Newspapers are deservedly praising the excellent and very voluminous report sent on from Chicago by the Western Associated Press. It was other. The Judy was the winning schoonwell done and eclipsed all former attempts in the way of reporting and telegraphing.

There is a certain set in New Orleans who are kicking up at the Democratic platform and are organizing Blaine and Logan Clubs. They have not been identified with the Republican party. They are moved by the sugar interests.

"Sunset" Cox says Cleveland is good to carry New York. He says the platform is first-rate. Representative Holman, of Indiana, thinks New York is safe. Senator Vest, of Missouri, is much pleased with both the platform and the nominee. He does not regard Kelly's alleged op-Position as of serious consequence.

- There were six interments at - The Newton Enterprise fails to credit the STAR with a carefully prepared editorial on "Illiteracy in the Two Parties." - The Winston Leader favors Mr. C. B. Watson, a man of talents, for Congress. It says Surry is solid for him.

- Hickory Press : We are gratified to see the cotton crop of Catawba looking so fine. —Our tobacco farmers tell us that the prospects for a good crop this season were never better. Much of the weed has been topped.

- Elizabeth City Economist: The crops are all looking finely. — Enos Bray was drowned on Saturday morning while attempting to swim from the end of Shiloh wharf to some near point, supposed to have been taken with cramp,

- New Berne Journal: Cleveland and Hendricks, Scales and Stedman! Well about twenty thousand majority ought to do. — It is estimated by careful observers that the jujury to the wheat crop of the State by the long rainy season will not exceed five per cent.

Raleigh Visitor: A white man broke into a store in Durham on Saturday night last, and yesterday morning he took a walk down to Brassfields, where he took the mail train coming east. He was sur-prised to find the deputy sheriff aboard, who placed a pair of bracelets on his wrists and brought him to this city.

- Winston Leader: New wheat is being marketed. - James Norman was arrested near Old Town, Tuesday last by officer Martin Peoples, for violation of revenue laws. - Dr. York is the first man in North Carolina, white or colored who has declared for unconditional equal civil rights for the colored people.

- Beaufort Telephone: Mr. Asa Willis died on Smyrna on Saturday, July 5th, 1884, at the advanced age of 91 years and 5 months: - Harlowe item: Crops are growing beyond our most sanguine hopes and expectations, while matured bread stuff, or rather of the corn variety, (too busy to thresh wheat) and swine, were never scarcer and harder to obtain, in our

- Statesville American: Farmers from this and adjoining counties, say that crops generally never looked more promising at this season of the year. Tobacco plants are exceptionally fine. We are told that with our merchants trade is as good, if not better, than it usually is at this season of the year. - The danger to the wheat is happily past and the crop is comparatively safe. The yield is said to be be very satisfactory.

- Warrenton Gazette: Merchandising is not and has not been a profitable business in Warren county for the last ten or twelve years. From the best information we can get some six or eight hundred persons have engaged in the business since the war, and of this number some eight in ten were forced to retire ruined in pocket and credit. The number of vacant store houses and those with a handful of goods in them bear witness to our assertion.

- Greenville Reflector: A very had accident occurred near the wharf last Friday morning. A party of colored men had the cannon out and were firing salutes to the excursionists from Washington. The gun had been fired several times and while a load was being rammed in it fired off accidentally and severely wounded George Dudley and William Hanrahan and slightly injured one or two others. Hanrahan was thrown about ten feet from the gun and was terribly burned about the arms, face and body. Dudley's severes injury was about the face and it is thought his eyesight is totally destroyed.

- Goldsboro Messenger: Farmers are complaining of the excessive rains. Still the crops are looking well and an abundant harvest is expected. - At Teachy's our old friend Augustus Morris has about completed his commodious labo-ratory; and so the ball continues to move. - Rt. Rev. A. A. Watson, Bishop of East Carolina, held service in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, in this city, last Thursday morning, and preached a most excellent sermon, although considerably indisposed. In fact, the Rt. Rev. Doctor was so unwell that he found it necessary to cancel for the present his other Episcopal visitations and return to his home to recu-

