The Morning Star

By WILLIAM H. BERNARD.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY EVENING, AUG. 21, 1884.

EVENING EDITION.

THE G. O. P. ARRANGED BY AN HONEST REPUBLICAN.

On the 27th of July Mr. Daniel R. Goodloe, a well known journalist, one of the staff of the New York Times, and a Republican, wrote a letter to the Warrenton Gazette that is truthful and just. We have known the writer for forty-five years and he is in the best sense "an honorable man" as well as of fine talents. He will not support Blaine. We are not surprised at this announcement. Mr. Goodloe is too pure a man to take stock in a fellow all "tattooed" with corruption. But we refer to his letter more particularly to reproduce the following paragraph which contains information and a statement of facts that cannot be truthfully denied. He says:

"The fearful shrinkage of values, the scarcity of money, the numerous financial failures, and the hard times, are all traceable to Republican policy; to the Republican high protective tariff; to the Republican demonization of silver; to the Republican holding of millions of the precious metals, while the people are paying interest on some fourteen hundred millions of public debt; to the Republican policy and practice of curtailing the circulation of non-interest bearing greenbacks, for the benefit of the national banks; and in a word, by Republican apostasy to its original principles, and by its wholesale corruptions."

This is a perfectly correct and warranted arraignment of the acts and betrayals of the old Republican party that has long ago done the work where unto it was appointed, and has become at once the most venal, wasteful and dangerous party that ever cursed a country and threatened the perpetuity of free institutions. That party has become one entirely of plunder. No country governed by Kings ever had in succession men of lower type and of greater political profligacy than the United States have had under recent Republican domination. Grant for eight years, and then Garfield and Arthur. If these are to be succeeded by Jim Blaine the stain of national disgrace will be deepened. Twenty years of corruption, of waste, of incompetence, of betrayal of trusts and invasion of the rights of the people! What an affliction! What a punishment! Surely the sins of the American people must be tremendous to be visited with such scourges.

But let us turn to Mr. Goodloe once more and see what testimony he bears. He says:

"The fact is notorious that the Republicans so called, have ceased to recognize the Reserved Rights of the States, and that in private, if not public they talk freely about sweeping away State lines. On the tariff policy they have swung around to the opposite extreme. They now claim to be the special champions of Protection. A highly intelligent Republican said to me a few evenings since, and said truly, that a Provisional Tariff is not a tariff at all. It is a revenue raising device, and Revenue is the leading purpose, and Revenue the incident. Consistently with this apostasy from principle, the Republicans under Grant drove nearly all the leading men from power, as far as they could, and turned out such as held minor offices. It is time the party were broken up. It has ceased to have an honest reason of being."

Surely the honest people of the Union will say likewise—"It is time the Republican party were broken up."

IGNORANCE OF ECONOMIC ILLUSTRATED.

We have had occasion to remark before that of all studies political economy is the most difficult and complex. We doubt if there are two men among the fifty-seven millions of inhabitants in our country who can be said to thoroughly understand the Tariff. And still you will find hundreds of thousands of men who talk about the Tariff as if they were masters of the subject and understood it all.

It is this very difficulty and complexity that repel men from giving close study to the great authors who treat of political economy. We are quite sure that there are really more ignorance and more pretension as to this matter of the Tariff than as to any other subject whatever. Not even religion has generated so much of presumption and ignorance and socialism as political economy has generated.

There is another curious thing about it. You will find the most of confidence and blind devotion among those who are really the most superficial and ill-informed. No
