The Supreme Court of the United States has by its decision broken the force of such mischievous and vindictive legislation, but the party ought to be held responsible for all time for its attempts in that direction. The Republican party in North Carolina even now is pursuing a course the result of which if successful would be to oppress and impoverish the whites.

Senator Morgan says that neither race desires the breaking down of race barriers nor the practice of miscegenation. Individuals indulge this very degrading proclivity, but at the expense of all character. Indeed none but the meanest and lowest of whites can ever agree to the intermarrying of the races.

The able Senator refers to the course of Congress in dealing with the negroes the right to vote, but after a most expensive and hazardous experiment what was Congress forced to do? Good government was destroyed, and to restore order and law what think you the Republicans did? Says Senator Morgan, they "disfranchised all men of all races there? The whites as well as the blacks were disfranchised. Such was the experiment right under the noses of the Congressmen. They attempted to give the negroes control and afterwards had to disfranchise their own race in order to get control of the District.

Says the Senator, "legislative remedies have failed to remove the negro race from the plane which they appear to have selected for their pursuit of happiness, in accordance with natural laws. The failure is definite, and it is folly to repeat the attempt."

Senator Morgan thinks the negroes will improve—that they will become more intelligent, will accumulate more wealth, have more experience in business affairs and will have hereafter more power and importance. We sincerely desire that the colored people shall be elevated morally, intellectually and materially. We would gladly help them in all efforts to become purer, wiser, happier. They will never become the dominant race wherever the Teutonic element prevails. The Aryan stock will rule wherever they settle in numbers. Read history and learn this lesson. It has dominated the world wherever it has penetrated. The negro must be content to be forever in the United States the inferior race. He can prosper and grow and be elevated if he works along side of the whites, but when he antagonizes and threatens and invades he will go to the wall and Congress will be utterly powerless to prevent it. Says Senator Morgan:

"Here they have to encounter personal, individual competition with the white man. The greater their personal success may be the more they will feel the pressure of caste, and their advancement in enterprises which may bring them personal honor and wealth will be checked by the jealousy of caste, so that the race-prejudice will forever remain as an incubus on all their individual or aggregated efforts. PRESIDENT CLEVELAND.
New York Herald.
Honesty and common decency have triumphed. Governor Cleveland is chosen the next President of the United States.

It is a great, very great, gain to the country, and to the cause of free government everywhere. The candidacy of a man like Blaine, with his surroundings, was a humiliating disgrace to the country. His election would have been the national justification of public dishonesty and trickery of every kind. It would have whitewashed every jobber in the country, and would have been, as the Republican ex-Senator Wadleigh said in one of the most powerful speeches of the canvass, an invitation to all young men in places of trust to abuse those trusts.

President Cleveland has shown himself, as Mayor and as Governor, an incorruptibly honest man, a man of brains and of undoubted courage, the enemy of jobs and jobbers, the faithful servant of the people. Every word he has uttered during the canvass, as every message and other public utterance of his as Mayor and as Governor, marks him as a clear-headed, sagacious man, entirely capable of that great work which the people have intrusted to him to do at Washington.

At last the country has that change of parties for which it has been ready eight years, and which the selfish and corrupt political managers who have gained control of the Republican party had come to believe they could prevent so easily that they dared to nominate one of the worst men in their party. Gov. Cleveland himself stated the case admirably when he said:

"There should be no mistake at this time concerning the meaning of the contest. The struggle is to break down the barriers between the plain people of the nation and the administration of their government. The question to be determined is whether the people may change their public servants, or whether, while they fondly hope they have a representative government, they are bound and held captive by those who make politics an occupation and hold public office as a profitable business. This government was made for the people; but if they must select the agents who shall have its administration in charge from a self-dedicated and self-constituted class, and if a party once in power can perpetuate its hold upon office for all time, it is a mockery to call this a government by the people." On the 4th of next March the Democrats will therefore come into power. We wish them well. They have succeeded by naming a first rate ticket on an unexceptionable platform. They are committed to thorough reform. They will give the people that "look at the books" to which they have a right.

REVIEWING THE BATTLE.
N. Y. World, Thursday.
The World urged the nomination of Blaine by the Republican National Convention. We did so because we wished the Republican party to appear before the people with a mask. Garfield figured as a Saint. Blaine was known as a Sinner. If American citizens were to elect a bad man President we wanted them to do so with their eyes open and not in blindness and ignorance.

We urged the nomination of Grover Cleveland by the Democracy because we knew that with Grover Cleveland as the Democratic candidate the Republicans would find it difficult to divert the attention of the people from the real great issue of the tariff, the bloody shirt or any of the old subterfuges behind which they have hidden their unworthiness in previous campaigns.

The developments of the canvass have justified our judgment. In the conduct of the canvass we took truth and reason as our guide and avoided personalities, scandals and appeals to passion. Not a charge was made against the opposing candidate that was not substantiated by evidence, mainly from his own hand. Not a campaign falsehood found its way into our columns unless supposed to be true at the time of publication. Despite great provocation we refused to cast filth for filth. If we suppressed truth in any instance it was to the advantage of the Republican candidate and in the interest of decency.

In a word, the foundation of our action both in regard to the nomination and the canvass was that Truth is stronger than Humberg.

Cleveland Elected.
N. Y. Times, Thursday.
The Times informed its readers yesterday morning that Grover Cleveland had been elected President of the United States. If during the confusion of the day any one was led to doubt the correctness of our conclusion, it was because he foolishly allowed his faith to be shaken by the extravagant falsehoods and bluster of the defeated. The returns we have received during the last twenty-four hours confirm and make certain what we then asserted with full confidence.

