THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXXIV.—NO. 146. WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1884. WHOLE NO. 5311

Just on the eve of the Maine election it became known that the corruption fund of Blaine was large and was being freely used. Jim, the "tattooed man," is rich in ill-gotten gains, and he has rich friends who are no better than he is. A dispatch from Augusta, dated Monday, to the Boston Post, said: "Anything short of 15,000 majority for Robie on Monday would rightly be considered a setback for Blaine; hence he and the money bags who surround him will chip in liberally and buy the State if possible. This can be done by buying the floating vote, which is about 10 per centum of the total vote. That they can do this and hold their normal strength is now their only hope. It will take $50,000 to elect Tom Reed to Congress, and two-thirds as much to re-elect Boutwell. Reed's agony is great. He is working with desperation, and realizing that hundreds of the best men of his party have deserted him in Portland, Brunswick, Harswell, Yarmouth, Cape Elizabeth and other towns, he is actually relying on nothing but money and promises for a reelection."

Miss Mary Anderson has reappeared in London and played to an immense throng. She played in "Pygmalion and Galatea" and in "Comedy and Tragedy." A dispatch to the New York Times of 6th says: "The general consensus of opinion among the critics was that Miss Anderson surpassed herself, and that the performance was thoroughly artistic and finished. The dresses worn in both pieces by Miss Anderson were new and magnificent, and the stage business, especially in the statue scene in 'Pygmalion and Galatea,' was an improvement on that of last season."

Blaine went with the Prohibitionists in Maine. Neal Dow, the leader, says Blaine kept all his promises. He will lose ten German votes where he will gain one by his course. It is reported, however, that he finally dodged the vote. Mr. Dow said last Monday that "it was only by the aid of the Republican organization given by Mr. Blaine that the Prohibitionists hope to succeed with the ironclad amendment to-morrow."

Gen. Manning is a great speaker. His power was heard at Lewiston, Maine. In 1880 it gave 125 Republican majority. It has just gone Democratic by 87 majority. We hope the Democratic State Committee will at once employ him to canvass in Maine until the November election. Cleveland will then be certain to carry it.

Col. John N. Staples, one of the Democratic Electors for the State at Large, speaks at Smithville on next Friday. We hope Brunswick will turn out to hear this eloquent and impressive speaker. New Hanover might contribute handsomely to swell the audience. Cheap fare might induce hundreds to run down from Wilmington.

'Rah for Tammany. Carry the news to Jeems. "Blow winds and crack your cheeks." The Baltimore Sun of Monday says: "Mr. John Kelly and his district lieutenants had a council Saturday evening in the Tammany wigwam, and after a two hours' session, in which a general interchange of views took place, it was unanimously decided that Tammany Hall should endorse the nomination of Cleveland and Hendricks."

MAINE. In yesterday's STAR we ventured to say that Blaine would be ruined with much less majority than that of 1868—20,403. His man will not be elected by more than 17,000; and possibly one or two thousand less. We said further that he ought to retire if he received less than 15,000 majority. After a tremendous canvass he has barely "saved his bacon." He will get no "boom" from Maine, as the Democrats made but little effort to reduce the Republican majority. Now for Ohio. Let the Democrats sweep that State.

The appears to be but little doubt that Gov. Cleveland will receive a very large share of the German vote. We showed the other day that it was more than 400,000 in the United States. A prominent German from Milwaukee, Emil Schandier, is in Philadelphia, and has been interviewed by the Times. He said: "We have been Republicans not so much because the principles of the Republican party were any more the principles of liberty than those of the Democracy, but because the American people among whom we settled were opposed to negro slavery in the South, and were happy, prosperous and free at home. We liked the people and the ways we found, and we merged ourselves into the civilization that welcomed us. Now, however, we deem it right and necessary to protect ourselves from a movement aimed in a large measure against our peace and comfort. We are prepared to deliver an overwhelming blow in this election."

