Wages Reduced in Birdsboro Iron Works-Execution of a Murderer-Escape of a Condemned Murderer. [By Telegraph to the Morning Star.]

PENNSYLVANIA.

READING, Sept. 23.—Notice is posted in the works of the Brooke Iron Co., of Birdsboro, of ten per cent. reduction in salaries and wages of employes, except day laborers. The reduction is to take effect October 1st. The works include a rolling mill, furnace, nail mill, etc., employing altogether 600 hands.

EBENSBURG, Sept. 23.—Michael Murray was hanged at 25 minutes past 1 o'clock this afternoon. He ascended the scaffold with a faltering step. accompanied by Father Walsh, his spiritual adviser. He spoke briefly on the gallows. At the end a wild look and seemed for the first time to realize fully the awful fate that awaited him. The black cap was properly adjusted and the sheriff stepped aside and pulled the lever. His death was almost instantaneous. Some 200 persons witnessed the execution, which took place in the jail yard. Until this morning Murray has steadily refused to receive spiritual consolation but at an early hour he sent for a Catholic priest, and since then has been almost constantly engaged in religious worship. Murray was an Englishman. He was minus a leg, for which a peg was substituted. His victim was a young man who had befriended him very often, and the crime was utterly cold blooded and without provocation. An effort was made before the Board of Pardons last week to have his sentence commuted to life imprisonment, on the grounds of his unsound mental condition. The Board refused his application, as it had also done to a similar application in behalf of Sarver, hanged at India to day. The hanging of Nuetael Smith was also to have taken place to day, but three weeks ago he made his escape from the jail, which was regarded as one of the most secure in the State. Unobserved by the watchman who stood over him he passed out, since which time he has succeeded in keeping out of the clutches of the authorities. A reward of $1,300 is offered for his appre-Like Murray, he also walks on

The populace seized the occasion to make a great demonstration against the government. Immense numbers lined the streets along which the procession passed and cheered the veterans enthusiastically. At the monument one of the veterans made a speech, in which he said: "Onr ancestors fought to make Belgium free. She is no longer so. Belgians will never be Romans." A dense crowd followed the procession as it returned from the monument, singing the "Brabaconne" and the "Marseillaise." Two Republican editors were arrested, and gendarmes dispersed the crowd which collected in front of the office of Le Patriote newspaper. The police have seized a quantity of Republican and Socialist pamphlets.

U. S. Supervisors of Elections Inter- Death of the Editor of the Memphis foring with the Registration of Voters in New Orleans.

[By Telegraph to the Morning Star.] NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—The State-Registrar of voters, Robert Brewster, was arrested to-day on affidavits made by George P. Davis and L. A. Adams, charging him with hindering and preventing them from free attendance at the place of registration of voters in the parish of Or-leans, and from free examination and inspection of the record books of such regisspection of the record books of such registration, and from making true and correct lists therefrom, and from verifying the same, and from performing acts required of them as such supervisors of election by the laws of the United States, contrary to the statutes (section, 5,522) of the United States. Brewster was taken before United States. Commissioner, Hunt, and required States Commissioner Hunt and required to give bail in $5,000 for his appearance before the U. S. Court. Brewster says it was not his purpose to refuse the super-visors any privileges given them by law, and that when they came to his office yes-terday and demanded the books for scrutiny and to make copies of all registration since 1880, he explained to them that the books were then being used in registering voters, and that there was not room enough at the desk for any other persons besides the sixteen clerks employed there. He stated that if Chief Supervisor Norton would call at his office they could make some arrange-ment mutually satisfactory and affording the supervisors every facility required. of his remarks he surveyed the crowd with a wild look and seemed for the first time davit as stated. Mr. Brewster further says it is now impossible to make complete copies of the registration since 1880 in time for the November election, but that the United States Supervisor, will be accorded every facility to make an effort. He cannot, however, allow them to impede the work of registration. Mr. Brewster has called the attention of the grand jury now in session to the action of the supervisors, and says he will endeavor to have them in dicted for false imprisonment and mali-ciously attempting to interfere with him in the discharge of his official duties.

An Insolvent Whiskey Firm of St. Louis Accused of Crookedness.

(By Telegraph to the Morning Star.) LOUISVILLE, Sept. 23.—Developments this afternoon in the assignment of Newcomb. Buchanan & Company were of a sensational nature. Heretofore the assignments of the company were considered as formal petitions for an extension of time in which to take up their paper. This time the assignment made is general, and Mr. George W. Morris is named as assignee to make final disposition of all property of the partners for the benefit of their creditors. George and C. Andrew Buchanan left the city Sunday, eaving no clue to their whereabouts. was then that the first suspicion was aroused and rumors were set afloat. Rumors to-day say that the firm have made improper use of money sent them by customers to pay taxes on whiskey which they had sold; also, that they have hy-pothecated receipts for whiskey out of bond which did not represent the goods described npon the face of these receipts. The rumors first took tangible form this afternoon, when Goo. W. Morris, assignee of the company, resigned and turned the entire business over to the Fidelity Trust Co. The cause, it is said, of this step on the part of Morris, was that he found the affairs of the company in such a complicated state as to promise great trouble in straightening them out.

aug 10 tf Favetteville Observer.

ON THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8TH, 1883, THE undersigned will revive the publication of the FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER.

The OBSERVER will be a large 28-column weekly newspaper, and will be mailed to subscriber, postage paid, at $3 per annum, always in adance. It will give the news of the day in as ample form as its space will permit, and both regular and occasional correspondents will contribute letters from the Capital on State politics and affairs.

Democratic in politics, the OBSERVER will labor, first of all, to assure the prosperity of the day in a counties, and to promote all that concerns the welfare of the people of North Carolina.

Opposed to such innovations on the homely ways of our fathers as, in the guise of progress, harm society, the OBSERVER will be found in full sympathy with the new things born of the changed condition of the South which sound independent or enlightened experience find to be also good.

As to the rest: it will strive to deserve the reputation of the name it inherits.