THE GREAT NEWS PAPERS.
What They Have to Say About the Result in New York—All of Them Concede Cleveland's Election Except the Tribune—The Albany Journal, Strongly Republican, Gracefully Yields to the Voice of the People.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The question, who has carried New York State, is now chiefly a question of accurate footings of long columns of figures. The footings of the county clerks, with only a few missing, indicate that Cleveland has about 1,000 plurality. The footings of the election districts, made in the Associated Press office, indicate that Blaine has an equal plurality. Twelve districts in the State had not, up to this morning, reported at all. Some sixty others had reported, but their accuracy was questioned, and they will be verified to-day.

The whole list of counties will be carefully added to-day, and the result of that addition, as well as the result of the compilation of the county clerks' figures, will be sent out by the Associated Press. This work will probably not be completed before night. The Herald of to-day says: "New York State is Democratic, that the official returns show it, and that these returns, and no others, will be regarded by the State Board of Canvassers; and that although there is a conspiracy to steal the Presidency and Vice Presidency again for the candidates whom the people have rejected, it cannot possibly succeed."

The Sun says: "Twenty-four hours more have passed, and the result in the great State of New York and in the country at large remains undetermined. Re-returns are now being received, with conflicting effect—those from sources upon which heretofore we have been accustomed to rely differing wholly from those which our own sources of information supply. Added to this, the returns from Cleveland are now being received, and it is estimated that he has a plurality of 6,000. It also claims to have fifteen Republican Representatives."

The Post, Rep., claims the State by from 5,000 to 7,000. Figures received from correspondents in most of the counties, with an estimate on the remaining counties, give Blaine a plurality of a little over 6,000. It also claims to have fifteen Republican Representatives.

The Tribune persists in claiming New York for the Republicans, and also says that the dispatches indicate that the Republicans have probably carried West Virginia, Virginia and Florida, which insure Blaine's election without the vote of New York.

The Times says there is no shadow of doubt that Grover Cleveland has been elected President.

The Herald and Express says: "Neither party yields New York State. The contest is so close that the official figures may be necessary to determine the result. It returns so far received indicate an apparent plurality for Blaine."

ALBANY, November 7.—The Evening Journal concedes the election of Cleveland. It says: "There seems to be no longer any doubt that Grover Cleveland has been elected President. Every county has sent the result of its vote, and a careful verification of the result of the election in the State, the vote will not vary 200 on either side of these figures. New York gives Cleveland a plurality of about 1,000 over Blaine, though votes to elect him. The Journal has probably carried the State by electing another result, and it is now reluctantly stating that the election has been decided differently from its desire, because it believes that a prompt recognition of the will of the majority is essential to the maintenance and preservation of American institutions. So long as the people of the United States have decided to transfer the Federal administration to the Democratic party, we are glad that the decision has been made in favor of a Democrat from New York State. The pride in the Empire State, which has furnished only one President in the United States, Martin Van Buren, in 1836, undoubtedly gives to every citizen of the State a bias in favor of his fellow citizen."

THE EMPIRE CITY.
Cannon booming in City Hall Park in honor of Gov. Cleveland's Election, by order of the County Democracy—The People Wild with Enthusiasm.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—This morning a salute of one hundred guns was fired in the City Hall Park, by order of the leaders of the County Democracy, in honor of Gov. Cleveland's election to the Presidency.

The booming of the guns drew a large crowd from the bulletin boards at the new park offices to the Park. During the firing a portion of a wad from a gun struck a little boy named Jacob Serman, in the face, knocking out his eye.

The Herald, Sun, and Express have withdrawn their bulletin boards. At the World bulletin board this morning the crowd was quite enthusiastic over the announced election of Cleveland and Hendricks, and this was increased when it was declared that Jay Gould had conceded the State to Cleveland, and had sent a telegraphic dispatch to the Governor congratulating him upon his election. The Republicans continue firm, and insist that Blaine has carried the State.

The Acting Superintendent of Police today sent a message to all of the police captains to prevent all parades not having proper permits from the police, and to give escort to those that had permits.

JAY GOULD.
The Great Money King and Head Front of Republicanism Sends Heartily Congratulations to Gov. Cleveland on His Election to the Presidency.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Jay Gould this morning sent the following dispatch to Gov. Cleveland: "I heartily congratulate you on your election. All concede that your administration as Governor has been wise and conservative, and a larger field as President, I feel that you will do still better, and that the vast business interests of the country will be entirely safe in your hands."

MICHIGAN.
The State Claimed by both the Republicans and the Fusionists—The Official Vote Necessary to Decide.

DETROIT, Nov. 7.—The election in this State appears to be Republican by a small majority. The figures already sent must be somewhat reduced. The Congressmen are as previously stated, with the exception of the Second district, which is now claimed by both parties. The Republicans are claiming a majority of 46, and the Democrats a majority of 84. The Democratic State Committee places the Republican majority at about 1,200.

The Free Press (Dem.) has reports from a large part of the State, including the upper Peninsula, which is strongly Republican, and states that the estimate indicates a small Fusion majority, but it will take the estimate to decide the question. It estimates the Fusion vote for Cleveland at 163,000, and the Fusion vote for Butler at 39,000. As the "Fusion" was an agreement to divide the electoral vote proportionately to the popular vote, a Fusion victory would give Cleveland 10, Butler 2, and Blaine 1.

The State Republican Committee does not allow the claims of the Fusionists, but still claims a majority of 7,000 on the State electoral ticket.