"What do you mean by an overwhelming blow?" "I mean that the Germans of the Northwest will vote almost solidly for Cleveland and Hendricks, and against Blaine and St. John. I firmly believe we are strong enough to carry Wisconsin, and Kansas too, perhaps, and Iowa and Illinois are made extremely doubtful by our attitude. As to Ohio, look out for the German vote in Northern Ohio in October."

The Independent German Club of Cleveland, Ohio, numbering 3,200 members, have gone over to Cleveland and Hendricks. They are in "dead earnest" out West. "Dinna ye hear the slogan?"

The Boston Post well describes the Democratic bolters this year when it says: "The men who have been held up to the Democratic party as its reproach seem to be all supporting Blaine this year, either directly or indirectly."

Cannibalism is on the increase. A vessel on the high seas was wrecked and three mariners killed a boy and eat him. This is the report telegraphed from London on the 7th inst.

It is stated that Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, contemplates a visit to his native America for lecturing purposes. — The Current.

Was Stanley born in this country? Our impression is he was not.

Seven interments at Raleigh last week. — Greensboro Female College has 120 boarders. — Hurrah! North Carolina is picking up. The last old negro heard from was 114. Next, New York is ahead—120. — Wilson Advance: A protracted meeting at Temperance Hall Methodist church, Edgecombe county, has closed with 21 accessions.

Carthage Gazette: Mr. Kenneth Fry, of Carthage township, raised a cucumber this year 15 inches long and 8 inches in circumference. — Monroe Enquirer Express: Revival meetings of considerable power have recently been held in both the Methodist and Baptist churches in Big Lick, Stanly county.

Asheville Advance: The cottage on Woodfin street, near the college, occupied by Mr. W. F. Sulder, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning just before daybreak. — Washington Gazette: The nomination of Mr. John B. Respass for Congress by the Republicans of the First District is one of those acts of folly which this party has often committed.

The shooting of W. D. Hedrick at Lexington by D. H. Rice was a case of self-defense. Hedrick attempted to shoot, but was shot. He was a violent man and had been in many difficulties. — The farmers in the vicinity of Trinity College have grown fine crops of tobacco this year. This is their first attempt at tobacco raising to any extent, and they are highly pleased with the result. — Smithfield Herald: A new post-office by the name of Milo has just been established in Johnston. — Died, at his residence, in Bentonville township, Johnston county, N. C., Sunday evening, August 10th, 1884, Furney Langston, in the 80th year of his age. — Warrenton Home: Last Sunday morning Mr. Thomas W. Harris, of Panacea Springs, delivered his centenary address at the Methodist church, and at night a sermon was preached by Rev. "Father" Gray, the oldest member of the North Carolina Conference. — New Bern Journal: We regret to learn that losses by the late fire has compelled Jas. W. Moore and Hugh J. Lovick to make assignments for the benefit of their creditors. — The protracted meeting at Lenoir Institute has resulted in nine accessions and about twelve professions up to Thursday night. — Charlotte Democrat: If Hawley is that sort of man to circulate falsehoods and misrepresent Southern white people, he is not the kind of man to open our State

Exposition. We don't object to Mr. Hawley because he is a Republican, but because he is an unfair, unscrupulous sectional politician, and a slanderer of Southern white people. — Hickory Carolinian: Our Western exchange is speaking in the highest praise of ability, eloquence and gentlemanly bearing of Maj. C. M. Steadman, our candidate for Lieutenant Governor. The Democratic party have done this year what we have frequently said they should no longer neglect—put a man for the second place who was abundantly qualified to fill the first.

Salisbury Watchman: There was a party in town this morning from China Grove, in pursuit of a negro man accused of rape, committed in that neighborhood Sunday night. Some people will say it is a cut and dried story when we say that the merchants shipped from Salisbury last week 71,500 pounds of dried fruit, and have as much on hand to ship this week. — Henderson Gold Leaf: A case of infanticide is reported from Williamsboro. A colored woman named Lizzie Thomas is charged with having murdered her new-born babe near that place one day last week. — Miss Lucie Foster, sister of Dr. Foster, of Franklin county, died at the residence of Mr. Thomas Blackman, about eight miles from Henderson, yesterday.

