. Blaine cannot be elected, we look on as certain. Whether he can be de-feated without ruining the organization which is being prostituted in the service of his selfish ambition remains to be seen. The extent of his defeat—that is, the size of the majority which will remove him personally from the political arena—will depend largely on the action of the Demo-

New Haven News.

Is that man going to build up the party whose nomination alienates some of its most honored leaders? Is the great army of Republicans to be consolidated under a commander who begins his first battle with the corps of independent Republicans deserting from his standard? Is his selection the choice of a leader who will concillate and unite rather than distract and weaken? If an affirmative answer comes to these questions it surely will not be given by the reform element of Mr. Blaine's own party. Springfield Republican, Ind. Rep.

These nominations are revolutionary. They are such as the Republican party has never before presented, and will carry dismay and alarm to thousands of men who have regarded this as the party of safety, of integrity, of principle, and of high mo-ral ends. They portend deserved disaster and defeat to the Republican party and a revolution in the National Administra-

Should the Democrats blunder as have the Republicans, and nominate the most objectionable man in their ranks, thousands of Independents might feel compelled to vote for Blaine in order to avoid the probable evils of a Democratic restoration who would not under any other contingency. The National Convention of that party will now he the next point of absorbing interest. We only chronicle what is a patent fact to every discerning person, that the Democrats can win thousands of Republican votes for their Presidential candidates in mass provided they select their strongest man.

Flushing (Long Island) Journal. In view of Mr. Blaine's nomination at Chicago, we are not prepared to say that he ought not to be elected—at least not yet. But then this a day of small New York Times.

The friends of Mr. Blaine are trying to make out that his nomination was a victory of the "people" over the "machine." was really in great part a logical outgrowth of the spoils system as complete and as significant as the canvass for Mr. Arthur's nomination. Forry Boat Swept over the Falls of a River-Eleven Men and Thirteen Pack-Horses Browned. [By Telegraph to the Morning Star.]

HELENA, June 10 .- On Sunday afternoon, while the ferry-boat at Thompson's Palle was crossing the river, the cable broke and the best went over the falls three hundred yards below. The boat had eleven men bound for the Cœurd De Aline mines, and thirteen pack-horses, each carrying three hundred pounds of supplies for Berle City. The current was very swift, and powerful. As soon as the cable broke all of the passengers except two jumped overboard and struggled vainly to reach the shore, but were swept over the falls. The boat righted after going over the brink and lodged against Belknap bridge, a short distance below, where two passengers, who were still clinging to it, were rescued.

Two men on shore took a skiff and tried to rescue those who hadljumped into the water, and they were also awept over the falls. Of the thirteen men concerned eleven were lost. All were strangers, going to the mines, and their names are not known. All of the pack animals were drowned.

"What a beautiful bridge between old age and hildhood is religion. How intuitively the child begins with prayer and worship on entering life, and how intuitively, on quitting life, the old man turns back to prayer and worship, putting himself again side by side with the infant," remarks Sir E. Bulwer Lytton, in his "Strange Story." Yes, but between its distant abutments the bridge of life has many high and awful arches. through which the wild waters dash and war in wrath and desolation. Prayer and worship alone do not sustain these. Nature's solid rocks must lie unshaken beneath, and human art and skill must rear and solidify the structure overhead. God's will is best examplified in the laws He has made for the creatures whom he has placed un der their control. Neither the child's trustful "Our Father," nor the old man's "Forget me not in the midst of mine infirmities," will alter this by the weight of a single grain.
