PARNELL'S PROPOSITION. To the Democratic and Republican

Parties-Free Trade with Ireland the Price of the Irish-American [By Telegraph to the Morning Star.]

Boston, Aug. 20.—At the Parker House, in this city, yesterday, Mrs. Parnell, mother of Charles Stewart Parnell, the Irish agitator, held a conference with a number of Catholic bishops and leaders of the Irish National League, concerning the means by which the coming political contest in this country could be turned to the advancement of Ireland's cause. It was understood that Mrs. Parnell represented her son at the conference. Mrs. Parnell submitted the details of the scheme for the benefit of Irish home industry, which she stated was conceived by her son and was being put into practical execution in the old country. Mr. Parnell, she said, had formed an association in England and Ireland, composed of capitalists and manufacturers, whose aim was to encourage home industry in Ireland. This association proposed to establish factories for the exclusive manufacture of Irish goods, such as could not be manufactured in England or other countries, including such articles as laces, linens, fringes, woolens and tweeds, and preparations are already in progress, for the establishment of such factories in different parts of Ireland. Mrs. Parnell made a suggestion, coming as from her son, that the proposition he submitted to the Republican and Democratic parties, the accep-tance of which by either would decide for which party the organized Irish vote would be cast. Mrs. Parnell stated, that as these Irish goods could not be made in this country their importation would not in any sense conflict with American home indus try, inasmuch as the association in England proposed to exclusively control the production. Mr. Parnell's proposition, therefore, was that a direct offer be submitted to the political parties of the United States as follows:

"If, in accordance with the friendly feeling expressed towards Ireland in America by the Americans, one of the political parties will incorporate a plank in its platform in favor of admitting goods of Irish manufacture free of duty (specifying such goods as cannot be manufactured elsewhere than iu Ireland, and the importation of which will not compete with American produczions), then such party will receive the organized support of the Irish-American vote. Even if direct organization is not made, yet the Irish vote will be directly or in influenced in favor of the party which shall champion the cause of Irish industry as in-

Mrs. Parnell will leave here for New York to day, to take preliminary steps toward the organization of Irish interests, so that in case of action by either of the leading political parties the promises contained in the proposition can be fulfilled. During the progress of the conference it was stated that the reason why Alexander Sullivan so persistently refused re election to the Presidency of the Irish National League, was because he proposed to enter the canvass in support of Blaine, and did not wish to com-promise the Irish-American vote by becoming a public speaker in support of the Republican candidate while holding office as President of the Irish League. LATER. -Mrs. Parnell explains that she is not organizing a political party and has not expressed the slightest preference for either existing party. She believes, however, that many articles produced in Ireland might be admitted free or almost free of duty, as they are not competitive with American or English goods, while as models and for popular use they would be eminently useful. Her only purpose is to direct attention to this industrial field, which would be highly beneficial to both Ireland and America.

Steamboat Collisions in Boston Harbor During a Fog-The Alleged Relies from the Jeannette Expedition. [By Telegraph to the Morning Star.]

NEWBURYPORT, Aug. 20.—Louis Noros, in regard to the reported finding of clothing and other articles supposed to have belonged to the Jeannette expedition, says "I know that nine of our party were left behind in a tent. I know that all the tents were taken away in our boats. I know that no casks were taken from the ship and carried away by the party. I know that there was but one bearskin in the party, and that was left in the cache on the Siberian coast. I cannot tell whether or not the articles found are genuine without seeing them, and my theory is that the articles found-if any have been found-were taken by the natives, from this cache, and by some means-how I cannot conceivehave gradually worked their way to civili-

Boston, Aug. 20.—The steamer Twi-light, while on her 5 o'clock trip from Boston to Nantasket, collided with the steamer John Brooks, of the Portland Line, demolishing the former's wheel-house and smashing the entire port cabin. The Brooks' stern only is slightly damaged and she is ready to proceed whenever the fog lifts. After the collision the Twilight was proceeding carefully, blowing signals and keeping a careful lookout, when, within fifteen minutes after the first accident she collided with a pilot hoat and the steamer Rose Standish, doing and receiving but slight injury. Ten minutes later she was struck by the steamer Stamford and had her wheel-house smashed. The Stamford was also damaged. The harbor was full of craft of all kinds and whistles were very bewildering. There were but few wo-men on the Twilight, but much excite-ment prevailed among the passengers, which, however, was allayed by the offi-cers. The boat at once headed for Hull, where, without assistance, a landing was safely effected. Officers of the Twilight claim to have used all possible care and the blame is thrown by each crew upon the other. The Twilight remains at Hull while the Stamford has been towed to this

The platform adopted reaffirms the national platform, commends Gen. Butler's letter as worthy of commends Gen. Butler's letter as worthy of hearty endorsement at the polls, deplores the condition of manufacturing, mercantile, producing and laboring classes, which is attributed to the contraction of the volume of money and to excessive taxation, and commends Governor Begole's administration. EX-GOV. HENDRICKS.

His Letter Accepting the Nomination for the Vice Presidency.
(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.) INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 20.—The following is a copy of ex-Gov. Hendricks' letter of eceptance of the Democratic nomination or the Vice Presidency:

"Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20, 1884.—
lentlemen: I have the honor to acknowl-Gentlemen: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication notifying me of my nomination by the Democratic Convention at Chicago as the candidate for the office of Vice President of the United States. May I repeat what I said on another occasion, that it is a nomination which I had neither expected nor desired; and yet, I recognize and appreciate the high honor done me by the convention. The choice of such a body, pronounced with such unusual unanimity and accompanied with so generous an expression of panied with so generous an expression of esteem and confidence, ought to outweigh all merely personal desires and preferences of my own. It is with this feeling, and I trust, also, from a deep sense of public duty, that I now accept the nomination and shall abide the judgment of my country-men. I have examined with care the declaration of principles adopted by the convention—a copy of which you submitted to me—and in their sum and substance I heartily endorse and approve the same.