Raleigh Visitor: Dr. Charles F. Deems, of New York, will deliver a course of lectures in this city during the Exposition in aid of the Ladies Aid Society of Edenton street M. E. Church. About five o'clock on Saturday afternoon our brave towman, Mr. W. H. Borden, who was cooking for Mr. Jno. D. Briggs, started to kindle a fire in the stove, preparatory to cooking supper. She took the kerosene can and poured oil on the fire. The stove exploded, and the girl was badly burned that she lingered till 11 o'clock that night when she died in terrible agony.

Goldboro Messenger: Late crops are suffering greatly for want of rain. The heart of this entire community is full of inexpressible sympathy for our bereaved towman, Mr. W. H. Borden, in the loss of his estimable wife, who died at her home here on Thursday last, in the 33rd year of her age, after a short illness. — One of the log cutters at Mr. N. O. Barry's saw mill, near this place, perhaps, and Iowa and Illinois are made extremely doubtful by our attitude. As to Ohio, look out for the German vote in Northern Ohio in October.

Asheville Citizen: Almost daily we hear of the remarkable curative properties of tobacco, used according to the General Cingman formula. — Col. W. H. Burgwyn has written to General Cingman that an application of wet tobacco leaf relieved the painful swelling of a severe boil in a single night. — Mr. Thomas M. Chart, of the U. S. Geological Survey, is visiting the various mines in the Western part of the State. He has recently been living in Graham county. — Mr. Richmond Pearson who has been in several of the Northern States recently, writes to Mr. Chairman H. B. Carter a most enthusiastic letter concerning Democratic prospects in the Northern States. New York, Indiana, Connecticut and New Jersey are certain, while Massachusetts, Wisconsin, and other States are decidedly doubtful.

Benny Platt, and the "Blaines," Capt. Tate Emory, which resulted in 6 for "Cleveland" and 2 for "Blaine."

Yacht Race.

The final yacht race of the season, under the auspices of the Carolina Yacht Club, will take place over the Wrightsville course on Friday, the 12th inst., and the winning boat will carry the champion flag until next season. It is intended to make this one of the most attractive races of the season, and being the last it will very likely be largely attended. The steam launch Duane will be on hand to carry passengers to and from the beach during the regatta. — The low stage of water in the upper Cape Fear prevents the Fayetteville boats from running their regular schedules. The steamers A. P. Hurt and Bladen, due here yesterday, had not arrived up to last night.

Confidence Game—A Tramped-Up Story—Prisoner Held for Larceny. Yesterday morning Officer Chadwick made his appearance at the station house with two colored men in charge, stating that one of them had accused the other of committing a murder. Mayor Hall had an investigation into the matter, and from the testimony elicited it appears that Lewis Wilkins met John Henry Williams on Monday, somewhere on the road between Magnolia and Teachey's, that they found that the train did not stop at the latter place and they continued their walk to Duplin Roads, where they waited for the train for Wilmington and boarded it. Arriving here Monday night, Wilkins took his companion to a place where he could sleep, and in the meantime managed to get possession of Williams' money, a valise containing clothing, and other articles, giving him in return a piece of stone and claiming for it supernatural power, saying that with it in his possession he (Williams) could go anywhere he desired without let or hindrance. Williams seems to have taken all this nonsense in, and yesterday morning Wilkins left with the articles he had obtained from Williams and told the latter to stay where he was until he came back. It seems that Williams finally, upon reflection, desired to get his property back, and hunted up his alleged friend, who, it appears, wanted to get rid of him, and therefore handed him over to Officer Chadwick with the charge that he had committed a murder, and that he confessed the same to him on the road between Magnolia and Teachey's, saying he knocked a man in the head with an axe in Pitt county.

It was ascertained during the examination that Wilkins had disposed of the articles he received from Williams, and it was further found that he sold the satchel and clothing to a colored man named Hall, for sixty cents, and another package to a merchant on Market street. Both the packages were recovered, and Williams identified the contents as his property, describing the articles before they were exposed to view. Wilkins was adjudged guilty of larceny or false pretence and was required to give bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at court, failing in which he was lodged in jail.

