EVENING EDITION.

BASCALITY.

There is nothing in the history of judicial proceedings that is more disgusting to honest tax-payers than the pretended investigation into the Star Route thieveries. We refer to it now only to call attention to the testimony of Mr. Richard T. Merrick before the Springer Investigation Committee of the House. He confined himself in his last day's testimony to the case of the Government against W. P. Kellogg, the conspicuous Radical from Louisiana. Price was objected to as a witness. He could prove beyond a doubt the guilt of Kellogg. Bliss objected and threatened to leave if Price was accepted as a witness. Bliss, however, remained. Here is a part of the evi-

Was anything said about Kellogg's possible conviction affecting the Republican majority in the Senate? asked Springer. I don't think anything was said at the time. That subject was mentioned, howover, on several occasions. I have said it myself. Others may have said it. I directed Ker to go before the grand jury, and said to him as Kellogg's term expired March 4th he had better not bring in the presentment until after that time

Here is another sample:

Merrick testified that he was advised by a 'party' that Bosler desired to be relieved from the subposus. He refused to say who the friend was that intervened in Bosier's behalf, but some of the newspaper correspondents broadly intimated that it

Rascality in this country is evi dently at a premium. As reputable a paper as the Philadelphia American is, gives it as its opinion that Blaine's ugly record in connection with the Mulligan letters will not injure him ten votes. We do not believe a word of this. We believe that tens of thousands of honest Republicans will turn in disgust from that shameful record of corruption and will support either some other Republican candidate or the Democratic candidate. The latter will depend upon the men selected at Chicago on the 8th of July. Bayard and Pendleton or Cleveland and McDonald would receive tens of thousands of Republi-

SPEECH-MAKING IN THE CON-GRESS.

The motion of Mr. Randall to allow members of the House to print speeches that are never delivered The idea of converting the Congressional Record into a medium through which members can train themselves to write has the flavor of novelty. The Record purports to be a fair and true account of what occurs in the two Houses each day. speeches they have delivered before they go into the Record, but they speeches that are never delivered, are after long waiting. never a part of the proceedings of dent of Washington or some newspaper correspondent. It is a fact that many speeches spoken even are not the productions of the declaimers. But why pervert the Record, make it tell an untruth, and palm off a deception upon the public? Why send out a printed falsehood and thus mislead constituents?

We open the Congressional Record. In big letters it is announced -"Speech of Hon. J. Bloodgood Blunderbus on the Tariff, delivered in the House, &c., on May 19th, 1884." No such speech has been delivered. Possibly Hon. J. B. B. never wrote a line of it, never committed a line of it to memory, and did not understand it after it was written for him. But there are many absurd and curious things done in the U. S. Congress, and changing the Record into a sort of penny paper for the purpose of airing crude ideas and commonplace rhetoric has at least the merit of originality.

THE NEW HAVEN BOLT.

The fact that 200 prominent Republicans in New Haven have joined the Independents and will not vote for Blaine is very hopeful and very significant. While the organ-grinders are telling their readers that the Republican revolt is nothing-a mere temporary little shower that will soon be gone-the split is widening hourly. In Boston the Independents number thousands, and all over the State they are very numerous. In New York the revolt has already attained to very considerable dimensions. In New Haven the movement is very important. When it is remembered that a change of some thirteen hundred votes will give the State to the Democratic candidate this movement is of great moment, The New York Times says:

There are in the list which has been published the names of many active business men and manufacturers. Dry goods merchants and cigar makers, and retail dealers whose names have been well known in the city for many years stand by the side doctors, and old workers in the Republican There are many names known far beyond the boundaries of the city; for example, those of Prof. James D. Dana, Prof. Wm. D. Whitney, and Prof. George Fisher, who take with them a score of Yale professors; those of Dr. Francis Bacan, an eminent surgeon, the Rev. Dr. Harwood, one of the leading clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and Gen. Russell, the master of a military and collegiate school that has graduates in all parts the Union. With these are the names of men upon whom in past years the party has relied for hard work in the wards; active lawyers who have played their parts in city politics and held office, and representatives of old and wealthy families who have upheld the party with their votes and their money."

AN INTERESTING DECISION.

An interesting case was decided recently by the Supreme Court of Georgia. Certain policy-holders sned for a proper division of the sinking fund, or reserve fund, of the Southern Mutual Insurance Company. The accumulation amounts to $1,200,000. The Company claimed that the surplus belonged to the present policyholders and that the Directory had the sole power to determine the time for division. The decision was this:

"First-That mutual insurance companies are justified in keeping such a reserve fund as the experience of good companies shows to be prudent, in no case to be over $150,000. Second-That all amounts over that rum should be divided at once. "Third-That the division should be made pro rata among all equally who at any time contributed anything toward the

A special from Atlanta to the Louisville Courier-Journal says that great sensation has been created as there is scarcely a house which has not at some time in the last thirty years been insured in this company, so that the division of a million dol lars reaches perhaps fifty thousand persons." All who had ever been connected with the company are interested. All lapsed policy holders are to come in for their share. Two Georgia lawyers are said to have received $100,000 each. They are Henry R. Jackson and Henry R. Lumpkin.

