CROP REPORTS.

Returns to the Department of Agriculture - The Condition of Cotton Lowered by Drought - Grains Crops Excellent Throughout - European Tobacco in Fine Condition - European Crop Reports.

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.) WASHINGTON, September 10. - The Department of Agriculture reports the condition of cotton on the 1st of September lower than on August 1st, by reason of the drought, which has been severe in Texas, North Carolina, and north to North Carolina. Apprehension that the too succulent early growth would undergo a high temperature and an absence of rain has been realized to generally. Local areas on the Atlantic coast appear to have had sufficient moisture, at a few points too much on lowlands. The effect of these meteorological changes has been the wide prevalence of rust and shedding of leaves and young bolls. In light soils fruiting will be hastened, the top bolls already forming. In those of greater moisture there is a strong weed and with deferred frosts a good crop may be made. There are few losses by the caterpillar, where it has appeared it was promptly met by a poisonous application. As a rule the crop was more abundant than usual, and has not had treatment sufficiently prompt.

The average condition for the whole field, which was 87 in the preceding report, is reduced to 84, though Texas is the only State below that average. The only years of the preceding ten having lower averages in September were -1874, three and a half points lower; 1881, when the average was only 70; and last year, when it was 74. The weather of the next three months may modify it for the better or worse the actual result of the harvest.

The State averages are: Virginia 89, North Carolina 87, South Carolina 87, Georgia 88, Florida 88, Alabama 84, Mississippi 88, Louisiana 84, Texas 79, Arkansas 83, Tennessee 90.

The product of winter wheat is above the average, and is generally of good quality except where injured by spoiling in shock. The rate of yield is not far from an average of thirteen bushels per acre. The result of the harvest of spring wheat is not yet completed and the product cannot be precisely indicated. It is probable from the reported condition of the crop already harvested, that the aggregate will vary a little from five hundred million bushels. The result of much larger figures are sensational and misleading and utterly unworthy of credence.

The corn crop is in better condition than in any September since 1880. The general average is 94. In 1883 it was 87, in 1882, 83 and in 1881, 80. It promises to produce an average yield of 26 bushels per acre, or not less than 1,800 million bushels. It will make the largest aggregate of quantity ever reported in the history of the crop.

The oat crop averages a yield per acre about the same as corn and makes an aggregate exceeding five hundred million bushels. Its condition when harvested was 95, which is lower than for two previous years, but higher than for prior years since 1878.

Barley averages 93, against 100 last year, and 95 in 1882. It will average about 22 bushels per acre.

The general average for rye is 96 and for buckwheat 98, against 84 for a medium crop of about 12 bushels per acre.

The condition of potatoes averages 91 against 95 last year. It will be an abundant crop, but not so large as the last. There is some complaint of rot in New England and a little in New York.

The condition of tobacco is higher than in September of any year since 1877. It averages 94 instead of 80 last September. Massachusetts 105, Connecticut 103, New York 98, Pennsylvania 89, Wisconsin 100. The cigar tobacco this year compares favorably with Maryland 91, Virginia 94, North Carolina 95, Kentucky 95, Tennessee 105, Ohio 63.

The London agent of the Department cables to day as the result of statistical investigations that the year will not be one of superabundance; that European wheat, though about the same acreage, will be less than the aggregate of 1882. European importing countries need 260,000,000 bushels above production. European countries exporting can supply 80,000,000 bushels; leaving 180,000,000 bushels to be obtained from other countries. Stocks are not excessive. There is an increased consumption of wheat and it is the general opinion that the lowest prices have been reached. Potatoes and rye are less abundant than last year.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Democratic State Convention - Resolutions Adopted - Jas. M. Hill Nominated for Governor.

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.) CONCORD, Sept. 10. - The Democratic State Convention met to-day at this morning. There was a large attendance of delegates and spectators. H. O. Kent, of Lancaster, was chosen president. Mr. Kent, on taking the chair, made a speech in which he outlined the issues which led to the nomination of Cleveland for the Presidency. "It is only necessary," he said, "to continue our present course, proclaiming honesty of purpose, reductions in taxation, reform in political methods and liberty of individual action consistent with duty, and accessions of strength will continue also. We need no magnetic appeals or candidates, no sensational foreign policy or foul detraction. We ask support that the country may have reform, stimulating business and engendering prosperity."

The following resolutions were presented and adopted:

Resolved, That we fully endorse the platform of the National Democratic Convention which nominated Cleveland and Hendricks, and that we most heartily and cordially ratify the nomination of Grover Cleveland and Thomas A. Hendricks for President and Vice President.

Representatives of the Democracy of New Hampshire, in convention assembled, reiterating the demands so often heretofore made for economy, honesty and capacity in State affairs, resolve:

1st. That laboring people have to demand reasonable legal limitation of the hours of labor, careful protection of the rights and health of laboring women and children, and full relief of their wages from trustee processes.

2d. That the purchasing of nominations and elections which has characterized the action of the Republican leaders in this State has given New Hampshire a reputation for bribery and corruption which is a reproach to every honest citizen; and, in behalf of common honesty, demand that the auction sale of public offices shall cease, and that the making of merchandise out of our voting population shall be punished as a crime by perpetual disfranchisement.

3d. That the Republican party, by its late Legislature, by its care and attention to the business before it, without reason prolonged its session to an unprecedented extent, caused a large and useless expenditure of the people's money to be made for the better or worse the actual result of gross disregard of public duty.

4th. That the liquor law of New Hampshire, spasmodically enforced or disregarded, as political and personal interests demand, is a disgrace to the State, because it breeds hypocrisis and corrupt morals; that we believe a stringent excise law is the best practicable remedy for the evils of intemperance, while at the same time it would procure a legitimate source of revenue to the State.

The Convention then proceeded to ballot for a candidate for Governor. The first ballot resulted - Thomas Cogswell, of Gilman, 48; Charles Omsden, of Penacook, 60; Jas. W. Hill, of Concord, 45; scattering, 19. Mr. Hill's nomination was made by the Legislature, John W. George, of Amherst, 60; Frank James and Irving W. Drew, were chosen Presidential Electors.

The Convention then resolved itself into county conventions for the selection of one hundred members of the State Committee.

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.) ST. PAUL, September 10. - News has been received here that the town of Clear Lake, Wis., was badly wrecked by a storm between 5 and 6 o'clock last evening. Half of the town is in ruins. Three persons were killed and many injured. Clear Lake is a small place, off the line of railroad, and particulars are slow in coming in. The path of the storm was half a mile wide. The storm first struck a mile and a half north of Minneapolis, moving easterly through the town of Clear Lake, the St. Croix river, and thence to Clear Lake.

CLEAR LAKE, Sept. 10. - A cyclone struck this place late yesterday afternoon. Three lives were lost and the greater portion of the town is in ruins. The scenes after the storm passed were frightful in the extreme. Men, women and children were running about in a perfect frenzy of excitement and fear. Here and there people could be seen coming out of their cellars with faces paralyzed with fear. A large barn was blown away, leaving the floor and mangers with horses peacefully eating their supper. A little child was taken in the arms of the tempest and landed in the branches of a tree, only slightly injured. A large frame house was blown completely out of sight, and not one particle of the house or contents could be found, although search for a mile was made in the track of the storm. The family had fortunately taken refuge in the cellar. Many families are left destitute.