Wilkins is said to have been a former resident of this city. Williams says he was on his way to Georgia. The latter will be detained as a witness.

A Snake Story. Mr. John W. Downing, of Point Caswell, went up Black River a few miles above the village, some days ago, where he was having logs cut for his mill, and was returning on a raft, when he saw two large water moccasins lying close together on the edge of the river bank. Having a long pole Mr. D. concluded he would reduce by at least one the number of reptiles inhabiting this mundane sphere. So, as the raft passed by he made a lunge with his pole, but lost his balance and fell into the river where there was about ten feet of water. Being afraid the snakes would get him, he scrambled back upon the raft in a hurry, and then stopped it and went back to finish the work he had so ingloriously commenced. Upon returning he found that the wounded snake had escaped, but he killed the other, and upon penetrating the body with a stick a small snake crawled through the aperture, whereupon Mr. Downing still further pressed the body and was astonished to see forty-seven more reptiles of the same size make their exit, the young ones being eleven inches in length and the old one four feet and eight inches long and nine inches in circumference.

Who Is He? The Raleigh Visitor on Monday says: "About 8 o'clock on Saturday morning last a strange young white man went to Mr. Robert E. Parham's livery stable, on East Martin street, and hired a horse and buggy, saying he desired to go six miles in the country, and that he would be back by 11 o'clock a. m., the same day, but at last accounts he had not returned. He said his name was Mercer, and that he was from Wilmington, N. C. He was apparently about 25 years of age, had a small black moustache, and a small patch of side whiskers on each side of his face, was dressed very decently and had on a straw hat. The horse furnished him was a large sorrel, with a blaze in the face and the right hind foot white, and weighed about 1,100 pounds. A nice top buggy was also furnished the young man. When last seen he was passing through Garner's Station, six miles southeast of Raleigh, going in the direction of Goldsboro."

Persons. W. A. Guthrie, Esq., of Fayetteville, was in the city yesterday. Mr. E. T. Boykin, of Sampson, was here yesterday, on his way home from Columbus court. Mr. Jas. H. Chadbourne and family are at Springdale, Maine, where Mr. Charles O. Chadbourne, son of the above, is quite sick with fever. They have been absent about two weeks. Mr. Orin Thomas, the artist, who has been absent at New York for some months past, where he has a studio, has returned and is again in his old quarters.

World's Back Out. Among one of the recent poses that went to hunt for Pompey Sneed, we understand, was a well known colored man of this city, who carries around peanuts to sell, and whose eyesight is so badly affected that he can scarcely see how to get along. He had no gun, but was summoned and was determined to do his duty; so he went all around through the woods and thickets with the rest of them, his umbrella on his shoulder and his basket of parched peanuts under his arm.

Reuben Carter was next arraigned on the charge of committing assault and battery upon Lewis Hodges, and the case was dismissed. Lucy Mack was charged with willful trespass upon the premises of Adelia McFarland, and judgment was suspended on the payment of costs.

The same defendant was arraigned on a peace warrant sworn out by Adelia McFarland, and she was required to pay the costs and give bond in the sum of $50 to keep the peace for sixty days. Judge Bennett at Whiteville. Hon. R. T. Bennett, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Sixth District, addressed his fellow citizens at Whiteville on Monday and was greeted by a large crowd. He was handsomely introduced by Capt. V. V. Richardson and made a speech that was highly satisfactory to his large audience, who testified their appreciation in a manner not to be mistaken. The speaking took place in the Court House grove, where a stand had been erected, and commenced about 12 o'clock, Court having adjourned after the Judge delivered his charge to the jury.

Fire at Warsaw. A fire occurred at Warsaw, Duplin county, Monday afternoon, which destroyed the store and dwelling of Mr. L. Aaron, together with his stock and furniture. The cause of the fire is unknown. Mr. Aaron had insurance in the Western Assurance and the Liverpool and London and Globe, Messrs. John W. Gordon & Smith, agents, to the amount of $3,000.