THE VALUE OF OUR FORESTS.

Of course there is a decided spurt in the price of timber, but after all the price is not one-fifth or one-tenth its value. Just as fast as the remaining forests in the North are destroyed will be the demand upon the South for timber. The Northern speculapassed by almost an unanimous vote. tors are not waiting for the supply at home to be exhausted. They are taking time by the forelock, and for years they have been buying up vast bodies of timber in North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, and perhaps other Southern States. The STAR has again and again warned our peo-But it seems members not only think | ple not to be in a hurry to sell their they have a right to add matter to timbered lands, and when they did sell to ask a good price. The result is that hundreds of the Congress, and for aught the pub- thousands of acres have been sold he Congress, and for aught the pub-hic knows were written by some resi-and at small prices. The Northern that several of them think that Mr.

buyers must wonder at the ignorance and blunders of the sellers. The following, taken from the last Salisbury Watchman, shows how valuable the forests are. It says:

"A worker of our hard woods, and s large dealer, told the writer the other day that he had bought a second growth hicko-ry tree, standing, for five dollars and fifty cents. He said that the man from whom he purchased was fully satisfied with the price paid. He cut the tree and sawed it in the careful manner, and when he had finished the work, he counted up the value, and found that he had turned out frem this single tree one hundred and thirteen dollars and sixty cents worth of marketable material. This should prove an eye opener to the owners of valuable forests."

It was charged that Ker proposed to let one of the accused in the Star Route trials off by paying $5,000. This was the testimony of J. B. Colgrove, a Government contractor, before the Springer Committee. Ker denies the charge. C. D. Colman recently testified that Mr. Colgrove gave C. C. Cole, a partner of W. A. Cook, Government counsel in the Star Route cases, $750 to protect him from an indictment. But Col grove says Judge Key, then in Washington, knew of the correctness of his statement. Altogether it is a nice business-that Star Route pre tense. 'I here is nothing more shameful. A parcel of thieves rob the Government of millions, and not one of them is brought to punishment, and the Government officials connive at the great crime.

The nomination of Gen. W. R. Cox for a third term in the Raleigh District is a recognition of his zeal and usefulness as a faithful member of the House. Gen. Cox is not a man of high abilities, but he is attentive to duty, is approachable, is a man of strictest probity and truth, and will have clean hands in the midst of profligacy and corruption. The defeat of Judge Fowle will be disappointing to a great many admirers outside of the Fourth District. His marked ability, his fervid, thrilling, impassioned eloquence, his services to the party led many in this city to desire his nomination.

The House has adopted a substitute for the Senate's Electoral Court bill. It is surely of great importance that a bill of some kind to regulate the counting of the Presidential votes should be adopted. The experience of 1876-77 is enough to prompt Congressmen to give their closest attention to the perfecting of a bill to regulate the matter and to prevent trouble. The Senate bill, if a better one can not be framed, ought to pass, The House should cooperate and no factious opposition should be tolerated. The country needs and expects the adoption of a plan.

Already there are three candidates for the Presidency, namely, Butler, Pomeroy, (Prohibitionist from Kansas), and Blaine. Pomeroy was nominated on the 20th inst., at Chicago, where the National Prohibition Convention met. J. A. Conant, of Connecticut, is the candidate for Vice

In the convention of delegates from the counties composing the Sixth Congressional District, held at Raleigh yesterday, Messrs. Thomas W. Strange, of New Hanover, and J. T. LeGrand, of Richmond, were elected delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

WADE HAMPTON FOR BAY-ARD.

Washington Correspondent of Balt. Sun. Senator Hampton, of South Caroina, who has been firm for Mr. Bayard for months past, said to-day that Southern Democrats should not be too hasty in committing themselves to Cleveland. He had received, he said, a number of communications from political friends in New York assuring him that a majority of the New York delegates to Chicago are opposed to Cleveland, some going so far as to say that his name will not even be presented to the convention by a New York man. The statements about Cleveland's wonderful vote over Folger go for naught when the figures of the last Presidential vote are placed beside the Cleveland vote. Hancock's vote was 534,511 Cleveland 535,318, Garfield 555,544 and Folger 342,464. It will be seen that Cleveland simply got the full vote of his party, while nearly 200,-

