The nomination of Mr. James W. Reid, of Rockingham county, by is nothing to the whistling the Rethe Democrats as the candidate for publican papers are now doing. the U.S. House in the Fifth District, to succeed Gen. Scales, now the candidate for Governor, was not a surprise to us. We do not know him and never saw him, but we learn that he has inherited much of the sterling worth and eloquence of his gifted father, the Rev. Dr. Numa Fletcher Reid, who was one of the foremost pulpit orators of North Carolina of the last forty years. Mr. Reid will dobtless be elected. North Carolina never had a man of purer and nobler character than his lament ed father.

The Liberals in England are split up. Mr. Gladstone has called a halt and says he will not force the Franchise bill. This is displeasing to a majority, who insist that a direct attack be made upon the House of Lords. They disapprove of the Ministerial decision to not make the House of Lords veto the Franchise bill. This is the chief point of agitation. The other section of the delegates will support a motion for the reform of the House of Lords. The Radicals are making preparations for a demonstration at Hyde Park in favor of the abolition of the hereditary movement.

The last census lends itself to perpetrating some monstrous falsehoods as to the ages of people. According to the various statements as to the old folks there are 267 over 100 year of age in North Carolina. Of these 220 are negroes. It is a wonder that there are not thousands, for every negro who reaches 70 is sure to say he is 100 or mere. Not a record of their lives was kept or produced, and still the lie is coolly put into the census just as if there was the slightest basis for the statements.

Explorer Stanley has reached London. He says of Gen. Gordon:

"Mr. Stanley considers that General Gor-don can during the present season ascend the Nile in steamers from Kharjoum to Gondokoro, a distance of 500 miles in eight days; thence proceed to Bahar and Elgahazal and join Lupton Bey, who commands 400 troops, having in their possession £40,000 worth of ivory. Gordon could then proceed with this addition to his force to Zanzabar. Should the soldiers refuse to take this journey, or should some other course prevent the plan, Gordon could cross to Uganda; reach the Stanley stations and proceed down the Congo.

"President Arthur arrived here this morning in the revenue cutter Despatch (with Assistant Secretary of State Davis, Miss Nellie Arthur, Miss McElroy, her cousin, and Private Secretary Phillips), and proceeded to his quarters at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, without attracting any more attention than the humblest private citizen, who has no patronage to dispense."

disliking no one and disliked by none. Mr. Hester has no tenants or servants living in his yard. Early Sunday morning, before day, one of the tenants discovered a fire to be raging at Mr. Hester's house, gave an alarm, went to the dwelling and discovered that his smokehouse, with a wheat house attached, had been burned to the ground, and attempted to arouse McMurray, who he and attempted to arouse McMurray, who he knew had been left in charge of the house, but failed to do so. At a meeting of the congregation of the Second Presbyterian Church, held on Wednesday evening last, it was unanimously decided to extend a call to Rev. R. C. Reed, of Virginia, to become the pastor of that Church. Rev. Mr. Reed, it will be remembered, preached for that congregation on two Sundays recently, and his sermons on both occasions were received with much favor. Rev. Mr. Reed is said to be a very able minister for his age (about 35 years), his manner and style being something after that of Rev. Dr. Hoge, and it is hoped that he will find it convenient to accept the call tendered him with such unanimity and cordiality.

Persons residing out Fourth street, in the direction of Hilton, or having business in that portion of the city, report that Pompey Snead, the outlaw, with one or more of his confederates, are frequently seen rambling about in that neighborhood, and their presence is a source of constant dread to many of the residents, who fear that depredations will be committed by them of some character or another. It has been suggested that if a suitable reward should be offered for Snead and his companions, or especially for him as the ringleader, it might lead to

No doubt many have thought the Commissioner made the amount of bail a little excessive, taking into consideration the magnitude of the offence; and who wonders that the defendant went to jail, with a $200,000 bond staring him in the face? SPEECH OF MR. J. T. LEGRAND.

Mr. Chairman and Fellow Delegates:

I desire to present to the consideration of this Convention the choosing of a gentleman who, not only has never been false to a friend, but always true to the best interests of his country; about whose ability to carry this District by 2,000 majority, no doubt will be or can be seriously entertained. A man whose loyalty to his party is above all suspicion, whose name is the synonym of the best elements of Democracy and an invincible argument against Radicalism; whose history, as soldier, lawyer, judge, legislator and patriot, will be a sound plat-form upon which all honest men can stand, and whose record in private and public life will enthuse and strengthen the great cause of Democracy throughout the length and breadth of this District! I desire to name you a man, sir, who is the soul of honor; whose honesty and integrity have never been questioned; who is the known enemy of corruption; into whose ears the foul breath of the lobbyist at Washington has never whispered, and whose career in the Legislature and Constitutional Convention signalized the entrance and marked the leadership of the young Democracy in the politics of our State. I desire to point you to a man who, while yet 'won his spurs upon the tented field," impressed his genius and ability on the statute books of North Carolina, and breathed his very spirit into our organic law—the constitution itself—by the heroic suffering of its patriotic victim. A man, who, as judge, "held high the scales," meeted out speedy and impartial justice to all men, won the entire respect and confidence of the bar, and preserved unsullied and untarnished the ermine of the bench. A man who laid aside the judicial tega, conferred upon him some years ago upon this identical spot, by one of the largest udicial conventions ever held in this State.

upon the unanimous demand of the De mocracy in convention at Raleigh assembled; and, by his herculean efforts, eliminated the most troublesome ques tion ever lugged into politics, which threatened sore disaster to our party; restored confidence to our faltering ranks, and drove Radicalism. under its wily leader and former organizaion, forever from old North Carolina! If asked, therefore, who is my candidate, and whence he hails, I answer, not only from the good old county of Anson, which un-der his magnificent leadership has been rescued from 300 Republican to 700 Democratic majority, but from the whole State of North Carolina at large, and R. T. Bennett is his name. We ask the nomination, not solely upon the grounds once universally, if not impliedly conceded, that if elected in that contest higher honors awaited him at the hands of his party, nor upon the still higher grounds that our party is under obliga-tion to him for his brilliant services in the past; nor do we rely for his nomination pon the unwritten law, or custom which has prevailed in this District, that when a candidate is once elected a member of Congress, and during his first term behaves himself and discharges faithfully and fearlessly his duties, he is entitled by said cus-tom to another term. But upon higher and more loyal grounds do we urge upon this Convention the nomination of Judge Bennett. It is because, sir, in our opinion, possessing as he does all those essential lements of true manliness and courage of which heroes and patriots are made, he would make the strongest, ablest and this District.

Standing upon that glorious maxim,

"Principles, not men;" that maxim which has ever been the guiding star of true Democracy, and which has ever made our party the able and consistent advocate of constitutional liberty and of a pure, honest and economical administration of government, we believe the nomination of Judge Bennett would best promote and advance the great cause we all have at heart; and his candidacy would commend itself to the confidence and support of good and honest men everywhere. Under his magnificent leadership victory is ours; and this district, now known as the "shoe-string district" will be known in all years to come as the Democratic banner district of this State.