"I am, gentlemen, "Your obedient servant, "THOMAS A. HENDRICKS." To the Hon. Wm. F. Vilas, Chairman Nichols B. Bell, Secretary, and others of the Committee of the National Democratic Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Morning Star.] Houston, August 20.-The Democratic State Convention reassembled at 10 o'clock. Col. Wm. Upton was chosen permanent chairman. The report of the committee on Platform was unanimously adopted. The platform endorsed the National Democratic platform; declares in favor of common free schools for both white and black children; opposes the enactment of the herd law; recommends that the Legislature of the State should limit the amount of real estate owned or held by corporations; declares that school lands are a sacred trust in the custody of Legislatures; advocates the leasing of such lands until actual settlers desire to purchase them. A majority of the committee on Resolutions introduced a motion that the two thirds rule be sustained, Debate and a call of the roll by counties followed, and the two thirds rule was sustained by a vote of 306 yeas to 187 nays. Several motions to adjourn were voted down. The only name presented for nomination for Governor was Ireland's. The rules were suspended and John Ireland was nominated for Governor by acclamation amidst great enthusiasm. State Senator Barnett Gibbs, of Dallas, was nominated for Lieutenant Governor by acclamation. Mr. Gibbs is the youngest man ever nominated for Lieut. Governor of Texas. Both Ireland and Gibbs addressed the Convenn, which adjourned to 6 o'clock ---

Several Prominent Failures in Philadelphia-A Chicago Tanner Palls for $200,000. [By Telegraph to the Morning Star.]

PHILADELPHIA, August 20.—The failure of Warner & Merritt, fruit importers, is announced. The firm has made an assignment to W. H. Knowles, of Knowles & Anderson, a large canning firm of Camden. It is learned that the firm have large quantities of paper out and that for some time past they have been borrowing at high rates.

It is also announced that the firm of W D. Eshleman & Co., general commission merchants, is temporarily embarrassed. Graham, Loder & Co., wholesale white goods, failed to-day. There are judgments against the firm for $87,600. The total liabilities are unknown.

Republican State Convention-H. B. Harrison Nominated for Governor. [By Telegraph to the Morning Star.]

NEW HAVEN, August 20.-The Republi can State Convention was called to order this morning by Charles J. Cole, chairman of the State committee. Judge W. T. El-mer, of Middletown, was elected temporary chairman. He, in his speech, said that James G. Blaine, of Maine, was the peer of any man in the world to day for integrity. He said the tidal wave two years ago took in Connecticut, but people want no more political accidents for either Presidents or Governors. He predicted that the Republicans this year would elect their candidates high and dry above all Democratic tidal waves. John A. Tibbetts, collector of the port of New London, was elected permanent president. A committee on resolutions, consisting of one member from each district, was then appointed. The names of Gen. W. H. Bulkeley, Phineas C. Lounsburg and H. B. Harrison were presented as candidates for Governor. Mr. Harrison received the nomination on the second ballot. A recess was then taken.

He was greeted with cheers and spoke for some time. He insisted that the Democratic party deserved success, and must have it, as time brought its revenges. At the conclusion of Gen. McClellan's speech the list of vice-presidents and secretaries was read and ap-proved. The Convention then adjourned for a short recess.

ham, Secretary of the Royal Geographical Society, who served in the Arctic expedition of 1850, in search of Sir John Franklin, has written a letter apropos of the recent charges made against the Greely party. In this he says: "The accusation of murder and cannibalism made against the Greely party is a disgrace to the American jour-nals. Decency would have suggested si-lence until Lieut. Greely had submitted his report to the Government. There may be a remnant of truth in the charge. It is possible, but unlikely, that brave men, in the last extremity, should have succumbed." Mr. Markham calls attention to the fact that a similar cruel accusation was made against Sir John Franklin's expedition, and quotes the noble words of Admiral Sherard Osborne, who commanded one of the Franklin search expeditions: "Why attempt to lift the veil with which the All Merciful has been pleased to shut out from mortal ken the last sad hours of brave men battling with famine and disease?" Continuing, Mr. Markham says: "The American Navy Department should have controlled and been responsible for the expedition. The party should never have been left without a depot ship wintering within an accessible distance of them. The difficulty of navigating channels north of Smith's sound was ignored and precautions were neglected; hence the catastrophe, for which there is no excuse. Lieut. Greely's observatory work will form a valuable supplement to the series of observations which were taken by the ship Discovery in 1875. The Greely expedition will bear the test of thorough scrutiny. Its members are mistaken, however, in stating that Beaumont's Cape Brittannia was visible from Lincoln Bay on the west side of Robeson Channel. The real Cape Brittannia is invisible from Lincoln Bay, the most distant visible land being Cape May and Mount Hooker. The point which Messrs. Lock-wood and Brainard reached was Cape May, not Cape Brittannia; the next land they reached was Beaumont Island, with a small island between it and the main land of

Mr. Markham thinks the highest latitude applauds the admirable zeal and devotion displayed by Lockwood and Brainard, and says: "Ignorance will use the disaster which overtook the Greely party to discourage future research, but education will defeat ignorance, and Polar research will continue until the world has been com-