000 Republicans refused to vote. While a majority of the Southern delegates are undoubtedly favorable to Senator Bayard, they are not wholly opposed to Gov. Cleveland. Under existing circumstances the Southern delegates should go to Chicago uninstructed, with the privilege of supporting whoever they find to be the strongest and best man for the party. They should not go there under the impression that Cleveland has the support of his own State, when such is not the fact. Senator Hampton's views as a rep-sentative Southern Democrat are of interest and importance on the points involved. Your correspondent learned to-day, in conversation with other Bayard would be a stronger candidate both in New York and Massa chusetts than Gov. Cleveland, and they are very much in favor of tak-ing him up if New York does not promptly bring Cleveland forward. Yet it was also found that some other Southern Senators were bitterly opposed to Mr. Bayard, but only-for of course it could not be otherwiseon the sole ground of expediency.

CURRENT COMMENT.

-A correspondent of the American Architect makes what at first sight seems the incredible assertion that "the fire tax is now the heaviest tax imposed on this Nation." If, however, he is accurate in adding that "loss by fire is $100,000,000 a year, or 1 per cent. on a very large estimate of our annual product, which cannot exceed $10,000,000,000 in value," he has made good the assertion, startling as it is. Many people have long been of the opinion that the business of fire insurance as it is conducted in this country does more harm than good to the community. It is, we think, unquestionable that the standard of building in cities would be higher if owners were compelled to shoulder their own risks instead of shifting them .- New York

- Some of Mr. Blaine's support ers are talking too much for his own good and about the foreign policy he favors, especially as to his alleged anxiety for the acquisition of Cuba as one of the first fruits of his Administration, and his reputed willingness to pay $500,000,000 for the property. If the Republican candidate does not wish to appear unnecessarily adventurous in the eyes of the Ameri can people, he will stop the mouths of these fool gossips, and put a particularly big stopper on the tongue of the ex-collector of Key West. The people of this country don't want Cuba at any such figures .- Washington Post, Dem.

- If the Democrats expect to elect the next President, or want to get anything like an even chance to elect him, the must speedily stop fooling about it. New York is the centre of Democratic interest because it is the centre of possible Democratic power. It is the foundation on which must be reared the monument of Democratic success, if such success is to be attained. That apparently controlling State has been left unguarded for the Democrats to possess it; but if they would not give it back to the Republicans who have lost it, they must stop fooling about it. Whether Gov. Cleveland is the best candidate to be presented by New York, we are not prepared to decide; but it requires no special perspicacity to see that the presentation of Roswell P. Flower would be simply disgraceful fooling with a supreme opportunity. - Philadelphia Times, Ind. Rep.

Blind Leaders of the Blind. New York Sun.

Mr. Turner, of Georgia, provoked good deal of laughter and applause the other day when he made this point against some of his brother Congressmen: "There is on the avenue occasionally, as one passes down from the capitol, a man who holds on his arm a basket, and who has a board on his breast on which there is written this sentence: I am blind. There are some gentlemen higher in the scale of life who, when they appeal to the charities of the public, need not carry that legend on their bosoms to show that they cannot

That Begging Circular. Chester Herald

In its circular the Philadelphia Press claims to have already received contributions to the amount of $12, 000, but wants it increased to $20, 000. It will doubtless strike most workingmen that if the iron masters can afford to contribute $20,000 to this single channel of electioneering they certainly could afford to increase their employes' wages, which at present are very low.

Cheaper than Poems. New. York Sun.

"Do you ever purchase articles?" he asked blandly, as he entered the editorial room.

"Occasionally," said the editor kindly, "when they suit our columns. What have you got, a poem?" "No, sir, parlor matches, a cent a box, or six boxes for a nickel."

OUR STATE CONTEMPORARIES.

We want the college to manufacture less honors and more scholars. We are disgusted often by hearing an ignorant teacher who has usurped the rod two years, called "Professor —." We want fewer "professors" and more possessors of knowledge. We want less sham and more learning .-Shelby Aurora.

We concur with the Wilmington STAR in its views expressed in a recent issue about the utter futility of the course pursued by many parents, guardians and school masters in fixing a procrustean educational curriculum for boys. It is nothing short of an unwarranted imposition upon a boy to force him to trudge through a course of study looking to a line of life work for which he is by nature atterly disqualified. All the teaching within the command of the most gifted and best furnished teachers can never succeed in making a machinist, worthy of the name, and preparatory to making a living, and being useful to society, out of some boys. - Pittsboro Home.

A LADY'S HAIR SAVED BY ITS USE. BURNETT'S COCOAINE will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the rocts of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. The superiority of BURNETT'S FLAVOR-ING EXTRACTS consists in their perfect purity and great strength.