- Pittsboro Record: A few days ago Deputy Sheriff John W. Smith, of Matthews township, arrested and earried to the penitentiary a notorious, convict named John Hopkins, who escaped from custody last March while at work on the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad. — On last Thursday there was the heaviest fall of rain in the western part of this county that has almost ever been known before. Not only were all the streams at once swollen out of their banks, but all the flat and level places became ponds of water Seve ral washouts occurred in the bed of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad, between Siler and Egypt, but they were soon repaired. Many farmers lost a good deal of their wheat and oats. - Statesville Landmark: The speech making at the State Convention was uncommonly poor. Even Col. Walter L. Steele, confessedly a very full and ready man, spoke tamely. Mr. M. Q. Waddell is noted as a humorist. There was no humor, rhyme nor reason in his speech. The best nominating speech of the first day, by odds, was that of Mr. Henry R. Bryan, of Craven-a gentleman and a scholar, we wager. Mr. Latham's speech in nominating Capt. Coke was a straining after eloquence. The speech of Mr. Bower, seconding the nomination, was a failure. The house hushed its noise when Mr. Linney rose, but he did not do himself his usual credit. At night, Mr. Glenn made a very powerful speech in nominating Mr. Davidson for Attorney General.

Thursday night the wife of Mr. John W. King of Farmville, died very suddenly. — Col. G. W. Johnson is cultivating a very fine crop of tobacco, with a special view to furnishing specimens for the State Exposition. His crop is now very promising. — Capt. James R. Thigpen was in town a few days ago. Capt. Thigpen is known throughout North Carolina as one of the most successful, enlightened and progressive agriculturists in the State. One of his fields, containing three hundred acres, is filled with cotton that will average more than knee high. Last year he put up 21,000 pounds of meat and made a very large crop of corn and small grain. He sells large quantities of lard and deliciously cured hams for which he gets a good price. He has a flock of 160 sheep and every year sends off about 800 pounds of wool to be manufactured into cloth and sold in his own store. He manufactures the greater part of all the fertilizers used on the farm. - Greenville Standard: On last Domestic Infelicity.

A colored man and his wife, residing in the neighborhood of Sixth and Mulberry streets, had quite a scrimmage Monday night and aroused the attention of the people in that vicinity. It seems that the husband wanted to move from his present location and the wife was not disposed to follow him, for reasons which she stated. As soon, therefore, as he commenced loading the dray with articles belonging to her she commenced a desperate resistance, which ended in his giving her what "Paddy gave the drum." She finally succeeded, however, in securing possession of a bed and one or two other articles, and says "the end is not yet."

Those going should go up the W. & W. road Tuesday morning, the 22nd, as they will then be met at Faison's and conveyed to their destination at Goshen.

Improving.

We are glad to learn from one of the surgeons who amputated the arm of Mr. Nathan Smith, who was so badly injured at Rocky Point, Sunday morning, by getting in the way of a passing train, that he is now doing well and is expected to recover. One of his collar bones was fractured, in addition to the loss of an arm.

FIENDISH MURDER. Particulars of a Horrible Murder in Cumberland County-Posse in Pur suit-The Inquest, &c.

Intelligence of a terrible murder comes to us from Cumberland county. One day during the latter part of last week there was a cider-drinking on the east side of the Cape Fear river, about six-miles from Fayetteville, during which a difficulty occurred between John Chance and Frank Royal, both colored, and both somewhat under the influence of their numerous potations. Finally Chance succeeded in getting the better of Royal, and it was generally acknowledged that the latter was a "whipped nigger." His defeat aroused bitter feelings in the heart of Royal and he deter mined upon revenge. He went home and prevailed upon his wife to send for Chance to come and see her, and he in the meantime concealed himself upon the premises. All unsuspectingly John Chance went to the house of his late antagonist, had a chat with his wife and was on the point of leaving, when Royal, who was on one side of the door, knocked him down with an axe, then jumped upon him, pocket-knife in hand, and stabbed or cut him in twelve different places, concluding his fiendish work by cutting his throat from ear to ear. He then left the bleeding form upon the ground and started off, but at the gate he met one of his boon companions, to whom he related the circumstances of the bloody tragedy, and ended his story with the declaration that he was afraid John was not dead yet, and he would go back and make sure of it. He then returned to the side of his victim and actually broke one of his legs and cut off one of his arms with the axe. Sheriff R. W. Hardie was notified, and immediately issued the necessary papers for the murderer's capture, which were placed in the hands of John Chance's brothers, who were deputized to make the arrest. They started in pursuit of Royal, accompanied by a posse, but up to Monday morning they had not succeeded in taking

John Chance, the murdered man, was about 25 years old and leaves no family. Frank Royal, the murderer, is about 35 and is married.

The murder is given up on all sides to have been one of the most cold blooded, brutal and fiendish that was ever committed in Cumberland county, and it is hoped that the perpetrator will be brought to jus-
